SECTION 8 - OTHER EVENTS.

Item 8.01. Other Events

On June 6, 2016, T. Rowe Price Group, Inc. (the “Company”) disclosed that it would pay up to approximately $194 million to certain T. Rowe Price mutual funds, trusts, separately managed accounts, and subadvised clients (collectively “T. Rowe Price Clients”) to compensate them for the difference in valuation and statutory interest, resulting from the denial of appraisal rights to the T. Rowe Price Clients by the Delaware Chancery Court in connection with the 2013 leveraged buyout of Dell, Inc. (“Dell”).

As a result of settlement agreements, the Company now expects the previously disclosed one-time charge it will record in its second quarter of 2016 results will be reduced to approximately $166 million, which is expected to reduce net income, after tax, by about $100 million or approximately $0.39 in diluted earnings per share of common stock.

Information included within this report contains certain forward-looking information relating to our operating expenses, net income and earnings per share on common stock. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date on which they are made, and, except as required by law, we undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances after the date on which it is made or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events. Actual results may differ materially from those in forward-looking information because of various factors including, but not limited to, those discussed in Item 1A, Risk Factors, of our Form 10-K Annual Report for 2015.
