- (c) there having been no material adverse change to the business operation and technical performance of the Northeast China Inspection and Maintenance Operations; and
- (d) the representations, warranties and undertakings given by CNPC being true, accurate, complete and valid as at the date of completion.

The parties shall use reasonable endeavours to procure that the conditions precedent to be fulfilled on or before 30 April 2008. In the event that any of the conditions precedent has not been fulfilled on or before 30 April 2008 by reason of CNPC, the Company shall be entitled to terminate the Acquisition Agreement.

COMPLETION

Completion is expected to take place 30 April 2008 or the date on which all conditions precedent of the Acquisition Agreement are satisfied, whichever is later.

REASONS FOR THE ACQUISITION AND BENEFIT TO THE COMPANY

The Company is principally engaged in the exploitation of oil and gas resources in the PRC. The Board considers that the acquisition of the assets of the Northeast China Inspection and Maintenance Operations is in line with the development strategies of the Group as a whole.

Following the Company's expansion in the production scale of its refining and chemical businesses and increase in equipment used, the installation, design, supervision, inspection and maintenance works will be remained at a high growth rate. At present, inspection and maintenance services of the refining and chemical businesses are undertaken by various local branch companies. The resources allocation for inspection and maintenance services in the Northeast China are not concentrated and business developments was imbalanced resulting from factors like the operations run by the holding entity and local environments. These have impaired the development of the inspection and maintenance business.

The Acquisition is intended to enhance the ability to safely and smoothly operate the inspection and maintenance services, and to consolidate the inspection and maintenance resources of the target entities, with a view to form a comprehensive production chain for the technological servicing of refining and chemical works. This would enable the unification of design, purchasing and construction, and subsequent operations and maintenance services, thereby strengthening and ensuring the inspection and maintenance services in a steady manner. This will also secure the implementation of new mechanisms of the refining and chemical business. The Acquisition will also reduce connected transactions between CNPC and the Group to a certain extent, improve enforcement of projects, and lead to improvements on the production chain of the refining and chemical businesses, with a view to uplift servicing capacity comprehensively and create synergy, and hence improving the technology level and competitiveness of the inspection and maintenance services of the refining and chemical business. The Acquisition will play an important role to the Company's adopting centralized resource allocation and human resources management, to maximize the Company's edge on resources in human resources, materials and technologies, to formulate inspection and maintenance quotas scientifically, to coordinate plans on inspection and maintenance services, balancing workload in providing services, to improve quality of the services provided, and to effectively increase the profitability of the inspection and maintenance business, hence maximizing value to the shareholders of the Company in the long run.

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE PARTIES AND CONNECTED TRANSACTION

CNPC is the controlling shareholder (as defined in the Listing Rules) of the Company holding 86.29% of the issued share capital of the Company. Pursuant to the Listing Rules, CNPC is a connected person of the Company and the Acquisition constitutes a connected transaction of the Company. Since the applicable percentage ratio for the Acquisition is more than 0.1% but less than 2.5% for the Group, the Company is only subject to the reporting and announcement requirement and is exempt from the independent shareholders' approval requirement under the Listing Rules.

The Board (including the independent non-executive directors of the Company) considers that the terms of the Acquisition Agreement are on normal commercial terms and are fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Company and its shareholders as a whole.
