FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

G. WILLI-FOOD ANTICIPATES DECLINE IN GROSS MARGIN IN THE FOURTH QUARTER OF 2008 AND FIRST QUARTER OF 2009

YAVNE, ISRAEL - DECEMBER 29, 2008 - G. WILLI-FOOD INTERNATIONAL LTD. (NASDAQ: WILC) (the "COMPANY" or "WILLI FOOD"), one of Israel's largest food importers and a single-source supplier of one of the world's most extensive range of quality kosher food products, today announced that it anticipates its gross margins to decline for the fourth quarter of 2008 and for the first quarter of 2009.

In the course of its business, Willi Food manages its inventory orders months ahead by opening letters of credit and signing committed orders with its foreign vendors for purchasing inventory that it anticipates it would need in the next three to six months, depending on the product and the country of origin. Furthermore, due to the Passover holiday that will occur in early April 2009, Willi Food started its orders from its vendors for Passover in early October 2008.

During the past few weeks, the global purchase prices of food products have sharply decreased, resulting in the sharp decrease in the selling prices of the Company's products as well. Because the Company's commitments to purchase were based on higher prices from its vendors, the immediate consequence is a decline in the gross margins for the past few weeks and further decline until approximately March-April 2009 when the Company completes the sale of the inventory in the orders from vendors backlog acquired at the higher prices. To the extent global purchase prices of food products continue to decline, the Company's gross margins may be impacted beyond that time because the Company must continue to purchase inventory in advance to take into account the time for manufacture and shipment of products from its foreign vendors.

Therefore, Willi Food anticipates that its gross margins in the fourth quarter of 2008 and in the first quarter of 2009 would be negatively impact as a result of the global decrease in food products prices. At this point, the Company cannot quantify what will be the anticipated reduction in gross margins.

Willi Food is in negotiations with its vendors to reduce the purchase prices it has committed to pay them. There is no guarantee as to the outcome of these negotiations.

Mr. Zwi Williger, President and COO of Willi-Food commented, "Willi Food strives to minimize market risks arising from cost of imported goods by opening letters of credits to vendors and signing committed orders from suppliers abroad. This strategy has proven effective over the years. The recent sharp decrease in the global food prices has left us with inventory that was purchased at prices higher from the current market prices and with backlog of vendor orders with purchase prices that are higher than the current purchase prices. Because we must adjust our selling prices to the market prices and pass these costs onto our customers, our gross margins will be reduced."

Mr. Williger continued, "We are currently negotiating with our vendors regarding reducing the purchase prices on the orders that we committed on. We hope that this act will be successful."

Mr. Williger concluded, "As a result, we expect that our gross margins in the fourth quarter of 2008 and in the first quarter of 2009 would be affected by these global decreases in the food prices."

In its November 10, 2008 press release, Willi Food announced its decision to discontinue its guidance for the market and quarterly projections of revenue results. Due to the importance of the effect on the Company's financial results resulting from the sharp decrease in global food product purchase prices, the Company decided to issue this announcement. This announcement does not change the Company's previously announced disclosure policy.
