MARTIN STEWART TO LEAVE CFO POST AT BSKYB

British Sky Broadcasting Group plc ("BSkyB") announced today that Martin Stewart, its Chief Financial Officer, will be leaving the Company to pursue other interests. Mr Stewart joined BSKyB as Group Financial Controller in 1996 and became CFO in May 1998.

Mr Stewart will continue in his post until 4th August 2004, unless a new CFO is appointed before that date, in which case Mr Stewart has agreed to assist in an orderly transition to his successor. Mr Stewart will resign as a director of BSKyB on the earlier of the 4th August 2004 and the appointment of his successor.

Martin Stewart said "I have been privileged to work at Sky in a uniquely fascinating phase of its development during which it has evolved from an analogue product to the UK's leading digital platform with over seven million customers. After eight years of service to BSKyB, it is now the right time for me to pursue new opportunities."

James Murdoch, Chief Executive of BSKyB, said "Martin has played an enormous role in the success of Sky and has been instrumental in the Company's transition from analogue to digital. He will be leaving the Company in a superlative position thanks in no small part to his contribution across the operations and strategy of the Group. On behalf of the management and the Board, I wish him every success in the future and thank him for his commitment and personal contribution to the success of the business."
