- M&G had record gross fund inflows of GBP5.6 billion, up 62 per cent on 2004

Group Update

- Clear articulation of Group strategy built on maximising shareholder value through mainly organic growth in US, Asia and UK
- Focus on becoming a leader across the three regions in retirement services, in addition to life insurance and fund management
- JNL is a key part of our plans to achieve a leading position in retirement services in the US: increased remittances from JNL to Group
- Asia has sufficient funding to exploit in full the growth opportunities in the region, while remaining on track to become cash positive in 2006
- We have three strong UK franchises, but there are opportunities for cost synergies and potential revenue benefits from close collaboration
- Egg retained with important role in this broader UK strategy
- Well placed in fund management globally to capitalise on increasing appetite for transparent investment products, access to more global products and the continuing rise of open architecture platforms
- Capital and cash to fund organic growth over the medium term, within our current and developing balance sheet.

Commenting, Mark Tucker, Group Chief Executive said:

"All our businesses are showing strong growth and these results are a clear demonstration of the momentum that the Group has built up. They confirm that our businesses are in robust health and the prospects are positive.

"JNL's total APE sales were up 17 per cent, and within that retail sales for the nine months were GBP308 million - that's up 14 per cent on 2004. Improved variable and fixed index annuity sales were partially offset by decreased fixed annuity sales.

"In Asia, we've followed a strong second quarter with a very good third quarter - a quarter that's up 32 per cent on the same period last year. Sales of more profitable regular premium products now represent 89 per cent of APE sales.

"In the UK, growth has been driven mainly by strong sales of unit-linked bonds and bulk annuities. Competition has intensified in some areas in the third quarter, particularly in protection and in elements of the individual annuity market. Despite this, we remain confident that we will achieve our forecast of 10 per cent APE growth in 2005.

"M&G, supported by excellent investment performance had record gross fund inflows for the nine months of GBP5.6 billion - an increase of 62 per cent on the same period last year. Net fund inflows increased 343 per cent to GBP2.7 billion for the year to date.

Edgar Filing: PRUDENTIAL PLC - Form 6-K

"Egg reported separately today and their results represent a solid performance at a time when the unsecured lending market remains highly competitive."

Group Update

Mark Tucker also provided an update on the future direction of the Group. He said:

"The Group has undertaken a comprehensive review of retail financial services markets in all major geographies, not just Prudential home territories. We have one clear standard that we use to guide all of our strategy decisions - the choices we make and the actions we take must consistently generate sustainable value for our shareholders. And our actions must achieve the optimum balance between present and future growth and profitability.

"Taking a broader view has, in many areas, confirmed the existing strategies Prudential has been following as sound. However we see a need, looking to the future to target a broader spectrum of opportunity than just life insurance - important and profitable though we expect that sector to be for us."

JNL is a highly successful and well-positioned participant in a market in which we want to be powerful. We see the US as a very important part of the Group's plans to achieve a leading position in retirement services internationally.

As "Baby Boomers" retire and shift their focus from asset accumulation to income distribution, one of JNL's main aims will be to capture a proportion of these flows - it has all the attributes to succeed. With an emphasis on sales of low capital intensive variable annuity products, solid operating results and strong investment portfolio performance, JNL is capable of self-generating the capital necessary to support its future growth at our required returns and return a growing remittance to the centre.

Asia has been the main engine for growth in the Group in recent years and we have no intention of restricting growth in Asia to a level lower than that which we consider commercially optimum and sustainable. We can meet our challenging growth targets and do so within our stated aim of turning cash positive from 2006. The strategy will continue to be to grow primarily by organic means in all markets, but with particular focus on China, Taiwan, Korea and India. To drive this forward, Mark Norbom, Chief Executive of Prudential Corporation Asia, recently announced a number of new roles and enhanced responsibilities across the region.

In the UK, the Group has three very strong franchises to build on - M&G continues both to deliver top tier investment performance and accelerate profitability, Egg has demonstrated the power to build a large-scale "sticky" customer base of over three million and a very powerful consumer brand, while our UK insurance operations continue to deliver against its growth and value targets.

Although each of the businesses will continue to target growth in its own sector, we see opportunities for greater collaboration allowing us to capitalise on the strong positions we have in different areas of the market.

We have decided to retain and develop Egg. The potential advantages that we can get from owning Egg make it clear that retaining it is the right decision. It fits in with our objective of generating more value for our customers and shareholders.

There are four key reasons behind this decision. Egg has built a strong customer franchise with over 3 million younger, more affluent customers - and these customers are a good and very different complement to Prudential's multi-million

UK customers. Second, is its brand. Next, Egg's direct distribution model has supported upwards of 20 per cent compound growth since 2000. In a world of increasing intermediation, we believe that maintaining a direct distribution capability remains very important. Finally, Egg also provides the expertise and infrastructure as our entry point into the highly profitable personal savings and loans market. The short-term payback and the lower capital-intensive lending and deposit products are also an important complement to our longer-term capital-intensive retirement offering in the UK.

Cost benefit can be won through managing administration and IT infrastructure more closely and by seeking to coordinate our marketing efforts where this makes sense. Revenue opportunities are a potential prize as we work through how best to add value to our millions of Prudential customers by offering a wider range of retail financial services products, banking and loan products manufactured by Egg and extremely attractive medium to long-term savings products manufactured by M&G.

We are in the process of a detailed review of how best to realise these synergies. We will be considering whether there is a financial and commercial case for bringing Egg fully into the Group through a share exchange or whether to retain the existing structure. No decision has been made as yet.

Prudential has three excellent asset management businesses. We anticipate an increasing appetite for transparent investment products, access to more global products and a continuing rise in open architecture platforms plus a rapidly expanding role for cross-border sales off a common investment platform. As a result of our performance, brand and distinctive investment culture, we are exceptionally well-placed to capitalise on these factors.

There are material synergies for us to act on. We have identified three main areas where there are material cost savings from working across the business units. These are capital management, risk management and in the Group's IT infrastructure. For example, work underway on a single global IT infrastructure should provide a saving of GBP20-25 million a year.

Capital management is at the centre of the Group agenda. We have taken a very hard look at where our capital is deployed. Our performance and our efforts to improve capital efficiency, have yielded significant improvements over the last year.

Over the medium term, we have the capital and cash to fund organic growth within our current and developing balance sheet. There are also further options to increase our capacity in the future through debt and alternative capital sources.

Mark Tucker concluded:

"Prudential is a successful business and we will continue to build shareholder value. We're going to sustain the geographical spread that has stood Prudential in such good stead over the last decade.

"We'll continue to build market leading franchises in the US and Asia and build on our strong positions in the UK. We'll do that by organic growth and by building on our proven strengths and in particular we'll take advantage of the global 'retirement financing' opportunity and our strong life insurance and fund management businesses.

"Alongside our ambition to become a leading player in retirement services, we'll leverage our capabilities and assets in all related financial service markets where we are confident we have a basis for advantage."

Edgar Filing: PRUDENTIAL PLC - Form 6-K

Update on Group Capital and Cashflow

Philip Broadley, Group Finance Director, also provided an update on Group capital and cashflow. He said:

"One of the benefits of the Group's present structure and operations is the diversification benefit we get from the spread of risks we've taken on. Using our internal capital model, our gross capital requirement of GBP3.7 billion is reduced by over GBP1 billion, or about 30 per cent because of the benefits of diversification across the Group.

"As at 31 December 2004, as previously reported, Prudential had a surplus of GBP845 million on the Financial Conglomerates' Directive basis, which we expect to be broadly maintained at the end of 2005."

Taiwan

Philip Broadley also gave a summary of the Group's in-force insurance liabilities in Taiwan.

Prudential's in-force business in Taiwan includes traditional whole of life policies where the premium rates have been set by the regulator at different points in time for the industry as a whole. Premium rates were set to give a guaranteed minimum sum assured on death and a guaranteed surrender value on early surrender based on prevailing interest rates at the time of policy issue. Premium rates also included allowances for mortality and expenses. Guarantees have fallen over time as interest rates have reduced from a high of 8 per cent to levels of around 2 per cent today. The current low level of bond rates available in Taiwan gives rise to a negative spread against the majority of these policies.

The current cash costs of funding in-force negative spread in Taiwan is around GBP30 million a year. With planned growth, Taiwan is expected to become cash positive during 2010 even if rates were to stay unchanged.

In line with our strategy to develop the Taiwan business away from traditional business, the current mix of new business in Taiwan is 78 per cent unit-linked and protection. Interest rates have little effect on new business profitability and a 100 basis points fall in interest rates would reduce the new business margin in Taiwan by less than two percentage points.

Interest rate risk in Taiwan is allowed for within our economic capital modelling on a stochastic basis. This capital is held in central funds and is not required as local capital in Taiwan.

For regulatory capital purposes the FSA has agreed that we should modify the calculation so that the capital requirement in Taiwan under the Financial Conglomerates' Directive can be determined on an economic capital basis that reflects the nature of our in-force liabilities in Taiwan.

In achieved profits reporting at the 2005 half year we assumed that Taiwanese bond rates, currently at around 2 per cent, will trend to a long-term assumption of 5.5 per cent by 31 December 2012. Allowance is made for the mix of assets in the fund, our future investment strategy and the market value depreciation of bonds already held by the fund as yields rise to the assumed long-term yields. At the half year this resulted in an assumed Fund Earned Rate that trends from 2.3 per cent to 5.8 per cent by 31 December 2013. There is a slight decline in the Fund Earned Rate in the first few years as the depreciation of long bonds exceeds the corresponding income pick up as rates rise.

Taiwan's achieved profits embedded value at the end of 2004 was GBP153 million

with sensitivities to bond rates as follows:

- a 100 basis point fall in starting bond rates would reduce embedded value by GBP84 million
- a 100 basis point increase in starting bond rates would increase embedded value by GBP70 million
- a 100 basis point parallel decrease in bond rates with an equivalent adjustment to the risk discount rate would reduce embedded value by GBP204 million
- a 100 basis point parallel increase in bond rates with an equivalent adjustment to the risk discount rate would increase embedded value by GBP148 million

Prudential restated its 2004 year end achieved profits results to reflect European Embedded Value (EEV) principles on 2 June 2005. In these restatements the capital allocated to Asia was increased in line with the increase in economic capital and resulted in a charge of GBP269 million to embedded value. Prudential will adopt EEV as its Supplementary Reporting basis for its 2005 year end reporting. EEV embedded value has been established using a trended basis to longer-term rates with a prudent allowance for capital on a stochastic basis for the possible scenarios where lower interest rates would prevail.

Taiwan remains a key growth market for Prudential and was the largest of our markets in Asia in the nine months to 30 September 2005 in terms of APE sales.

Commentary on Nine Months' Results

UK and Europe Insurance Operations

Prudential UK and Europe APE sales in the first nine months of 2005 of GBP700 million were up 34 per cent on the same period of 2004, driven mainly by strong sales of bulk annuities and unit-linked bonds. This increase in sales includes the acquisition of the in-force pension annuities book from Phoenix Life & Pensions ("PLP") in June 2005. Excluding this transaction, APE sales increased by 7 per cent.

Bulk annuity sales in the first nine months of 2005 of GBP193 million were up GBP168 million on the prior year. Excluding the PLP transaction, growth in bulk annuity sales remained strong (up 92 per cent), reflecting Prudential's leading position in this market.

Although sales of individual annuities through intermediaries slowed due to the current competitive pricing environment to which Prudential chose not to respond, sales through the Partnerships and Direct to Consumer channels have largely been unaffected. Total individual annuity sales increased by 4 per cent on last year to GBP163 million, demonstrating the benefits of Prudential's diversified distribution capability.

APE sales of unit-linked bonds increased 69 per cent to GBP49 million, reflecting continued progress being made by Prudential in the IFA unit-linked bond market.

Corporate pension sales have remained challenging with APE sales of GBP117 million in the first nine months of 2005 down 13 per cent on the same period last year. However, a number of larger mandates have been secured for the latter part of 2005, including the group stakeholder pension schemes for Royal & SunAlliance and Goodyear Dunlop.

APE sales for Prudential's European operations increased 88 per cent to GBP15 million, reflecting growing bond sales through new and existing distributors.

Both PruFund and PruHealth celebrated their first anniversaries in the third quarter. PruFund's initial investors received a total increase in their policy values of 8.4 per cent during the year (after tax and fund charges) reflecting the continued superior investment performance of Prudential's life fund. This strong investment performance was recognised in the Cazalet 2005 with-profits report where Prudential's rating increased from 8/10 to 9/10.

PruHealth had a good first year with sales growing more than 30 per cent per month in 2005. At the end of the third quarter of 2005, PruHealth had over 200 group clients and covered approximately 13,250 individuals. Premium income for the first nine months of 2005 was GBP5 million, of which GBP2 million was written in the third quarter.

Prudential's new lifetime mortgage product, Prudential Property Value Release Plan, has been open for quotations and illustrations since the end of August 2005, and launched for new business earlier this month. This innovative product which gives customers greater flexibility and control over the timing of when they draw down funds, thereby reducing total interest charges over the lifetime of the loan, has been well received by advisers and customers.

In September 2005, Bankhall announced that Prudential had been appointed to its multi-tie panel to provide annuities, bonds, pensions, and protection products. Bankhall is one of the UK's largest distributors of financial advice with over 7,500 financial advisers. This followed Prudential's appointment in July to Sesame's regulated multi-tie panel. Prudential was selected as a provider of guaranteed and with-profit annuities, investments, protection, and individual pensions and the panel went live in September. Prudential has been appointed to all but one of the major multi-tie networks announced to date and is strongly positioned to increase its share in the depolarised marketplace as this develops over the next couple of years.

Competition in some parts of the UK market remained challenging in the third quarter, in particular for protection and annuities where pricing has intensified. Despite this, Prudential UK remains confident that it will achieve overall growth in APE sales of 10 per cent in 2005.

M&G

M&G delivered record gross fund inflows of GBP5.6 billion in the first nine months of 2005, an increase of 62 per cent on the same period last year. Net fund inflows increased 343 per cent to GBP2.7 billion year to date.

Gross retail fund inflows were a record GBP2.7 billion, more than double the inflows in the same period last year, on the back of strong retail fund performance across all asset classes. Sales of equity funds were particularly strong, reflecting the fact that in equities M&G now has 72 per cent of funds in the top quartile over three years and 84 per cent of funds beating the sector average. M&G's UK retail business delivered gross fund inflows of GBP1.1 billion, already surpassing the whole of 2004. M&G International, which sells funds in Germany, Austria, Italy, Luxembourg and Switzerland, continued to grow very strongly, with gross fund inflows of GBP697 million, compared to GBP229 million for the first nine months of 2004. The South African business generated gross fund inflows of GBP855 million, up from GBP225 million for the same period last year. Net retail fund inflows across M&G's retail businesses totalled GBP899 million, a 484 per cent increase compared to last year.

Gross institutional fund inflows increased by 31 per cent in the first nine months of this year, totalling GBP2.9 billion. Net fund inflows were GBP1.8 billion, compared to GBP463 million last year. M&G's Collateralised Debt Obligations (CDO) business continued to develop strongly with net inflows of GBP521 million in the year to date. Institutional funds under management in the areas of segregated fixed income, pooled funds and property have also continued to grow during the year.

Jackson National Life

Jackson National Life (JNL) has delivered a strong result in the first nine months with total APE sales of GBP401 million up 17 per cent on the same period in 2004, as a result of increased variable annuity, fixed index annuity, and institutional product sales. Total retail APE sales for the first nine months of GBP308 million were up 14 per cent on 2004 as improved variable and fixed index annuity sales were partially offset by decreased fixed annuity sales during the period.

For the first nine months of 2005, variable annuity APE sales of GBP187 million were up 27 per cent on the prior year, following on from record sales in 2004. Total sales of variable annuities exceeded $1 billion in each of the first three quarters of 2005, with sales in each consecutive quarter surpassing the last. This result was achieved against a decline in the variable annuity market of 5 per cent for the first half of 2005(1), and reflects JNL's continued success in product innovation and distribution.

JNL was ranked as the 12th largest provider of variable annuities in the US market during the first half of 2005, compared with 15th during the same period last year. Its variable annuity assets grew 11 per cent during the first half of the year, compared with total industry growth of 1 per cent¹. The rate of take-up of the fixed account option continued to decline at 22 per cent during the first nine months, compared with 28 per cent during the same period in 2004, primarily as a result of continued low interest rates and customers' desire for greater equity exposure.

APE sales of fixed annuities were GBP64 million, down 24 per cent on the first nine months of 2004, reflecting continued low interest rates and a relatively flat yield curve in the US, which has made rates on short-term certificates of deposit more attractive to customers.

Fixed index annuity APE sales of GBP46 million were up 59 per cent on the first nine months of 2004, reflecting customers' increasing preference for fixed products with the potential for higher returns linked to equity index performance.

APE sales of life products of GBP11 million for the first nine months of 2005, were up 10 per cent on the prior year.

APE sales of institutional products for the first nine months of the year were GBP94 million, up 31 per cent on the same period in 2004, reflecting several attractive issuance opportunities in the first half of 2005.

Curian Capital, which provides innovative fee-based separately managed accounts, had deposits of GBP315 million for the first nine months of the year, up 7 per cent over the same period in 2004. Currently in its third year of operation, Curian has surpassed $1.5 billion of funds under management.

Jackson National has delivered impressive sales growth in the first nine months of 2005. The customer friendly annuity products, low-cost structure, relationship-based distribution model, and award-winning customer service have positioned the company well to capitalise on growth opportunities in the US market going forward.

Prudential Corporation Asia

Edgar Filing: PRUDENTIAL PLC - Form 6-K

Prudential's Asian operations have continued the strong growth shown at the half year with total APE sales in the first nine months of GBP508 million, up 27 per cent on the same period last year. For the third quarter of 2005, sales on an APE basis of GBP197 million represent an increase of 32 per cent on the same three month period in 2004 and 15 per cent growth over the second quarter of 2005. Sales of more profitable regular premium products continue to grow and now represent 89 per cent of APE sales.

Prudential's Korean life operation has sustained its strong performance recorded at the half year with third quarter APE sales of GBP31 million, an increase of 107 per cent on the same quarter last year. APE sales for the first nine months of 2005 were up 90 per cent on prior year. This increase clearly demonstrates the flexibility of its multi-channel distribution model, with in-house financial consultants and general agents currently the primary distribution channels, supported by contributions from direct marketing and bancassurance.

Prudential's Indian life insurance joint venture with ICICI remains firmly in position as the number one private sector life insurance company. Prudential's 26 per cent share of the joint venture's APE sales for the first nine months of 2005 was GBP41 million, up 64 per cent on the same period in 2004. The business continues to extend its geographic reach in India with 74 branches to date and has grown its tied agency force by 72 per cent over prior year.

The life insurance joint venture with CITIC in China continues its rapid growth with a 17 per cent increase in third quarter APE sales compared to the second quarter, and a 46 per cent increase compared to the third quarter last year. APE sales for the first nine months of 2005 were GBP16 million, up 33 per cent on the same period of 2004. Progress continues to be made in establishing CITIC Prudential as the leading foreign joint venture life insurer in terms of geographic coverage, with six new city licences added during 2005 bringing the total to 10.

In Indonesia, APE sales for the first nine months of GBP33 million represent a 57 per cent increase on the same period of 2004. Third quarter sales of GBP13 million were 18 per cent ahead of the second quarter.

Third quarter APE sales in Taiwan increased 50 per cent over the second quarter. This was in part due to the successful launch of a new unit linked retirement product in the previous quarter. For the first nine months of 2005, APE sales were up 13 per cent on prior year to GBP120 million. Unit-linked sales in Taiwan continue to grow and now represent 65 per cent of total APE sales in Taiwan on a year-to-date basis.

Prudential's Singapore life operation delivered APE sales growth of 21 per cent compared to both the second quarter and to the same nine month period last year, driven in part by the launch of six new investment linked funds in 2005.

In Hong Kong, growth in APE sales was 7 per cent compared with the same nine month period last year demonstrating good performance in a challenging market. Third quarter sales of the more profitable regular premium products have continued to grow quarter on quarter over the nine month period due to growth from the bancassurance channels.

In Malaysia, Prudential's life business continues to benefit from its market leading agent productivity with total APE sales for the first nine months of 2005 of GBP46 million, up 18 per cent on the same nine month period last year.

Year to date aggregate APE sales from the remaining four markets of the Philippines, Thailand, Vietnam and Japan are down 9 per cent compared with the same nine month period last year. In Vietnam, sales for the first nine months of 2005 were down 20 per cent from the same period last year as industry growth continues to be slower than in 2004.

Edgar Filing: PRUDENTIAL PLC - Form 6-K

Total investment product funds under management are GBP9.3 billion, up 22 per cent on 2004. Earlier this year ICICI, Prudential's joint venture partner in the Prudential ICICI Asset Management Company, agreed to purchase an additional 6 per cent share of Prudential ICICI Asset Management Company. The transaction was completed on 26th August, bringing ICICI Group's share to 51 per cent, while Prudential now holds 49 per cent. As a result, Prudential no longer consolidates Prudential ICICI Asset Management Company as a subsidiary.

Net investment product inflows of GBP0.9 billion are up 249 per cent on 2004. Strong net inflows in Japan of GBP836 million and Korea of GBP473 million were partially offset by net outflows in Taiwan of GBP570 million where the bond fund market remains unsettled and of GBP150 million in third party institutional mandates.

We are confident of our ability to grow strongly and profitably in Asia. The opportunities in our newer markets, coupled with the strength of our larger operations, should enable us to maintain good sales growth for the remainder of 2005.

Egg

Egg has separately announced its third quarter results today.
