American International Group, Inc. (AIG) is filing this Current Report on Form 8-K (Form 8-K) to update AIG's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, as amended by Amendment No. 1 and Amendment No. 2 on Form 10-K/A filed on February 27, 2012 and March 30, 2012, respectively (collectively, the 2011 Annual Report on Form 10-K), for the following changes:

Changes in Accounting for Acquisition Costs

On January 1, 2012, AIG retrospectively adopted an accounting standard that amends the accounting for costs incurred by insurance companies that can be capitalized in connection with acquiring or renewing insurance contracts. The standard clarifies how to determine whether the costs incurred in connection with the acquisition of new or renewal insurance contracts qualify as deferred policy acquisition costs. The effects on AIG shareholders' equity, Net income (loss) attributable to AIG and Net income (loss) per common share attributable to AIG common shareholders are summarized below:

At December 31, (in millions)	2011	2010	2009	2008	2007

For short-duration insurance contracts, starting on January 1, 2012, AIG has elected to include anticipated investment income in its determination of whether the deferred policy acquisition costs are recoverable. AIG believes the inclusion of anticipated investment income in the recoverability analysis is a preferable accounting policy, as it includes in the recoverability analysis the fact that there is a timing difference between when the premiums are collected and in turn invested and when the losses and related expenses are paid. This is considered a change in accounting principle that requires retrospective application to all periods presented. Because AIG historically has not recorded any premium deficiency on its short-duration insurance contracts even without the inclusion of anticipated investment income, there were no changes to the historical financial statements for the change in accounting principle.

Edgar Filing: AMERICAN INTERNATIONAL GROUP INC - Form 8-K

Presentation of Comprehensive Income

On January 1, 2012, AIG adopted an accounting standard that requires the presentation of comprehensive income either in a single continuous statement of comprehensive income or in two separate but consecutive statements. In the two-statement approach, the first statement should present total net income and its components, followed consecutively by a second statement that presents total other comprehensive income and its components. The adoption of this accounting standard resulted in the inclusion of condensed consolidating statements of comprehensive income (loss) in Note 24 to the Consolidated Financial Statements and condensed statements of comprehensive income of the Registrant included in Schedule II. The standard did not have any effect on AIG's consolidated financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.

Chartis Segment Changes

The historical Chartis financial information has been revised to reflect the reclassification in 2012 of certain Chartis products that were previously reported in the Commercial Insurance operating segment to the Consumer Insurance operating segment. These revisions did not affect the total Chartis reportable segment results previously reported or on AIG's consolidated financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.
