ITEM 5. OTHER ITEMS.

On October 17, 2002, CNET Networks, Inc. reported that net revenues for the third quarter ended September 30, 2002 totaled $56.3 million, compared to net revenues of $69.3 million for the same period of 2001. The company reported an operating loss before depreciation, amortization and impairment of assets of $3.5 million, versus a loss of $42.7 million in the third quarter of 2001. The third quarter 2001 operating loss included integration expenses of $28.7 million.

CNET Networks' net loss for the third quarter of 2002 was $307.2 million, or $2.21 per share, versus a net loss of $1.4 billion, or $9.98 per share, for the same period last year. Net loss for the third quarter of 2002 included a non-cash charge of $281.4 million primarily related to impairment of goodwill and other intangible assets, a non-cash charge of $7.3 million related to impairment of private investments and a gain of $3.1 million related to the repurchase of debt. Net loss for the third quarter of 2001 included non-cash charges of $1.1 billion related primarily to impairment of goodwill, a non-cash charge of $58.7 million related to impairment of private investments and a loss of $10.6 million related to the early retirement of debt. Beginning January 1, 2002, goodwill is no longer amortized.

The company's Consolidated Statements of Operations, Consolidated Balance Sheets, Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows and Segments Schedule as set forth in Exhibit 99.1 are filed herewith and are hereby incorporated by reference. The results presented on these statements differ from those reported on October 17, 2002 in that there have been certain reclassifications within the cash flows from operating activities section of the Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows and the inclusion of an additional footnote on the Consolidated Statements of Operations.

This document includes forward-looking guidance that is subject to risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially. These forward-looking statements include the statements regarding the company's expected financial results in the fourth quarter of 2002 and full-year 2003, as well as other statements throughout the document that are identified by the words "expect," "estimate," "target," "believe," "anticipate," "intend" and similar expressions. These statements are only effective as of the date of this document and we undertake no duty to publicly update these forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise. Reported results should not be considered as an indication of future performance. The risks and uncertainties include: a continued or worsening slowdown in advertising spending on the Internet in general, especially in the technology sector, or on CNET Networks' properties in particular, which could be prompted by continuing weakness in corporate or consumer spending, the failure of existing advertisers to meet their advertising commitments, or other factors; the need for further cost-reductions, which could increase severance costs and negatively impact operating income; the risk that cost-reduction initiatives will not be achieved due to implementation difficulties or contractual spending commitments that can't be reduced; the risk that cost-reduction efforts will result in a loss of revenues due to a decrease in resources dedicated to generating revenues; the acquisition of businesses or the launch of new lines of business, which could decrease our cash position, increase operating expense and dilute operating margins; future impairment of the Company's assets or the need to increase the Company's reserve attributable to abandoned real estate; disruption of our service due to the failure of key infrastructure providers or in connection with the transfer of our systems to new providers; and the failure of the company's users to adopt new paid service offerings. For risks about CNET Networks' business, see its Annual Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2001; its Quarterly Report on 10-Q for the period ended June 30, 2002 and subsequent Forms 8-K, including disclosures under the captions "Risk Factors" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations," which are filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and are available on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov.
