NOTE 6 - BANK LINE OF CREDIT:

The Company has a $5,000,000 revolving line of credit with Wells Fargo Bank, which was originally set to mature on October 1, 2005. The line is secured by the Company's machinery and equipment, accounts receivable and inventories. Interest is payable monthly at the bank's prime rate minus .25% (4.5% per annum at September 30, 2004). The loan agreement allows the Company to convert the outstanding principal balance in amounts no less than $250,000 to a LIBOR-based loan for periods up to 90 days. At September 30, 2004, total borrowings under the Company's line of credit was $1,689,000 of which $1,250,000 was borrowed under the LIBOR option at a LIBOR rate of 2.7875% maturing October 15, 2004. Proceeds from the loan were used for working capital purposes. On October 1, 2004 the bank extended the maturity date on the line of credit to October 1, 2006. At September 30, 2004, the Company had approximately $3,311,000 available for future borrowings under the revolving line of credit.

(A) On October 1, 2000, the bank issued a $6,050,000 seven year note due in monthly principal installments of $72,000 plus interest at the bank's prime rate minus .25% (4.5% per annum at September 30, 2004). In addition, the loan agreement allows the Company to convert all or a portion of the outstanding principal to a LIBOR-based loan for periods up to one year. At September 30, 2004, the total outstanding principal balance was under the LIBOR option at 3.0375% per annum maturing October 15, 2004. The note is secured by the Company's machinery and equipment, accounts receivable and inventories and matures October 15, 2007.

The Company has an interest rate swap agreement with the bank. The agreement allows the Company to fix a portion of its outstanding term and line of credit debt ($3 million as of September 30, 2004) from a variable floating LIBOR rate to a fixed LIBOR rate in efforts to protect against future increases in the bank's LIBOR rate. The notional amount of the swap agreement will remain at $3 million until August 15, 2005 at which time it will be reduced to $2 million and will remain at this amount through the swap's maturity on August 15, 2006.

The Company has a stock option plan that was adopted by the Board of Directors on October 7, 2003 and approved by shareholder vote on December 8, 2003. This plan allows, at the discretion of the Board of Directors, option grants to key employees, officers, directors and consultants of the Company to purchase 850,000 shares of the Company's common stock. Under the terms and conditions set forth in the plan, the purchase price of the stock options will be at least 85% of the fair market value of the Company's common stock on grant date. The maximum term for options granted under the plan is ten years and the plan expires on October 6, 2013.

The Company has not granted any options under this plan, and therefore as of September 30, 2004, the Company still has 850,000 shares available for future grants. The Company accounts for its stock options under the intrinsic value method.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Introduction

To the extent that this 10-Q Quarterly Report discusses matters which are not historical, including statements regarding future financial results, information or expectation about products or markets, or otherwise makes statements about future events, such statements are forward-looking and are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties that could cause actual and other results to differ materially from the statements made. These include, among others, fluctuations in costs of raw materials and other expenses, costs associated with plant closures, downturns in the markets served by the Company, the costs associated with new product introductions, as well as other factors described under this Item 2, Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and Footnote 1 to Financial Statements. When used in this report, the words expects, anticipates, intends, plans, believes, seeks, estimates and similar expressions are generally intended to identify forward-looking statements. You should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which reflect our opinion only as of the date of the Quarterly Report. We undertake no obligation to publicly release any revisions to the forward-looking statements after the date of this document. You should carefully review the risk factors, critical accounting policies and disclosures described in other documents, including our Form 10-K, that we file from time to time with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Results of Operations - Three Months Ended September 30, 2004 and 2003

Edgar Filing: ROTONICS MANUFACTURING INC/DE - Form 10-Q

Net sales for the three months ended September 30, 2004 increased 35% to $11,969,500 compared to $8,874,900 for the same period last year. We continue to benefit from prior capital expenditure projects that have added to and improved our product offerings as well as our overall productivity. We have continued this drive in fiscal year 2005 with the acquisition of three new roto-molding machines that will be placed into service over the next several months. As mentioned, current increases in our sales volumes definitely benefited from our commitment to fund these projects, which coupled with our focused marketing efforts, an improved marketplace, an additional week of operations, and sales price increases, in turn provided the catalyst that resulted in the 14% to 58% sales increase for each of our product groups. Our operating divisions remain energized by these results and by the future prospects currently available in the marketplace. In addition, management remains optimistic that we can continue to build on this successful first quarter in the ensuing months.

Cost of goods sold decreased 1.8% to 74.7% of net sales for the three months ended September 30, 2004 compared to 76.5% for the same period last year. The improvement is attributed to the gain in net sales reported in the current period and our ability to stave of rising production and material costs through our operating efficiencies, our ongoing elimination of wasteful costs, and our systematic product price increases. As we continue into fiscal 2005, we also anticipate some potential savings to come from more favorable insurance rates compared to those of prior periods.

Selling general and administrative ( SG&A ) expenses were $1,934,900, or 16.2% of net sales, for the three months ended September 30, 2004 compared with $1,722,500, or 19.4% of net sales, for the same period last year. The bulk of the increase of $167,000 is related to wages, of which roughly half is attributed to the additional week of operations and the balance to increased staffing. Otherwise, we have again benefited from the net sales in the current period that in turn has again improved the overall coverage of our SG&A costs and ultimately our bottom line.

Total interest expense was consistent at $52,000 for the three months ended September 30, 2004 compared to $54,900 for the same period last year. Even though the bank's prime rate has increased by .75 basis points over the last 90 days, we do not anticipate this increase, or the speculation of future rate hikes, to have a material impact on our future interest costs during fiscal 2005.

Income taxes were $442,800 for the three months ended September 30, 2004 compared to $132,600 for the same period last year. The increase in current period income tax expense is consistent with the $769,600 increase in pre-tax income based on our effective tax rate of approximately 40%.

Net income increased $459,400 to $657,800, or $.05 per common share, for the three months ended September 30, 2004 compared to $198,400, or $.02 per common share, for the same period last year. As previously mentioned, we realized a significant rise in sales during the current quarter that was apparent in all of our product groups. We were pleased with the increase in sales that were stimulated by our capital expenditure projects, our focused marketing efforts, an improved marketplace and an additional week of operations. We remain optimistic that economic conditions will stay favorable, as currently indicated by top economists, and continue to fuel additional growth. The increase in sales during the current period also helped balance inflationary production costs in conjunction with our operating efficiencies obtained through capital expenditure projects and ongoing elimination of wasteful costs. These efforts had a positive influence on improving our gross margins by 1.8%, which coupled with lower SG&A costs as a percentage of net sales, helped fuel the 232% increase in net income. As we continue to rebound from prior years downturns, we look forward to the future prospects in the marketplace and the potential for continued success.

Financial Condition

Edgar Filing: ROTONICS MANUFACTURING INC/DE - Form 10-Q

Working capital increased $846,300 to $8,602,600 at September 30, 2004 compared to $7,756,300 at June 30, 2004. The increase is attributed to the $459,400 increase in our current period net income, the $520,900 reduction in our accounts receivable balance since June 30, 2004, and additional line of credit borrowings. Cash flows from operations decreased slightly by $63,000 to $920,900 for the three months ended September 30, 2004 compared to $983,900 for the same period last year. Cash flows from operations also benefited from the $459,400 increase in net income coupled with a $520,900 reduction in accounts receivable stemming from the fiscal 2004 fourth quarter build-up. These additional cash flows helped fund the $564,500 current build-up in inventories to take advantage of favorable raw materials pricing and the $554,700 reduction in accounts payable balance primarily related to the payment of prior raw material purchases.

We expended $435,300 for property, plant and equipment ( PP&E ) during the three months ended September 30, 2004, which is consistent with the same period last year. As illustrated last year, we are again committed to improve our operations through various capital expenditure projects. Currently highlighted for fiscal year 2005, are three roto-molding machines that will be installed in our Gardena, California, Brownwood, Texas and Las Vegas, Nevada facilities. These new machines will be placed into service over the next several months and will continue our pledge to enhance our competitive edge in the marketplace. We anticipate expending $1.9 million on capital expenditures in fiscal year 2005.

Net borrowings under the line of credit increased $331,700 to $1,689,000 between June 30, 2004 and September 30, 2004. The increase is due to the timing of payments for capital expenditure projects, federal income taxes, raw material purchases and our $.05 common stock dividend paid during the current period. Due to the timing of these payments, we can anticipate the line of credit to reflect temporary fluctuations throughout the year. Overall, our debt structure only increased $115,600 to $3,453,900 due to these temporary line of credit borrowings.

Effective October 1, 2004, the bank extended the maturity date on the line of credit to October 1, 2006. In addition, the maturity date for the letter of credit subfeature of our credit facility was extended to February 1, 2007. All other terms and conditions surrounding our credit facility with the bank remained the same.

During the three months ended September 30, 2004, we acquired 2,900 shares of common stock at a total cost of $4,800. We plan to continue this program throughout fiscal year 2005.

On June 16, 2004, the Board of Directors ( The Board ) declared a common stock dividend of $.05 per common share ($599,100) that was paid on July 23, 2004 to stockholders of record on July 9, 2004. This marked the eighth payment of dividends since 1996 on the Company's common stock. The Board is committed to review a dividend program for our common stock on an annual basis.

Cash flows from operations in conjunction with our revolving line of credit are expected to meet our needs for working capital, capital expenditures, common stock repurchasing and repayment of long-term debt for the foreseeable future.

Critical Accounting Policies

Edgar Filing: ROTONICS MANUFACTURING INC/DE - Form 10-Q

Our consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ( GAAP ). These accounting principles require us to make certain estimates, judgments and assumptions. We believe that the estimates, judgments and assumptions upon which we rely are reasonable based upon information available to us at the time that these estimates, judgments and assumptions are made. These estimates, judgments and assumptions can affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the periods presented. To the extent there are material differences between these estimates, judgments or assumptions and actual results, our financial statements will be affected. In many cases, the accounting treatment of a particular transaction is specifically dictated by GAAP and does not require management ' s judgment in its application. There are also areas in which management ' s judgment in selecting among available alternatives would not produce a materially different result. Our senior management has reviewed these critical accounting policies and related disclosures with our Audit Committee. See notes to Consolidated Financial Statement in our Form 10-K for fiscal 2004, which contain additional information regarding our accounting policies and other disclosures by GAAP.

The significant accounting policies that we believe are the most critical to aid in fully understanding and evaluating our reported financial results include the following:

Accounts Receivable

We make judgments as to our ability to collect outstanding receivables and provide allowances for the portion of receivables when collection becomes doubtful. Provisions are based on a percentage of net sales and a specific review of all significant outstanding receivable balances. Percentages applied may vary based on analysis of historical collection experience or current economic trends. If the data we use to calculate the allowance for doubtful accounts does not reflect the future ability to collect outstanding receivables, additional provisions for doubtful accounts may be needed and the results of operations could be affected.

Inventory Valuation

Finished goods inventory is valued at cost and management uses historical gross margin trends and other estimates to continually update labor and overhead allocations. The gross margin percentage reflects our estimate of the cost of, among other things, material, labor and overhead expenditures during the production process. Such costs are capitalized to inventory as products are manufactured. Although it is believed that the estimates are reasonable, it is possible that the actual labor and overhead costs will differ over time from the estimated amounts. Due to the high volume of transactions and the way raw materials are used in product manufacturing, inventory quantities can change rapidly and are impacted by a variety of factors including, production efficiency, obsolescence, scrap, design changes, customer preferences, etc. As such, the Company must regularly count inventories to ensure they are up to date. The Company takes a physical count monthly and reconciles the count to the inventory. However, given the number of transactions, the number of locations and the large number of inventory items, adjustments to the counts do occur on a regular basis. Although we believe that our inventory counts and values are reasonable the inventory does have some inherent estimates that could impact our balance sheet and results of operations.

Income Taxes

Under SFAS No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes, income taxes are recorded based on the current amounts payable or refundable, as well as the consequences of events that give rise to deferred tax assets and liabilities based on differences in how those events are treated for tax purposes. We base our estimates of deferred tax assets and liabilities on current tax laws and rates and in certain cases expectations about future outcomes. Our accounting for deferred tax consequences represents management's best estimate of future events that can be appropriately reflected in accounting estimates. Our net operating loss carryforwards, which are available to offset taxable income, are also subject to limitations should a change in ownership as defined in the Internal Revenue Code occur. Although management believes that its estimates are reasonable, no assurance can be given that the final tax outcome of these matters will not be different than that which is reflected in our historical income tax provisions and accruals. Such differences could have a material impact on our results of operations and financial position.

Edgar Filing: ROTONICS MANUFACTURING INC/DE - Form 10-Q

In particular, we recorded a valuation allowance to reduce its deferred tax assets to the amount of future tax benefit that is more likely than not to be realized. While management has considered future taxable income and ongoing prudent and feasible tax planning strategies in assessing the need for the valuation allowance, there is no assurance that the valuation allowance would not need to be increased to cover additional deferred tax assets that may not be realized. Any increase in the valuation allowance could have a material adverse impact on our income tax provision and net income for the period in which such determination is made.
