(Commission File No. 000-25717)
Pursuant to Rule 425 under the Securities Act of 1933 and deemed filed pursuant to Rule 14a-12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934

Subject Company:

KCS Energy, Inc.
(Commission File No. 001-13781)

The following is a joint slide presentation first presented by Petrohawk Energy
Corporation and KCS Energy, Inc. on April 26, 2006:

3

Forward-looking Statements

This presentation contains "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the US Private Securities Litigation Reform Act

Petrohawk's

and

KCS's

current expectations and include statements regarding planned capital expenditures (including the amount and nature thereof),

timing

for

proposed

acquisitions

and

divestitures,

estimates

future

production,

statements

regarding

business plans and timing for drilling

and

exploration

expenditures,

number

wells

both

companies

anticipate

drilling

in

2006,

and

nature

potential drilling locations, future results of operations, quality and nature of the combined asset base, the assumptions upon which estimates are based and other expectations, beliefs, plans, objectives, assumptions, strategies or statements about future events or performance (often, but not always, using

"expects", "anticipates", "plans", "estimates", potential , possible , probable , or "intends", or stating that certain actions
"will",
should ,
or
could be
taken,
occur
achieved).
Statements
concerning
oil and gas reserves also may be deemed to be forward looking statements in that they reflect estimates based on certain assumptions that the resources involved can be economically exploited statements are based on current expectations, estimates and projections that involve a number of risks and uncertainties, which results to differ materially from those, reflected in the statements. These risks include, but are not limited to: the possibility that unable to obtain
stockholder
or
other
approvals
required
acquisition; the possibility that problems may arise in the integration of the businesses of the two companies; the possibility that the acquisition may involve unexpected costs; the possibility the combined company achieve cost-cutting objectives; the risks of the oil and gas industry (for example, operational risks in exploring for, developing and natural gas; risks and uncertainties involving geology of oil and gas deposits; the uncertainty of reserve estimates; the unce and projections relating to future production, costs and expenses; potential delays or changes in plans with respect to exploratio projects or capital expenditures; health, safety and environmental risks and risks related to weather such as hurricanes and othe uncertainties as to the availability and cost of financing; fluctuations in oil and gas prices; inability to realize expected value fro of our management team to execute its plans to meet its goals, shortages of drilling equipment, oil field personnel and services;
gathering systems, pipelines and processing facilities and the possibility that government policies may change or governmental delayed
or
withheld.
Additional
information
on
these
and
other
factors
which
could
affect

either

companies

operations or financial results are included in the companies

other reports on file with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. Forward-looking statements are based on the estimates and opinions of both companies management at the time the statements are made. Neither Petrohawk nor KCS assume any obligation to update forward-looking statements should circumstances or management's estimates or opinions change.

In its filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, Petrohawk is permitted to disclose only proved reserves that it has production or conclusive formation tests to be economically and legally producible under existing economic and operating conditions certain terms in this presentation, such as "potential" in relation to reserves that the SEC's guidelines strictly prohibit it from including in its SEC filings. These estimates are by their nature more speculative than estimates of proved reserves and accordingly are subject to substantial

Company

not

actually

realizing

them.

Investors

are

urged

to

closely

consider

disclosure of its proved reserves, along with certain risks and uncertainties inherent in its business, set forth in its filings with the SEC.
