Item 5. Other Events and Regulation FD Disclosure.

In connection with an ongoing internal review of Verizon Communications Inc.'s long distance customer base, Verizon has determined that, as a result of an internal system database issue, the number of long distance lines has been overstated by approximately 1.5 million lines. As of March 31, 2004, Verizon would have reported approximately 16 million long distance lines had this adjustment been made at that time. This overstatement had no effect on revenue. Accordingly, there will be no impact of this long distance line adjustment on Verizon's financial results, balance sheets or statements of cash flows.

Verizon will continue its system analysis and will remove these lines from the long distance line count that will be reported in connection with Verizon's second quarter 2004 earnings release.
