Panasonic and Toray to Build World's Largest

Plasma Display Panel Plant in Japan

- Commencing operations in July 2007,

new plant to boost Panasonic's PDP output to over 11 million panels per annum via production technology yielding world-first eight panels per sheet -

Osaka, Japan Panasonic, the brand for which Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. is best known, and diversified chemical group Toray Industries, Inc. today announced plans to build a new plasma display panel (PDP) manufacturing facility in Japan. The facility will be the fourth plant of their PDP joint venture, Matsushita PDP Company Ltd. (MPDP), giving Panasonic the largest PDP production capacity in the world.

With an investment of 180 billion yen, the world's largest PDP plant will be situated next to MPDP's third PDP plant in Amagasaki, Japan. The new plant will have a production capacity of 6 million panels per year (calculated on the basis of 42-inch screen-size panels).

MPDP will start construction of the new plant in May this year with production scheduled to commence in July 2007. When it reaches its full capacity by March 2009, Panasonic's total PDP output will be lifted to 11.1 million panels per year. The new plant is Panasonic's fifth PDP manufacturing facility. In addition to three other MPDP plants (two in Ibaraki and one in Amagasaki), Panasonic runs Shanghai Matsushita Plasma Display Co., Ltd. in China. The sheer size of its new production capacity reinforces Panasonic's leadership in the global flat-panel TV market.

The new plant will employ state-of-the-art process technologies and production systems that are more advanced than those of the third plant in Amagasaki, which began production in September 2005, said Mr. Ken Morita, President of MPDP. The new systems and technologies will bring greater mass production efficiencies to the whole process while ensuring higher quality. Our new process technology allows a single substrate to yield up to eight 42-inch panels, the highest number in the world. According to a comprehensive production strategy aimed at further enhancing production efficiencies in all PDP plants, each production line will be specialized by screen size. As a result, MPDP will be able to supply PDPs with more speed and flexibility to meet the surging world demand.

The PDP market originated in Japan and has quickly evolved into a huge global market driven by the worldwide trend towards digital high-definition broadcasting. Demand for PDPs in North America and Europe now far exceeds demand in Japan. The growing market in China, the host country of the 2008 Summer Olympic Games, also is poised to outpace the growth in Japan.

Japan's demand for crisp and clear picture, large-screen plasma TVs will be pushed by nationwide expansion of digital terrestrial broadcasting expected by the end of this year and the cessation of analog broadcasting by 2011. In other regions, such as Southeast Asia, PDP demand is expected to develop as digital broadcast infrastructure is built.

Mr. Morita said, "As plasma has technical advantages in producing large panels not only in terms of performance but also production and cost efficiencies, PDPs will gain more popularity as a multipurpose display for business, educational and medical applications as well as home theater use."

Panasonic anticipates the global PDP market will expand to 25 million panels by 2010. With its annual output capacity of over 11 million panels, we aim to be the world's top manufacturer of PDPs by enhancing our global share to over 40 percent.

Positioning PDP as one of their core businesses, Panasonic and Toray are committed to running MPDP together and making a significant contribution to the progress of the audio-visual industry on a global scale.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF FINANCIAL RESULTS

(Note: Dollar amounts for the most recent period have been translated for convenience at the rate of U.S.$1.00 = 118 yen.)

MATSUSHITA REPORTS THIRD QUARTER NET PROFIT INCREASE

- Full-year Forecast Revised on Strong Third Quarter Results -

Osaka, Japan, February 2, 2006 Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. (Matsushita [NYSE symbol: MC]) today reported its consolidated financial results for the third quarter and nine months, ended December 31, 2005, of the current fiscal year, ending March 31, 2006 (fiscal 2006).

Consolidated Third-quarter Results

Consolidated group sales for the third quarter increased 4% to 2,398.4 billion yen (U.S.$20.33 billion), from 2,296.5 billion yen in the same three-month period a year ago. Explaining the third quarter results, the company cited sales gains in digital audiovisual (AV) products, especially V-products. Of the consolidated group total, domestic sales were down 1% to 1,181.6 billion yen ($10.02 billion), from 1,189.0 billion yen a year ago. Overseas sales increased 10% to 1,216.8 billion yen ($10.31 billion), from 1,107.5 billion yen in the third quarter of fiscal 2005.

During the third quarter, the overall economic situation in Japan continued a moderate recovery trend, while global economic conditions were generally favorable, led by the United States and China. The outlook for world economies, however, is still uncertain, with concerns about the adverse impact of rising crude oil prices and risks associated with excessive housing investment in the United States.

In the electronics industry, conditions were favorable due mainly to strong sales in consumer electronics in the United States and steady global demand in information technology (IT) industries. The most recent round of inventory adjustments, particularly in components and devices, has also come to an end. However, a severe business environment continues due mainly to rising raw materials costs and price declines, mainly in AV products, caused by intensified global competition. Under these circumstances, Matsushita is accelerating the implementation of growth strategies and strengthening management structures to achieve global excellence in 2010.

As part of such efforts, the company successfully launched a new series of V-products and promoted the simultaneous introduction of products such as flat-panel TVs in Japan, the United States and Europe, resulting in increased market share. Meanwhile, the company promoted collaboration activities with Matsushita Electric Works, Ltd. (MEW), launching Collaboration V-products such as bathroom systems, which were developed through integrated core technologies from Matsushita and MEW, while reorganizing marketing structures. Furthermore, as part of initiatives to augment management structures, Matsushita launched a Next Cell Production Project to achieve further reductions in inventories and improve cost competitiveness. Also, a Second Corporate Cost Busters Project was launched to enhance profitability by eliminating redundancies throughout the Matsushita group.

Regarding earnings, negative factors, such as intensified global price competition and increased raw materials costs, including crude oil prices, were more than offset by sales gains, comprehensive cost reduction efforts and other positive factors. As a result, operating profit¹ for the third quarter was up 47%, to 129.4 billion yen ($1.10 billion), from 88.3 billion yen in the same period a year ago. Income before income taxes increased 52% to 126.1 billion yen ($1.07 billion), from 83.1 billion yen last year. This improvement was mainly attributable to increased operating profit, despite 8.0 billion yen in expenses associated with early retirement programs and 8.8 billion yen related to a recall of certain kerosene fan heaters, which the company manufactured and sold in Japan between 1985 and 1992. Net income also increased, up 39% to 49.3 billion yen ($418 million), from 35.6 billion yen in the same period a year ago. The company's net income per common share was 22.29 yen ($0.19) on a diluted basis, versus 15.56 yen on the same basis a year ago.

Consolidated Nine-month Results

Consolidated group sales for the nine months ended December 31, 2005 increased 1% to 6,657.6 billion yen ($56.42 billion), compared with 6,615.1 billion yen in the same nine-month period a year ago. Domestic sales decreased 1% to 3,355.3 billion yen ($28.43 billion), while overseas sales were up 2% to 3,302.3 billion yen ($27.99 billion).

For reasons similar to those given for third quarter results, the company's operating profit for the nine months increased 23% to 300.5 billion yen ($2.55 billion), from 244.6 billion yen in the comparable period a year ago. Pre-tax income for the nine-month period increased 27% to 280.2 billion yen ($2.37 billion), compared with 220.4 billion yen a year ago. In other income (deductions), the company recorded a 10.3 billion yen gain from the sale of shares of Matsushita Leasing & Credit Co., Ltd. (MLC),² and incurred expenses of 28.8 billion yen associated with the implementation of early retirement programs, and 8.8 billion yen in expenses related to the aforementioned recall of kerosene fan heaters. Net income was also up 24% to 113.7 billion yen ($963 million), as compared with 91.7 billion yen in the same nine-month period of the previous year. The company's net income per common share was 51.05 yen ($0.43) on a diluted basis, versus 39.79 yen on the same basis a year ago.

Consolidated Third-quarter Sales Breakdown by Product Category

The company's third-quarter consolidated sales by product category, as compared with prior year amounts, are summarized as follows:

AVC Networks

AVC Networks sales increased 9% to 1,049.1 billion yen ($8.89 billion), compared with 966.9 billion yen in the same period of the previous year. Sales of video and audio equipment increased 9% from the previous year's third quarter, due mainly to strong sales of digital AV products, such as plasma TVs and digital cameras.

Sales of information and communications equipment increased 8%, mainly a result of sales gains in PCs and peripherals and automotive electronics, which were more than sufficient to offset weak overseas sales in cellular phones.

Home Appliances

Sales of Home Appliances decreased 2% to 311.3 billion yen ($2.64 billion), compared with 316.5 billion yen in last year's third quarter. Although sales of air conditioners and microwave ovens were favorable, sales declines were recorded in refrigerators, compressors and seasonal products.

Components and Devices

Sales of Components and Devices increased 3% to 286.9 billion yen ($2.43 billion), compared with 279.1 billion yen in the same period of the previous year, due mainly to favorable sales of semiconductors, general components and batteries.

MEW and PanaHome

Sales of MEW and PanaHome increased 3% to 387.3 billion yen ($3.28 billion), from 376.6 billion yen last year. At MEW and its subsidiaries, sales gains were recorded mainly in electrical construction materials, automation controls and electronic and plastic materials. At PanaHome Corporation, sales of detached housing were sluggish, while sales gains were recorded in rental apartment housing and home remodeling businesses.

JVC

Sales for JVC (Victor Company of Japan, Ltd. and its subsidiaries) totaled 211.8 billion yen ($1.80 billion), up 1% from 209.4 billion yen in the third quarter of the previous year, due primarily to favorable sales of consumer electronics in the Americas and software and media.

Other

Sales for Other increased 3% to 152.0 billion yen ($1.29 billion) from 148.0 billion yen in the third quarter of the previous year, due mainly to sales increases in factory automation equipment.

Consolidated Financial Condition

On a consolidated basis, total assets as of December 31, 2005 were 8,265.0 billion yen ($70.04 billion), an increase of 175.0 billion yen from the end of the first fiscal half ended September 30, 2005. This was due mainly to an increase in trade receivables caused by seasonal factors such as year-end sales, and an increase in investments as a result of revaluation, despite decreased inventories. Stockholders' equity increased 136.0 billion yen, as compared with the end of the first fiscal half, due primarily to an increase of 1,203 billion yen in accumulated other comprehensive income, primarily attributable to a weaker yen.

Outlook for the Full Fiscal Year 2006, ending March 31, 2006

Regarding the outlook for the full fiscal year 2006, considering the current financial results, Matsushita today announced an upward revision of the forecast announced on April 28, 2005. Regarding net sales on a consolidated basis, Matsushita revised its previous forecast of 8,720 billion yen upward, to approximately 8,840 billion yen. Reasons given for the upward revision include strong sales of digital AV products, especially V-products, a weaker yen and other positive effects, sufficient to offset sales downturns in cellular phones. Operating profit is now expected to increase to 400 billion yen, from the previous forecast of 330 billion yen. The upward revision for operating profit is due mainly to rationalization efforts in materials costs, the effects of restructuring initiatives and cost reduction activities. Regarding consolidated income before income taxes³, despite negative factors such as the aforementioned product recall (approximately 24 billion yen), increased restructuring expenses and impairment losses from long-lived assets, Matsushita has revised its forecast to 300 billion yen, from the previous forecast of 290 billion yen, due mainly to the expected increase in operating profit and gains related to the liquidation of a consolidated subsidiary, MEI Holding Inc. (MHI)⁴. Net income is now expected to increase to 130 billion yen, from the previous forecast of 110 billion yen, due mainly to the increase in pre-tax income and a lower effective tax rate, mainly a result of the reorganization of domestic and overseas subsidiaries.

Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd., best known for its Panasonic brand products, is one of the world's leading manufacturers of electronic and electric products for consumer, business and industrial use. Matsushita's shares are listed on the Tokyo, Osaka, Nagoya, New York, Euronext Amsterdam, and Frankfurt stock exchanges.

Notes to consolidated financial statements:

1. The company's consolidated financial statements are prepared in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (U.S. GAAP).
2. In order to be consistent with generally accepted financial reporting practices in Japan, operating profit is presented as net sales less cost of sales and selling, general and administrative expenses. The company believes that this is useful to investors in comparing the company's financial results with those of other Japanese companies. Please refer to the accompanying consolidated statement of income and Note 5 for U.S. GAAP reconciliation.
3. On April 1, 2005, Matsushita sold approximately 2,707 thousand shares of Matsushita Leasing & Credit Co., Ltd. (MLC) to The Sumitomo Trust & Banking Co., Ltd. (STB) for cash proceeds of 27,756 million yen, and recorded a gain of 10,313 million yen, pursuant to a basic agreement regarding the equity ownership of MLC concluded between the company and STB. As a result of the sale, Matsushita now owns 34% of MLC's total issued shares. MLC (renamed Sumishin Matsushita Financial Services Co., Ltd. on May 1, 2005) was changed from a consolidated subsidiary to an equity method investee of Matsushita as of April 1, 2005.
4. Comprehensive income was reported as a gain of 169,527 million yen ($1,437 million) for the third quarter ended December 31, 2005, a gain of 14,423 million yen for the third quarter ended December 31, 2004. Comprehensive income was a gain of 340,456 million yen ($2,885 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2005, and a gain of 205,842 million yen for the nine months a year ago. Comprehensive income (loss) includes net income and increases (decreases) in cumulative translation adjustments, unrealized holding gains (losses) of available-for-sale securities, unrealized gains (losses) of certain derivative instruments and minimum pension liability adjustments.
5. Under U.S. GAAP, expenses associated with the implementation of early retirement programs at certain domestic and overseas companies are included as part of operating profit in the statement of income.
6. Employees Pension Funds in certain of the company's subsidiaries obtained approvals from Japan's Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare (the Ministry) for exemption from the past benefit obligation with respect to the portion of the Employees Pension Funds that certain of the company's subsidiaries operated for the Government (the so-called substitutional portion), and transferred the substitutional portion to the Government in the first half ended September 30, 2004. A gain of 31,509 million yen from the transfer of the substitutional portion of the Japanese Welfare Pension Insurance is reported as other income in the consolidated statement of income for the nine months ended December 31, 2004.
7. Regarding consolidated segment profit, expenses for basic research and administrative expenses at the corporate headquarters level are treated as unallocatable expenses for each business segment, and are included in Corporate and eliminations.

* In order to be consistent with generally accepted financial reporting practices in Japan, operating profit is presented as net sales less cost of sales and selling, general and administrative expenses. The company believes that this is useful to investors in comparing the company's financial results with those of other Japanese companies.

 Factors affecting the forecast for other income (deductions) of 100 billion yen (the difference between operating profit and income before income taxes) include restructuring charges of 55 billion yen and other expenses of 45 billion yen.

Disclaimer Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This document includes forward-looking statements (within the meaning of Section 27A of the U.S. Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934) about Matsushita and its Group companies (the Matsushita Group). To the extent that statements in this document do not relate to historical or current facts, they constitute forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are based on the current assumptions and beliefs of the Matsushita Group in light of the information currently available to it, and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors. Such risks, uncertainties and other factors may cause the Matsushita Group's actual results, performance, achievements or financial position to be materially different from any future results, performance, achievements or financial position expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. Matsushita undertakes no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statements after the date of this document. Investors are advised to consult any further disclosures by Matsushita in its subsequent filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The risks, uncertainties and other factors referred to above include, but are not limited to, economic conditions, particularly consumer spending and corporate capital expenditures in the United States, Europe, Japan, China and other Asian countries; volatility in demand for electronic equipment and components from business and industrial customers, as well as consumers in many product and geographical markets; currency rate fluctuations, notably between the yen, the U.S. dollar, the euro, the Chinese yuan, Asian currencies and other currencies in which the Matsushita Group operates businesses, or in which assets and liabilities of the Matsushita Group are denominated; the ability of the Matsushita Group to respond to rapid technological changes and changing consumer preferences with timely and cost-effective introductions of new products in markets that are highly competitive in terms of both price and technology; the ability of the Matsushita Group to achieve its business objectives through joint ventures and other collaborative agreements with other companies; the ability of the Matsushita Group to maintain competitive strength in many product and geographical areas; the possibility of incurring expenses resulting from any defects in products or services of the Matsushita Group; the possibility that the Matsushita Group may face intellectual property infringement claims by third parties; current and potential, direct and indirect restrictions imposed by other countries over trade, manufacturing, labor and operations; fluctuations in market prices of securities and other assets in which the Matsushita Group has holdings or changes in valuation of long-lived assets and deferred tax assets; future changes or revisions to accounting policies or accounting rules; as well as natural disasters including earthquakes and other events that may negatively impact business activities of the Matsushita Group. The factors listed above are not all-inclusive and further information is contained in Matsushita's latest annual report on Form 20-F, which is on file with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

Matsushita to Divest Stake in Universal

Osaka, Japan, February 2, 2006 Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd [NYSE symbol: MC], best known for its Panasonic brand, today announced that its consolidated subsidiary MEI Holding Inc. (MHI) will sell all of its shares of Universal Studios Holding I Corp. (USHI), a holding company for Universal Music Group, Universal Interactive, a minority interest in NBC-Universal, to Vivendi Universal S.A. (VU), the majority holder of USHI. The company also announced that it will begin liquidation procedures for MHI upon completion of the sale of the USHI shares. Matsushita currently owns 7.66% of the total issued shares of USHI.

As a result of Matsushita's relationship with Universal over the past fifteen years, the company has made significant progress in such areas as business relationships with the film and music industries, the establishment of recordable media format standards, including DVD, and development of copyright protection technologies. In recent years, however, the spread of online distribution of video content and rapid progress in diversified distribution methods has necessitated neutral partnerships with multiple content providers, whereby it is no longer strategically important to maintain capital ties with any particular business partner.

Under such circumstances, Matsushita finalized and signed a definitive agreement with VU regarding the sale of the USHI shares, and accordingly decided to begin closing/liquidation procedures for MHI, thereby ending Matsushita's capital relationship with Universal-related businesses. Matsushita intends to strategically utilize cash flows provided by this sale to further enhance corporate value from a global perspective.
