CellStar Corporation and Subsidiaries

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

(Unaudited)

(1) Basis for Presentation

Although the interim consolidated financial statements of CellStar Corporation and subsidiaries (the Company) are unaudited, Company management is of the opinion that all adjustments (consisting of only normal recurring adjustments) necessary for a fair statement of the results have been reflected therein. Operating revenues and net income (loss) for any interim period are not necessarily indicative of results that may be expected for the entire year.

These statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and related notes included in Amendment No. 3 to the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K/A (the Form 10-K/A) for the year ended November 30, 2002.

Certain prior period financial statement amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation.

The Company has not materially changed its significant accounting policies from those disclosed in the Form 10-K/A, except as discussed below.

Adoption of New Accounting Pronouncements

In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (the FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (Statement) No. 141 Business Combinations. Statement No. 141 changes the accounting for business combinations to eliminate the pooling-of-interests method and requires all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001 to be accounted for using the purchase method. This statement also requires intangible assets that arise from contractual or other legal rights, or that are capable of being separated or divided from the acquired entity, be recognized separately from goodwill. Existing intangible assets and goodwill that were acquired in a prior purchase business combination must be evaluated and any necessary reclassifications must be made in order to conform with the new criteria in Statement No. 141 for recognition apart from goodwill. The adoption of Statement No. 141 did not have a material impact on the consolidated results of operations or financial position or cash flows.

In June 2001, the FASB also issued Statement No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Statement No. 142 addresses the initial recognition and measurement of intangible assets acquired (other than those acquired in a business combination, which is addressed by Statement No. 141) and the subsequent accounting for goodwill and other intangible assets after initial recognition. Statement No. 142 eliminates the amortization of goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives. Intangible assets with lives restricted by contractual, legal, or other means will continue to be amortized over their useful lives. This statement also requires the Company to reassess the useful lives of all intangible assets acquired, and make any necessary amortization period adjustments. Goodwill and other intangible assets not subject to amortization are tested for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the asset might be impaired. Statement No. 142 requires a two-step process for testing goodwill for impairment. First, the fair value of each reporting unit is compared to its carrying value to determine whether an indication of impairment exists. A reporting unit is an operating segment or one level below an operating segment. The Company's reporting units are Asia Pacific-Greater China Operations, Asia Pacific-South Pacific Operations, North America, Latin America-Mexico, Latin America-excluding Mexico, Sweden and, until the sale of The Netherlands operations on March 21, 2003, The Netherlands. If an impairment is indicated, then the fair value of the reporting unit's goodwill is determined by allocating the unit's fair value to its assets and liabilities (including any unrecognized intangible assets) as if the reporting unit had been acquired in a business combination. The amount of impairment for goodwill and other intangible assets is measured as the excess of its carrying value over its fair value. Goodwill and intangible assets acquired after June 30, 2001 were immediately subject to the impairment provisions of this statement. The Company completed its impairment testing under the requirements of Statement No. 142 during the first quarter of 2003 and the results were applied as of December 1, 2002. See Note 7 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further discussion.

Table of Contents

In October 2001, the FASB issued Statement No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets. Statement No. 144 supersedes Statement No. 121, Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to Be Disposed Of and also supersedes the accounting and reporting provisions of APB Opinion Number 30, Reporting the Results of Operations Reporting the Effects of Disposal of a Segment of a Business, and Extraordinary, Unusual and Infrequently Occurring Events and Transactions (APB No. 30), for segments of a business to be disposed of. Among its many provisions, Statement No. 144 retains the fundamental requirements of both previous standards; however, it resolves significant implementation issues related to Statement No. 121 and broadens the separate presentation of discontinued operations in the income statement required by APB No. 30 to include a component of an entity (rather than a segment of a business). The Company adopted Statement No. 144 on December 1, 2002. See Note 6 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further discussion.

In April of 2002, the FASB issued Statement No. 145, Rescission of FASB Statements No. 4, 44 and 64, Amendment of FASB Statement No. 13 and Technical Corrections. Statement No.145 rescinds Statement No. 4, Reporting Gains and Losses from Extinguishment of Debt, and an amendment to Statement No. 4, Statement No. 64, Extinguishments of Debt Made to Satisfy Sinking Fund Requirements. Statement No. 4 required that all gains and losses from the extinguishment of debt be aggregated and, if material, be classified as an extraordinary item, net of the related income tax effect. Statement No. 145 requires all gains and losses on the extinguishment of debt be classified as extraordinary items only if they meet the criteria in APB No. 30. The Company adopted Statement No. 145 on December 1, 2002. The Company has reclassified the gain on early extinguishment of debt from an extraordinary item to a separate line item before income (loss) from continuing operations. See Note 5 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further discussion.

The Company also adopted Statement No. 143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations, Statement No. 146, Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities, and the consensus reached in FASB's Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) No. 02-16, Accounting by a Customer, (including a Reseller) for Cash Consideration Received from a Vendor. The adoption of these Statements and EITF Issue No. 02-16 did not have a material impact on the consolidated results of operations or financial position or cash flows.

In November 2002, the FASB issued Interpretation No. 45, Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others. The initial recognition and initial measurement provisions of this Interpretation are applicable on a prospective basis to guarantees issued or modified after December 31, 2002, regardless of the guarantor's fiscal year-end. The disclosure requirements in this Interpretation are effective for financial statements of interim or annual periods ending after December 15, 2002. The interpretive guidance incorporated without change from Interpretation No. 34 continues to be required for financial statements for fiscal years ending after June 15, 1981, which was the effective date of Interpretation No. 34. The adoption of this Interpretation did not have a material effect on the Company's results of operations, financial position or cash flows. The disclosure provisions were applied in the preparation of the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements.

In January 2003, the FASB issued Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities. This Interpretation applies to variable interest entities created after January 31, 2003, and to variable interest entities in which an enterprise obtains an interest after that date. It also applies in the first fiscal year or interim period beginning after June 15, 2003 to variable interest entities in which an enterprise holds a variable interest that it acquired before February 1, 2003. The adoption of this Interpretation is not expected to have a material impact on the consolidated results of operations, financial position or cash flows.

In December 2002, the FASB issued Statement No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation Transition and Disclosure. Statement 148 amends FASB Statement No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, to provide alternative methods of transition for a voluntary change to the fair value based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation. In addition, this Statement amends the disclosure requirements of Statement 123 to require prominent disclosures in both annual and interim financial statements about the method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation and the effect of the method used on reported results. The Company has elected to account for stock-based compensation using the intrinsic method prescribed by Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees. As long as the Company continues using Opinion 25, only the disclosure provisions of Statement 148 will apply to the Company. The disclosure provisions were applied in the preparation of the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements.

Stock Based Compensation

The Company applies the intrinsic value method provisions of Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and related interpretations in accounting for grants to Company directors, officers and employees under the Company's stock option plans. No stock-based employee compensation cost was reflected in net income (loss), as all options granted under the plans had an exercise price equal to the market value of the underlying common stock on the date of grant. The following table illustrates the effect on net income (loss) and income (loss) per share if the Company had applied the fair value recognition provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation in accounting for the plans.

(2) Net Income (Loss) Per Share

Basic net income (loss) per common share is based on the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the relevant period. Diluted net income (loss) per common share is based on the weighted average number of common shares outstanding plus the dilutive effect of potentially issuable common shares pursuant to stock options and convertible notes.

A reconciliation of the numerators and denominators of the basic and diluted net income (loss) per share computations for the three and six months ended May 31, 2003 and 2002 follows (in thousands, except per share data):

respectively, were not included in the computation of diluted earnings per share because their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive.

The $39.1 million of 5% senior subordinated convertible notes issued in the exchange offer (see Note 5 to the Consolidated Financial Statements) were converted into 7.8 million shares of the Company's common stock on or before November 30, 2002, and were considered as dilutive securities beginning February 20, 2002. The 5% convertible subordinated notes were not dilutive for the three months or six months ended May 31, 2002.

(3) Segment and Related Information

The Company operates predominately within one industry, wholesale and retail sales of wireless telecommunications products. The Company's management evaluates operations primarily on income before interest and income taxes in the following reportable geographical regions: Asia-Pacific, North America, Latin America, including Mexico and the Company's Miami, Florida operations (Miami), and Europe. Revenues and operations of Miami are included in Latin America since Miami's product sales are primarily for export to Latin American countries, either by the Company or through its exporter customers. The Corporate segment includes headquarters operations, income and expenses not allocated to reportable segments and interest expense on the Company's domestic revolving line of credit and long-term debt. Corporate segment assets primarily consist of cash, cash equivalents and deferred income tax assets. Intersegment sales and transfers are not significant.

As of September 28, 2001, the Company had negotiated and finalized a five-year, $60.0 million Loan and Security Agreement (the Facility) with a bank. On October 12, 2001, the Company finalized an amendment to the Facility increasing the commitment amount from $60.0 million to $85.0 million.

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

Funding under the Facility is limited by a borrowing base test, which is measured weekly. Interest on borrowings under the Facility is at the London Interbank Offered Rate, or at the bank's prime lending rate, plus an applicable margin. The Facility is secured by a pledge of 100% of the outstanding stock of all U.S. subsidiaries and 65% of the outstanding stock of first tier foreign subsidiaries. The Facility is further secured by the Company's domestic accounts receivable, inventory, property, plant and equipment and all domestic real property and intangible assets. The Facility contains, among other provisions, covenants relating to the maintenance of minimum net worth and certain financial ratios, dividend payments, additional debt, mergers and acquisitions and disposition of assets.

On February 6, 2003, the Company finalized an amendment to the Facility that allowed for the exclusion of certain charges from certain financial covenants in the loan agreement related to credit facilities that it may establish in its Mexico operations. On February 28, 2003, the Company completed an amendment to the Facility that allowed for the exclusion of U.S. Federal income taxes on undistributed earnings associated with the Company's Asia-Pacific Region.

Effective May 31, 2003, the Company completed an amendment to the Facility. The amendment waives compliance by the Company's Asia-Pacific Region with a financial covenant in the Facility for the quarter ended May 31, 2003, and modifies the covenant for the quarters ending August 31, and November 30, 2003, and February 29, 2004.

At May 31, 2003, the Company's operations in the People's Republic of China (PRC) had five lines of credit totaling approximately 779 million RMB (approximately USD $94.2 million), of which $90.4 million had been borrowed. Four of the credit lines provide for a combination of bank loans, the issuance of bank notes and discounting of customer receivables for which the Company has received either commercial notes or bank notes. One of the credit lines is utilized solely for discounting customer receivables for which the Company has received either commercial notes or bank notes. The bank loans and issued bank notes bear interest at rates ranging from 0.00% to 5.04%, and have maturity dates through January 2004. The Company typically renews or rolls over these lines of credit for 3 to 12 month terms. The discounted bank or commercial notes have a discount rate of between 3.00% and 4.20%. At the end of the discount period, the Company typically has the opportunity to discount additional customer receivables. There can be no assurance that these lines of credit will be renewed in the future.

The amount outstanding as bank loans and issued bank notes totaled $61.8 million as of May 31, 2003. The amount of discounted bank notes and commercial notes totaled $28.6 million. The bank loans and issued bank notes are collateralized by a combination of U.S. dollar cash deposits in Hong Kong ($15.0 million of collateral), RMB cash deposits in the PRC ($3.3 million of collateral), or PRC accounts receivable ($21.7 million of collateral).

On October 24, 2002, the Company entered into a revolving credit facility in Sweden of 70 million Swedish Krona (approximately USD $7.5 million). The facility is secured by the accounts receivable of the Sweden operations and bears interest at a rate of 5.60%. The facility matures on December 31, 2003, but will be automatically extended for 12 months unless terminated by one of the parties. The credit facility contains certain financial and other covenants for the Sweden operations. At May 31, 2003, $2.4 million had been borrowed on the facility.

The Company entered into a 6.0 million Euro credit facility on December 20, 2002 in The Netherlands. On March 21, 2003, the Company completed the sale of its Netherlands operations to a group which included local management (See Note 6 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further discussion). In conjunction with the sale, the facility was assumed in full by the buyers.

At May 31, 2003, long-term debt consisted of $12.4 million of the Company's 12% Senior Subordinated Notes (the Senior Notes) due January 15, 2007. The Senior Notes bear interest at 12%, payable in cash in arrears semi-annually on February 15 and August 15. The Senior Notes contain certain covenants that restrict the Company's ability to incur additional indebtedness; make investments, loans and advances; declare dividends or certain other distributions; create liens; enter into sale-leaseback transactions; consolidate; merge; sell assets; and enter into transactions with affiliates.

(5) Gain on Early Extinguishment of Debt

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

At November 30, 2001, the Company had $150.0 million of 5% Convertible Subordinated Notes (the Subordinated Notes) due October 15, 2002, which were convertible into 1.1 million shares of common stock at $138.34 per share (adjusted for the effect of the one-for-five reverse stock split effective on February 22, 2002) at any time prior to maturity.

On January 14, 2002, the Company filed an S-4 registration statement (the Exchange Offer) with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) offering to exchange, for each $1,000 principal amount of its existing Subordinated Notes, $366.67 in cash and, at the election of the holder, one of the following options: a) $400.94 principal amount of Senior Notes, b) $320.75 principal amount of Senior Notes and $80.19 principal amount of 5% Senior Subordinated Convertible Notes due November 2002 (the Senior Convertible Notes), or c) $400.94 principal amount of Senior Convertible Notes.

On February 20, 2002, the Company completed its Exchange Offer for its $150.0 million of Subordinated Notes. Holders owning $128.6 million of Subordinated Notes exchanged them for $47.2 million in cash, $12.4 million of Senior Notes, and $39.1 million of Senior Convertible Notes. Upon completion of the Exchange Offer, $21.4 million of the Subordinated Notes were not exchanged.

The Company realized a gain on early extinguishment of debt of $17.1 million during the first quarter of fiscal 2002, as a result of the Exchange Offer. The exchange was accounted for as a troubled debt restructuring in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 15. Accordingly, the total future interest payments of $8.8 million on the Senior Notes and Senior Convertible Notes were accrued upon completion of the Exchange Offer and were included in accrued expenses ($3.4 million) and other long-term liabilities ($5.4 million). As of May 31, 2003 and November 30, 2002, the Company had made cash payments of $2.4 million and $1.7 million, respectively, for interest associated with the Senior Notes and Senior Convertible Notes. The Company has future interest payments accrued of $2.5 million and $2.5 million in accrued expenses and $3.9 million and $4.6 million in other long-term liabilities at May 31, 2003 and November 30, 2002, respectively. The Company will not recognize these payments as interest expense in future periods.

As a result of the Exchange Offer, the Company was deemed to have undergone an ownership change for purposes of the Internal Revenue Code. The Company has sufficient tax loss carry forwards to offset the tax liability on the gain.

At May 31, 2002, the Company had extinguished $1.8 million of the Subordinated Notes not tendered in the Exchange Offer in a series of transactions using various combinations of cash and the Company's common stock.

The following summarizes the gain on early extinguishment of debt for the six months ended May 31, 2002 (in thousands):

From June 1, 2002 to July 29, 2002, the Company extinguished an additional $2.7 million in a series of transactions using various combinations of cash and the Company's common stock. On October 15, 2002, the Company redeemed at maturity for cash the remaining $16.9 million of its Subordinated Notes.

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

On December 1, 2002, the Company adopted FASB Statement No. 145, Rescission of FASB Statements No. 4, 44, and 64 Amendment of FASB Statement No. 13 and Technical Corrections, which requires that all gains and losses on extinguishment of debt be classified as extraordinary items only if they meet the criteria in APB No. 30. Accordingly, the Company has reclassified the gain on early extinguishment of debt in 2002 from an extraordinary gain to a separate line item before income (loss) from continuing operations.

(6) Repositioning of Operations

In the second quarter of 2002, the Company decided, as part of its plan to reposition its operations, that it would exit the United Kingdom (the U.K.), Peru and Argentina as soon as practicable, as well as address the balance of its European and Latin American markets, excluding Mexico and Miami. As a result of this decision, the Company recorded a net charge of $10.0 million for the three months ended May 31, 2002. During the third quarter of 2002, the Company completed the divestitures of its Peru and Argentina operations to local management at approximately book value. As part of the divestitures, the Company obtained promissory notes totaling $0.9 million and $0.2 million, respectively, from local management in Peru and Argentina. These promissory notes are fully reserved and will remain reserved pending receipt of payments by the Company. As of August 31, 2002, the Company's operations in the U.K. were closed, except for certain administrative matters. The third and fourth quarters of 2002 include reversals of allowances of $0.8 million and $2.5 million, respectively, related to the closure of the U.K. operations as the amounts collected on accounts receivable and the market value of the inventory exceeded original estimates. Also, due to the progress made with the tax authorities, the valuation allowance was reversed on an income tax receivable. The first quarter of 2003 includes a reversal of an allowance of $0.2 million related to the closure of the U.K. operations as the amounts collected on accounts receivable exceeded the original estimates. There were no such reversals in the second quarter of 2003.

The following table summarizes the income classification of the charge through the second quarter of 2003 (in thousands):

	Three months ended May 31, 2002	Reversal of Allowances		Net Charge

Tax benefit	(184)	(1,541)		(1,725)
Net charge	$ 9,984	(3,260)	(220)	6,504

The Company recorded an impairment charge of $3.7 million for the three months ended May 31, 2002, which included $2.2 million for accumulated foreign currency translation adjustments as a result of the Company's liquidation of its investments in each of these operations and $1.5 million for property and equipment. The property and equipment were reduced to estimated market value of $0.1 million.

Included in the pre-tax charge is $2.6 million in severance and exit charges, all of which consisted of expected cash outlays. $1.8 million of the severance and exit charges has been paid or settled as part of the divestiture of the Company's Peru and Argentina operations and the shutdown of the U.K. operations. The remaining $0.8 million relates to lease payments associated with the U.K. operations and has not been paid as of May 31, 2003. Monthly lease payments are expected to be made over the next five years unless a settlement can be reached with the lessor.

In connection with the repositioning of its operations, the Company announced that Dale H. Allardyce would resign from the position of President and Chief Operating Officer and that Terry S. Parker, the Company's Chief Executive Officer, would assume the duties of President and Chief Operating Officer. Included in the severance charge is $0.6 million related to Mr. Allardyce's separation. The severance charge includes all of the employees (58) for the U.K. operations and certain employees (21) for Argentina. The remaining employees in Argentina and Peru were part of the divestiture.

The total operating income (loss) for the Company's operations in the U.K., Peru and Argentina is summarized as follows (in thousands):

The Company has completed the evaluation of the balance of its Latin American markets, excluding Mexico and Miami. The Company has decided to continue its operations in Chile as these operations are expected to continue to be profitable and to generate cash. To reduce its in-country exposure in Colombia, the Company has shifted the Company's business with its major carrier customer in Colombia to the Company's Miami export operations. The Company is exploring opportunities to sell its operations in Sweden.

On March 21, 2003, the Company completed the sale of its Netherlands operations to a group which included local management. The purchase price was $2.1 million in cash. In conjunction with the transaction, the Company incurred $0.2 million in expenses and recorded an impairment charge of $0.8 million to reduce the carrying value of the net assets of its Netherlands operations to the estimated net realizable value for the three months ended February 28, 2003.

During the first quarter of 2003, the Company, as required, adopted FASB Statement No. 144. In connection with the sale of its operations in The Netherlands, the Company has reclassified to discontinued operations, for all periods presented, the results and related charges for The Netherlands operations.

(7) Cumulative Effect of a Change in Accounting Principle

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

As of December 1, 2002, the Company adopted Statement No. 142 Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Pursuant to the provisions of Statement 142, the Company stopped amortizing goodwill as of December 1, 2002, and performed an impairment test on its goodwill. During the first quarter of 2003, the Company completed the transitional impairment test required under Statement No. 142. The initial step of the impairment test was to identify potential goodwill impairment by comparing the fair value of the Company's reporting units to their carrying values including the applicable goodwill. A reporting unit is an operating segment or one level below an operating segment. The Company's reporting units are Asia Pacific-Greater China Operations, Asia Pacific-South Pacific Operations, North America, Latin America-Mexico, Latin America-excluding Mexico, Sweden and, until the sale of The Netherlands operations on March 21, 2003, The Netherlands. These fair values were determined by calculating the discounted free cash flow expected to be generated by each reporting unit taking into account what the Company considers to be the appropriate industry and market rate assumptions. If the carrying value exceeded the fair value, then a second step was performed, which compared the implied fair value of the applicable reporting unit's goodwill with the carrying amount of that goodwill, to measure the amount of goodwill impairment, if any. As a result of the transitional impairment test, the Company recorded an impairment charge of approximately $17.2 million during the first quarter of 2003, which is presented as a cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle, net of tax, for the three months ended February 28, 2003.

In addition to performing the required transitional impairment test on the Company's goodwill, Statement No. 142 required the Company to reassess the expected useful lives of existing intangible assets including patents, trademarks and trade names for which the useful life is determinable. The Company does not have any intangibles with determinable useful lives which are subject to amortization.

The following table shows the Company's 2002 results presented on a comparable basis to the 2003 results, adjusted to exclude amortization expense related to goodwill (in thousands, except per share data):

(8) Proposed Divestiture of Greater China Operations

On March 14, 2003, the Company filed a preliminary proxy statement with the SEC, which included a proposal to divest up to 70% of the equity ownership (the CellStar Asia Transaction) of its operations in the PRC, Hong Kong, and Taiwan (the Greater China Operations). The Greater China Operations constitute substantially all of the assets of the Company's wholly-owned indirect subsidiary, Cellstar International Corporation/Asia (CellStar International). If approved by stockholders, the divestiture would be accomplished by the transfer of such operations to a newly-formed Cayman Islands corporation owned by CellStar International and indirectly by certain of the directors and senior management of CellStar (Asia) Corporation Limited. The newly formed entity would then effect an initial public offering of its shares on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong (the IPO).

On May 1, 2003, the Company announced that it will delay the IPO and, consequently, the divestiture of its Greater China Operations due to the spread of severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS), which has negatively impacted the business environment and financial markets in Hong Kong and China, as well as currently limited the Company's ability to market the IPO. Due to the delay, during the three months ended May 31, 2003, the Company expensed $3.0 million of previously deferred costs, which included legal, accounting, tax, auditing, consulting and other costs that related to the CellStar Asia Transaction. At May 31, 2003, the Company had $0.4 million in capitalized costs relating to ongoing advisory services. The Company plans to proceed with the CellStar Asia Transaction when overall market conditions and operations have significantly recovered. If the Company proceeds with the CellStar Asia Transaction, it will revise the preliminary proxy statement to reflect any changes to the CellStar Asia Transaction and schedule a stockholder's meeting to seek approval for such transaction.

Although it is the Company's intent to pursue the transaction, there are a number of steps to be completed before such a transaction can occur. Accordingly, there can be no assurance of the timing of the transaction or that any transaction will occur.

On April 30, 2003, a purported class action lawsuit was filed in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware, New Castle County, styled as follows: Ruth Everson v. CellStar Corporation, James L. Johnson, John L. Jackson, Jere W. Thompson, Dale V. Kesler and Terry S. Parker (the Everson Suit). The Everson Suit alleges breach of fiduciary duty and corporate waste in connection with the CellStar Asia Transaction. The Everson Suit seeks injunctive and other equitable relief, rescissory and/or compensatory damages and reimbursement of attorney's fees and costs. The Company obtained an initial temporary stay of the proceedings for a period of 60 days from May 1, 2003, and subsequently obtained another temporary stay until the earlier of September 30, 2003, or plaintiff's determination that the transaction is likely to proceed, as a result of the Company's announced delay of the proposed IPO due to the outbreak and spread of SARS.

The Company believes it has meritorious defenses to these claims and will vigorously defend this action if and when the stay is lifted. The ultimate outcome is not currently predictable.

The Company is a party to various other claims, legal actions and complaints arising in the ordinary course of business. Management believes that the disposition of these other matters will not have a materially adverse effect on the consolidated financial condition or results of operations of the Company.

Table of ContentsItem 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations*Overview

The Company reported a net loss of $8.1 million, or $0.40 per diluted share, for the second quarter of 2003, compared with a net loss of $5.9 million, or $0.49 per diluted share, for the same quarter last year. Revenues for the quarter ended May 31, 2003 were $436.1 million, a decrease of $125.6 million, as compared to $561.7 million in 2002. The decline was primarily due to: a) a decline in the Asia-Pacific Region of $99.3 million, primarily due to a change in consumer spending as a result of the spread of severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS) and market competition between the Company's suppliers and the local Chinese manufacturers, the combination of these factors resulting in excess inventory throughout the wireless handset distribution channel in China, b) a decrease of $32.6 million from operations which the Company has divested or closed, and c) a decrease in the North America Region of $17.6 million primarily due to higher product sales in 2002 to a major account which was converted in the fourth quarter of 2002 to a consignment model with fulfillment fees, as well as significant volume reductions with that customer. Gross profit decreased from $34.2 million (6.1% of revenues) in the second quarter of 2002 to $16.7 million (3.8% of revenues) in the second quarter of 2003, primarily due to a reduction in incentives from manufacturers and inventory obsolescence expense in the Asia-Pacific Region. Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased $3.3 million from $31.3 million (5.6% of revenues) for the second quarter of 2002 compared to $28.0 million (6.4% of revenues) in 2003.

The Company believes that the intrinsic value of its Asia-Pacific Region is not currently reflected in the market price of the Company's common stock. As a result, the Company engaged UBS Warburg to assist it in evaluating transactions that could result in recognizing the value that it believes is locked up in the Asia-Pacific Region. Those evaluations focused on a number of possible transactions including a possible initial public offering of all or a portion of the Asia-Pacific Region operations, a sale to outside investors or a management buyout. On March 14, 2003, the Company filed a preliminary proxy statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), which included a proposal to divest up to 70% of its operations (the CellStar Asia Transaction) in the People's Republic of China (the PRC), Hong Kong, and Taiwan (the Greater China Operations), including an initial public offering (IPO) of its Greater China Operations on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong.

On May 1, 2003, the Company announced that it delayed the IPO, and consequently the divestiture of the Greater China Operations due to the spread of SARS, which has negatively impacted the business environment and financial markets in Hong Kong and China, as well as currently limited the Company's ability to market the IPO. Due to the delay, during the three months ended May 31, 2003, the Company expensed $3.0 million of previously deferred costs which included legal, accounting, tax, auditing, consulting and other costs that related to the CellStar Asia Transaction. At May 31, 2003, the Company had $0.4 million in capitalized costs relating to ongoing advisory services. The Company plans to proceed with the CellStar Asia Transaction when over all market conditions and operations have significantly recovered. If the Company proceeds with the CellStar Asia Transaction, it will revise the preliminary proxy statement to reflect any changes to the CellStar Asia Transaction and schedule a stockholder's meeting to seek approval for such transaction.

The consummation of the CellStar Asia Transaction is conditioned upon the Company's receiving stockholder approval of the divestiture, the consent of its bank group under its revolving credit agreement, and the approval of the terms of the public offering by the Company's Board of Directors, the approval of the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong, and other conditions. Although the Company intends to pursue the CellStar Asia Transaction, there are a number of steps to be completed before such a transaction can occur. Accordingly, there can be no assurance of the timing of the transaction or that any transaction will occur.

Beginning in the fourth quarter of 2002, the Company no longer considered the undistributed earnings and/or losses of certain of its foreign subsidiaries to be permanently reinvested and began accruing U.S. Federal income taxes on the undistributed earnings of these subsidiaries. For the three months ended May 31, 2003, the U.S. Federal income tax benefit on the reduction in undistributed earnings of these foreign subsidiaries was $2.2 million.

In the second quarter of 2002, the Company decided as part of its plan to reposition its operations that it would exit the United Kingdom (the U.K.), Peru and Argentina. As a result of this decision, the Company recorded a net charge of $10.0 million for the three months ended May 31, 2002. The following table summarizes the income statement classification of the charge (in thousands):

Cost of sales	$ 2,256
Selling, general & administrative	1,691

On March 21, 2003, the Company sold its operations in The Netherlands. In the second quarter of 2003, in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statement of Financial Accounting Standards Statement (Statement) No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets, the Company has reclassified to discontinued operations the results of its Netherlands operations.

Cautionary Statements

The Company's success will depend upon, among other things, economic conditions, wireless market conditions, the financial health of its largest customers, and its ability to improve its operating margins, continue to secure an adequate supply of competitive products on a timely basis and on commercially reasonable terms, service its indebtedness and meet covenant requirements, secure adequate financial resources, continually turn its inventories and accounts receivable, successfully manage changes in the size of its operations (including monitoring operations, controlling costs, maintaining adequate information systems and effective inventory and credit controls), manage operations that are geographically dispersed, achieve significant penetration in existing and new geographic markets, hire, train and retain qualified employees who can effectively manage and operate its business and successfully manage the repositioning of its operations.

The Company's foreign operations are subject to various political and economic risks including, but not limited to, the following: political instability, economic instability, currency controls, currency devaluations, exchange rate fluctuations, potentially unstable channels of distribution, increased credit risks, export control laws that might limit the markets the Company can enter, inflation, changes in laws and enforcement policies related to foreign ownership of businesses abroad, foreign tax laws, trade disputes among nations, changes in cost of and access to capital, changes in import/export regulations, including enforcement policies, gray market resales, and tariff and freight rates.

In addition to the factors listed above, the continuing fear of the spread of SARS, threats of terrorist acts, a decline in consumer confidence and continued economic weakness in the U.S. and throughout the countries in which the Company does business could have a material adverse impact on the Company.

Special Cautionary Notice Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q contains forward-looking statements relating to such matters as anticipated financial performance and business prospects. When used in the Quarterly Report, the words estimates, may, intends, expects, anticipates, could, should, will, expressions are intended to be among the statements that identify forward-looking statements. From time to time, the Company may also publish forward-looking statements. The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 provides a safe harbor for forward-looking statements. In order to comply with the terms of the safe harbor, the Company notes that a variety of factors, including those listed under Cautionary Statements above, could cause the Company's actual results and experience to differ materially from anticipated results or other expectations expressed in the Company's forward-looking statements.

Three Months Ended May 31, 2003 Compared to Three Months Ended May 31, 2002

Revenues. The Company's revenues decreased $125.6 million, or 22.4%, from $561.7 million to $436.1 million. The Company sold 2.6 million handsets for the three months ended May 31, 2003 compared to 3.5 million in 2002. The average selling price of handsets for 2003 was $151 compared to $149 in 2002.

The Company's operations in the Asia-Pacific Region provided $193.2 million of revenues compared to $292.5 million in 2002. Revenues in the PRC were $140.1 million in 2003, a decrease of $109.6 million, or 43.9%, from $249.7 million in 2002. The consumer markets in the PRC were severely affected by the spread of SARS during the second quarter of 2003. Consumer purchases of wireless handsets were impacted during the period as the fear of the SARS outbreak affected consumer behavior across the region. In addition, the Company's operations in the PRC continue to be affected by market competition between the Company's suppliers and local manufacturers. The combination of these factors resulted in excess inventory throughout the wireless handset distribution channel. The Company's revenues in the PRC operations have historically been from the sale of handsets supplied by Nokia and Motorola. Since mid-2002, Nokia and Motorola have lost significant market share to local Chinese manufacturers. According to an independent survey from the GFK Group (GFK), it is estimated that as of June 1, 2003, local Chinese manufacturers have 40 percent market share. The Company's revenues in future periods will be significantly impacted by its ability to obtain competitive handsets from its current suppliers or from new suppliers. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to procure such handsets on favorable terms such that it can effectively compete in the PRC. The Company is working to increase its product offerings and to expand its supplier base. The Company has entered into an agreement with a subsidiary of NEC Corporation that has provided and is expected to continue to provide the Company with an expanded range of products from those offered by its current suppliers.

Revenues from the Company's operations in Hong Kong increased from $1.9 million in 2002 to $5.2 million in 2003. The increase is due to a slight recovery in demand in the South Asia region. The Hong Kong market has a penetration rate in excess of 90%. The Company is attempting to increase sales to other Asia-Pacific markets and to customers exporting to these markets. Revenues from the Company's operations in Singapore increased from $30.9 million to $36.9, due to increased sales to customers in the India, Malaysia, and Middle Eastern markets. Revenues from Taiwan were $3.7 million in 2002 compared to $3.9 million in 2003. Revenues in the Philippines increased from $6.3 million to $7.0 million.

North American Region revenues were $120.6 million, a decrease of $17.6 million, compared to $138.2 million in 2002. The decrease in North America was primarily due to higher product sales in 2002 to a major U.S. account which was converted in the fourth quarter of 2002 to a consignment model with fulfillment fees, as well as significant volume reductions with that customer. The decrease in revenues was partially offset by increases in revenues with regional carriers.

In the fourth quarter of 2002, the parent of one of the Company's largest North American customers announced that some of the customer's lenders under its vendor credit facilities had ceased funding new loan requests, that it was in default on certain credit facilities and that it was seeking new sources of financing and a restructuring of its outstanding indebtedness. These events of default provided the customer's credit facility lenders with certain rights under their credit agreements, including the right to declare their existing loans due and payable. Revenues from this customer were less than 10% of the Company's consolidated revenues for fiscal 2002.

In October of 2002, the Company entered into an agreement with the customer to convert its current business relationship to a primarily consignment relationship. Although the new business model did not have a significant impact on fiscal year 2002 revenues, the Company anticipates that revenues in 2003 will decrease as the Company receives fulfillment fees for the services provided pursuant to the agreement instead of product revenues. The impact on net income is dependent upon the volume of fulfillment activity and the amount of fulfillment fees received compared to the gross margin on product sales. The fulfillment fees under the new agreement do not equal historical gross profit. By converting to a primarily consignment relationship, the Company has reduced its accounts receivable exposure. The Company has also reduced working capital requirements since the Company will not be required to purchase and hold inventory for that segment of the business relationship. The agreement has been extended through February 29, 2004. The Company expects a decline in volume from this customer to continue which could have a material adverse impact on the Company's financial results for fiscal 2003.

The Company's operations in the Latin America Region provided $101.6 million of revenues, compared to $91.2 million in 2002, a $10.4 million increase. Revenues in Mexico, the region's largest revenue contributor, were $41.7 million compared to $40.3 million in 2002. Revenues from the Company's Colombia operations decreased to $16.3 million in 2003 from $25.5 million in 2002 due to reduced business with its major carrier customer. As part of the Company's overall plan to reposition its operations, the Company has shifted the majority of its business with its major carrier customer in Colombia to the Company's Miami export operations. Revenues from the Company's Miami export operations were $38.3 million compared to $14.4 million a year ago primarily due to this shift and increased business with customers in Central America and the Caribbean. Revenues from the Company's primarily service operation in Chile were $5.3 million in 2003 compared to $1.0 million in 2002, primarily due to increased product sales to carriers. This increase was due to spot sales, which are not expected to occur on a continuous basis. Combined revenues from the Company's operations in Peru and Argentina, which were divested in the third quarter of 2002, were $10.0 million in the second quarter of 2002.

The Company's European Region operations recorded revenues of $20.6 million, a decrease of $19.2 million, from $39.8 million in 2002. Revenues from the Company's U.K. operations, which were closed in the third quarter of 2002, were $22.6 million in the second quarter of 2002. Revenues from the Company's Sweden operations increased $3.4 million from $17.2 million in 2002 to $20.6 million in 2003. The handset market in Europe is highly penetrated and is increasingly driven by replacement sales. As part of the Company's overall plan to reposition its operations, the Company is exploring opportunities to sell its operation in Sweden.

Gross Profit. Gross profit decreased $17.5 million from $34.2 million to $16.7 million. Gross profit as a percentage of revenues was 3.8% for the quarter ended May 31, 2003, compared to 6.1% for the second quarter of 2002. The lower gross profit as a percentage of revenues was due primarily to a reduction in incentives from certain manufacturers in the Company's Asia-Pacific Region as well as an increase of $3.3 million in inventory obsolescence and writedowns to lower of cost or market from $5.7 million in 2003 to $2.4 million in 2002. The increase in inventory obsolescence is due to the Company's increase in inventory as well as the excess inventory throughout the wireless handset distribution channel in China as a result of the SARS outbreak and competition from local Chinese manufacturers. In addition, these factors negatively impacted margins as a percent of revenues in the PRC. The decrease in gross profit was partially offset by foreign exchange gains of $1.6 million in Mexico due to the favorable fluctuation in the Mexican peso in 2003 compared to losses in 2002 of $0.3 million.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased $3.3 million from $31.3 million to $28.0 million. Selling, general and administrative expenses for the Company's operations in the U.K., Peru and Argentina, which were divested and closed in the third quarter of 2002, were $4.0 million in 2002. Decreases primarily in payroll and benefits, insurance premiums, and professional fees of $2.3 million were offset by $3.0 million of expenses related to the CellStar Asia Transaction which was delayed due to SARS. Selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenues were 6.4% and 5.6% for the second quarter of 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Impairment of Assets. In the second quarter of 2002, the Company decided as part of its plan to reposition its operations that it would exit the U.K., Peru and Argentina as soon as practicable. As a result of this decision, an impairment charge of $3.7 million was incurred for the three months ended May 31, 2002. The impairment charge included $2.2 million for accumulated foreign currency translation adjustments as a result of the Company's liquidation of its investment in each of these operations, and $1.5 million for property and equipment. Property and equipment was reduced to estimated market value.

Severance and Exit Charges. In the second quarter of 2002, the Company recorded $2.6 million in severance and exit charges related to the Company's decision to exit the U.K., Peru and Argentina. Of the $2.6 million in severance and exit charges, all consisted of expected cash-outlays. $1.8 million of the severance and exit charges has been paid or settled as part of the divestiture of the Company's Peru and Argentina operations and the shutdown of the U.K. operations. The remaining $0.8 million relates to lease payments associated with the U.K. operations and has not been paid as of May 31, 2003. Monthly lease payments are expected to be made over the next five years unless a settlement can be reached with the lessor.

The severance and exit charges consist of the following (in thousands):

Severance 80 employees	$ 1,626
Lease accruals	780
Other	160
	<hr/>
	$ 2,566

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

In connection with the repositioning of its operations, the Company announced that Dale H. Allardyce would resign from the position of President and Chief Operating Officer and that Terry S. Parker, the Company's Chief Executive Officer, would assume the duties of President and Chief Operating Officer. Included in the severance charge is $0.6 million related to Mr. Allardyce's separation. The severance charge includes all of the employees (58) for the U.K. operations and certain employees (21) for Argentina. The remaining employees in Argentina and Peru were part of the divestiture.

Interest Expense. Interest expense decreased to $1.7 million in 2003 from $1.8 million in 2002.

Other, Net. Other, net, consisted of income of $0.9 million and $0.4 million for 2003 and 2002, respectively due to foreign currency gains in the Company's European operations.

Table of Contents

Income Taxes. Income tax expense decreased from an expense of $1.5 million in 2002 to a benefit of $4.0 million in 2003 primarily due to lower pre-tax income. Pre-tax losses in 2002 included a $10.2 million charge as a result of the Company's decision to exit the U.K., Peru and Argentina. The Company's annual effective tax rate, excluding quarter-specific items, was 36% for the second quarter of 2003 compared to 30.7% for the second quarter of 2002, primarily due to the tax benefit on the reduction in undistributed earnings of foreign subsidiaries. Beginning in the fourth quarter of 2002, the Company no longer considered the undistributed earnings and/or losses of certain of its foreign subsidiaries to be permanently reinvested and began accruing U.S. Federal income taxes on the undistributed earnings of these subsidiaries. For the second quarter of 2003, the U.S. Federal income tax benefit on the reduction in undistributed earnings of these foreign subsidiaries was $2.2 million.

Discontinued Operations. On March 21, 2003, the Company sold its operations in The Netherlands. In the second quarter of 2003, in accordance with Statement No. 144, the Company has reclassified its Netherlands operations to discontinued operations. The results of the discontinued operations in The Netherlands are as follows:

Revenues. The Company's revenues decreased $251.9 million, or 21.3%, from $1,180.7 million to $928.8 million. The Company sold 5.6 million handsets for the six months ended May 31, 2003 compared to 7.4 million in 2002. The average selling price of handsets for 2003 was $154 compared to $149 in 2002.

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

The Company's operations in the Asia-Pacific Region contributed $437.3 million in 2003, a decrease of $206.3 million, as compared to $643.6 million in 2002. Revenues in the PRC were $327.8 million, a decrease of $204.1 million, or 38.4%, from $531.9 million. The consumer markets in the PRC were severely affected by the spread of SARS during the second quarter. Consumer purchases of wireless handsets were impacted during the period as the fear of the SARS outbreak affected consumer behavior across the region. In addition, the Company's operations in the PRC continue to be affected by market competition between the Company's suppliers and local manufacturers. The combination of these factors resulted in excess inventory throughout the wireless handset distribution channel. The Company's revenues in the PRC have historically been from the sale of handsets supplied by Nokia and Motorola. Since mid-2002, Nokia and Motorola have lost significant market share to local Chinese manufacturers. According to an independent survey from GFK it is estimated that as of June 1, 2003, local Chinese manufacturers have 40 percent market share. The Company's revenues in future periods will be significantly impacted by its ability to obtain competitive handsets from its current suppliers or from new suppliers. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to procure such handsets on favorable terms such that it can effectively compete in the PRC. The Company is working to increase its product offerings and to expand its supplier base. The Company has entered into an agreement with a subsidiary of NEC Corporation that has provided and is expected to continue to provide the Company with an expanded range of products from those offered by its current suppliers.

Revenues from the Company's operations in Hong Kong decreased from $28.6 million in 2002 to $17.8 million in 2003. As the availability in the PRC of in-country manufactured product has increased, sales to the Company's Hong Kong-based customers that ship products to the remainder of the PRC have decreased. Additionally, the Company's primary supplier in Hong Kong has significantly reduced the supply of product available in Hong Kong to encourage the purchase in the PRC of the supplier's in-country manufactured product. The Hong Kong market has a penetration rate in excess of 90%. The Company is attempting to increase sales to other Asia-Pacific markets and to customers exporting to these markets. Revenues from the Company's operations in Singapore increased from $61.9 million to $70.1 million, due to increased sales to customers in the India, Malaysia, and Middle Eastern markets. Revenues from Taiwan were $6.1 million in 2002 compared to $10.2 million in 2003. Revenues in the Philippines decreased from $14.9 million to $11.0 million, primarily due to its largest customer purchasing directly from the manufacturer.

North American Region revenues were $245.5 million, a decrease of $37.6 million compared to $283.1 million in 2002. The decrease in North America was primarily due to higher product sales in 2002 from a major U.S. account which was converted in the fourth quarter of 2002 to a consignment model with fulfillment fees, as well as significant volume reductions with that customer. The decrease in revenues was partially offset by increases in revenues with regional carrier customers.

In the fourth quarter of 2002, the parent of one of the Company's largest North American customers announced that some of the customer's lenders under its vendor credit facilities had ceased funding new loan requests, that it was in default on certain credit facilities and that it was seeking new sources of financing and a restructuring of its outstanding indebtedness. These events of default provided the customer's credit facility lenders with certain rights under their credit agreements, including the right to declare their existing loans due and payable. Revenues from this customer were less than 10% of the Company's consolidated revenues for fiscal 2002.

In October of 2002, the Company entered into an agreement with the customer to convert its current business relationship to a primarily consignment relationship. Although the new business model did not have a significant impact on fiscal year 2002 revenues, the Company anticipates that revenues in 2003 will decrease as the Company receives fulfillment fees for the services provided pursuant to the agreement instead of product revenues. The impact on net income is dependent upon the volume of fulfillment activity and the amount of fulfillment fees received compared to the gross margin on product sales. The fulfillment fees under the new agreement do not equal historical gross profit. By converting to a primarily consignment relationship, the Company has reduced its accounts receivable exposure. The Company has also reduced working capital requirements since the Company will not be required to purchase and hold inventory for that segment of the business relationship. The agreement has been extended through February 29, 2004. The Company expects the decline in volume from this customer to continue which could have a material adverse impact on the Company's financial results for fiscal 2003.

The Company's operations in the Latin America Region provided $197.7 million of revenues, compared to $177.4 million in 2002, a $20.3 million increase. Revenues in Mexico, the region's largest revenue contributor, were $95.3 million compared to $85.8 million in 2002 due to increased business with carrier customers. Revenues from the Company's Colombia operations decreased to $30.5 million in 2003 from $45.9 million in 2002 due to reduced business with its major carrier customer. As part of the Company's overall plan to reposition its operations, the Company has shifted the majority of its business with its major carrier customer in Colombia to the Company's Miami export operations. Revenues from the Company's Miami export operations were $65.4 million compared to $27.9 million a year ago primarily due to this shift as well as to increased business with customers in Central America and the Caribbean. Revenues from the Company's primarily service operation in Chile were $6.5 million in 2003 compared to $1.9 million in 2002, primarily due to increased product sales to carriers. This increase was due to spot sales which are not expected to occur on a continuous basis. Combined revenues from the Company's operations in Peru and Argentina, which were divested in the third quarter of 2002, were $16.1 million for the six months ended May 31, 2002.

The Company's European Region operations recorded revenues of $48.4 million, a decrease of $28.2 million, from $76.6 million in 2002. Revenues from the Company's U.K. operations, which were closed in the third quarter of 2002, were $43.5 million in 2002. The Company's Sweden operations revenues increased $15.3 million from $33.1 million in 2002 to $48.4 million in 2003. The handset market in Europe is highly penetrated and is increasingly driven by replacement sales. As part of the Company's overall plan to reposition its operations, the Company is exploring opportunities to sell its operations in Sweden.

Gross Profit. Gross profit decreased $24.3 million from $68.2 million to $43.9 million. Gross profit as a percentage of revenues was 4.7% for the six months ended May 31, 2003, compared to 5.8% for the six months ended May 31, 2002. The lower gross profit as a percentage of revenues was due primarily to a reduction in incentives from certain manufacturers in the Company's Asia-Pacific Region as well as an increase of $3.7 million in inventory obsolescence and write-downs to lower of cost or market from $7.3 million in 2003 compared to $3.6 million in 2002. The increase in inventory obsolescence is due to the Company's increase in inventory as well as the excess inventory throughout the wireless handset distribution channel in China as a result of the SARS outbreak and competition from local Chinese manufacturers. In addition, these factors negatively impacted margins as a percent of revenues in the PRC.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased $9.9 million from $62.0 million to $52.1 million. Selling, general and administrative expenses for the Company's operations in the U.K., Peru and Argentina, which were divested and closed in the third quarter of 2002, were $5.9 million in 2002. The remaining decrease is primarily attributed to payroll and benefits, advertising and marketing and insurance premiums, offset by $3.0 million of expenses related to the CellStar Asia Transaction which was delayed due to SARS. Selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenues were 5.6% and 5.3% for 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Impairment of Assets. In the second quarter of 2002, the Company decided as part of its plan to reposition its operations that it would exit the U.K., Peru and Argentina as soon as practicable. As a result of this decision, an impairment charge of $3.7 million was incurred for the three months ended May 31, 2002. The impairment charge included $2.2 million for accumulated foreign currency translation adjustments as a result of the Company's liquidation of its investment in each of these operations, and $1.5 million for property and equipment. The property and equipment was reduced to estimated market value.

Severance and Exit Charges. In the second quarter of 2002, the Company recorded $2.6 million in severance and exit charges related to the Company's decision to exit the U.K., Peru and Argentina. Of the $2.6 million in severance and exit charges, all consisted of expected cash-outlays. $1.8 million has been paid or settled as part of the divestiture of the Company's Peru and Argentina operations and the shutdown of the U.K. operations. The remaining $0.8 million relates to lease payments associated with the U.K. operations and has not been paid as of May 31, 2003. Monthly lease payments are expected to be made over the next five years unless a settlement can be reached with the lessor.

The severance and exit charges consist of the following (in thousands):

Severance 80 employees	$ 1,626
Lease accruals	780
Other	160
	<hr/>

In connection with the repositioning of its operations, the Company announced that Dale H. Allardyce would resign from the position of President and Chief Operating Officer and that Terry S. Parker, the Company's Chief Executive Officer, would assume the duties of President and Chief Operating Officer. Included in the severance charge is $0.6 million related to Mr. Allardyce's separation. The severance charge includes all of the employees (58) for the U.K. operations and certain employees (21) for Argentina. The remaining employees in Argentina and Peru were part of the divestiture.

Interest Expense. Interest expense decreased to $3.0 million in 2003 from $4.8 million in 2002. This decrease was primarily a result of the completion of the Company's exchange offer on February 20, 2002.

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

Gain on Early Extinguishment of Debt. In 2002, the Company had a gain of $17.2 million primarily related to the Company's exchange offer (See Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations - Liquidity and Capital Resources).

Other, Net. Other, net, was $1.5 million in 2003 compared to $0.7 million in 2002. The increase of $0.8 million was primarily due to gains on foreign currencies related to European inter-company advances.

Income Taxes. Income tax expense decreased from an expense of $7.8 million in 2002 to a benefit of $3.5 million in 2003 primarily due to lower pre-tax income. Pre-tax losses in 2002 included a $10.2 million charge as a result of the Company's decision to exit the U.K., Peru and Argentina. The Company's annual effective tax rate, excluding specific items, was 36% for 2003 compared to 30.7% for 2002, primarily due to the tax expense on the undistributed earnings of foreign subsidiaries. Beginning in the fourth quarter of 2002, the Company no longer considered the undistributed earnings and/or losses of certain of its foreign subsidiaries to be permanently reinvested and began accruing U.S. Federal income taxes on the undistributed earnings of these subsidiaries. For the first six months of 2003, the U.S. Federal income tax benefit on the reduction in undistributed earnings of these foreign subsidiaries was $1.2 million.

Discontinued Operations. On March 21, 2003, the Company sold its operations in The Netherlands. In the second quarter of 2003, in accordance with Statement No. 144, the Company has reclassified to discontinued operations the results of The Netherlands operations. The results of discontinued operations in The Netherlands are as follows:

Cumulative Effect of a Change in Accounting Principle, Net of Tax. As of December 1, 2002, the Company adopted FASB Statement No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Pursuant to the provisions of Statement No. 142, the Company stopped amortizing goodwill as of December 1, 2002 and performed an impairment test on its goodwill. As a result of the initial transitional impairment test, the Company recorded an impairment charge, net of tax of $3.8 million, of $17.2 million during the first quarter of 2003.

During the six months ended May 31, 2003, the Company relied primarily on cash available at November 30, 2002, funds generated from operations and borrowings under its revolving credit facilities to fund working capital, capital expenditures and expansions.

As of September 28, 2001, the Company had negotiated and finalized a five-year, $60.0 million Loan and Security Agreement (the Facility) with a bank. On October 12, 2001, the Company finalized an amendment to the Facility increasing the commitment amount from $60.0 million to $85.0 million.

Funding under the Facility is limited by a borrowing base test, which is measured weekly. Interest on borrowings under the Facility is at the London Interbank Offered Rate or at the bank's prime lending rate, plus an applicable margin. The Facility is also secured by a pledge of 100% of the outstanding stock of all U.S. subsidiaries and 65% of the outstanding stock of all first tier foreign subsidiaries. The Facility is further secured by the Company's domestic accounts receivable, inventory, property, plant and equipment and all other domestic real property and intangible assets. The Facility contains, among other provisions, covenants relating to the maintenance of minimum net worth and certain financial ratios, dividend payments, additional debt, mergers and acquisitions and disposition of assets.

On February 6, 2003, the Company finalized an amendment to the Facility that allowed for the exclusion of certain charges from certain financial covenants in the loan agreement related to credit facilities that it may establish in its Mexico operations. On February 28, 2003, the Company completed an amendment to the Facility that allowed for the exclusion of U.S. Federal income taxes on undistributed earnings associated with the Company's Asia-Pacific Region.

Effective May 31, 2003, the Company completed an amendment to the Facility. The amendment waives compliance by the Company's Asia-Pacific Region with a financial covenant in the Facility for the quarter ended May 31, 2003, and modifies the covenant for the quarters ending August 31 and November 30, 2003, and February 29, 2004.

At June 30, 2003, borrowings under the Facility were $18.5 million.

At May 31, 2003, the Company's operations in the PRC had five lines of credit totaling approximately 779 million RMB (approximately USD $94.2 million), of which $90.4 million had been borrowed. Four of the credit lines provide for a combination of bank loans, the issuance of bank notes and discounting of customer receivables for which the Company has received either commercial notes or bank notes. One of the credit lines is utilized solely for discounting customer receivables for which the Company has received either commercial notes or bank notes. The bank loans and issued bank notes bear interest at rates ranging from 0.00% to 5.04%, and have maturity dates through January 2004. The Company typically renews or rolls over these lines of credit for 3 to 12 month terms. The discounted bank or commercial notes have a discount rate of between 3.00% and 4.20%. At the end of the discount period, the Company typically has the opportunity to discount additional customer receivables. There can be no assurance that these lines of credit will be renewed in the future.

The amount outstanding as bank loans and issued bank notes totaled $61.8 million as of May 31, 2003. The amount of discounted bank notes and commercial notes totaled $28.6 million. The bank loans and issued bank notes are collateralized by a combination of U.S. dollar cash deposits in Hong Kong ($15.0 million of collateral), RMB cash deposits in the PRC ($3.3 million of collateral), or PRC accounts receivable ($21.7 million of collateral).

At June 30, 2003, borrowings under the lines of credit were $108.7 million.

On October 24, 2002, the Company entered into a revolving credit facility in Sweden of 70 million Swedish Krona (approximately USD $7.5 million). The facility is secured by the accounts receivable of the Sweden operations and bears interest at a rate of 5.60%. The facility matures on December 31, 2003, but will be automatically extended for 12 months unless terminated by one of the parties. The credit facility contains certain financial and other covenants for the Sweden operations. At May 31, 2003, $2.4 million had been borrowed on the facility. At June 30, 2003, $6.1 million had been borrowed on the facility.

The Company entered into a 6.0 million Euro credit facility on December 20, 2002 in The Netherlands. On March 21, 2003, the Company completed the sale of its Netherlands operations to a group which included local management (See Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations-International Operations). In conjunction with the sale, the facility was assumed in full by the buyers.

The credit facilities in Sweden and The Netherlands were established to pay off inter-company loans, remit cash to the U.S., and to lower the Company's net working capital investment in these operations. As of June 30, 2003, the Company has returned $12.2 million to the U.S. as a result of entering into these credit facilities, including $1.8 million from the sale of the operations in The Netherlands. In addition, the buyer has placed in escrow $0.2 million. By leveraging the assets of these operations and returning cash to the U.S., the Company believes that it enhanced the potential marketability of these businesses.

At May 31, 2003, long-term debt consisted of $12.4 million of the Company's 12% Senior Subordinated Notes (the Senior Notes) due January 15, 2007. The Senior Notes bear interest at 12%, payable in cash in arrears semi-annually on February 15 and August 15, commencing August 15, 2002. The Senior Notes contain certain covenants that restrict the Company's ability to incur additional indebtedness; make investments, loans and advances; declare dividends or certain other distributions; create liens; enter into sale-leaseback transactions; consolidate; merge; sell assets and enter into transactions with affiliates.

Exchange Offer

At November 30, 2001, the Company had $150.0 million of 5% Convertible Subordinated Notes due October 15, 2002, (the Subordinated Notes), which were convertible into 1.1 million shares of common stock at $138.34 per share (adjusted for the effect of the one-for-five reverse stock split effective on February 22, 2002) at any time prior to maturity.

On January 14, 2002, the Company filed an S-4 registration statement (the Exchange Offer) with the Securities and Exchange Commission offering to exchange, for each $1,000 principal amount of its Subordinated Notes, $366.67 in cash and, at the election of the holder, one of the following options: a) $400.94 principal amount of Senior Notes, b) $320.75 principal amount of Senior Notes and $80.19 principal amount of 5% Senior Subordinated Convertible Notes due November 2002 (the Senior Convertible Notes), or c) $400.94 principal amount of Senior Convertible Notes.

On February 20, 2002, the Company completed its Exchange Offer. Holders owning $128.6 million of Subordinated Notes exchanged them for $47.2 million in cash, $12.4 million of Senior Notes, and $39.1 million of Senior Convertible Notes. Upon completion of the Exchange Offer, $21.4 million of the Subordinated Notes were not exchanged.

The Company realized a gain on early extinguishment of debt of $17.1 million during the first quarter of fiscal 2002 ($10.9 million after-tax) as a result of the Exchange Offer. The exchange was accounted for as a troubled debt restructuring in accordance with FASB Statement No. 15. Accordingly, the total future interest payments of $8.8 million on the Senior Notes and Senior Convertible Notes were accrued upon completion of the Exchange Offer and were included in accrued expenses ($3.4 million) and other long-term liabilities ($5.4 million). As of May 31, 2003 and November 30, 2002, the Company had made cash payments of $2.4 and $1.7 million, respectively, for interest associated with the Senior Notes and Senior Convertible Notes.

The Company has future interest payments accrued of $2.5 million and $2.5 million in accrued expenses and $3.9 million and $4.6 million in other long-term liabilities at May 31, 2003 and November 30, 2002, respectively. The Company will not recognize these payments as interest expense in future periods.

As a result of the Exchange Offer, the Company was deemed to have undergone an ownership change for purposes of the Internal Revenue Code. The Company has sufficient tax loss carry forwards to offset the tax liability on the gain.

The Company extinguished $4.5 million of the Subordinated Notes not tendered in the Exchange Offer in several transactions through July 29, 2002 using various combinations of cash and the Company's common stock. On October 15, 2002, the Company redeemed at maturity for cash the remaining $16.9 million of its Subordinated Notes.

Other

Cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash at May 31, 2003 were $45.4 million, compared to $53.0 million at November 30, 2002.

Compared to November 30, 2002, accounts receivable increased from $175.1 million to $210.4 million at May 31, 2003, due to increases in the Company's PRC and Miami operations, partially offset by decreases in its Mexico and Colombia operations and the divestiture of its Netherlands operations. The collection of accounts receivable in the PRC was impacted by SARS. The increase in Miami was due to the shift in the business of a major carrier customer from Colombia to Miami as well as increased business with customers in Central America and the Caribbean. Inventories increased to $177.9 million at May 31, 2003, from $163.2 million at November 30, 2002 caused by increases in the PRC and Miami operations, partially offset by reductions in inventory levels in the U.S. and Mexico operations. In the Asia-Pacific Region, consumer purchases of wireless handsets were impacted during the period as the fear of the SARS outbreak affected consumer behavior across the region. In addition, the Company's operations in the PRC continue to be affected by market competition between the Company's suppliers and local manufacturers. The combination of the factors resulted in excess inventory throughout the wireless handset distribution channel. The increase in Miami is primarily due to increased revenues. Accounts payable decreased to $161.5 million at May 31, 2003 compared to $166.1 million at November 30, 2002.

Table of Contents

Based upon current and anticipated levels of operations, the Company anticipates that its cash flows from operations, together with amounts available under its facilities and existing unrestricted cash balances, will be adequate to meet its anticipated cash requirements in the foreseeable future. In the event that existing unrestricted cash balances, cash flows and available borrowings under its facilities are not sufficient to meet future cash requirements, the Company may be required to reduce planned expenditures or seek additional financing. The Company can provide no assurances that reductions in planned expenditures would be sufficient to cover shortfalls in available cash or that additional financing would be available or, if available, offered on terms acceptable to the Company.

International Operations

The Company's foreign operations are subject to various political and economic risks including, but not limited to, the following: political instability, economic instability, currency controls, currency devaluations, exchange rate fluctuations, potentially unstable channels of distribution, increased credit risks, export control laws that might limit the markets the Company can enter, inflation, changes in laws and enforcement policies related to foreign ownership of businesses abroad, foreign tax laws, trade disputes among nations, changes in cost of and access to capital, changes in import/export regulations, including enforcement policies, gray market resales, and tariff and freight rates.

In addition to the factors listed above, the fear of the spread of SARS, threats of terrorist acts, a decline in consumer confidence and continued economic weakness in the U.S. and throughout the countries in which the Company does business could have a material adverse impact on the Company.

Asia-Pacific Region

The Company believes that the intrinsic value of its Asia-Pacific Region is not currently reflected in the market price of its common stock. As a result, the Company engaged UBS Warburg to assist it in evaluating transactions that could result in recognizing the value that it believes is locked up in the Asia-Pacific Region, which is substantially comprised of the Greater China Operations. Those evaluations focused on a number of possible transactions including a possible initial public offering of all or a portion of the Asia-Pacific Region operations, a sale to outside investors or a management buyout. On March 14, 2003, the Company filed a preliminary proxy statement with the SEC which included a proposal to divest up to 70% of its Greater China Operations. The Company's Greater China Operations constitute substantially all of the assets of the Company's wholly-owned indirect subsidiary, CellStar International Corporation/Asia (CellStar International). If approved, the divestiture will be accomplished by the transfer of such operations to a newly-formed Cayman Islands corporation owned by CellStar International and indirectly by certain of the directors and senior management of CellStar (Asia) Corporation Limited. The newly formed entity would then effect the IPO of its shares on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong.

On May 1, 2003, the Company announced that it will delay the IPO, and, consequently, the CellStar Asia Transaction, due to the spread of SARS, which has negatively impacted the business environment and financial markets in Hong Kong and China, as well as currently limited the Company's ability to market the IPO. Due to the delay, during the three months ended May 31, 2003, the Company expensed $3.0 million of previously deferred costs, which included legal, accounting, tax, auditing, consulting and other costs that related to the CellStar Asia Transaction. At May 31, 2003, the Company had $0.4 million in capitalized costs relating to ongoing advisory services. The Company plans to proceed with the CellStar Asia Transaction when overall market conditions and operations have significantly recovered. If the Company proceeds with the CellStar Asia Transaction, it will revise the preliminary proxy statement to reflect any changes to the CellStar Asia Transaction and schedule a stockholder's meeting to seek approval for such transaction.

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

The consummation of the divestiture is conditioned upon the Company's receiving stockholder approval of the divestiture, the consent of its bank group under its revolving credit agreement, the approval of the terms of the public offering by the Company's Board of Directors, the approval of the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong, and other conditions. Although it is the Company's intent to pursue the CellStar Asia Transaction, there are a number of steps to be completed before the CellStar Asia Transaction can occur. Accordingly, there can be no assurance of the timing of the CellStar Asia Transaction or that the CellStar Asia Transaction will occur.

Repositioning of Operations

In April 2000, the Company curtailed a significant portion of its U.K. international trading operations following third party theft and fraud losses. The trading business involves the purchase of products from suppliers other than manufacturers and the sale of those products to customers other than network operators or their dealers and other representatives. As a result of the curtailment, the Company experienced a reduction in revenues for the U.K. operations after the first quarter of 2000 compared to 1999. Since the curtailment, the Company experienced operating losses in its U.K. operations. For the quarter ended May 31, 2000, the Company recorded a $4.4 million charge consisting of $3.2 million from third party theft and fraud losses during the purchase, transfer of title and transport of six shipments of wireless handsets, and $1.2 million in inventory obsolescence expense for inventory price reductions incurred while the international trading business was curtailed pending investigation. In 2002, the Company recovered $0.9 million associated with the third party theft and fraud losses. The Company is pursuing legal action where appropriate to recover additional amounts. However, the ultimate recovery in relation to these losses, if any, cannot be determined at this time.

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

The Argentine economy has been in a state of turmoil since the Argentine government removed the fixed exchange rate maintained between the Argentine peso and the U.S. dollar. In the fourth quarter of 2000, the Company recorded a non-cash goodwill impairment charge of $6.4 million related to the operations in Peru due to a major carrier customer's proposed changes to an existing contract that adversely affected the long-term prospects of the Peru operations. From the second quarter of 2001 until the divestiture in the third quarter of 2002, the Company incurred losses in its Peru operations.

In the second quarter of 2002, the Company decided, as part of its plan to reposition its operations, to exit the U.K., Peru and Argentina as soon as practicable. The Company determined that improving its position in the U.K. market would require substantial investment, which the Company was not willing to make. The economic climate in Peru and Argentina, coupled with the small scale of the Company's operations in those countries, provided little upside and significant risk. In addition, the Company decided to evaluate the balance of its European and Latin American markets, excluding Mexico and Miami, over the remainder of the year, assessing each operation in view of its over-all long-term strategy. In conjunction with this decision, the Company's revolving credit facility was amended to allow the Company to pursue its exit strategy from these markets, and any similar decision the Company may make with respect to the balance of its European and Latin American operations. As a result of the decision to exit the U.K., Peru and Argentina, the Company recorded a charge of $10.0 million for the three months ended May 31, 2002.

During the third quarter of 2002, the Company completed its divestitures of its Peru and Argentina operations at approximately book value to local management and closed the U.K. operations, except for certain administrative matters. In the divestitures, the Company obtained promissory notes totaling $0.9 million and $0.2 million for Peru and Argentina, respectively. These promissory notes are fully reserved and will remain reserved pending receipt of payments by the Company. In the third and fourth quarters of 2002, the Company reversed $3.3 million of the allowances related to the exit charge for the U.K. operations as the amounts collected on accounts receivable and the market value of the inventory exceeded original estimates. Also, due to the progress made with the tax authorities, the valuation allowance was reversed on a tax receivable. The first quarter of 2003 includes a reversal of an allowance of $0.2 million related to the closure of the U.K. operation as the amounts collected on accounts receivable exceeded the original estimates. The second quarter of 2003 did not include any reversals.

The following table summarizes the income statement classification of the charge through the second quarter of 2003 (in thousands):

	Three months ended	Reversal of Allowances		Net Charge
		Six months ended	Three months ended
	May 31, 2002	November 30, 2002	February 28, 2003

Of the $2.6 million in severance and exit charges, all of which consisted of expected cash outlays, $1.8 million has been paid or settled as part of the divestiture of the Company's Peru and Argentina operations and the shutdown of the U.K. operations. The remaining $0.8 million relates to lease payments associated with the U.K. operations and has not been paid as of May 31, 2003. Monthly lease payments are expected to be made over the next five years unless a settlement can be reached with the lessor.

In connection with the repositioning of its operations, the Company announced that Dale H. Allardyce would resign from the position of President and Chief Operating Officer and that Terry S. Parker, the Company's Chief Executive Officer, would assume the duties of President and Chief Operating Officer. Included in the severance charge is $0.6 million related to Mr. Allardyce's separation. The severance charge includes all of the employees (58) for the U.K. operations and certain employees (21) for Argentina. The remaining employees in Argentina and Peru were part of the divestiture.

The Company recorded an impairment charge of $3.7 million for the three months ended May 31, 2002, which included $2.2 million for accumulated foreign currency translation adjustments as a result of the Company's liquidation of its investments in each of these operations and $1.5 million for property and equipment. Property and equipment was reduced to estimated market value of $0.1 million.

The total operating income (loss) for the Company's operations in the U.K., Peru, and Argentina is summarized, as follows (in thousands):

As of June 30, 2003, the Company has repatriated $7.6 million in cash to the U.S. from the exited operations.

The Company has completed the evaluation of the balance of its Latin American markets, excluding Mexico and Miami. The Company has decided to continue its operations in Chile as these operations are expected to be profitable and to generate cash. To reduce its in-country exposure in Colombia, the Company has shifted the Company's business with its major carrier customer to the Company's Miami export operations.

The Company excluded Miami from the evaluation due to the recent performance of these operations and the export opportunities into Latin America that the Company believes exist in this market. The Company excluded Mexico because it believes growth and profit potential exist in the Mexico market due to the size of this market. The Company is exploring opportunities to sell its operations in Sweden and completed the sale of its Netherlands operations in the second quarter of 2003. In Sweden and The Netherlands, the market is highly competitive and highly penetrated. The operations in Sweden and The Netherlands do not present significant growth opportunities without investment of capital. The Company entered into credit facilities in Sweden and The Netherlands in October 2002 and December 2002, respectively. These facilities were established to return cash to the U.S., to leverage the assets of these operations and, the Company believes, to enhance the potential marketability of these businesses. At June 30, 2003, the Company had returned $7.9 million and $4.3 million to the U.S. from Sweden and The Netherlands, respectively, as a result of entering these facilities, including $1.8 million from the sale of the operations in The Netherlands.

On March 21, 2003, the Company completed the sale of its Netherlands operations to a group which included local management. The purchase price was $2.1 million in cash. In conjunction with the transaction, the Company recorded an impairment charge of $0.8 million to reduce the carrying value of the net assets of The Netherlands operations to the estimated net realizable value for the three months ended February 28, 2003. Following is a summary of The Netherlands operations for the three and six months ended May 31, 2003 and 2002 (in thousands):

Mexico

The Company's Mexico operations derive their revenues from wholesale purchasers and activation of handsets. The Company's operations in Mexico accounted for approximately 54%, 61%, and 60% of the Latin America Region's revenues in 2002, 2001, and 2000, respectively. Over the last three years, the operations in Mexico have recognized operating income (loss) of ($11.5) million, ($9.8) million, and $15.4 million in 2002, 2001, and 2000, respectively. For the six months ended May 31, 2003, revenues from the Mexico operations were 48% of the Latin America Region's revenues and the operating loss was ($4.4) million. Despite the disappointing performance, the Company believes growth and profit potential exist in the Mexico market due to the size of this market. However, significant improvement in the Company's Mexico operations will need to be made in 2003. If significant improvement is not made, the Company will evaluate its overall position in its Mexico operations.

At May 31, 2003, the Company had a gross value-added tax prepaid asset in its Mexico operations of $10.7 million primarily related to the Company's 1998 through 2001 value-added tax returns. The Company is seeking resolution of this issue with the tax authorities in Mexico. In the fourth quarter of 2001, the Company recorded a charge of $3.0 million related to such value-added tax, the recoverability of which is uncertain. In the fourth quarter of 2002, the Company recorded an additional charge of $1.5 million related to an additional portion of the value-added tax, the recoverability of which is uncertain. In Mexico, the requirements of the Mexican tax authority for a refund specify that all original documents (original invoices, original import documents, etc.) must be available for review by the tax authority in order to substantiate the refund claim. Numerous personnel changes and computer system changes in the Company's Mexico operations have led the Company to conclude that all of the original supporting documentation may not be available. While the Company is pursuing the full refund request with the tax authorities, the supporting documentation may not meet the requirements of the Mexican tax authorities for the full refund request. As a result of the Company's review of the documentation, the Company recorded a charge for $3.0 million in the fourth quarter of 2001 and an additional charge of $1.5 million in the fourth quarter of 2002. The Company believes it has all of the documentation necessary to support the net balance.

Critical Accounting Policies

Note 1 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements, included in Amendment No. 3 to the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K/A for the year ended November 30, 2002, includes a summary of the significant accounting policies and methods used in the preparation of the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements. The following is a brief discussion of the more critical accounting policies and methods used by the Company.

(a) Significant Estimates

Management of the Company has made a number of estimates and assumptions related to the reporting of assets and liabilities in preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. The most significant estimates relate to the allowance for doubtful accounts, the reserve for inventory obsolescence, the deferred tax asset valuation allowance and the determination of the recoverability of goodwill.

In determining the adequacy of the allowance for doubtful accounts, management considers a number of factors including the aging of the receivable portfolio, customer payment trends, financial condition of the customer, economic conditions in the customer's country, and industry conditions. In some years, the Company has experienced significant amounts of bad debt, including $51.5 million in fiscal year 2000. In 2000, the decline in the redistributors market, the decision to exit the Brazil market, and the competitive market conditions significantly impacted bad debt expense. Actual amounts could differ significantly from management's estimates.

In determining the adequacy of the reserve for inventory obsolescence, management considers a number of factors including the aging of the inventory, recent sales trends, industry market conditions, and economic conditions. In assessing the reserve, management also considers price protection credits or other incentives the Company expects to receive from the vendor. In some years, the Company has experienced significant amounts of inventory obsolescence, including $32.3 million in fiscal year 2000. After a supply shortage in 1999, there was an oversupply of product resulting in intense price competition in 2000 which significantly impacted obsolescence. Actual amounts could differ significantly from management's estimates.

In assessing the reliability of deferred income tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not that the deferred income tax assets will be realized. At May 31, 2003, the Company has deferred income tax assets of $61.0 million, a significant portion of which relate to net operating loss carry-forwards. The ultimate realization of deferred income tax assets is dependent on the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which those temporary differences are deductible. Management considers the scheduled reversal of deferred income tax liabilities, projected future taxable income, and tax planning strategies in making this assessment. Based on the level of historical taxable income and projections for future taxable income over the periods in which the deferred income tax assets are deductible, management determines if it is more likely than not that the Company will realize the benefits of these deductible differences. The amount of the deferred income tax asset considered realizable, however, could be reduced in the near term if estimates of future taxable income during the carry-forward period are reduced. In addition, the results of the Company's plan of repositioning and the proposed CellStar Asia Transaction (see Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations - International Operations) could impact the valuation allowances related to these deferred tax assets.

As a result of the Exchange Offer (see Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations - Liquidity and Capital Resources), the Company was deemed to have undergone an ownership change for purposes of the Internal Revenue Code. The Company may have limitations beginning with the year ended November 30, 2002 on the utilization of its U.S. tax loss carry-forwards in accordance with Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code. In order to utilize the full U.S. tax loss carry-forwards in excess of the Section 382 limitations, the Company needs to complete prior to February 2007 a transaction related to currently existing operations that results in a taxable gain. If at any time prior to February 2007, the Company deems such a transaction unlikely to occur by February 2007 or that the transaction will not allow the Company to fully utilize the tax loss-carry forwards, the Company will then record a valuation allowance for the tax loss-carryforwards the Company does not anticipate utilizing.

Prior to the fourth quarter of 2002, the Company did not accrue for U.S. Federal income taxes or tax benefits on the undistributed earnings and/or losses of its international subsidiaries because earnings were reinvested and, in the opinion of management, would continue to be reinvested indefinitely (See Note 7 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for CellStar Corporation contained in the Form 10-K for fiscal year ended November 30, 2001, filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on February 28, 2001). Accordingly, there was no liability recorded for such potential U.S. Federal income taxes. As a result of the progress in the fourth quarter of 2002 in evaluating the strategic options with regard to its Asia-Pacific Region (see Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations-International Operations), it was determined that the Company was required by generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) to account for the earnings in its Asia-Pacific Region as not being permanently reinvested since the Company has manifested its intent to pursue possible transactions designed to allow the Company to withdraw and return to the U.S. some or all of the value of those operations. Accordingly, in the quarter ended November 30, 2002, the Company was required to accrue U.S. Federal income taxes on the undistributed earnings of the Asia-Pacific Region of approximately $42.2 million.

Table of Contents

No U.S. Federal income taxes on the undistributed earnings will be payable until such earnings are actually remitted back to the U.S. in the form of dividends or, in the case of a completed transaction such as the CellStar Asia Transaction, sale proceeds. As of May 31, 2003, the Company has net operating loss carry-forwards in the U.S. of approximately $73.0 million, a significant portion of which the Company believes it will be able to utilize to offset the taxes payable in the event that a transaction is completed. The Company therefore does not expect that the impact of the payment of any taxes associated with any such transaction will significantly impact the cash position of the Company at the time of such payment. Furthermore, the Company will have cash proceeds from any such transaction to fund the actual payment of such taxes. As a result of the accrual beginning in the quarter ended November 30, 2002, of U.S. Federal income taxes on the undistributed earnings of the Asia-Pacific Region, the Company will not recognize tax expense in future periods for financial statement purposes on any such future transaction up to the amount of the tax recognized on the undistributed earnings.

Consistent with the change in historical accounting treatment for undistributed earnings discussed above, the Company recorded U.S. Federal income taxes of approximately $2.0 million in the fourth quarter of 2002 for previously undistributed earnings from Sweden, The Netherlands and Colombia. These previously undistributed earnings are no longer considered permanently reinvested following the completion of the Company's evaluations of these markets.

At May 31, 2003, the Company had not provided for U.S. Federal income taxes on earnings of international subsidiaries of approximately $15.7 million as these earnings were considered permanently reinvested.

Goodwill represents the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of net assets acquired. Prior to December 1, 2002, the Company amortized goodwill using the straight-line method over 20 years. The Company assessed the recoverability of this intangible asset by determining the estimated future cash flows related to such acquired assets. In the event that goodwill was found to be carried at an amount that is in excess of estimated future operating cash flows, the goodwill was adjusted to a level commensurate with a discounted cash flow analysis using a discount rate reflecting the Company's average cost of funds.

In June 2001, the FASB issued Statement No. 141, Business Combinations. Statement No. 141 changes the accounting for business combinations to eliminate the pooling-of-interests method and requires all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001 to be accounted for using the purchase method. This statement also requires intangible assets that arise from contractual or other legal rights, or that are capable of being separated or divided from the acquired entity, be recognized separately from goodwill. Existing intangible assets and goodwill that were acquired in a prior purchase method business combination were evaluated and no reclassifications were necessary in order to conform with the new criteria in Statement No. 141 for recognition apart from goodwill.

In June 2001, the FASB issued Statement No. 142, which addresses the initial recognition and measurement of intangible assets acquired (other than those acquired in a business combination, which is addressed by Statement No. 141) and the subsequent accounting for goodwill and other intangible assets after initial recognition. Statement No. 142 eliminates the amortization of goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives. Intangible assets with lives restricted by contractual, legal, or other means will continue to be amortized over their useful lives. This statement also requires the Company to reassess the useful lives of all intangible assets acquired, and make any necessary amortization period adjustments. Goodwill and other intangible assets not subject to amortization are tested for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the asset might be impaired. Statement No. 142 requires a two-step process for testing goodwill for impairment. First, the fair value of each reporting unit is compared to its carrying value to determine whether an indication of impairment exists. A reporting unit is an operating segment or one level below an operating segment. The Company's reporting units are Asia Pacific-Greater China Operations, Asia Pacific-South Pacific Operation, North America, Latin America-Mexico, Latin America-excluding Mexico, Sweden and, until the sale of The Netherlands operations on March 21, 2003, The Netherlands. If impairment is indicated, then the fair value of the reporting unit's goodwill is determined by allocating the unit's fair value to its assets and liabilities (including any unrecognized intangible assets) as if the reporting unit had been acquired in a business combination. The amount of impairment for goodwill and other intangible assets is measured as the excess of its carrying value over its fair value. Goodwill and intangible assets acquired after June 30, 2001 were immediately subject to the impairment provisions of this statement. The Company completed its impairment testing under the requirements of Statement No. 142 during the first quarter of 2003 and recorded an impairment charge of approximately $17.2 million, which is presented as a cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle, net of tax, for the three months ended February 28, 2003.

(b) Revenue Recognition

For the Company's wholesale business, revenue is recognized when the customer takes title and assumes risk of loss. If the customer takes title and assumes risk of loss upon shipment, revenue is recognized on the shipment date. If the customer takes title and assumes risk of loss upon delivery, revenue is recognized upon the delivery. In accordance with contractual agreements with wireless service providers, the Company receives an activation commission for obtaining subscribers for wireless services in connection with the Company's retail operations. The agreements contain various provisions for additional commissions (residual commissions) based on subscriber usage. The agreements also provide for the reduction or elimination of activation commissions if subscribers deactivate service within stipulated periods. The Company recognizes revenue for activation commissions on the wireless service providers' activation of the subscriber's service and residual commissions when earned and provides an allowance for estimated wireless service deactivations, which is reflected as a reduction of accounts receivable and revenues in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. The Company recognizes fee service revenue when the service is completed, or if applicable, upon shipment of the related product, whichever is later.

(c) Vendor Credits

The Company recognizes price protection credits and other incentives, such as volume discounts from vendors, when such credits are received in writing, or if the credits are based on sell-through to customers, when the credits have been received in writing from the vendor and the related product is sold. Price protection credits and other incentives are applied against inventory and cost of goods sold, depending on whether the related inventory is on-hand or has been previously sold at the time the credits are received in writing. Sell-through credits are recorded as a reduction in cost of goods sold in the period received.

The Company recognizes advertising allowances from vendors when such allowances are received in writing from the vendor and earned. Advertising allowances are generally for the reimbursement of specific incremental, identifiable costs incurred by the Company and are recorded as a reduction of the related cost. Allowances in excess of the specific costs incurred, if any, are recorded as a reduction cost of goods sold or inventory, as applicable.

Accounting Pronouncements Not Yet Adopted

At May 31, 2003, there were no accounting pronouncements not yet adopted that would impact the Company.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

Foreign Exchange Risk

For the quarter ended May 31, 2003 and 2002, the Company recorded net foreign currency gains (losses) of $1.9 million and ($0.6) million, respectively, in cost of goods sold. The gain in 2003 is primarily due to the favorable fluctuation in the Mexican peso. For the quarters ended May 31, 2003 and 2002, the Company recorded in other income (expense), net foreign currency gains (losses) of $0.5 million and ($38,000), respectively. The gain in 2003 was primarily due to the revaluations of foreign currencies related to the European operations.

The Company manages foreign currency risk by attempting to increase prices of products sold at or above the anticipated exchange rate of the local currency relative to the U.S. dollar, by indexing certain of its accounts receivable to exchange rates in effect at the time of their payment and by entering into foreign currency hedging instruments in certain instances. The Company consolidates the bulk of its foreign exchange exposure related to inter-company transactions in its international finance subsidiary. These transactional exposures are managed using various derivative alternatives, as considered necessary, depending on the length and size of the exposure. The Company continues to evaluate foreign currency exposures and related protection measures.

At May 31, 2003, the Company had no forward contracts and does not hold any other derivative instruments.

The Company has foreign exchange exposure on the restricted cash deposited by the Hong Kong entity on behalf of the PRC entity as the funds have been effectively converted into RMB. The Company also has foreign exchange exposure on the RMB lines of credit in the PRC as they are collateralized by U.S. dollars. For the quarter ended May 31, 2003, $140.1 million, or 32.1%, of the Company's revenues were from the Company's operations in the PRC. With the exception of inter-company activity, all revenues and expenses of the China operations are in RMB. The Company does not hold derivative instruments related to the RMB.

Table of ContentsDerivative Financial Instruments

The Company periodically uses various derivative financial instruments as part of an overall strategy to manage its exposure to market risk associated with interest rate and foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations. The Company periodically uses foreign currency forward contracts to manage the foreign currency exchange rate risks associated with international operations. The Company evaluates the use of interest rate swaps and cap agreements to manage its interest risk on debt instruments, including the reset of interest rates on variable rate debt. The Company does not hold or issue derivative financial instruments for trading purposes. The Company's risk of loss in the event of non-performance by any counterparty under derivative financial instrument agreements is not significant. Although the derivative financial instruments expose CellStar to market risk, fluctuations in the value of the derivatives are mitigated by expected offsetting fluctuations in the matched instruments. The Company periodically uses foreign currency forward contracts to reduce exposure to exchange rate risks primarily associated with transactions in the regular course of its international operations. The forward contracts establish the exchange rates at which the Company purchases or sells the contracted amount of local currencies for specified foreign currencies at a future date. Forward contracts used by the Company are typically short-term in nature (45 days to one year), and the Company receives or pays the difference between the contracted forward rate and the exchange rate at the settlement date.

At May 31, 2003, the Company had no forward contracts and does not hold any other derivative instruments.

Interest Rate Risk

The Company manages its borrowings under the revolving credit facility each business day to minimize interest expense. The interest rate of the Company's Facility is an index rate at the time of borrowing plus an applicable margin on certain borrowings. The interest rate is based on either the agent bank's prime lending rate or the London Interbank Offered Rate. During the quarter ended May 31, 2003, the interest rate of borrowings under the U.S. revolving credit facility was 5.25%. A one percent change in variable interest rates will not have a material impact on the Company. The Company has short-term borrowings in the PRC bearing interest between 0.00% and 5.04%, (see Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations - Liquidity and Capital Resources). The credit facility in Sweden bears interest at 5.60%. Other notes payable bear interest between 2.40% and 6.00%. The Senior Notes issued in February 2002 bear interest at 12.0%.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

The Company's Chief Executive Officer and its Chief Financial Officer, after evaluating the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-14(c) and 15d-14(c)) as of a date within 90 days of the filing date of this quarterly report on Form 10-Q (the Evaluation Date), have concluded that as of the Evaluation Date, the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified by the rules and forms of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

During the quarter, the Company discovered that the Asia-Pacific Region had factored certain receivables without the knowledge of CellStar corporate management and had not properly classified the factored receivables on the balance sheet. The receivables however were properly classified for PRC GAAP. The misclassification had no impact on the net assets or the net income of the Company. The Company is taking additional measures to eliminate any further misunderstandings regarding the proper approval process and classification of transactions out of the ordinary course of business. The Company is implementing a new schedule of authorizations which clearly indicates the transactions which must be approved in advance by CellStar corporate management.

The Company is currently investigating a potential fraud by a salesman in its Taiwan operations in which allegedly fraudulent customer purchase orders were submitted by the salesman and the related product was released from inventory. The Company currently estimates the loss to be less than $0.5 million. The Company expects to complete its investigation in the third quarter of 2003. Based upon the Company's findings, the Company will modify its internal controls as deemed necessary.

In addition, due to the SARS fears and the associated restricted travel to and from Asia, U.S. based CellStar corporate management and Asia-Pacific Region management were not able to meet as frequently as had occurred prior to the SARS outbreak. With the lifting of travel restrictions related to SARS, the Company intends to resume regular face-to-face meetings with the Asia-Pacific Region management team.

There were no significant changes in the Company's internal controls or in other factors except as disclosed above that could significantly affect these controls subsequent to the Evaluation Date, nor any significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in such internal controls requiring corrective actions. As a result, no corrective actions were taken.

The Company has entered into a letter of intent with the Asia-Pacific Region management team regarding their participation in the possible initial public offering of the Greater China Operations. There was no indication that such letter of intent, nor the negotiations leading up to such letter of intent, had any effect on the Company's internal controls.

Although there are no material weaknesses in the Company's internal controls on a consolidated basis, the Company's auditors have identified a material weakness in the Company's Mexico operations that relates to the reconciliation of certain manual accounting systems in Mexico. The Company's accounting for activations in Mexico involves numerous manual inputs and requires primarily manual reconciliations with both the wireless service provider and the Company's agents. This manual process increases the possibility of duplicate activations being recorded or activations being omitted completely. The Company has begun implementation of a new system to automate the process in order to reduce and/or eliminate duplicate activations and omissions and also has begun to reduce the number of agents. In addition, the Company's manual reconciliation process with one of its major carrier customers involves numerous transactions and disputed items. The Company and the carrier customer manually reconcile these accounts. The Company and the carrier customer are communicating more frequently to reconcile the accounts and resolve disputed items on a more timely basis. Lastly, the taxing authorities in Mexico changed the method for computing the value added tax (VAT) during 2002. The Company is in the process of obtaining all required documentation, as well as revising the internal tax computation to comply with the revised VAT law. The Company expects these improvements in internal controls to be completed during 2003. Also, the Company made significant management changes during fiscal 2002 in its Mexico operations.

The Company's management, including the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer, does not expect that disclosure controls and procedures or internal controls can prevent all error and all fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable and not absolute assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. While the Company's management believes it has taken all reasonable measures to ensure that fraud can be detected and prevented, because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instance of fraud, if any, have been detected.

Part II OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

On April 30, 2003, a purported class action lawsuit was filed in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware, New Castle County, styled as follows: Ruth Everson v. CellStar Corporation, James L. Johnson, John L. Jackson, Jere W. Thompson, Dale V. Kesler and Terry S. Parker (the Everson Suit). The Everson Suit alleges breach of fiduciary duty and corporate waste in connection with the CellStar Asia Transaction. The Everson Suit seeks injunctive and other equitable relief, rescissory and/or compensatory damages and reimbursement of attorney's fees and costs. The Company obtained an initial temporary stay of the proceedings for a period of 60 days from May 1, 2003, and subsequently obtained another temporary stay until the earlier of September 30, 2003, or plaintiff's determination that the transaction is likely to proceed, as a result of the Company's announced delay of the proposed IPO due to the outbreak and spread of SARS.

The Company believes it has meritorious defenses to these claims and will vigorously defend this action if and when the stay expires. The ultimate outcome is not currently predictable.

The Company is a party to various other claims, legal actions and complaints arising in the ordinary course of business. Management believes that the disposition of these other matters will not have a materially adverse effect on the consolidated financial condition or results of operations of the Company.

Item 5. Other Information

On May 1, 2003, the Company announced that it delayed the IPO, and consequently the divestiture of the Greater China Operations, due to the spread of SARS (See Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations - International Operations). As a result, the 2002 Annual Meeting of Stockholders will be delayed by more than 30 days from the date of the 2001 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, which was held on May 9, 2002. The Company will notify stockholders when a meeting date for the 2002 Annual Meeting of Stockholders has been determined.
