language in such filings.

On February 2, 2005, Forrester Research, Inc. issued a press release announcing its financial results for the year ended December 31, 2004, the full text of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1.

Forrester believes that pro forma financial results provide investors with consistent and comparable information to aid in the understanding of Forrester's ongoing business. Our pro forma presentation excludes the following:

Amortization of acquisition-related intangibles - we exclude the non-cash effect of the amortization of acquisition-related intangibles from our pro forma results in order to more consistently present our ongoing results of operations.

Impairments of non-marketable securities and gains from sales of marketable securities - we have consistently excluded both one-time gains and one-time write-offs related to our investments in non-marketable securities and sales of equity securities from our pro forma results in order to keep quarter over quarter comparisons consistent.

Reorganization costs - we exclude reorganization costs in order to present a consistent basis for quarterly comparisons and to more consistently present our results of operations.

However, these measures should be considered in addition to, not as a substitute for, or superior to, operating income or other measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles as more fully discussed in the Forrester's financial statements and filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
