Disclosures set forth throughout the preliminary prospectus supplement are updated to reflect the increase in the size of the offering from an aggregate principal amount of Senior Notes of $450,000,000 to $600,000,000. Giving effect to the increased offering size and the use of the net proceeds of the offering (after estimated offering expenses of $1 million) and cash on hand in connection with the announced Tender Offer, as of June 30, 2009, (i) Cash and cash equivalents would have been approximately $332 million, (ii) Senior notes, debentures and other debt would have been approximately $4,904 million, and (iii) Long-term borrowings would have been approximately $4,904 million, assuming in each case that the net proceeds and cash on hand are used solely to repurchase 2011 Notes under the Tender Offer.
