Item 8.01 Other Events.

On December 16, 2004, Competitive Technologies, Inc. ("CTT") announced that a license had been granted to Abbott Laboratories ("Abbott") under CTT's U.S.

Edgar Filing: COMPETITIVE TECHNOLOGIES INC - Form 8-K

Patent Number 4,940,658 for homocysteine assays. The granting of the license settled previously filed litigation between CTT and Abbott.

Pursuant to the license Abbott will pay a license fee and royalties on sales of Abbott homocysteine assays. The license will relieve Abbott customers from their obligation to pay royalties on results obtained using the Abbott assay by virtue of the royalty paid by Abbott to CTT. CTT's share of the license fee (that will be paid in January 2005) will be $5.2 million. The license also releases Abbott's customers of any obligation to pay royalties to CTT for homocysteine test results obtained using Abbott assays in the past, but does not entitle them to any refund of any royalties previously paid to CTT.

A copy of the press release is attached as Exhibit 99.1.
