ANNOUNCEMENT OF FINANCIAL RESULTS

(Note: Dollar amounts for the most recent period have been translated for convenience at the rate of U.S.$1.00 = 110 yen.)

MATSUSHITA REPORTS FIRST QUARTER NET PROFIT INCREASE

- V-Products Spur Earnings Gains Despite Severe Economic Conditions -

Osaka, Japan, July 28, 2005 Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. (Matsushita [NYSE symbol: MC]) today reported its consolidated financial results for the first quarter, ended June 30, 2005, of the current fiscal year ending March 31, 2006 (fiscal 2006).

First-quarter Results

Consolidated group sales for the first quarter decreased 3% to 2,048.2 billion yen (U.S.$18.62 billion), from 2,102.0 billion yen in the same three-month period a year ago. Explaining the first quarter results, the company cited sales gains in digital audiovisual

(AV) products, especially V-products, both in Japan and overseas, as well as an increase in domestic sales of air conditioners, a result of collaboration with Matsushita Electric Works, Ltd. (MEW). Such gains, however, were offset by sales declines in components and devices, particularly semiconductors and general components. Of the consolidated group total, domestic sales increased 1% to 1,064.7 billion yen ($9.68 billion), from 1,052.8 billion yen a year ago. Overseas sales were down 6%, to 983.5 billion yen ($8.94 billion), from 1,049.2 billion yen in the first quarter of fiscal 2005.

During the first quarter, the Japanese economy continued a moderate recovery with steady consumer spending and further inventory adjustments in the information technology (IT) industry. However, concerns about the prospects of a full recovery in the Japanese economy remained, due to negative factors such as sluggish exports, price increases in crude oil and other raw materials, price declines in digital products, as well as stagnant capital investment in the private sector. Meanwhile, the global economy slowed somewhat since the second half of last year. In particular, the European economy remains in a severe condition due to a downturn in exports and sluggish consumer spending. In China, initiatives to curb excessive capital investment continue, while shipments to retailers have declined due to relatively high inventory levels. Economic conditions in the United States were favorable, with steady growth in housing investment and consumer spending. However, the outlook for the U.S. economy is still uncertain due mainly to rising interest rates and crude oil prices. Under these circumstances, Matsushita is now focusing efforts to accelerate growth strategies and strengthen management structures to achieve the goals of the three-year Leap Ahead 21 plan.

As part of such efforts, the company successfully launched a new series of V-products and promoted the simultaneous introduction of flat-panel TVs in Japan, the United States and Europe, resulting in increased market share. Meanwhile, the company promoted collaboration activities with MEW to launch Collaboration V-products, such as modular kitchens, which are developed through integrated black-box technologies from Matsushita and MEW. Furthermore, to strengthen management structures, Matsushita launched a Next Cell Production Project, to achieve further reductions in inventories and improve cost competitiveness. Also, a Second Corporate Cost Busters Project was launched to enhance profitability by eliminating redundancies throughout the Matsushita group.

Regarding earnings, negative factors such as intensified global price competition and increased raw materials costs, including crude oil prices, were more than offset by comprehensive cost reduction efforts, the effects of restructuring initiatives implemented in the preceding fiscal year and other positive factors. As a result, operating profit¹ for the first quarter was up 6%, to 46.0 billion yen ($418 million), from 43.5 billion yen in the same period a year ago. Pre-tax income totaled 66.2 billion yen ($602 million), including a 10.3 billion yen gain from the sale of shares of Matsushita Leasing & Credit Co., Ltd. (MLC). The pre-tax income was down 18% from 80.5 billion yen last year, when the company recorded a 27.5 billion yen gain from the transfer of the substitutional portion of the Employees Pension Funds (EPF) to the Government². Net income increased 2% to 33.4 billion yen ($304 million), from 32.8 billion yen in the same quarter of the previous year.

² For information about the transfer of the substitutional portion of the EPF to the Government, see Note 6 of Notes to consolidated financial statements

Consolidated Sales Breakdown by Product Category

The company's first quarter consolidated sales by product category, as compared with prior year amounts, are summarized as follows:

AVC Networks

AVC Networks sales were up 1% to 846.2 billion yen ($7.69 billion), from 835.3 billion yen in last year's first quarter. Despite declines in audio equipment, sales of video and audio equipment increased slightly from the previous year, due mainly to favorable sales in flat-panel TVs and digital cameras.

In information and communications equipment, overseas sales were down in cellular phones, facsimile machines and other products. However, strong sales of PCs and automotive electronics led to a 2% increase overall.

Home Appliances

Sales of Home Appliances decreased 3% to 308.4 billion yen ($2.80 billion), compared with 317.3 billion yen in last year's first quarter. The transfer of certain product categories to MEW led to the overall sales decline, although sales gains were recorded in such areas as air conditioners, ventilating fans and microwave ovens.

Components and Devices

Sales of Components and Devices were also down 13% to 251.6 billion yen ($2.29 billion), compared with 290.6 billion yen in the same three-month period of the previous year. Sales of semiconductors, general components and batteries decreased from last year's first quarter.

MEW and PanaHome

Sales of MEW and PanaHome increased 2% to 342.7 billion yen ($3.12 billion), from 336.2 billion yen last year. Sales gains at MEW were recorded in electronic and plastic materials, including industrial-use lighting fixtures, while sales gains at PanaHome Corporation (PanaHome) were recorded in detached housing and home remodeling.

JVC

Sales for JVC (Victor Company of Japan, Ltd.) totaled 148.9 billion yen ($1.35 billion), down 14% from 172.2 billion yen in the first quarter of the previous year. This result is due primarily to sluggish sales of consumer-use products overseas.

Other

Sales for Other remained at 150.4 billion yen ($1.37 billion), the same level as previous year. Sales increases in products such as welding machines were recorded within this category.

Consolidated Financial Condition

On a consolidated basis, total assets as of June 30, 2005 were 8,122.9 billion yen, an increase of 66.0 billion yen from March 31, 2005. This result is due mainly to an increase in inventories resulting from seasonal factors. Stockholders' equity increased 9.9 billion yen due to an increase in retained earnings and accumulated other comprehensive income, despite an increase in treasury stock from continued repurchases of the company's own shares.

Outlook for Fiscal 2006 First Half

The company expects a severe environment to persist in the second quarter of fiscal 2006, with continuing price declines and increases in crude oil prices. However, Matsushita today announced an upward revision of its forecast for the fiscal 2006 first half, ending September 30, 2005, due to favorable business results in the first quarter. On a consolidated basis, Matsushita expects sales for the first half to increase by 40 billion yen to 4,190 billion yen, compared with the previous forecast of 4,150 billion yen. This upward revision is due mainly to favorable sales in digital AV products, including flat-panel TVs, the successful introduction of V-products and sales increases from collaboration with MEW in areas such as air conditioners. Meanwhile, the revised forecast for income before income taxes is 125 billion yen, up from the previous forecast of 105 billion yen. This upward revision is due mainly to the aforementioned sales increases and a net gain on the sale of securities in the first quarter. Net income for the first half is now estimated to be about 50 billion yen, compared with the previous forecast of 35 billion yen.

Due to the uncertainties in the business environment mentioned above, the forecast for the full fiscal year 2006, ending March 31, 2006, remains unchanged from the forecast announced on April 28, 2005.

Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd., best known for its Panasonic brand products, is one of the world's leading manufacturers of electronic and electric products for consumer, business and industrial use. Notes to consolidated financial statements:

1. The company's consolidated financial statements are prepared in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (U.S. GAAP).
2. In order to be consistent with generally accepted financial reporting practices in Japan, operating profit is presented as net sales less cost of sales and selling, general and administrative expenses. The company believes that this is useful to investors in comparing the company's financial results with those of other Japanese companies. Please refer to the accompanying consolidated statement of income and Note 5 for U.S. GAAP reconciliation.
3. On April 1, 2005, Matsushita sold approximately 2,707 thousand shares of Matsushita Leasing & Credit Co., Ltd. (MLC) to The Sumitomo Trust & Banking Co., Ltd. (STB) for cash proceeds of 27,756 million yen, and recorded a gain of 10,313 million yen, pursuant to a basic agreement regarding the equity ownership of MLC concluded between the company and STB. As a result of the sale, Matsushita now owns 34% of MLC's total issued shares. MLC (renamed Sumishin Matsushita Financial Services Co., Ltd. on May 1, 2005) was changed from a consolidated subsidiary to an equity method investee of Matsushita as of April 1, 2005.
4. Comprehensive income was reported as a gain of 63,000 million yen ($573 million) for the first quarter of fiscal 2006, and a gain of 167,134 million yen for the first quarter of fiscal 2005. Comprehensive income includes net income and increases (decreases) in cumulative translation adjustments, unrealized holding gains (losses) of available-for-sale securities, unrealized gains (losses) of certain derivative instruments and minimum pension liability adjustments.
5. Under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, expenses associated with the implementation of early retirement programs at certain domestic and overseas companies are included as part of operating profit in the statement of income.
6. Employees Pension Funds in certain of the company's subsidiaries obtained approvals from Japan's Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare (the Ministry) for exemption from the past benefit obligation with respect to the portion of the Employees Pension Funds that certain of the company's subsidiaries operated for the Government (the so-called substitutional portion), and transferred the substitutional portion to the Government in fiscal 2005. A gain of 27,510 million yen in the first quarter of fiscal 2005 from the transfer of the substitutional portion of the Japanese Welfare Pension Insurance is reported as other income in the consolidated statement of income.

Edgar Filing: MATSUSHITA ELECTRIC INDUSTRIAL CO LTD - Form 6-K

7. Regarding consolidated segment profit, expenses for basic research and administrative expenses at the corporate headquarters level are treated as unallocatable expenses for each business segment, and are included in Corporate and eliminations.

8. The company's business segments are classified according to a business domain-based management system, which focuses on global consolidated management by each business domain, in order to ensure consistency of its internal management structure and disclosure.
