COMMUNITY FINANCIAL CORPORATION

MERGER PROPOSAL YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT

Dear Fellow Shareholders:

You are cordially invited to attend a special meeting of shareholders of Community Financial Corporation to be held on Tuesday, January 8, 2013, at 6:30 p.m., at our executive offices located at 38 North Central Avenue, Staunton, Virginia. At the special meeting, you will be asked to approve the merger agreement authorizing the merger of Community Financial with and into City Holding Company.

If the merger is approved and completed, each share of Community Financial common stock that you own will be converted into the right to receive 0.1753 shares of the common stock, par value $2.50 per share, of City Holding Company, for each share of Community Financial common stock that you own, plus cash in lieu of fractional shares as more fully described in the attached proxy statement/prospectus.

The above exchange ratio is fixed and will not be adjusted to reflect stock price changes prior to the closing of the merger. City Holding's common stock currently trades on The Nasdaq Global Select Market under the symbol CHCO. On November 21, 2012, the closing sale price of a share of City Holding common stock was $32.84. The market price of City Holding common stock will fluctuate before the merger. You should obtain current stock price quotations for City Holding common stock.

Based on the merger agreement, we expect the merger to be tax-free with respect to the shares of City Holding common stock that you receive. If you receive cash for fractional shares in the merger, you may have to recognize income or gain for tax purposes.

The merger cannot be completed unless the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Community Financial common stock vote in favor of approval of the merger agreement at the special meeting.

At the special meeting, in addition to being asked to approve the merger agreement, you will also be asked to approve the adjournment of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies in favor of the approval of the merger agreement. You will also be asked to approve, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, the compensation that may be paid or become payable to Community Financial's named executive officers in connection with the merger.

Your vote is important. Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting, please complete, sign and date the enclosed proxy card and return it promptly in the enclosed envelope. If you do not vote, the effect will be the same as a vote against the merger.

The accompanying proxy statement/prospectus provides you with additional information about the special meeting, the merger agreement and the merger. We encourage you to read this entire document carefully, including the Risk Factors section beginning on page 13. A copy of the merger agreement is attached as Annex A to the accompanying proxy statement/prospectus. We encourage you to read the entire proxy statement/prospectus and its annexes, including the merger agreement, carefully before making your voting and investment decision.

After careful consideration, Community Financial's board of directors unanimously adopted and approved the merger agreement and the merger. Accordingly, our board of directors recommends that you vote FOR approval of the merger agreement and the merger.

James R. Cooke, Jr.

Chairman of the Board

An investment in City Holding common stock in connection with the merger involves certain risks and uncertainties. See Risk Factors beginning on page 13 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Neither the Securities and Exchange Commission nor any state securities commission has approved or disapproved of City Holding common stock to be issued in the merger and pursuant to this proxy statement/prospectus or determined if this proxy statement/prospectus is accurate or adequate. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

The securities to be issued in the merger are not savings or deposit accounts or other obligations of any bank or non-bank subsidiary of either City Holding or Community Financial, and they are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other federal or state governmental agency.

This proxy statement/prospectus is dated November 21, 2012, and it is first being mailed to Community Financial shareholders on or about November 27, 2012.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF COMMUNITY FINANCIAL CORPORATION

SHAREHOLDERS TO BE HELD ON JANUARY 8, 2013

A special meeting of shareholders of Community Financial Corporation (Community Financial) will be held on January 8, 2013, at Community Financial s executive offices located at 38 North Central Avenue, Staunton, Virginia, at 6:30 p.m., local time, for the following purposes:

1. To consider and vote on a proposal to approve and adopt the Agreement and Plan of Merger dated as of August 2, 2012, by and among Community Financial, Community Bank, City Holding Company (City Holding) and City National Bank of West Virginia, the related plan of merger of City Holding and Community Financial attached as an exhibit thereto (together, the merger agreement), and the transactions contemplated thereby. The merger agreement provides that Community Financial will merge with and into City Holding upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the merger agreement, as more fully described in the accompanying proxy statement/prospectus. A copy of the merger agreement is attached as Annex A to the proxy statement/prospectus (See Proposal One: Approval of the Merger).
2. To consider and vote on a proposal to adjourn or postpone the meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary, to permit further solicitation of proxies in the event there are not sufficient votes at the time of the meeting to approve the merger agreement. (See Proposal Two: Adjournment of the Meeting).
3. To consider and vote on a proposal, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, to approve the compensation that may be paid or become payable to Community Financial s named executive officers in connection with the merger. (See Proposal Three: Advisory (Non-Binding) Vote on the Compensation Proposal).
4. To transact such other business as may properly come before the special meeting.

Our board of directors has determined that the terms of the merger are fair to and in the best interests of Community Financial and our shareholders, has approved and adopted the merger agreement, and recommends that our shareholders vote FOR the approval and adoption of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, FOR the approval of the adjournment of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies in favor of such approval and FOR the approval, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, of the compensation that may be paid or become payable to Community Financial s named executive officers in connection with the merger.

Only holders of record of Community Financial common stock at the close of business on November 19, 2012, are entitled to notice of and to vote at the special meeting and any adjournments or postponements thereof. The special meeting may be adjourned or postponed from time to time upon approval of our shareholders without any notice other than by announcement at the special meeting of the adjournment or postponement thereof, and any and all business for which notice is hereby given may be transacted at such adjourned or postponed special meeting.

Approval and adoption of the merger agreement by Community Financial shareholders requires the affirmative vote of a majority of all votes entitled to be cast by the holders of Community Financial common stock.

Your vote is very important. Please vote, sign, date and return the enclosed proxy card in the enclosed, self-addressed envelope as promptly as possible, even if you plan to attend the special meeting. If you attend the special meeting, you may vote your shares in person, even though you have previously signed and returned your proxy. You may revoke your proxy before it is voted at the special meeting. Failure to return a properly executed proxy card, or to vote at the special meeting, will have the same effect as a vote against the merger agreement and the merger.

By Order of the Board of Directors

Corporate Secretary

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE SHAREHOLDER MEETING AND THE MERGER

Q: What am I being asked to vote on at the special meeting?

A: Community Financial's shareholders will be voting on the following three matters:

A proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement between Community Financial and City Holding and the transactions contemplated thereby.

A proposal to adjourn or postpone the meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary, to permit further solicitation of proxies in the event there are not sufficient votes at the time of the meeting to approve the merger agreement.

A proposal to approve, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, the compensation that may be paid or become payable to Community Financial's named executive officers in connection with the merger, including the agreements and understandings pursuant to which such compensation may be paid or become payable. We refer to this as the compensation proposal.

Community Financial shareholders will also transact such other business that may properly come before the special meeting. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, the Community Financial board of directors is not aware of any matters, other than those stated above, that may be brought before the special meeting.

Q: Why is Community Financial proposing the merger?

A: We believe the proposed merger is fair to and in the best interests of Community Financial and its shareholders. Our board of directors believes that combining with City Holding provides significant value to our shareholders and provides our shareholders with opportunities for growth offered by the combined company.

Q: When and where is the special meeting?

A: The special meeting is scheduled to take place on January 8, 2013, at 6:30 p.m., local time, at the executive office of Community Financial, 38 North Central Avenue, Staunton, Virginia.

Q: What does the Community Financial board of directors recommend?

A: The Community Financial board of directors has approved the merger agreement. The Community Financial board recommends that shareholders vote FOR the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, FOR the approval of the adjournment of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies in favor of such approval and FOR the approval, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, of the compensation that may be paid or become payable to Community Financial's named executive officers in connection with the merger.

Q: What will I receive for my Community Financial common stock?

A: In the merger, each share of Community Financial common stock, par value $0.01 per share (Community Financial common stock), that you own will be exchanged for 0.1753 shares of the common stock, par value $2.50 per share, of City Holding (City Holding common stock).

Q: What are the tax consequences of the merger to me?

A: The merger is intended to qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Internal Revenue Code), and holders of Community Financial common stock are not expected to recognize any gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes on the exchange of shares of Community Financial common stock for shares of City Holding common stock in the merger, except with respect to cash received in lieu of a fractional share interest in Community Financial common stock. For greater detail, see Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger, beginning on page 67.

Q: What should I do now?

A: After you have read this document carefully, indicate on your proxy card how you want your shares to be voted. Then complete, sign, date and return your proxy card in the enclosed return envelope as soon as possible so that your shares may be represented at the special meeting. It is important that the proxy card be received as soon as possible and in any event before the special meeting.

Q: If my shares of common stock are held in street name by my bank or broker, will my bank or broker automatically vote my shares for me?

A: No. Your bank or broker cannot vote your shares without instructions from you. You should instruct your bank or broker how to vote your shares in accordance with the instructions provided to you. Please check the voting form used by your bank or broker. However, if you mark ABSTAIN on your proxy with respect to the adjournment proposal or the compensation proposal, or if you fail to vote or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the adjournment proposal or the compensation proposal, it will have no effect on the adjournment proposal or the compensation proposal. If you do not provide your broker with instructions on how to vote your shares held in street name, your broker will not be permitted to vote your shares on the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement.

Q: Can I change my vote after I mail my proxy card?

A: Yes. You can change your vote at any time before your proxy is voted at the shareholder meeting. You can do this in one of three ways:

First, you can send a written notice to the Corporate Secretary of Community Financial stating that you would like to revoke your proxy.

Second, you can complete and submit a new proxy card. Your latest vote actually received by Community Financial before the special meeting will be counted, and any earlier votes will be revoked.

Third, you can attend the shareholder meeting and vote in person. Any earlier proxy will thereby be revoked. However, simply attending the special meeting will not revoke your earlier proxy.

If you choose either of the first or second methods, you must submit your notice of revocation or your new proxy card to Community Financial prior to the special meeting. Your submissions must be mailed to the Corporate Secretary of Community Financial at the address listed on the Notice of Special Meeting.

Q: What if I do not vote or I abstain from voting?

A: If you fail to vote, mark ABSTAIN on your proxy or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the proposal to approve the merger agreement, it will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the merger proposal. However, if you mark ABSTAIN on your proxy with respect to the adjournment proposal or the compensation proposal, or if you fail to vote or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the adjournment proposal or the compensation proposal, it will have no effect on the adjournment proposal or the compensation proposal.

Q: What is the vote required to approve each proposal at the special meeting?

A: The presence, in person or by proxy, of the holders of a majority of the aggregate number of outstanding shares of Community Financial common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting is necessary to constitute a quorum for the special meeting. If a quorum exists at the special meeting, approval and adoption of the merger agreement requires the affirmative vote of a majority of all votes entitled to be cast by the holders of Community Financial common stock voting together as a single class. The merger agreement contemplates that the Community Financial Fixed Rate Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A, and the related warrant to purchase 351,194 shares of Community Financial common stock will be redeemed or purchased by City Holding and the shares of preferred stock will be cancelled prior to the closing of the merger. If the redemption or purchase and cancellation do not occur, then the affirmative vote of the holders of at least $66\frac{2}{3}\%$ of the Community Financial Fixed Rate Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A, would be required to approve the merger. The adjournment proposal and the compensation proposal will be approved if the number of shares, represented in person or by proxy at the special meeting and entitled to vote thereon, voted in favor of each such proposal exceeds the number of shares voted against such proposal.

In determining whether the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement has received the requisite number of affirmative votes at the special meeting, a failure to vote, an abstention or broker non-vote will be treated the same as a NO vote. Failures to vote, abstentions or broker non-votes will not count as votes cast and will have no effect for purposes of determining whether the proposal to adjourn or postpone the special meeting or the compensation proposal has been approved.

Q: What will happen if Community Financial's shareholders do not approve, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, the compensation payable to Community Financial's named executive officers in connection with the merger?

A: The vote on the compensation proposal is a vote separate and apart from the vote to approve the merger agreement. You may vote for the compensation proposal and against the proposal to approve the merger agreement, and vice versa. Because the vote on the compensation proposal is advisory only, it will not be binding on either Community Financial or City Holding. Accordingly, because City Holding is contractually obligated to pay the compensation, if the merger is completed, the compensation will be payable, subject only to the conditions applicable thereto, regardless of the outcome of the advisory (non-binding) vote.

Q: Will I be able to sell the shares of City Holding common stock that I receive in the merger?

A: Yes. The shares of City Holding common stock to be issued in the merger will be registered under the Securities Act of 1933 and listed on The Nasdaq Global Select Market.

Q: How will I receive my shares of City Holding common stock?

A: If the merger agreement is approved, the exchange agent will mail transmittal forms to each Community Financial shareholder. You should complete the transmittal form and return it to the exchange agent as soon as possible. Once the exchange agent has received the proper documentation, it will forward to you the City Holding common stock to which you are entitled.

Shareholders will not receive any fractional shares of City Holding common stock. Instead, they will receive cash, without interest, for any fractional share of City Holding common stock that they might otherwise have been entitled to receive based on the average of the per share closing price of City Holding common stock as reported on The Nasdaq Global Select Market during the 10 trading days immediately preceding the 10th calendar day immediately preceding the effective date of the merger.

Q: How do I exchange my Community Financial common stock certificates?

Edgar Filing: CITY HOLDING CO - Form 424B3

- A: You must return your Community Financial common stock certificates or an appropriate guarantee of delivery with your letter of transmittal, which will be mailed to you within five calendar days after the effective date of the merger. You will receive instructions on where to surrender your Community Financial common stock certificates from the exchange agent after the merger is completed. In any event, you should not forward your Community Financial certificates with your proxy card. Your certificates should be sent along with the letter of transmittal which will be mailed after the effective date of the merger.

Table of Contents

Q: What should I do if I hold my shares of Community Financial common stock through my stock broker in book-entry form?

A: You are not required to take any specific actions if your shares of Community Financial common stock are held in book-entry form. After the completion of the merger, shares of Community Financial common stock held in book-entry form automatically will be exchanged for the merger consideration, including shares of City Holding common stock in book-entry form and any cash to be paid in exchange for fractional shares in the merger.

Q: When will we complete the merger?

A: We expect to complete the merger in the first quarter of 2013. However, we cannot assure you when or if the merger will occur. We must first obtain the approval of Community Financial shareholders and the necessary regulatory approvals. Other conditions to the closing provided in the merger agreement also need to be satisfied or waived.

Q: What should I do now?

A: Mail your signed proxy card in the enclosed return envelope as soon as possible so that your shares may be represented at the special meeting. It is important that the proxy card be received as soon as possible and in any event before the special meeting.

Q: Do I have appraisal rights in connection with the merger?

A: No. Under Virginia law, holders of Community Financial common stock are not entitled to appraisal rights in connection with the merger because the Community Financial common stock is traded on The Nasdaq Stock Market, Inc.

Q: Who should shareholders call with questions?

A: If you have more questions about the merger or the special meeting you should contact:

Each share of Community Financial common stock, par value $0.01 per share, that you own will be exchanged for 0.1753 shares of the common stock, par value $2.50 per share, of City Holding.

Shareholders will not receive any fractional shares of City Holding common stock. Instead, they will receive cash, without interest, for any fractional share of City Holding common stock that they might otherwise have been entitled to receive based on the average of the per share closing price of City Holding common stock as reported on The Nasdaq Global Select Market during the 10 trading days immediately preceding the 10th calendar day immediately preceding the effective date of the merger.

Upon completion of the merger, we expect that City Holding shareholders will own approximately 95.1% of the combined company and former holders of Community Financial common stock will own approximately 4.9% of the combined company.

The market price of City Holding common stock will fluctuate prior to the merger. You should obtain current stock price quotations for City Holding common stock.

Our Reasons for the Merger (page 46)

For the factors considered by Community Financial's board of directors in deciding to seek a merger partner and the factors considered by the board of directors in reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement, see the section entitled Proposal One: Approval of the Merger Reasons for the Merger.

Our Recommendation (page 46)

Community Financial's board of directors believes that the merger is fair to and in the best interests of Community Financial's shareholders. Community Financial's board of directors recommends that shareholders vote FOR the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby. See the section entitled Proposal One: Approval of the Merger Recommendation of Community Financial's Board of Directors.

Opinion of Community Financial's Financial Advisor (page 48 and Annex B)

On August 2, 2012, Scott & Stringfellow, LLC, Community Financial's financial advisor in connection with the merger, rendered its oral opinion to Community Financial's board of directors, subsequently confirmed in writing, that as of such date and based upon and subject to the assumptions, procedures, considerations, qualifications, and limitations set forth in the written opinion, the merger consideration was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of shares of Community Financial's common stock.

Table of Contents

The full text of Scott & Stringfellow's opinion, dated August 2, 2012, is attached as Annex B to this proxy statement/prospectus. You should read the opinion in its entirety for a discussion of the assumptions made, procedures followed, factors considered and limitations upon the review undertaken by Scott & Stringfellow in rendering its opinion.

For further information, see The Merger Opinion of Scott & Stringfellow, LLC.

Scott & Stringfellow's opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration to Community Financial and its shareholders was provided to the Community Financial board of directors in connection with its evaluation of the merger consideration from a financial point of view, and does not address any other aspect of the merger and does not constitute a recommendation to any Community Financial shareholder as to how to vote or act with respect to the merger.

City Holding will account for the merger as a business combination as that term is used under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences (page 67)

The merger is intended to qualify as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes, and assuming the merger will so qualify, you will not recognize any gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of your exchange of shares of Community Financial common stock solely for shares of City Holding common stock. Community Financial shareholders may, however, have to recognize income or gain in connection with the receipt of any cash received in the merger in lieu of a fractional share interest in Community Financial common stock.

Because this tax treatment may not apply to all of Community Financial's shareholders, you should consult your own tax advisor for a full understanding of the merger's tax consequences that are particular to you. It is a condition to our obligation to complete the merger that we receive a legal opinion that the merger will be treated for federal income tax purposes as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. This opinion, however, will not bind the Internal Revenue Service, which could take a different view.

Shareholders will also be required to file certain information with their federal income tax returns and to retain certain records with regard to the merger.

The discussion of U.S. federal income tax consequences set forth above is for general information only and does not purport to be a complete analysis or listing of all potential tax effects that may apply to a holder of Community Financial common stock. Shareholders of Community Financial are strongly urged to consult their tax advisors to determine the particular tax consequences to them of the merger, including the application and effect of federal, state, local, foreign and other tax laws.

to approve and adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby (See Proposal One: Approval of the Merger);

Conditions to Completion of the Merger (page 57)

The obligations of City Holding and Community Financial to complete the merger depend on a number of conditions being satisfied or waived. These conditions include:

Community Financial's shareholders' approval of the merger agreement; approval of the merger by the necessary federal and state regulatory authorities;

Table of Contents

the effectiveness of the registration statement on Form S-4 filed by City Holding with the SEC, of which this proxy statement/prospectus is a part, and that no stop order suspending the effectiveness thereof shall have been issued and no proceedings for that purpose shall have been initiated or threatened by the Securities and Exchange Commission; authorization for the listing on The Nasdaq Global Select Market of the shares of City Holding common stock to be issued in the merger; absence of any law or court order prohibiting the merger; receipt of an opinion from Jackson Kelly PLLC, outside counsel to City Holding, that the merger will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code;

the accuracy of the other party's representations and warranties, subject to the material adverse effect standard in the merger agreement;

the performance in all material respects of all obligations contained in the merger agreement; and the execution of an agreement by City Holding for the purchase from the United States Treasury of the Community Financial Fixed Rate Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A and related warrant to purchase 351,194 shares of Community Financial common stock on terms set forth in the merger agreement and acceptable to City Holding.

We cannot be certain when, or if, the conditions to the merger will be satisfied or waived, or that the merger will be completed.

Regulatory Approvals (page 61)

The merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement require the approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the Federal Reserve) and the Virginia Bureau of Financial Institutions. As a bank holding company, City Holding is subject to regulation under the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended. City National is a national banking association and is subject to the laws of the United States. City Holding has filed all required applications seeking approval of the merger with the Federal Reserve and the Virginia Bureau of Financial Institutions. City National and Community Bank have also applied with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency for approval of the merger of Community Bank into City National.

As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, no regulatory approvals have been received. While City Holding and Community Financial do not know of any reason why necessary regulatory approvals would not be obtained in a timely manner, we cannot be certain when or if we will receive them, or if obtained, whether they will contain terms, conditions or restrictions not currently contemplated that will be detrimental to City Holding after completion of the merger.

Termination of the Merger Agreement (page 59)

Community Financial and City Holding may mutually agree to terminate the merger agreement at any time.

Either Community Financial or City Holding may terminate the merger agreement if any of the following occurs:

the merger is not complete by January 31, 2013, unless the failure of the merger to be consummated arises out of or results from the action or inaction of the party seeking to terminate; or the approval of any governmental entity required for consummation of the merger is denied or the shareholders of Community Financial do not approve the merger agreement within 60 days of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Table of Contents

City Holding may terminate the merger agreement if any of the following occurs:

Community Financial materially breaches any of its representations or obligations under the merger agreement and does not cure the breach within 30 days of written notice of the breach; or Community Financial's board fails to recommend approval of the merger agreement to the Community Financial shareholders, withdraws its recommendation or modifies its recommendation in a manner adverse to City Holding.

Community Financial may terminate the merger agreement under any of the following circumstances:

City Holding materially breaches any of its representations or obligations under the merger agreement and does not cure the breach within 30 days of written notice of the breach;

The price of City Holding common stock declines by more than 20% over a designated measurement period and the stock prices of the banks and bank holding companies included on the Nasdaq Bank Index have not collectively experienced a similar decline during the same period, unless City Holding elects to increase the consideration to be paid to Community Financial shareholders (which it is not obligated to do); or Community Financial enters into an agreement with respect to an unsolicited acquisition proposal that if consummated would result in a transaction more favorable to Community Financial's shareholders from a financial point of view than the merger, provided that Community Financial pays the termination fee described below.

Effect of Termination; Termination Fee (page 60)

Community Financial must pay City Holding a termination fee of $1,200,000 if the merger agreement is terminated under the following circumstances:

by City Holding if the Community Financial board of directors fails to recommend approval of the merger agreement or withdraws, modifies or changes its recommendation of approval of the merger agreement in a manner adverse to the interests of City Holding;

by Community Financial if it enters into an agreement with respect to an unsolicited acquisition proposal that would result in a transaction more favorable to Community Financial's shareholders from a financial point of view than the merger; or by Community Financial or City Holding due to the failure of Community Financial to receive shareholder approval of the merger agreement, and if an acquisition proposal is publicly announced prior to the special meeting and within 12 months after the announcement of the acquisition proposal a change in control of Community Financial is consummated.

No Solicitation (page 60)

Community Financial has agreed that it will not directly or indirectly:

solicit or encourage inquiries or proposals with respect to any acquisition proposal other than the merger; or engage in any negotiations or discussions concerning, or provide any confidential information relating to, an acquisition proposal other than the merger.

The merger agreement does not, however, prohibit Community Financial from considering an acquisition proposal from a third party if certain specified conditions are met.

Waiver and Amendment (page 60)

Community Financial and City Holding may jointly amend the merger agreement, and each party may waive its right to require the other party to adhere to the terms and conditions of the merger agreement. However, the parties may not amend the merger agreement after Community Financial's shareholders approve the merger agreement if the amendment or waiver would violate applicable law.

Community Financial's Officers and Directors Have Financial Interests in the Merger Different from Your Interests (page 65)

Some of the officers of Community Bank have interests in the merger that differ from, or are in addition to, their interests as shareholders of Community Financial. These interests exist because of, among other things, employment or severance agreements that the officers entered into with Community Bank, including employment and change-in-control agreements providing certain officers with severance benefits if their employment is terminated in connection with the merger. Because of these agreements, several officers are to receive either new contracts from City National and/or potential payments by City National. Additionally, one director of Community Financial will become a director of City Holding and City National. That person is Charles W Fairchilds.

Each of Norman C. Smiley, III, President and Chief Executive Officer, and Lyle A. Moffett, Senior Vice President of Lending, have change-in-control agreements and Mr. Smiley has an employment agreement with Community Bank, and neither will receive payments from Community Financial, Community Bank or City National under those agreements. None of these agreements contain a non-compete or non-solicitation clause. As a condition to City Holding effectuating the merger, both of these individuals must enter into agreements with City National, as more fully described on page 65 hereof.

Additionally, certain other executive officers have change-in-control agreements with Community Bank, and some of these officers will enter into change-of-control agreements with City National which will result in the change-of-control agreements with Community Bank being terminated. For further discussion, see page 65 under Interests of Community Financial's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger. The members of Community Financial's board of directors knew about these additional interests and considered them when they approved the merger agreement and the merger. Likewise, Scott & Stringfellow, LLC, Community Financial's financial advisor, when rendering its fairness opinion to Community Financial's board of directors in connection with the merger, also knew about and considered these interests as well.

Indemnification and Insurance. City Holding has agreed to indemnify the officers and directors of Community Financial against certain liabilities arising before the merger for a period of six years after the merger. City Holding has also agreed to use its reasonable best efforts to cause the directors and officers of Community Financial to be covered by a directors' and officers' liability policy maintained by City Holding for three years after the merger, subject to a cap on the annual premium payments equal to 150% of Community Financial's current annual premium.

Comparison of the Rights of Shareholders (page 81)

The rights of City Holding shareholders are governed by West Virginia law and by City Holding's articles of incorporation and bylaws. The rights of Community Financial shareholders are governed by Virginia law and by Community Financial's articles of incorporation and bylaws. Upon completion of the merger, the rights of City Holding shareholders, including former shareholders of Community Financial who become shareholders of City Holding, will be governed by West Virginia law and the articles of incorporation and bylaws of City Holding.

This proxy statement/prospectus contains a comparison of shareholder rights under each of the City Holding and Community Financial governing documents.

Community Financial Will Hold its Special Meeting on Tuesday, January 8, 2013 (page 37)

The special meeting of Community Financial's shareholders will be held on January 8, 2013, at 6:30 p.m. local time, at 38 North Central Avenue, Staunton, Virginia. At the special meeting, Community Financial's shareholders will be asked to:

approve and adopt the merger agreement and the transactions it contemplates; approve the adjournment of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies in favor of the approval of the merger agreement; and approve, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, the compensation that may be paid or become payable to Community Financial's named executive officers in connection with the merger.

Only holders of record at the close of business on November 19, 2012 will be entitled to vote at the special meeting. Each share of Community Financial common stock is entitled to one vote on each proposal to be considered at the Community Financial special meeting. As of the record date, there were 4,361,658 shares of Community Financial common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting. Each of the directors of Community Financial has entered into a voting agreement with City Holding, pursuant to which they have agreed, solely in their capacity as Community Financial shareholders, to vote all of their shares of Community Financial common stock in favor of the proposals to be presented at the special meeting. As of the record date, Community Financial directors who are parties to the voting agreements, owned and were entitled to vote an aggregate of approximately 356,812 shares of Community Financial common stock, which represents approximately 8.2% of the shares of Community Financial common stock outstanding on that date. As of the record date, the directors and executive officers of Community Financial and their affiliates beneficially owned and were entitled to vote approximately 439,690 shares of Community Financial common stock representing approximately 10.1% of the shares of Community Financial common stock outstanding on that date, and held options to purchase 177,500 shares of Community Financial common stock. As of the record date, City Holding and its subsidiaries held no shares of Community Financial common stock (other than shares held as fiduciary, custodian or agent), and its directors and executive officers or their affiliates held no shares of Community Financial common stock.

To approve and adopt the merger agreement, a majority of the outstanding shares of Community Financial common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting must be voted in favor of approving and adopting the merger agreement. Because approval is based on the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares outstanding, your failure to vote, failure to instruct your bank or broker how to vote, or abstention with respect to the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement will have the same effect as a vote against approval and adoption of the merger agreement. The merger agreement contemplates that the Community Financial Fixed Rate Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A, and the related warrant to purchase 351,194 shares of Community Financial common stock will be redeemed or purchased by City Holding and the shares of preferred stock will be cancelled prior to the closing of the merger. If the redemption or purchase and cancellation do not occur, then the affirmative vote of the holders of at least 66²/₃% of the Community Financial Fixed Rate Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A, would be required to approve the merger.

RISK FACTORS

*In addition to general investment risks and the other information contained in or incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus, including the matters addressed under the heading Forward-Looking Statements and the matters described under the caption Risk Factors in the Annual Report on Form 10-K filed by City Holding for the year ended December 31, 2011, you should carefully read and consider the following risk factors concerning the merger before you decide whether to vote to approve and adopt the merger agreement.*

Risks Associated with the Merger

Fluctuations in the trading price of City Holding common stock will change the value of the shares of City Holding common stock you receive in the merger.

The exchange ratio is set at 0.1753 shares of City Holding common stock for each share of Community Financial common stock. Because the exchange ratio is fixed, the value of the shares of City Holding common stock that will be issued to you in the merger will depend on the market price of City Holding common stock at the time the shares are issued. After the merger, the market value of City Holding common stock may decrease and be lower than the market value of City Holding common stock that was used in calculating the exchange ratios in the merger. Except as described in this proxy statement/prospectus and the merger agreement, there will be no adjustment to the fixed number of shares of City Holding common stock that will be issued to you based upon changes in the market price of City Holding common stock prior to the closing.

The market price of City Holding common stock at the time the merger is completed may vary from the price of City Holding common stock on the date the merger agreement was executed, on the date of this proxy statement/prospectus and on the date of the special meeting as a result of various factors that are beyond the control of City Holding and Community Financial, including but not limited to general market and economic conditions, changes in our respective businesses, operations and prospects, and regulatory considerations. In addition to the approval of the merger agreement by Community Financial shareholders, completion of the merger is subject to receipt of required regulatory approvals and satisfaction of other conditions that may not occur until after the special meeting. Therefore, at the time of the special meeting you will not know the precise value of the consideration you will receive at the effective time of the merger. You should obtain current market quotations for shares of City Holding common stock.

The market price of City Holding common stock after the merger may be affected by factors different from those affecting the shares of Community Financial or City Holding currently.

Upon completion of the merger, certain holders of shares of Community Financial common stock will become holders of City Holding common stock. City Holding's business differs from that of Community Financial, and, accordingly, the results of operations of the combined company and the market price of the combined company's shares of common stock may be affected by factors different from those currently affecting the independent results of operations of each of City Holding and Community Financial and their respective securities. For a discussion of the business of City Holding and of certain factors to consider in connection with that business, see the documents incorporated by reference or described elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus.

The merger agreement limits Community Financial's ability to pursue alternatives to the merger.

The merger agreement contains no-shop provisions that, subject to limited exceptions, limit Community Financial's ability to discuss, facilitate or commit to competing third-party proposals to acquire all or a significant part of Community Financial. In addition, Community Financial must pay City Holding a termination fee of $1,200,000 if the merger agreement is terminated and Community Financial, subject to certain restrictions, consummates another similar transaction. These provisions might discourage a potential competing acquiror that might have an interest in acquiring all or a significant part of Community Financial from considering or proposing the acquisition even if it were prepared to pay consideration with a greater value than that proposed in the merger.

The integration of the operations of City Holding and Community Financial may be more difficult than anticipated.

The success of the merger will depend on a number of factors, including (but not limited to) City Holding's ability to:

timely and successfully integrate the operations of City Holding and Community Financial; retain key employees of City Holding and Community Financial;

maintain existing relationships with depositors in Community Financial to minimize withdrawals of deposits prior to and subsequent to the merger;

maintain and enhance existing relationships with borrowers to limit unanticipated losses from loans of Community Financial; retain and attract qualified personnel at City Holding and Community Financial; and compete effectively in the communities served by City Holding and Community Financial and in nearby communities.

City Holding may not be able to manage effectively its growth resulting from the merger.

Regulatory approvals may not be received, may take longer than expected or impose conditions that are not presently anticipated.

Before the merger may be completed, we must obtain various approvals or consents from various bank regulatory and other authorities. These regulators may impose conditions on the completion of the merger or require changes to the terms of the merger. Although City Holding and Community Financial do not currently expect that any such conditions or changes would be imposed, there can be no assurance that they will not be, and such conditions or changes could have the effect of delaying completion of the merger or imposing additional costs on or limiting the revenues of City Holding following the merger. There can be no assurance as to whether the regulatory approvals will be received, the timing of those approvals, or whether any conditions will be imposed. See "Proposal One: Approval of the Merger - Regulatory Approvals" on page 61.

Combining the two companies may be more difficult, costly or time-consuming than expected.

City Holding and Community Financial have operated and, until the completion of the merger, will continue to operate, independently. The success of the merger will depend on City Holding's ability to successfully combine the businesses of City Holding and Community Financial. To realize these anticipated benefits after the completion of the merger, City Holding expects to integrate Community Financial's business into its own. It is possible that the integration process could result in the loss of key employees, the disruption of each company's ongoing businesses or inconsistencies in standards, controls, procedures and policies that adversely affect the combined company's ability to maintain relationships with clients, customers, depositors and employees or to achieve the anticipated benefits of the merger. The loss of key employees could adversely affect City Holding's ability to successfully conduct its business in the markets in which Community Financial now operates, which could have an adverse effect on City Holding's financial results and the value of its common stock. If City Holding experiences difficulties with the integration process, the anticipated benefits of the merger may not be realized fully or at all, or may take longer to realize than expected. As with any merger of financial institutions, there also may be business disruptions that cause Community Financial to lose customers or cause customers to remove their accounts from Community Financial and move their business to competing financial institutions. Integration efforts between the two companies will also divert management attention and resources. These integration matters could have an adverse effect on each of Community Financial and City Holding during this transition period and for an undetermined period after consummation of the merger.

Community Financial's shareholders will have less influence as shareholders of City Holding than as shareholders of Community Financial.

Community Financial's shareholders currently have the right to vote in the election of the board of directors of Community Financial and on other matters affecting Community Financial. Following the merger, the shareholders of Community Financial as a group will own approximately 4.9% of City Holding. When the merger occurs, each shareholder that receives shares of City Holding common stock will become a shareholder of City Holding with a percentage ownership of the combined organization much smaller than such shareholder's percentage ownership of Community Financial. Because of this, Community Financial's shareholders will have less influence on the management and policies of City Holding than they now have on the management and policies of Community Financial.

The fairness opinion obtained by Community Financial from its financial advisor will not reflect changes in circumstances between signing the merger agreement and the completion of the merger.

Community Financial has not obtained an updated fairness opinion as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus from Scott & Stringfellow, LLC, Community Financial's financial advisor. Changes in the operations and prospects of Community Financial or City Holding, general market and economic conditions and other factors that may be beyond the control of Community Financial and City Holding, and on which the fairness opinion was based, may alter the value of Community Financial or City Holding or the prices of shares of Community Financial common stock or City Holding common stock by the time the merger is completed. The opinion does not speak as of the time the merger will be completed or as of any date other than the date of such opinion. Because Community Financial does not anticipate asking its financial advisor to update its opinion, the August 2, 2012 opinion does not address the fairness of the merger consideration, from a financial point of view, at the time the merger is completed. The opinion is included as Annex B to this proxy statement/prospectus. For a description of the opinion that Community Financial received from its financial advisor, please refer to Proposal One: Approval of the Merger Opinion of Community Financial's Financial Advisor on page 48. For a description of the other factors considered by Community Financial's board of directors in determining to approve the merger, please refer to Proposal One: Approval of the Merger Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of Community Financial's Board of Directors on page 46.

The merger will not be completed unless important conditions are satisfied.

Specified conditions set forth in the merger agreement must be satisfied or waived to complete the merger. If the conditions are not satisfied or waived, the merger will not occur or will be delayed and each of City Holding and Community Financial may lose some or all of the intended benefits of the merger. The following conditions, in addition to other closing conditions, must be satisfied or waived, if permissible, before City Holding and Community Financial are obligated to complete the merger:

the merger agreement must be approved by the requisite vote of the shareholders of Community Financial;

all required regulatory approvals must be obtained;

there must be an absence of any law or order by a court or regulatory authority that prohibits, restricts or makes illegal the merger;

City Holding's registration statement on Form S-4 shall become effective under the Securities Act and no stop order shall have been issued or threatened by the SEC; and the shares of City Holding common stock to be issued in the merger must be approved for listing on The Nasdaq Global Select Market.

Termination of the merger agreement could negatively impact Community Financial.

If the merger agreement is terminated, there may be various consequences. For example, Community Financial's business may have been impacted adversely by the failure to pursue other beneficial opportunities due to the focus of management on the merger, without realizing any of the anticipated benefits of completing the merger. If the merger agreement is terminated and Community Financial's board of directors seeks another merger or business combination, Community Financial shareholders cannot be certain that Community Financial will be able to find a party willing to pay the equivalent or greater consideration than that which City Holding has agreed to pay in the merger. In addition, if the merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances, including circumstances involving a change in recommendation by Community Financial's board of directors, Community Financial may be required to pay City Holding a termination fee of $1,200,000.

Risks Associated with City Holding's Business

City Holding's business may be adversely affected by conditions in the financial markets and economic conditions generally.

The business environment that City Holding operates in the United States and worldwide could deteriorate, which could affect the credit quality of City Holding's loans, results of operations, and financial condition. From December 2007 through June 2009, the United States was in a recession. Business activity across a wide range of industries and regions was greatly reduced and local governments and many businesses continue to be in serious difficulty due to the lack of consumer spending and the lack of liquidity in the credit markets. Unemployment increased significantly during this time period.

As a result of the recession, the financial services industry and the securities markets have been materially and adversely affected by significant declines in the values of nearly all asset classes and by a serious lack of liquidity. This was initially triggered by declines in home prices and the values of subprime mortgages but spread to all mortgage and real estate asset classes, to leverage bank loans and to nearly all asset classes, including equities. The global markets have been characterized by substantially increased volatility and short-selling and an overall loss of investor confidence, initially in financial institutions but more recently in companies in a number of other industries and in the broader markets.

Market conditions have also led to the failure or merger of a number of prominent financial institutions. Financial institution failures or near-failures have resulted in further losses as a consequence of defaults on securities issued by them and defaults under contracts entered into with such entities as counterparties. As a result of these events and the projection of future failures, the capitalization level of the deposit insurance fund has been significantly weakened and the FDIC has increased the deposit insurance premiums paid by financial institutions. Furthermore, declining asset values, defaults on mortgages and consumer loans, and the lack of market and investor confidence, as well as other factors, have all combined to increase credit default swap spreads, to cause rating agencies to lower credit ratings, and to otherwise increase the cost and decrease the availability of liquidity, despite very significant declines in Federal Reserve borrowing rates and other government actions. Some banks and other lenders have suffered significant losses and have become reluctant to lend, even on a secured basis, due to the increased risk of default and the impact of declining asset values on the value of collateral. The foregoing has significantly weakened the strength and liquidity of some financial institutions worldwide.

City Holding's financial performance generally, and in particular the ability of borrowers to pay interest on and repay principal of outstanding loans and the value of collateral securing those loans, is highly dependent upon on the business environment in the markets where City Holding operates, in the States of West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, and Virginia, and in the United States as a whole. A favorable business environment is generally characterized by, among other factors, economic growth, efficient capital markets, low inflation, high business and investor confidence, and strong business earnings. Unfavorable or uncertain economic and market conditions can be caused by: declines in economic growth, business activity or investor or business confidence; limitations on the availability or increases in the cost of credit and capital; increases in inflation or interest rates; natural disasters; or a combination of these or other factors.

Overall, during 2012, the business environment has continued to be adverse for many households and businesses in the United States and worldwide. While the business environments in West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, and Virginia the United States and worldwide have shown improvement since the recession, there can be no assurance that these conditions will continue to improve. Such conditions could adversely affect the credit quality of City Holding's loans, results of operations and financial condition.

An economic slowdown in West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio and Virginia could hurt our business.

Because City Holding focuses its business in West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio and Virginia, an economic slowdown in these states could hurt our business. An economic slowdown could have the following consequences:

loan delinquencies may increase;

problem assets and foreclosures may increase;

demand for the products and services of City National may decline; and collateral (including real estate) for loans made by City National may decline in value, in turn reducing customers' borrowing power, and making existing loans less secure.

City Holding and City National are extensively regulated.

Policies adopted or required by governmental authorities can adversely affect City Holding's business operations and the availability, growth and distribution of City Holding's investments, borrowings and deposits. The operations of City Holding and City National are subject to extensive regulation by federal, state and local governmental authorities and are subject to various laws and judicial and administrative decisions imposing requirements and restrictions on them. In addition, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency periodically conducts examinations of City Holding and City National and may impose various requirements or sanctions.

Proposals to change the laws governing financial institutions are frequently raised in Congress and before bank regulatory authorities. Changes in applicable laws or policies could materially affect City Holding's business, and the likelihood of any major changes in the future and their effects are impossible to determine. Moreover, it is impossible to predict the ultimate form any proposed legislation might take or how it might affect City Holding.

City Holding is subject to interest rate risk.

Changes in monetary policy, including changes in interest rates, could influence not only the interest City Holding receives on loans and securities and the amount of interest it pays on deposits and borrowings, but such changes could also affect (i) City Holding's ability to originate loans and obtain deposits, (ii) the fair value of City Holding's financial assets and liabilities, and (iii) the average duration of City Holding's mortgage-backed securities portfolio. City Holding's earnings and cash flows are largely dependent upon its net interest income. Net interest income is the difference between interest income earned on interest-earning assets such as loans and securities and interest expense paid on interest-bearing liabilities such as deposits and borrowed funds. Interest rates are highly sensitive to many factors that are beyond City Holding's control, including general economic conditions and policies of various governmental and regulatory agencies and, in particular, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. If the interest rates paid on deposits and other borrowings increase at a faster rate than the interest rates received on loans and other investments, City Holding's net interest income, and therefore earnings, could be adversely affected. Earnings could also be adversely affected if the interest rates received on loans and other investments fall more quickly than the interest rates paid on deposits and other borrowings.

Although management believes it has implemented effective asset and liability management strategies, including the use of derivatives as hedging instruments, to reduce the potential effects of changes in interest rates on City Holding's results of operations, any substantial, unexpected, prolonged change in market interest rates could have a material adverse effect on City Holding's financial condition and results of operations.

City Holding's allowance for loan losses may not be sufficient.

City Holding maintains an allowance for loan losses, which is a reserve established through a provision for loan losses charged to expense that represents management's best estimate of probable losses in the existing portfolio of loans. The allowance, in the judgment of management, is necessary to provide for estimated loan losses and risks inherent in the loan portfolio. The level of the allowance reflects management's continuing evaluation of industry concentrations; specific credit risks; loan loss experience; current loan portfolio quality; present economic, political and regulatory conditions and unidentified losses inherent in the current loan portfolio. The determination of the appropriate level of the allowance for loan losses inherently involves a high degree of subjectivity and requires City Holding to make significant estimates of current credit risks and future trends, all of which may undergo material changes. Changes in economic conditions affecting borrowers, new information regarding existing loans, identification of additional problem loans and other factors, both within and outside of City Holding's control, may require an increase in the allowance for loan losses. In addition, bank regulatory agencies periodically review City Holding's allowance for loan losses and may require an increase in the provision for loan losses or the recognition of further loan charge-offs, based on judgments different than those of management. In addition, if charge-offs in future periods exceed the allowance for loan losses, City Holding will need additional provisions to increase the allowance for loan losses. Any increases in the allowance for loan losses will result in a decrease in net income and, possibly, capital, and may have a material adverse effect on City Holding's financial condition and results of operations.

Management evaluates the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses at least quarterly, which includes testing certain individual loans as well as collective pools of loans for impairment. This evaluation includes an assessment of actual loss experience within each category of the portfolio, individual commercial and commercial real estate loans that exhibit credit weakness; current economic events, including employment statistics, trends in bankruptcy filings, and other pertinent factors; industry or geographic concentrations, and regulatory guidance.

Customers may default on the repayment of loans.

City National's customers may default on the repayment of loans, which may negatively impact City Holding's earnings due to loss of principal and interest income. Increased operating expenses may result from the allocation of management time and resources to the collection and work-out of the loan. Collection efforts may or may not be successful causing City Holding to write off the loan or repossess the collateral securing the loan, which may or may not exceed the balance of the loan.

Due to increased competition, City Holding may not be able to attract and retain banking customers at current levels.

City Holding faces competition from the following:

local, regional and national banks;

savings and loans;

Table of Contents

internet banks;

credit unions;

finance companies; and brokerage firms serving City Holding's market areas.

In particular, City National's competitors include several major national financial and banking companies whose greater resources may afford them a marketplace advantage by enabling them to maintain numerous banking locations and mount extensive promotional and advertising campaigns. Additionally, banks and other financial institutions may have products and services not offered by City Holding, which may cause current and potential customers to choose those institutions. Areas of competition include interest rates for loans and deposits, efforts to obtain deposits and range and quality of services provided. If City Holding is unable to attract new and retain current customers, loan and deposit growth could decrease causing City Holding's results of operations and financial condition to be negatively impacted.

City Holding may be required to write down goodwill and other intangible assets, causing its financial condition and results to be negatively affected.

When City Holding acquires a business, a portion of the purchase price of the acquisition is allocated to goodwill and other identifiable intangible assets. The excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the net identifiable tangible and intangible assets acquired determines the amount of the purchase price that is allocated to goodwill acquired. At September 30, 2012, City Holding's goodwill and other identifiable intangible assets were approximately $65.1 million. Under current accounting standards, if City Holding determines goodwill or intangible assets are impaired, it would be required to write down the value of these assets. City Holding conducts an annual review to determine whether goodwill and other identifiable intangible assets are impaired. City Holding recently completed such an impairment analysis and concluded that no impairment charge was necessary for the year ended December 31, 2011. City Holding cannot provide assurance whether it will be required to take an impairment charge in the future. Any impairment charge would have a negative effect on its shareholders' equity and financial results and may cause a decline in our stock price.

Acquisition opportunities may present challenges.

City Holding expects that other banking and financial companies, many of which have significantly greater resources, will compete with it to acquire compatible businesses. City Holding continually evaluates opportunities to acquire other businesses. However, City Holding may not have the opportunity to make suitable acquisitions on favorable terms in the future, which could negatively impact the growth of its business. This competition could increase prices for acquisitions that City Holding would likely pursue, and its competitors may have greater resources than it does. Also, acquisitions of regulated businesses such as banks are subject to various regulatory approvals. If City Holding fails to receive the appropriate regulatory approvals, it will not be able to consummate an acquisition that it believes is in its best interests.

Any future acquisitions may result in unforeseen difficulties, which could require significant time and attention from our management that would otherwise be directed at developing our existing business. In addition, we could discover undisclosed liabilities resulting from any acquisitions for which we may become responsible. Further, the benefits that we anticipate from these acquisitions may not develop.

City Holding's controls and procedures may fail or be circumvented.

Any failure or circumvention of City Holding's controls and procedures or failure to comply with regulations related to controls and procedures could have a material adverse effect on City Holding's business, results of operations and financial condition. Management regularly reviews and updates City Holding's internal controls, disclosure controls and procedures, and corporate governance policies and procedures. Any system of controls, no matter how well designed and operated, is based in part on certain assumptions and can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurances that the objectives of the system are met.

Significant legal actions could result in substantial liabilities.

From time to time, City Holding is subject to claims related to our operations. These claims and legal actions, including supervisory actions by our regulators, could involve large monetary claims and cause City Holding to incur significant defense claims. As a result, City Holding may be exposed to substantial liabilities, which could negatively effect on its shareholders' equity and financial results.

City Holding may not be able to attract and retain skilled people.

The unexpected loss of services of one or more of City Holding's key personnel could have a material adverse impact on City Holding's business because of their skills, knowledge of City Holding's market, years of industry experience and the difficulty of promptly finding qualified replacement personnel. City Holding's success depends, in large part, on its ability to attract and retain key people. Competition for the best people in most activities engaged in by City Holding can be intense and City Holding may not be able to hire people or to retain them.

Risks Associated with City Holding's Common Stock

Future issuances of common stock by City Holding in connection with acquisitions or otherwise could dilute your ownership of City Holding.

City Holding may use its common stock to acquire other companies or to make investments in banks and other complementary businesses in the future. It may also issue common stock, or securities convertible into common stock, through public or private offerings, in order to raise additional capital in connection with future acquisitions, to satisfy regulatory capital requirements or for general corporate purposes. Any such stock issuances would dilute your ownership interest in City Holding and may dilute the per share value of the common stock.

City Holding is not obligated to pay cash dividends on its common stock.

City Holding is a holding company and, currently, its primary source of funds for paying dividends to its shareholders is dividends it receives from City National. While City Holding currently pays quarterly cash dividends to holders of its common stock, it is not obligated to pay dividends in any particular amounts or at any particular times. Its decision to pay dividends in the future will depend on a number of factors, including its capital and the availability of funds from which dividends may be paid. See "Price Range of Common Stock and Dividends" on page 27 and "Description of City Holding Capital Stock" on page 78.

The value of City Holding common stock may fluctuate.

The market for City Holding common stock may experience significant price and volume fluctuations in response to a number of factors including actual or anticipated quarterly variations in operating results, changes in expectations of future financial performance, changes in estimates by securities analysts, governmental regulatory action, banking industry reform measures, customer relationship developments and other factors, many of which will be beyond City Holding's control.

Furthermore, the stock market in general, and the market for financial institutions in particular, have experienced extreme volatility that often has been unrelated to the operating performance of particular companies. These broad market and industry fluctuations may adversely affect the trading price of City Holding common stock, regardless of actual operating performance.

Table of ContentsNotes to the Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Information*Note A Basis of Pro Forma Presentation

On August 2, 2012, City Holding entered into the Agreement and Plan of Merger with Community Financial. Under the terms of the merger agreement, City Holding will exchange 0.1753 shares of its common stock for each share of Community Financial common stock. The receipt by Community Financial shareholders of shares of City Holding common stock in exchange for their shares of Community Financial common stock is anticipated to qualify as a tax-free exchange. The transaction, approved by the directors of both companies, currently is valued at $24.9 million. This value is based on City Holding's closing stock price on November 13, 2012 of $32.47. Considering the range of City Holding's stock prices since the announcement of the merger, the value of the transaction at close is not anticipated to be materially different from the transaction value included in these pro formas.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information of City Holding's financial condition and results of operations, including per share data, are presented after giving effect to the merger. The pro forma financial information assumes that the merger with Community Financial was consummated on January 1, 2011 for purposes of the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of income and on September 30, 2012 for purposes of the pro forma balance sheet and gives effect to the merger, for purposes of the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of income, as if it had been effective during the entire period presented.

The merger will be accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting; accordingly, the difference between the purchase price over the estimated fair value of the assets acquired (including identifiable intangible assets) and liabilities assumed will be recorded as goodwill.

The pro forma financial information includes estimated adjustments to record the assets and liabilities of Community Financial at their respective fair values and represents management's estimates based on available information. The pro forma adjustments included herein may be revised as additional information becomes available and as additional analysis is performed. The final allocation of the purchase price will be determined after the merger is completed and after completion of a final analysis to determine the fair values of Community Financial's tangible, and identifiable intangible, assets and liabilities as of the closing date.

Funding for the merger transaction is included in the pro forma adjustments as follows (in thousands):

Issuance of common stock	$ 24,827
Cash on hand	66
Total purchase price	$ 24,893

Note B Repurchase of TARP Preferred Stock and Warrant

City Holding intends to repurchase, or fund Community Financial's repurchase of, the Community Financial TARP Preferred Stock held by the U.S. Treasury prior to or concurrently with the completion of the merger, in which case the Community Financial TARP Preferred Stock will be extinguished upon consummation of the merger. This transaction will result in the payment of $12.6 million to repurchase the preferred stock and approximately $0.1 million to repurchase the related warrant resulting in a pre-acquisition charge to retained earnings of $0.1 million relating to the unamortized discount on the Community Financial TARP Preferred Stock and a $0.1 million charge to capital surplus for the repurchase of the warrant (estimated by multiplying 351,194 shares subject to the warrant by the sum of $5.69 less the $5.40 strike price for the warrant). The transaction is assumed to be funded with available cash.

Note C Purchase Accounting Adjustments

The pro forma adjustments include the purchase accounting entries to record the merger transaction. The excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the net assets acquired, net of deferred taxes, is allocated to goodwill. Estimated fair value adjustments included in the pro forma financial statements are based upon available information, and certain assumptions considered reasonable, and may be revised as additional information becomes available. For purposes of this pro forma analysis, fair value adjustments, other than goodwill, are amortized/accreted on a straight-line basis over their estimated average remaining lives. Estimated accretion and amortization on borrowings are based on estimated maturity by type of borrowing. When the actual amortization/accretion is recorded for periods following the merger closing, the effective yield method will be used where appropriate. Tax expense related to the net fair value adjustments is calculated at the statutory 35% tax rate.

Included in the pro forma adjustments are core deposit intangibles of $3.5 million. The core deposit intangibles are separate from goodwill and amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated average remaining life. When the actual amortization is recorded for periods following the merger closing, the sum-of-the-years digits method will be used. Goodwill totaling $18.2 million is included in the pro forma adjustments, and is not subject to amortization.

The allocation of the purchase price is as follows (in thousands):

Purchase Price:

Fair value of City Holding shares to be issued	$ 24,827
Cash consideration for outstanding Community Financial stock options	66
Total purchase price	24,893

Net assets acquired (equity capital less fair value adjustments):

Community Financial's shareholders' equity	51,646
Effect of repurchase of TARP preferred stock and warrant	(12,746)
Reduction of loans, net of elimination of Community Financial allowance for loan losses	(50,879)
Estimated core deposit intangible	3,486
Increase in certificates of deposit	(2,002)
Decrease in OREO	(1,600)
Deferred taxes related to fair value adjustments	18,820
Net assets (Equity capital less fair value adjustments)	6,724
Goodwill resulting from the merger	18,169

Note D Projected amortization/accretion of purchase accounting adjustments

The following table sets forth an estimate of the expected effects of the projected aggregate purchase accounting adjustments reflected in the pro forma combined financial statements on the future pre-tax net income of City Holding after the merger with Community Financial:

(Unaudited, dollars in thousands)	Discount Accretion (Premium Amortization) for the Years Ended December 31,
	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017
Loans	$ 1,541	$ 1,541	$ 1,541	$ 1,541	$ 1,541
Customer/deposit base	(349)	(349)	(349)	(349)	(349)
Time deposits	667	667	667
Increase (decrease) in pre-tax net income	$ 1,860	$ 1,860	$ 1,860	$ 1,193	$ 1,193

The actual effect of purchase accounting adjustments on the future pre-tax income of City Holding will differ from these estimates based on the closing date estimates of fair values and the use of different amortization methods than assumed above.

Note E Cost Savings and Merger-Related Costs

Estimated cost savings, expected to approximate 30% of Community Financial's annualized pre-tax operating expenses, are excluded from this pro forma analysis. Cost savings are estimated to be realized at 75% in the first year after the acquisition and 100% in subsequent years. In addition, estimated merger-related costs are not included in the pro forma combined statements of income since they will be recorded in the combined results of income as they are incurred prior to or after completion of the merger and are not indicative of what the historical results of the combined company would have been had the companies been actually combined during the periods presented. Merger-related costs are estimated to be $8.4 million.

Table of ContentsCOMPARATIVE HISTORICAL AND PRO FORMA UNAUDITED PER SHARE DATA

We have summarized below historical, unaudited per share information for City Holding and Community Financial and additional information as if the companies had been combined for the periods shown, which we refer to as pro forma information. The pro forma information is based upon the total number of shares of Community Financial common stock outstanding as of November 21, 2012 (4,361,658 shares), and City Holding closing price of $32.84, with an exchange ratio of 0.1753 shares of City Holding common stock for each share of Community Financial common stock. Per share data for Community Financial was calculated by taking into account the currently outstanding shares of common stock of Community Financial.

The Community Financial pro forma equivalent per share amounts are calculated by multiplying the City Holding pro forma combined book value per share and net income per share by the exchange ratio of 0.1753 so that the per share amounts equate to the respective values for one share of Community Financial common stock.

We expect that both City Holding and Community Financial will incur merger and integration charges as a result of the merger. We also anticipate that the merger will provide the combined company with financial benefits that may include reduced operating expenses. The information set forth below, while helpful in illustrating the financial characteristics of the combined company under one set of assumptions, may not reflect all of these anticipated financial expenses and does not reflect any of these anticipated financial benefits or consider any potential impacts of current market conditions or the merger or revenues, expense efficiencies, asset dispositions and share repurchases, among other factors, and, accordingly, does not attempt to predict or suggest future results. It also does not necessarily reflect what the historical results of the combined company would have been had our companies been combined during the periods presented.

In addition, the information set forth below has been prepared based on preliminary estimates of merger consideration and fair values attributable to the merger, and the actual amounts recorded for the merger may differ from the information presented. The estimation and allocations of merger consideration are subject to change pending further review of the fair value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed and actual transaction costs. A final determination of fair values will be based on the actual net tangible and intangible assets and liabilities of Community Financial that will exist on the date of completion of the merger.

This section contains information for Community Financial shareholders about the special meeting that Community Financial has called to allow its shareholders to consider the approval and adoption of the merger agreement and the merger. We are mailing this proxy statement/prospectus to you, as a Community Financial shareholder, on or about November 27, 2012. Together with this proxy statement/prospectus, we are also sending to you a notice of the special meeting of Community Financial shareholders and a form of proxy that Community Financial's board of directors is soliciting for use at the special meeting and at any adjournments or postponements of the special meeting. This proxy statement/prospectus is also being furnished by City Holding to Community Financial shareholders as a prospectus in connection with the issuance of shares of City Holding common stock upon completion of the merger.

Time and Place of the Special Meeting

This proxy statement/prospectus is being furnished to our shareholders as part of the solicitation of proxies by the Community Financial board of directors for use at the special meeting to be held on January 8, 2013, starting at 6:30 p.m., at Community Financial's executive offices located at 38 North Central Avenue, Staunton, Virginia, or at any postponement or adjournment thereof.

Matters to be Considered

At the special meeting, shareholders will be asked to consider and vote on the following proposals: (i) to approve and adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby; (ii) to consider and vote on a proposal to adjourn or postpone the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby; and (iii) to approve, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, the compensation that may be paid or become payable to Community Financial's named executive officers in connection with the merger.

Community Financial shareholders must approve the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby in order for the merger to occur. If our shareholders fail to approve the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, the merger will not occur. A copy of the merger agreement is attached as Annex A to this proxy statement/prospectus, which we encourage you to read carefully in its entirety.

Recommendation of the Community Financial Board of Directors

Community Financial's board of directors determined that the merger, the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement are advisable and in the best interests of Community Financial and its shareholders and has approved the merger and the merger agreement. Community Financial's board of directors recommends that Community Financial shareholders vote FOR approval and adoption of the merger agreement, FOR the adjournment/postponement proposal and FOR the compensation proposal. See Proposal One: Approval of the Merger Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of Community Financial's Board of Directors on page 46 for a more detailed discussion of the Community Financial board of directors' recommendation.

Record Date and Voting Rights; Quorum

We have fixed the close of business on November 19, 2012, as the record date for the special meeting, and only holders of record of shares of Community Financial common stock on the record date are entitled to vote at the special meeting. You are entitled to receive notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting if you owned shares of Community Financial common stock at the close of business on the record date. On the record date, there were approximately 4,361,658 shares of Community Financial common stock outstanding and entitled to vote. Each share of Community Financial common stock entitles its holder to one vote on all matters properly coming before the special meeting.

Table of Contents

The presence, in person or by proxy, of the holders of a majority of the aggregate number of outstanding shares of Community Financial common stock entitled to vote is necessary to constitute a quorum for the special meeting. Shares of Community Financial common stock represented at the special meeting but not voted, including shares of common stock for which a shareholder directs an abstention from voting, will be counted for purposes of establishing a quorum. Broker non-votes will also be counted for determining whether a quorum is present. A quorum is necessary to transact business at the special meeting. Once a share of Community Financial common stock is represented at the special meeting, it will be counted for the purpose of determining a quorum at the special meeting and any adjournment/postponement of the special meeting.

Vote Required

If a quorum exists at the special meeting, approval of the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby requires the affirmative vote of a majority of all votes entitled to be cast by the holders of Community Financial common stock. For the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, you may vote FOR, AGAINST or ABSTAIN. Abstentions have the effect of a NO vote on the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement but will count for the purpose of determining whether a quorum is present. Failure to vote also will have the effect of a NO vote on the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement. The merger agreement contemplates that the Community Financial Fixed Rate Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A, and the related warrant to purchase 351,194 shares of Community Financial common stock will be redeemed or purchased by City Holding and the shares of preferred stock will be cancelled prior to the closing of the merger. If the redemption or purchase and cancellation do not occur, then the affirmative vote of the holders of at least 66²/₃% of the Community Financial Fixed Rate Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A, would be required to approve the merger.

The adjournment proposal and the compensation proposal will be approved if the number of shares, represented in person or by proxy at the special meeting and entitled to vote thereon, voted in favor of each such proposal exceeds the number of shares voted against such proposal. Therefore, if you mark ABSTAIN on your proxy with respect to the adjournment proposal or the compensation proposal, or if you fail to vote or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the adjournment proposal or the compensation proposal, it will have no effect on the adjournment proposal or the compensation proposal.

If your shares of Community Financial common stock are held through a bank, brokerage firm or other nominee, you are considered the beneficial owner of shares of Community Financial common stock held in street name. In that case, this proxy statement/prospectus has been forwarded to you by your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee who is considered, with respect to those shares of Community Financial common stock, the shareholder of record. As the beneficial owner, you have the right to direct your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee how to vote your shares by following their instructions for voting.

Banks, brokerage firms or other nominees who hold shares in street name for customers have the authority to vote on routine proposals when they have not received instructions from beneficial owners. However, banks, brokerage firms or other nominees are precluded from exercising their voting discretion with respect to approving non-routine matters, such as the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement and, as a result, absent specific instructions from the beneficial owner of such shares of Community Financial common stock, banks, brokerage firms or other nominees are not empowered to vote those shares on non-routine matters, which we refer to generally as broker non-votes. These broker non-votes will be counted for purposes of determining a quorum, but will have the effect of a NO vote to approve and adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby.

These shares, however, are not deemed outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage ownership of any other person. PROPOSAL ONE: APPROVAL OF THE MERGER

This summary of the material terms and provisions of the merger agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the merger agreement. The merger agreement is attached as Annex A to this proxy statement/prospectus. We incorporate this document into this summary by reference. We urge you to read carefully this entire proxy statement/prospectus, including the merger agreement attached as Annex A, for a more complete understanding of the merger.

Merger

Subject to satisfaction or waiver of all conditions in the merger agreement, Community Financial will merge with and into City Holding. Upon completion of the merger, Community Financial's corporate existence will terminate and City Holding will continue as the surviving corporation. In addition, upon completion of the merger, Community Financial's wholly-owned subsidiary, Community Bank, will merge with and into City National with City National continuing as the surviving bank.

Community Financial and City Holding expect to complete the merger in the first quarter of 2013, subject to receiving the required shareholder and regulatory approvals and the satisfaction or waiver of other conditions contained in the merger agreement.

Merger Consideration

Each share of Community Financial common stock, par value $0.01 per share, that you own will be exchanged for 0.1753 shares of the common stock, par value $2.50 per share, of City Holding.

Shareholders will not receive any fractional shares of City Holding common stock. Instead, they will receive cash, without interest, for any fractional share of City Holding common stock that they might otherwise have been entitled to receive based on the average of the per share closing price of City Holding common stock as reported on The Nasdaq Global Select Market during the 10 trading days immediately preceding the 10th calendar day immediately preceding the effective date of the merger.

Upon completion of the merger, we expect that City Holding shareholders will own approximately 95.1% of the combined company and former Community Financial shareholders will own approximately 4.9% of the combined company.

Background of the Merger

Beginning in late 2011, the Board of Directors of Community Financial held several meetings to discuss the financial condition, earnings and future prospects of Community Financial and its alternatives to increase stockholder value and repay its TARP preferred stock issued under the Capital Purchase Program as part of the Troubled Assets Relief Program established by the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008 (TARP CPP). The Board had concerns that, despite Community Financial's profitability, Community Financial's stock price continued to trade at a substantial discount to tangible book value.

On February 22, 2012, the Board of Directors asked for and received from Scott & Stringfellow, Community Financial's investment bankers, an analysis of the impact on Community Financial of the sale of the Hampton Roads branches. The Board of directors also requested that Scott & Stringfellow prepare an analysis of a potential common stock offering and the value of Community Financial to a merger partner.

On March 7, 2012, Scott & Stringfellow met with the Board of Directors of Community Financial, as well as the senior management team, to discuss its analysis of the sale of the Hampton Roads branches, a potential common stock offering and the sale of the entire Company. The Board of Directors and management team discussed the options, noting that the sale of the Hampton Roads branches would significantly reduce future earnings, would not provide enough excess capital to redeem Community Financial's TARP preferred stock and would likely leave Community Financial with higher ratios of non-performing assets to total assets. The Board of Directors noted that the current market environment for community bank stocks would make it difficult to issue common stock and if Community Financial were able to issue common stock, the low offering price would significantly dilute the ownership, tangible book value per share and earnings per share of Community Financial. The Board of Directors determined that these were not viable strategies to pursue. The Board of Directors and management discussed the Scott & Stringfellow presentation analyzing the sale of the entire Company, noting that Scott & Stringfellow estimated a buyer could likely pay approximately $5.00 to $7.00 per share for Community Financial. The Board of Directors then dismissed both Scott & Stringfellow and the management team and continued to discuss the merits of seeking a merger partner at this time. No further action was taken at this meeting.

On March 12, 2012, the Board of Directors met to further discuss the alternatives available to Community Financial to increase stockholder value. At that meeting the Board of Directors determined to engage Scott & Stringfellow to conduct an auction process to explore the possibility of merging with another banking organization. Community Financial signed an engagement letter with Scott & Stringfellow on April 3, 2012 to pursue a possible merger.

In late March, 2012, Scott & Stringfellow began soliciting indications of interest in a merger with or acquisition of Community Financial. On April 25, 2012, Scott & Stringfellow met with the Board of Directors to update them on the progress of the auction process. Scott & Stringfellow informed the Board of Directors that it had contacted 37 potential merger partners, listed those parties and noted which of them had been interested in signing confidentiality agreements and receiving further non-public information about Community Financial. 22 institutions signed confidentiality agreements and received additional information.

In early May, 2012, Scott & Stringfellow received three preliminary indications of interest. Each of these indications of interest were subject to further on-site due diligence.

Bidder one (City Holding) proposed an all stock transaction with a fixed exchange ratio that, based on bidder one's stock price as of the date of its indication of interest, would have a value of $7.00 to $8.00 per share. Bidder one indicated a willingness to pay a portion of the consideration in cash if desired by Community Financial. Bidder one proposed to re-purchase Community Financial's outstanding TARP CPP preferred stock and warrants in conjunction with the transaction.

Bidder two proposed an all stock transaction with a fixed exchange ratio that, based on bidder two's stock price as of the date of its indication of interest, would have a value of $6.94 per share. Bidder two proposed to re-purchase Community's outstanding TARP CPP preferred stock and warrants in conjunction with the transaction. Bidder two's proposal also indicated a willingness to consider the possibility of contingent consideration based on the performance of specific Community Bank assets if Community Financial was so inclined.

Bidder three proposed an all stock transaction with a floating exchange ratio that would have a value of $5.50 to $7.00 per share. The exchange ratio would be determined based upon bidder three's stock price prior to closing, and would have customary collars to provide price protection for both parties. Bidder three proposed to re-purchase Community Financial's outstanding TARP CPP preferred stock and warrants in conjunction with the transaction.

At a Board of Directors meeting on May 9, 2012 to discuss these three preliminary indications of interest, Scott & Stringfellow and Community Financial's counsel advised the Board of Directors with regard to the financial condition, results of operations, market valuations and stock price performance of each bidder, the tax considerations of stock consideration versus cash consideration, as well as the tax implications of contingent consideration, and the likelihood of each bidder receiving regulatory approval to complete the transaction. Each of these preliminary indications of interest was within or above the estimated range of value Scott & Stringfellow had presented to the Board of Directors as a range of prices that could be expected. As a result, the Board of Directors authorized Scott & Stringfellow to invite all three bidders to conduct on-site due diligence and submit revised indications of interest by June 21, 2012.

Following on-site due diligence by bidders one and two, Scott & Stringfellow received revised indications of interest from bidders one and two. Bidder three declined to conduct on-site due diligence and did not submit a revised bid. Shortly after the due date for the receipt of revised bids, bidder three announced that it had signed an agreement to acquire another financial institution.

The revised indication of interest from bidder one offered all stock with a fixed exchange ratio, having a then current value of $5.00 per share, plus an earn-out (contingent consideration) based on the performance of a to-be-determined pool of loans of Community Bank. The maximum value of the contingent consideration would be $2.50 per share, would be paid in cash over a three year period and would be based on the value of this pool of loans exceeding certain to be agreed upon parameters, with Community Financial's stockholders receiving 75% of any excess and bidder one receiving 25% of any excess, up to a total of $2.50 per share. Scott & Stringfellow requested an indication of interest from bidder one that did not include contingent consideration and was advised by bidder one that such an indication of interest would be all stock, with a fixed exchange ratio, having a then current value of $5.00 per share. This revised indication of interest also provided for one board seat for a representative of Community Financial and reiterated bidder one's intention to re-purchase Community Financial's outstanding TARP CPP preferred stock and warrants in conjunction with the transaction.

The revised indication of interest from bidder two offered $5.25 per share, all cash. Bidder two indicated that it would consider offering all or a portion of the merger consideration in stock rather than cash if this was preferred by the Board of Directors. This revised indication of interest also provided for one board seat for a representative of Community Financial on bidder two's bank board of directors and reiterated bidder two's intention to re-purchase Community Financial's outstanding TARP CPP preferred stock and warrants in conjunction with the transaction.

On June 27, 2012, Community Financial's Board of Directors met with counsel and Scott & Stringfellow to discuss both revised indications of interest. The Board of Directors considered the amount and the form of consideration in both proposals, the tax implications of cash versus stock consideration to stockholders of Community Financial and the likelihood of each bidder receiving regulatory approval for the proposed transaction. The Board of Directors also considered the size, financial condition and results of operations of each bidder, the market valuations and stock price performance of each bidder and experience of each bidder in completing acquisitions. The Board of Directors also asked numerous questions of counsel and Scott & Stringfellow regarding the contingent consideration proposed by bidder one, including the number and timing of any payouts, the oversight of each payout determination, the loans to be included in the pool of assets upon which the payout would be based and the likelihood of any payout being made to stockholders. The Board of Directors also considered the risks of remaining independent, including the current and expected levels of non-performing assets, limitations on growth imposed by Community Bank's regulators, proposed regulatory orders and restrictions sought by the regulators, TARP CPP refinancing and pay-off considerations, Community Financial's inability to pay cash dividends to stockholders and Community Financial's ability to provide a reasonable return to stockholders. At the conclusion of the meeting, the Board of Directors authorized management, counsel and Scott & Stringfellow to attempt to negotiate a binding merger agreement with bidder one, including the contingent consideration.

On July 25, 2012, the Board of Directors met and received a summary from counsel of the terms of the merger agreement being negotiated with bidder one. The Board of Directors had received a draft of this agreement and all exhibits on July 24, 2012. Counsel explained the agreement and related documents in detail. The Board of Directors asked numerous questions regarding various provisions of the agreement and exhibits. The Board of Directors then asked Scott & Stringfellow to discuss whether the merger consideration to be received by stockholders was fair, from a financial point of view. Scott & Stringfellow presented its analysis, orally and in writing, to the Board of Directors and concluded that the merger consideration to be paid to stockholders by bidder one was fair, from a financial point of view.

Counsel pointed out to the Board of Directors that the contingent consideration provision had not been finalized, but that the parties had discussed the issue extensively and there seemed to be agreement on the issues and this agreement would be incorporated into the final version of the merger agreement. Counsel explained to the Board of Directors the current understanding of the parties as to how the contingent consideration would be structured. The Board of Directors authorized management to execute a binding agreement with bidder one once the contingent consideration provision was finalized consistent with the parties' current understanding of how this provision would be structured.

On Friday, July 27, 2012, Scott & Stringfellow spoke with bidder one regarding the contingent consideration. While the language in the merger agreement was acceptable to both parties, the parties were unable to agree on the number and value of the loans that would be included in the pool of loans for purposes of calculating the contingent consideration. As a result, Scott & Stringfellow encouraged bidder one to revise its offer to exclude contingent consideration. Late on July 27, 2012, bidder one revised its indication of interest and increased its fixed exchange ratio to have a value of $5.75 per share based on bidder one's closing stock price on that date. The contingent consideration was dropped from the proposal.

Scott & Stringfellow contacted Mr. Smiley, the President of Community Financial, and the negotiating committee of the Board of Directors, consisting of directors Cooke and Richard, and advised them of the revised proposal. They contacted counsel and by conference call discussed the revised proposal and whether to re-open the auction process and invite bidder two to submit another proposal. No decision was made.

On Monday, July 30, 2012, President Smiley, directors Cooke and Richard, counsel and Scott & Stringfellow again met by conference call to discuss bidder one's revised proposal. The directors asked Scott & Stringfellow its opinion as to the advisability of asking bidder two to submit another proposal, and the likelihood that they would submit a proposal higher than that of bidder one. Scott & Stringfellow stated that, based on their knowledge of bidder two, it was unlikely that bidder two would significantly increase its proposal. Scott & Stringfellow also stated its concern that re-opening the bidding process could cause bidder one to withdraw its current proposal. Scott & Stringfellow suggested that bidder one might further increase its proposal based on Community Financial's view of the value in the contingent consideration that they are giving up. After discussion, the negotiating committee of the Board of Directors authorized Scott & Stringfellow to contact bidder one to attempt to negotiate a higher offer.

Scott & Stringfellow contacted bidder one later that day, encouraging them to increase their offer for Community Financial. Late on July 30, 2012, bidder one offered to increase its fixed exchange ratio so the value to Community Financial's stockholders of the bidder one stock to be received in the proposed transaction would be $6.00 per share, based on the closing stock price of bidder one as of July 27, 2012.

On August 2, 2012, the Board of Directors again met with counsel and Scott & Stringfellow. Counsel stated that the only significant changes to the merger agreement from the draft presented at the July 26, 2012 meeting was the increase in the fixed exchange ratio and the elimination of the contingent consideration. Scott & Stringfellow again summarized the terms of bidder one's proposal and updated the Board of Directors on the market performance of bidder one's stock. Scott & Stringfellow, upon the request of the Board of Directors, rendered an oral opinion that the transaction was fair to the stockholders of Community Financial from a financial point of view. Scott & Stringfellow agreed to provide its written fairness opinion shortly following the meeting. The Board of Directors then voted unanimously to authorize management to execute the merger agreement with bidder one.

Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of Community Financial's Board of Directors

In reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement and recommend that Community Financial's stockholders approve the merger, Community Financial's Board of Directors consulted with Community Financial's management, as well as its financial and legal advisors, and considered a number of factors, including:

the expected results from continuing to operate as an independent institution and the likely benefits to stockholders, compared with the stock merger consideration offered by City Holding; the current recessionary environment and its impact on Community Financial's borrowers, evidenced by the level of non-performing assets at Community Financial;

the fact that the estimated per share value of the merger consideration ($5.73 as of August 1, 2012) represented a premium over the recent trading prices for Community Financial's common stock prior to the public announcement of the merger agreement (with the last such closing price being $3.90 on August 1, 2012);

the annual cash dividends paid by City Holding, amounting to approximately $0.245 per share of Community stock, compared to no cash dividends paid by Community for over three years;

the opinion rendered by Scott & Stringfellow to Community Financial's Board of Directors that the merger consideration is fair, from a financial point of view, to Community Financial's stockholders;

the Board's assessment of the likelihood that City Holding will receive the regulatory approvals it needs to complete the merger;

information regarding Community Financial's and City Holding's financial condition, results of operations, capital position, asset quality and prospects;

the difficulty faced by Community Financial in repurchasing or refinancing its TARP CPP preferred stock and warrants and the scheduled increase in the dividend on the preferred stock to 9% at the end of 2013;

the current and prospective competitive and regulatory environments facing Community Financial and the financial services industry generally, including the individual minimum capital requirement imposed on Community Bank by the OCC and the written agreement between the OCC and Community Bank designating Community Bank as being in troubled condition and imposing certain requirements and restrictions on Community Bank;

the absence of a liquid and active trading market for Community Financial's common stock, which makes it more difficult for investors to purchase or sell shares;

the fact that the merger generally will be a non-taxable transaction for Community Financial's stockholders;

the fact that most employees of Community Financial are expected to be retained following the merger;

the Board's belief that the merger will not negatively impact Community Bank's customers and the communities served by Community Bank;

the restrictions under the merger agreement on the conduct of Community Financial's business pending completion of the merger;

the rights of City Holding and Community Financial to terminate the merger agreement under specified circumstances, and the possibility that Community Financial may be required to pay a fiduciary out fee to City Holding depending on the termination scenario; and the fact that Community Financial's directors or executive officers may have interests in the merger that are in addition to or different from the interests of stockholders generally, as described under Interests of Certain Persons in the Merger. The foregoing discussion of the factors considered by Community Financial's Board of Directors is not intended to be exhaustive, but rather includes the material factors considered by the Board of Directors. In reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement and recommend the merger, the Board of Directors did not quantify or assign any relative weights to the factors considered, and individual directors may have given different weights to different factors. The Board of Directors considered all these factors as a whole, including discussions with, and questioning of, Community Financial's management and Community Financial's financial and legal advisors, and overall considered the factors to be favorable to, and to support, its determination. The Board of Directors also relied on the experience of Scott & Stringfellow, as its financial advisor, for analyses of the financial terms of the merger and for its opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the per share merger consideration to be received by Community Financial's stockholders.

For the reasons set forth above, Community Financial's Board of Directors determined that the merger is advisable and in the best interests of Community Financial and its stockholders, and unanimously approved the merger agreement. Community Financial's Board of Directors recommends that stockholders vote FOR approval of the merger.

City Holding's Reasons for the Merger

The merger is consistent with City Holding's plan to have operations, offices and distinct capabilities in every market of its choice within its region. The merger will afford City Holding the opportunity to further expand the Virginia market in the Staunton area. City Holding believes that, in addition to expanding City Holding's presence in very attractive markets, the merger provides an opportunity to enhance City Holding's shareholder value with the prospects of positive long-term performance of City Holding's common stock.

Opinion of Community Financial's Financial Advisor

Scott & Stringfellow, LLC is acting as financial advisor to Community Financial in connection with the merger. Scott & Stringfellow is a leading full-service, middle market investment banking firm with substantial experience in transactions similar to the merger and is familiar with Community Financial and its business. As part of its investment banking business, Scott & Stringfellow is continually engaged in the valuation of community banks and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions.

On July 25, 2012, Community Financial's board of directors held a special meeting to review the merger agreement. At that special meeting, Scott & Stringfellow rendered an oral opinion, that as of that date and based upon and subject to the factors and assumptions set forth in its fairness opinion presentation and letter, the consideration to be paid to Community Financial in connection with the merger is fair to Community Financial shareholders from a financial point of view. Following the conclusion of the special meeting, City Holding offered to increase its fixed exchange ratio so the value to Community Financial's stockholders of City Holding stock to be received would be $6.00 per share, based on the closing stock price of City Holding as of July 27, 2012. Scott & Stringfellow, upon the request of the Board of Directors, subsequently rendered a second oral opinion that the new consideration was fair to the stockholders of Community Financial from a financial point of view. The opinion has been reviewed and approved by Scott & Stringfellow's Investment Banking Valuation Committee.

The full text of Scott & Stringfellow's written opinion is attached as Annex B to this proxy statement/prospectus and is incorporated herein by reference. The opinion outlines matters considered and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by Scott & Stringfellow in rendering its opinion. The description of the opinion set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion. Shareholders of Community Financial are urged to read the entire opinion carefully in connection with their consideration of the proposed merger.

No limitations were imposed by Community Financial on the scope of Scott & Stringfellow's investigation or the procedures to be followed by Scott & Stringfellow in rendering its opinion. In arriving at its opinion, Scott & Stringfellow did not ascribe a specific range of values to Community Financial. Scott & Stringfellow's opinion is based on the financial and comparative analyses described below. Scott & Stringfellow's opinion is solely for the information of, and directed to, Community Financial's board of directors for its information and assistance in connection with the board of directors' consideration of the financial terms of the merger and is not to be relied upon by any shareholder of Community Financial or City Holding or any other person or entity. Scott & Stringfellow's opinion was not intended to be and does not constitute a recommendation to Community Financial's board of directors as to how the board of directors should vote on the merger or to any shareholder of Community Financial as to how any such shareholder should vote at the special meeting at which the merger is considered, or whether or not any shareholder of Community Financial should enter into a voting, shareholders' or affiliates' agreement with respect to the merger, or exercise any appraisal rights that may be available to such shareholder. In addition, Scott & Stringfellow's opinion does not compare the relative merits of the merger with any other alternative transaction or business strategy which may have been available to Community Financial and does not address the underlying business decision of Community Financial's board of directors or Community Financial to proceed with or effect the merger.

In rendering its opinion, Scott & Stringfellow reviewed, analyzed, and relied upon, among other things:

the merger agreement and special meetings and discussions with members of senior management of Community Financial regarding the material terms of the merger agreement;

certain publicly available financial statements and other historical financial information of City Holding that we deemed relevant and special meetings and discussions regarding the same with members of senior management of City Holding;

certain publicly available and non-publicly available financial statements and other historical financial information of Community Financial that we deemed relevant and special meetings and discussions regarding the same with members of senior management of Community Financial;

internal financial forecasts for Community Financial related to the business, earnings, cash flows, assets and prospects of Community Financial for the calendar years ending December 31, 2011 through 2016 prepared by Scott & Stringfellow and reviewed with senior management of Community Financial (the "Forecasts");

the estimated pro forma financial impact of the Community Financial merger on City Holding, based on assumptions relating to, without limitation, transaction expenses, purchase accounting adjustments, cost savings, and certain synergies determined by and reviewed with the senior management of Community Financial and discussed summarily with the senior management of City Holding;

the historical market prices and trading activity for City Holding common stock and a comparison of certain financial and stock market information for City Holding and Community Financial with similar publicly-traded companies which we deemed to be relevant;

the proposed financial terms of the Community Financial merger and a comparison of such terms with the financial terms, to the extent publicly available, of certain recent business combinations in the banking industry which we deemed to be relevant;

the relative contribution of Community Financial and City Holding with regard to certain assets, liabilities, earnings, and capital;

the current market environment generally and the banking environment in particular;

a discounted dividend scenario of Community Financial based upon the Forecasts and an illustrative dividend payout; and such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations, and financial, economic, and market criteria as we deemed appropriate.

In conducting its review and arriving at its opinion, Scott & Stringfellow relied upon and assumed the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information provided to or otherwise made available to Scott & Stringfellow or that was discussed with, or reviewed by or for Scott & Stringfellow, or that was publicly available. Scott & Stringfellow did not assume any responsibility to verify such information independently. Scott & Stringfellow assumed that the financial and operating forecasts for City Holding and Community Financial provided by the management of each respective institution were reasonably prepared and reflect the best currently available estimates and judgments of senior management of each respective institution as to the future financial and operating performance of City Holding and Community Financial. Scott & Stringfellow assumed, without independent verification, that the aggregate allowances for loan and lease losses for City Holding and Community Financial are adequate to cover those losses. Scott & Stringfellow did not make or obtain any evaluations or appraisals of any assets or liabilities of City Holding or Community Financial, and Scott & Stringfellow did not examine any books and records or review individual credit files.

For purposes of rendering its opinion, Scott & Stringfellow assumed that, in all respects material to its analyses:

the merger will be completed substantially in accordance with the terms set forth in the merger agreement;

the representations and warranties of each party in the merger agreement and in all related documents and instruments referred to in the merger agreement are true and correct;

each party to the merger agreement and all related documents will perform all of the covenants and agreements required to be performed by such party under such documents;

all conditions to the completion of the merger will be satisfied without any waivers; and in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory, contractual, or other consents or approvals for the merger, no restrictions, including any divestiture requirements or amendments or modifications will be imposed that may have a material adverse effect on the future results of operations or financial condition of City Holding, Community Financial, or the combined entity, as the case may be, or the contemplated benefits of the merger.

Scott & Stringfellow further assumed that the merger will be accounted for as a purchase under generally accepted accounting principles. Scott & Stringfellow's opinion is not an expression of an opinion as to the prices at which shares of City Holding common stock will trade following the announcement of the merger or the actual value of City Holding common stock when issued pursuant to the merger, or the prices at which City Holding common stock will trade following the completion of the merger.

In performing its analyses, Scott & Stringfellow made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, economic, market and financial conditions, and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of Scott & Stringfellow, City Holding, and Community Financial. Any estimates contained in the analyses performed by Scott & Stringfellow are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by these analyses. Additionally, estimates of the value of businesses or securities do not purport to be appraisals nor to reflect the prices at which such businesses or securities might actually be sold. Accordingly, these analyses and estimates are inherently subject to substantial uncertainty. In addition, the Scott & Stringfellow opinion was among several factors taken into consideration by the Community Financial board of directors in making its determination to approve the merger agreement and the merger. Consequently, the analyses described below should not be viewed as solely determinative of the decision of the Community Financial board or management of Community Financial with respect to the fairness of the merger consideration.

Summary of Analyses by Scott & Stringfellow

The following is a summary of the material analyses presented by Scott & Stringfellow to the Community Financial board of directors and in connection with its revised written opinion dated August 2, 2012. The summary is not a complete description of the analyses underlying the Scott & Stringfellow opinion or the presentation made by Scott & Stringfellow to the Community Financial board, but summarizes the material analyses performed and presented in connection with such opinion. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex analytic process involving various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances. Therefore, a fairness opinion is not readily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. In arriving at its opinion, Scott & Stringfellow did not attribute any particular weight to any analysis or factor that it considered, but rather made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis and factor. The financial analyses summarized below include information presented in tabular format. Accordingly, Scott & Stringfellow believes that its analyses and the summary of its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses and factors or focusing on the information presented below in tabular format, without considering all analyses and factors or the full narrative description of the financial analyses, including the methodologies and assumptions underlying the analyses, could create a misleading or incomplete view of the process underlying its analyses and opinion. The tables alone are not a complete description of the financial analyses.

Transaction Overview. Scott & Stringfellow reviewed the financial terms of the merger agreement, including the consideration to be received by Community Financial shareholders. For every share of Community Financial stock held, such shareholders will receive 0.1753 shares of City Holding common stock in connection with the merger. Based on the closing price of City Holding's common stock on July 31, 2012 of $33.05, Scott & Stringfellow calculated an aggregate value (Effective Aggregate Value) of approximately $25.3 million, or $5.79 per share (Price as used in the Transaction Multiples table below) for Community Financial common stock. Additionally, City Holding has agreed to repay all $12.4 million of Community Financial TARP preferred stock in connection with the merger; this amount is not included in the Effective Aggregate Value presented herein. Completion of the transaction is subject to Community Financial shareholder approval, required regulatory approvals, and other conditions set forth in the merger agreement.

Transaction Pricing Multiples. Scott & Stringfellow calculated the following transaction multiples:

Market Validation. Scott & Stringfellow led an extensive process to contact financial institutions (potential acquirors) that Scott & Stringfellow and Community Financial determined may be interested in acquiring Community Financial and that had a high certainty of closing such a transaction with Community Financial. Over a period of approximately two months, Scott & Stringfellow contacted 37 potential acquirers, distributed 22 confidential informational memoranda on the business and financial condition of Community Financial and its subsidiary, Community Bank, and held discussions with multiple potential acquirers. Three of the potential acquirers, including City Holding, submitted non-binding indications of interest. Scott & Stringfellow met with Community Financial's board of directors to review the indications of interest. The board directed Scott & Stringfellow to move forward and allow the three potential acquirers to conduct on-site due diligence and loan portfolio review. Ultimately, only City Holding and one other potential acquirer conducted thorough onsite due diligence on Community Financial, including loan portfolio reviews and discussions with Community Financial's senior management. The third potential acquirer dropped from the process before conducting additional due diligence as a result of resource and time constraints relating to another acquisition. City Holding's final, non-binding indication of interest submitted following due diligence was deemed superior to that of the second remaining final bidder, and as such, Community Financial's board decided to move forward exclusively with City Holding on an expedited basis to negotiate the merger agreement.

Selected Peer Group Analysis. Scott & Stringfellow reviewed and compared publicly available financial data (as of March 31, 2012), market information, and trading multiples for Community Financial with other selected publicly traded companies that Scott & Stringfellow deemed relevant to Community Financial. Scott & Stringfellow compared these results with the multiples implied by the selected transactions listed above. All selected transaction financials, deal terms, and resulting valuations are based on financial data available at the time of each respective transaction's announcement. Discounted Dividend Stream and Terminal Value Analysis of Community Financial. Scott & Stringfellow performed an analysis that estimated a future stream of potential dividend flows of Community Financial assuming that Community Financial performed in accordance with the earnings projections reviewed by Community Financial management and assuming that Community Financial employs a hypothetical dividend payout ratio of 15% in the projected calendar years. Community Financial does not currently pay a dividend, nor does Community Financial management forecast paying a dividend at this time. For 2012 through 2016, Scott & Stringfellow used the earnings projections prepared by both Scott & Stringfellow and reviewed by Community Financial's management. To approximate the terminal value of Community Financial common stock at December 31, 2016, Scott & Stringfellow applied a range of 8.0x to 16.0x price / earnings multiples to Community Financial's estimated calendar year December 31, 2016 earnings, the result of which we believe adequately quantifies a present value of all earnings generated beyond the projected period as of December 31, 2016. The potential dividend income streams and terminal values were then discounted to present values using different discount rates ranging from 13.0% to 17.0%, chosen to reflect different assumptions regarding required rates of return to the holders of Community Financial common stock. As illustrated in the following table, this analysis indicated an imputed range of values per share of Community Financial common stock of $4.78 to $10.84 when applying the 8.0x - 16.0x price / earnings multiples range for calculating the terminal values. A Contribution Analysis. Scott & Stringfellow analyzed the relative contribution of each of City Holding and Community Financial to certain pro forma balance sheet and income statement items of the combined entity. Scott & Stringfellow compared the relative contribution of balance sheet and income statement items with the estimated pro forma ownership percentage Community Financial shareholders would represent in City Holding pro forma. The results of Scott & Stringfellow's analysis are set forth in the following table.

Financial Impact Analysis. Scott & Stringfellow performed pro forma merger analyses that combined projected income statement and balance sheet information of both City Holding and Community Financial. Assumptions regarding the accounting treatment, acquisition adjustments, and cost savings were used to calculate the financial impact that the merger would have on certain projected financial results of the pro forma company. This analysis indicated that the merger is expected to be accretive to City Holding's estimated 2013-2014 earnings per share, accretive to pro forma March 31, 2012 book value per share, and dilutive to pro forma March 31, 2012 tangible book value per share. This analysis was based on financial projections and certain merger assumptions (including estimated cost savings and one-time charges) provided by and reviewed with senior management of Community Financial. For all of the above analyses, the actual results achieved by the pro forma company following the merger will vary from the projected results, and the variations may be material.

Other Analyses. Scott & Stringfellow compared the relative financial and market performance of City Holding to a variety of relevant industry peer groups and indices.

Scott & Stringfellow has not expressed an opinion about the fairness of the amount or nature of compensation that any of the Community Financial officers, directors, employees, or class of such person relative to the compensation to the shareholders of Community Financial.

At closing, Community Financial will pay Scott & Stringfellow a contingent advisory fee equal to 1.25% of the Effective Aggregate Value plus TARP preferred equity redeemed up to and including an amount corresponding to $6.00 purchase price per share, plus an additional fee equal to 2.00% of the Effective Aggregate Value plus TARP preferred equity redeemed corresponding to any amount greater than a $6.00 purchase price per share on the effective date of the merger. Pursuant to the Scott & Stringfellow engagement agreement, Community Financial also agreed to reimburse Scott & Stringfellow for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and disbursements incurred in connection with its retention. During the three-year period ended December 31, 2011, Scott & Stringfellow did not receive any other fees or compensation from either Community Financial or City Holding.

The absence of any statute, rule, regulation, judgment, decree, injunction or other order being enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered by a governmental authority effectively prohibiting consummation of the merger.

In addition to the conditions described above, the obligation of City Holding to consummate the merger is subject to the satisfaction, unless waived, of the following other conditions:

City Holding shall have entered into an agreement for the purchase of the Community Financial Fixed Rate Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A (at book value), and related Warrant to purchase 351,194 shares of Community Financial common stock (at fair market value) on terms and conditions acceptable to City Holding and the purchase of such preferred stock shall be consummated;

The SERP between Community Financial and Mr. Smiley is amended to freeze any amounts payable at their current level with no future accrual of benefits under the SERP;

The Employee Stock Ownership and 401(k) Plan shall be terminated as of the effective date and Community Financial common stock held by the Plan shall be converted into rights to receive the merger consideration with respect thereto; and

As of the effective date Community Financial and Community Bank shall take all steps to cease benefit accruals under the defined benefit plan maintained by Community Financial and Community Bank and to treat the plan as a frozen plan under the applicable plan documents.

In addition to the conditions described above, Community Financial's obligation to complete the merger is subject to the satisfaction, unless waived, of the following other conditions:

City Holding performs in all material respects all obligations required to be performed under the merger agreement prior to the effective time of the merger and delivers to Community Financial a certificate of its chief executive officer and chief financial officer to that effect;

Community Financial shall have received an opinion of Jackson Kelly PLLC, outside counsel to City Holding, stating that, among other things, as of the effective time of the merger, the merger constitutes a reorganization under Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code and that no gain or loss will be recognized by the shareholders of Community Financial to the extent that they receive City Holding common stock in exchange for their Community Financial common stock in the merger; and Authorization has been received from The Nasdaq Global Select Market for the listing of the shares of City Holding common stock to be issued in the merger, subject to official notice of issuance.

Termination of the Merger Agreement

Community Financial and City Holding may mutually agree to terminate the merger agreement at any time.

Either Community Financial or City Holding may terminate the merger agreement if any of the following occurs:

the merger is not completed by January 31, 2013, unless the failure of the merger to be consummated arises out of or results from the action or inaction of the party seeking to terminate; or the approval of any governmental entity required for consummation of the merger is denied or the shareholders of Community Financial do not approve the merger agreement within 60 days of this proxy statement/prospectus.

City Holding may terminate the merger agreement if any of the following occurs:

Community Financial materially breaches any of its representations or obligations under the merger agreement, and does not cure the breach within 30 days; or Community Financial's board of directors fails to recommend approval of the merger agreement, withdraws its recommendation or modifies its recommendation in a manner adverse to City Holding.

Community Financial may terminate the merger agreement if any of the following occurs:

City Holding materially breaches any of its representations or obligations under the merger agreement, and does not cure the breach within 30 days; or

The price of City Holding common stock declines by more than 20% over a designated measurement period and the stock prices of the banks and bank holding companies included on the Nasdaq Bank Index have not collectively experienced a similar decline during the same period, unless City Holding elects to increase the consideration to be paid to Community Financial shareholders (which it is not obligated to do); or

Table of Contents

Community Financial enters into an agreement with respect to an unsolicited acquisition proposal that if consummated would result in a transaction more favorable to Community Financial's shareholders from a financial point of view than the merger, provided that Community Financial pays the termination fee described below.

Effect of Termination; Termination Fee

The provisions of the merger agreement relating to expenses and termination fee will continue in effect notwithstanding termination of the merger agreement. If the merger agreement is validly terminated, the merger agreement will become void without any liability on the part of any party except that termination will not relieve a breaching party from liability for any willful breach of the merger agreement.

Community Financial has agreed to pay a termination fee to City Holding equal to $1,200,000 if:

City Holding terminates the merger agreement because Community Financial's board of directors fails to recommend approval of the merger agreement or withdraws, modifies or changes its recommendation of the approval of the merger agreement in a manner adverse to City Holding;

Community Financial terminates the merger agreement and enters into an agreement relating to an unsolicited competing acquisition proposal that Community Financial's board of directors has determined, in good faith after consulting with and considering the advice of Community Financial's outside legal counsel and financial advisors, would result in a transaction more favorable to Community Financial's shareholders from a financial point of view than the merger; or either Community Financial or City Holding terminates the merger agreement due to the failure of Community Financial to receive shareholder approval of the merger agreement, and if an acquisition proposal is publicly announced prior to the special meeting and within 12 months after the announcement of the acquisition proposal a change in control of Community Financial is consummated.

Waiver and Amendment

Prior to the effective time of the merger, any provision of the merger agreement may be waived by the party benefiting by the provision or amended or modified by an agreement in writing between the parties, except that, after the special meeting, the merger agreement may not be amended if it would violate applicable law.

No Solicitation of Other Acquisition Proposals

Community Financial has agreed that it will not, and that it will cause its officers, directors, agents, advisors, and affiliates not to, solicit or encourage inquiries or proposals with respect to, engage in any negotiations concerning, or provide any confidential information to any person relating to any proposal to acquire the stock or assets of Community Financial or other business combination transactions with Community Financial, unless the Community Financial board of directors concludes in good faith, after consultation with and consideration of the advice of its financial advisors and outside legal counsel, that the failure to enter into such discussions or negotiations would be reasonably likely to be inconsistent with its fiduciary duties under Virginia law. If the board of directors of Community Financial is obligated by its fiduciary duties to accept a third-party proposal that it believes is superior to City Holding's offer set forth in the merger agreement, Community Financial is obligated to pay to City Holding the termination fee equal to $1,200,000 upon termination of the merger agreement. See Effect of Termination; Termination Fee above.

Closing Date; Effective Time

The merger will be consummated and become effective on the date and at the time shown on the Articles of Merger required to be filed in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of West Virginia and the office of the Virginia State Corporation Commission. Subject to the merger agreement, the parties will cause the merger to become effective (a) on the date that is the fifth full trading day on The Nasdaq Global Select Market to occur after the last of all required regulatory and shareholder approvals of the merger and the subsidiary merger have been received and all required waiting periods have expired or (b) on such other date the parties may agree to in writing.

Regulatory Approvals

The merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement require the approval of the Federal Reserve and the Virginia Bureau of Financial Institutions. As a bank holding company, City Holding is subject to regulation under the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended (BHCA). City National is a national banking association and is subject to the laws of the United States. City Holding has filed all required applications seeking approval of the merger with the Federal Reserve and the Virginia Bureau of Financial Institutions. City National and Community Bank have also applied with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency for approval of the merger of Community Bank into City National.

Under the BHCA, the Federal Reserve is required to examine the financial and managerial resources and future prospects of the combined organization and analyze the capital structure and soundness of the resulting entity. The Federal Reserve has the authority to deny an application if it concludes that the combined organization would have inadequate capital. In addition, the Federal Reserve can withhold approval of the merger if, among other things, it determines that the effect of the merger would be to substantially lessen competition in the relevant markets. City Holding and Community Financial operate in different market areas, as defined by the Federal Reserve. Further, the Federal Reserve must consider whether the combined organization meets the requirements of the Community Reinvestment Act of 1977, by assessing the involved entities' records of meeting the credit needs of local communities in which they operate, consistent with the safe and sound operation of such institutions. In general, the Virginia Bureau of Financial Institutions will review the merger under similar standards.

In addition, a period of 15 to 30 days must expire following approval by the Federal Reserve before completion of the merger is allowed, within which period the United States Department of Justice may file objections to the merger under federal antitrust laws.

The merger cannot be consummated prior to the receipt of all required approvals. There can be no assurance that the required regulatory approvals for the merger will be obtained and, if the merger is approved, as to the date of such approvals or whether the approvals will contain any unacceptable conditions. There can likewise be no assurance that the United States Department of Justice will not challenge the merger during the waiting period set aside for such challenges after receipt of approval from the Federal Reserve.

City National and Community Financial are not aware of any governmental approvals or actions that may be required for consummation of the merger other than as described above. Should any other approval or action be required, it is presently contemplated that such approval or action would be sought. There can be no assurance that any necessary regulatory approvals or actions will be timely received or taken, that no action will be brought challenging such approval or action, or, if such a challenge is brought, as to the result thereof, or that any such action or approval will not be conditioned in a manner that would cause the parties to abandon the merger.

The approval of any application merely implies the satisfaction of regulatory criteria for approval, which does not include review of the merger from the standpoint of the adequacy of the merger consideration. Furthermore, regulatory approvals do not constitute an endorsement or recommendation of the merger.

As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, no regulatory approvals have been received. While City Holding and Community Financial do not know of any reason why necessary regulatory approvals would not be obtained in a timely manner, we cannot be certain when or if we will receive them, or if obtained, whether they will contain terms, conditions or restrictions not currently contemplated that will be detrimental to City Holding after completion of the merger.

Conduct of Business Pending the Merger

The merger agreement contains reciprocal forbearances made by Community Financial and City Holding to each other. Community Financial and City Holding have agreed that, until the effective time of the merger, neither of them nor any of their subsidiaries, without the prior written consent of the other, will:

Conduct business other than in the ordinary and usual course or fail to use reasonable efforts to preserve intact its business organizations and assets and maintain its rights, franchises and existing relations with customers, suppliers, employees and business associates;

Implement or adopt any change in its accounting principles, practices or methods, other than as may be required by generally accepted accounting principles;

Take any action while knowing that such action would, or is reasonably likely to, prevent or impede the merger from qualifying as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code, or knowingly take any action that is intended or is reasonably likely to result in any of the conditions to the merger not being satisfied, or a material violation of any provision of the merger agreement except, in each case, as may be required by applicable law or regulation; or Amend its articles of incorporation, articles of association, charter or bylaws (or similar governing documents).

Community Financial has also agreed that, prior to the effective time of the merger, without the prior written consent of, or as previously disclosed to, City Holding, it will not and will cause its subsidiary not to:

Other than pursuant to rights previously disclosed and outstanding on the date of the merger agreement, issue, sell or otherwise permit to become outstanding, or authorize the creation of, any additional Community Financial common stock or any rights to purchase shares of Community Financial common stock or Community Bank stock, enter into any agreement with respect to the foregoing, or permit any additional shares of Community Financial common stock to become subject to new grants of employee or director stock options, other rights or similar stock based employee rights;

Make, declare, pay or set aside for payment any dividend (other than dividends required by the terms of the Community Financial preferred stock);

Enter into, amend, modify, renew or terminate any employment, consulting, severance or similar contracts with any directors, officers, or employees of, or independent contractors with respect to, Community Financial and Community Bank, or grant any salary, wage or other increase or increase any employee benefits (including incentive or bonus payments) except for changes that are required by applicable law, changes contemplated by the merger agreement, changes in base salary consistent with City Holding's salary administration procedures and properly approved by City Holding or bonuses for performance under documented incentive plans and upon approval by City Holding;

Enter into, establish, adopt or amend (except as may be required by applicable law or to satisfy previously disclosed contractual obligations existing as of the date of the merger agreement) any pension, retirement, stock option, stock purchase, savings, profit sharing, deferred compensation, consulting, bonus, group insurance or other employee benefit, incentive or welfare contract, plan or arrangement, or any trust agreement (or similar arrangement) related thereto, or make any new or increase any outstanding grants or awards under any such contract, plan or arrangement, in respect of any current or former directors, officers or employees of, or independent contractors with respect to, Community Financial or Community Bank, including taking any action that accelerates the

Except in the ordinary course of business consistent with or pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, enter into or terminate any material contract or amend or modify in any material respect any of its existing material contracts in a manner that is material to Community Financial and Community Bank taken as a whole;

Agree or commit to do any of the foregoing.

Surrender of Stock Certificates

Computershare Investor Services, LLC will act as exchange agent in the merger and in that role will process the exchange of Community Financial common stock certificates for City Holding common stock and cash in lieu of fractional shares. The exchange agent, or City Holding and Community Financial if the exchange agent declines to do so, will also be making any computations required by the merger agreement, and all such computations will be conclusive and binding on the holders of Community Financial common stock in the absence of manifest error. In any event, do not forward your Community Financial common stock certificates with your proxy cards.

After the completion of the merger, the exchange agent will mail to Community Financial shareholders a letter of transmittal, together with instructions for the exchange of their Community Financial common stock certificates for the merger consideration.

After the effective time of the merger, each certificate formerly representing Community Financial common stock, until so surrendered and exchanged, will evidence only the right to receive the number of whole shares of City Holding common stock that the holder is entitled to receive in the merger, any cash payment in lieu of a fractional share of City Holding common stock and any dividend or other distribution with respect to Community Financial common stock with a record date prior to the effective time of the merger. The holder of such unexchanged certificate will not be entitled to receive any dividends or distributions payable by City Holding until the certificate has been exchanged. Subject to applicable laws, following surrender of such certificates, such dividends and distributions, together with any cash payment in lieu of a fractional share of City Holding common stock, will be paid without interest.

After the completion of the merger, there will be no further transfers of Community Financial common stock. Community Financial common stock certificates presented for transfer after the completion of the merger will be canceled and exchanged for the merger consideration.

If your Community Financial common stock certificates have either been lost, stolen or destroyed, you will have to prove your ownership of these certificates and that they were lost, stolen or destroyed before you receive any consideration for your shares. Upon request, our exchange agent, Computershare Investor Services, LLC, will send you instructions on how to provide evidence of ownership.

No Fractional Shares

Shareholders will not receive any fractional shares of City Holding common stock. Instead, they will receive cash, without interest, for any fractional share of City Holding common stock that they might otherwise have been entitled to receive based on the average of the per share closing price of City Holding common stock as reported on The Nasdaq Global Select Market during the 10 trading days immediately preceding the 10th calendar day immediately preceding the effective date of the merger.

Accounting Treatment

The merger will be accounted for as a business combination, as that term is used under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. As such, the assets and liabilities of Community Financial, as of the completion of the merger, will be recorded at their fair values as well as any identifiable intangible assets. Any remaining excess purchase price will be allocated to goodwill, will not be amortized and will be evaluated for impairment annually. Consolidated financial statements of City Holding issued after the consummation of the merger will reflect such values. In addition, costs incurred in connection with the business combination will be expensed as incurred unless related to the equity issuance.

Table of Contents
Interests of Community Financial's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger

Certain members of Community Financial's management have interests in the merger in addition to their interests as shareholders of Community Financial. These interests are described below. In each case, Community Financial's board of directors was aware of these potential interests, and considered them, among other matters in approving the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby.

Employment Agreement and Change-In-Control Agreement with Norman C. Smiley, III, President and Chief Executive Officer; Change-In-Control Agreement with Lyle A. Moffett, Senior Vice President of Lending. Both of Norman C. Smiley, III, President and Chief Executive Officer, and Lyle A. Moffett, Senior Vice President of Lending, of Community Bank, have a change-in-control agreement and Mr. Smiley has an employment agreement with Community Bank and Community Financial. Neither will receive payments from Community Bank, Community Financial or City National under those agreements. None of their agreements contain a non-compete or non-solicitation clause. As one of the conditions to City Holding effectuating the merger, both of these individuals must enter into agreements included as Exhibit C-1 and C-2 of the merger agreement, attached hereto as Annex A.

When those City National agreements are executed, the change-in-control agreements with Community Financial and the employment agreement with Community Bank will terminate. Under the new City National agreements, if either individual is involuntarily terminated without cause or voluntarily terminates his City National employment within two years of closing of the merger, he will receive a severance payment to be paid over a two-year period, during which he will be subject to the non-compete and non-solicitation provisions of the new agreement. The non-compete provision covers involvement in any banking or financial services enterprise engaging in business engaged in by City National in its market area, which includes 25 counties in West Virginia, four counties in Kentucky, two counties in Ohio and 13 counties or cities in Virginia. Any severance payments ultimately made by City National are primarily in exchange for City National receiving its extensive non-compete and non-solicitation protection.

Under the new City National agreement, if Mr. Smiley is involuntarily terminated without cause or voluntarily terminates his City National employment within two years of the closing of the merger, he will receive a severance payment of $526,417, to be paid in 24 equal monthly installments, during which he will be subject to the non-compete and non-solicitation provisions of the new agreement. Mr. Moffett's agreement with City National is identical to Mr. Smiley's agreement, except that his payment would be $309,000.

Change-in-Control Agreements with and/or Payments to R. Jerry Giles, Chief Financial Officer, Benny W. Werner, Senior Vice President-Operations and John J. Howerton, Senior Vice President-Retail. Each of these individuals has a change-in-control agreement with Community Financial providing for payment of two years' salary upon a change in control of Community Financial and the termination, or constructive termination of employment of these employees. The merger may constitute a change-in-control event under these agreements because City National does not currently intend to offer these individuals equivalent positions with City Holding or City National. Depending on whether these individuals are employed by City National after the closing of the merger, they will enter into new change-in-control agreements with City National, included as Exhibit D of the merger agreement attached hereto as Annex A, or will receive the required change-in-control payment under the existing Community Financial agreement. These payments will be made after the closing of the merger by City National and will be accounted for as a direct non-interest expense.

The new change-in-control agreements for those officers employed by City National will provide for payments upon a voluntary termination for good reason within 12 months of a change-of-control of City National or upon an involuntary termination without cause within 18 months of a change of control of City National. The payment amount would be up to two times the individual's highest calendar year compensation over the prior three years. The new agreements will also provide that upon involuntary termination prior to the end of 2014, these persons would be entitled to an amount to be negotiated but not to exceed the amount that would have been payable under the Community Bank agreement. The new change-in-control agreements contain a non-solicitation provision, which is not included in the Community Financial agreements.

Change-in-Control Agreements with and/or Payments to Jane Orem, Commercial Loan Officer, and Kathy Bryan, Operations Manager. Each of these individuals has a change-in-control agreement with Community Financial providing for payment of one year's salary upon a change in control of Community Financial and the termination, or constructive termination of employment of these employees. The City Holding acquisition may constitute a change-in-control event under these agreements to the extent that either of these individuals is not offered equivalent positions with City Holding or City National. Depending on whether these individuals are employed by City National after the closing of the merger, they will enter into new change-in-control agreements with City National, included as Exhibit D of the merger agreement attached hereto as Annex A, or will receive the required change-in-control payment under the existing Community Financial agreement. These payments will be made after closing by City National and will be accounted for as a direct non-interest expense.

Severance Payments to All Other Employees of Community Bank. All employees of Community Bank who do not have change-in-control agreements and who are not hired by City National or are hired and then involuntarily terminated other than for cause by City National within nine months of closing of the merger, will receive from City National upon their termination one week of salary per year of service with Community Bank, with a minimum of 10 weeks and a maximum of 26 weeks, plus medical benefits for the same period, if they execute the release agreement attached to the merger agreement.

Voting Agreement

Each director of Community Financial, as part of the merger agreement, has agreed to vote all of the shares of Community Financial common stock that are registered in such director's name for the approval of the merger agreement, subject to the director's fiduciary obligations if a trustee or other fiduciary under law. In addition, each of the directors has agreed not to transfer any shares of Community Financial common stock for the purpose of avoiding such agreement.

Resales of City Holding Common Stock

The shares of City Holding common stock to be issued to shareholders of Community Financial under the merger agreement have been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 and may be freely traded without restriction by holders, including holders who were affiliates of Community Financial on the date of the special meeting.

CERTAIN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE MERGER

General

The following summary sets forth the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to the holders of Community Financial common stock who exchange such stock for (1) shares of City Holding common stock, (2) cash, or (3) a combination of cash and City Holding common stock. The tax consequences under state, local and foreign laws are not addressed in this summary. The following summary is based upon the Internal Revenue Code, Treasury regulations, administrative rulings and court decisions in effect as of the date hereof, all of which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect. Any such change could affect the continuing validity of this summary. No assurance can be given that the Internal Revenue Service would not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any of the tax consequences set forth below.

The following summary addresses only shareholders who are citizens or residents of the United States who hold their Community Financial common stock as a capital asset. It does not address all the tax consequences that may be relevant to particular shareholders in light of their individual circumstances or to shareholders that are subject to special rules, including, without limitation: financial institutions; tax-exempt organizations; S corporations, partnerships or other pass-through entities (or an investor in an S corporation, partnership or other pass-through entity); insurance companies; mutual funds; dealers in stocks or securities, or foreign currencies; foreign holders; a trader in securities who elects the mark-to-market method of accounting for the securities; persons that hold shares as a hedge against currency risk, a straddle or a constructive sale or conversion transaction; holders who acquired their shares pursuant to the exercise of employee stock options or otherwise as compensation or through a tax-qualified retirement plan; holders of Community Financial debt instruments; and holders subject to the alternative minimum tax.

The Merger

No ruling has been, or will be, sought from the Internal Revenue Service as to the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger. Consummation of the merger is conditioned upon City Holding and Community Financial receiving an opinion from Jackson Kelly PLLC to the effect that, based upon facts, representations and assumptions set forth in such opinion, the merger constitutes a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code and that shareholders of Community Financial will not recognize gain or loss on the exchange of their shares of Community Financial common stock solely for City Holding common stock. The issuance of the opinion is conditioned on, among other things, such tax counsel's receipt of representation letters from each of City Holding or Community Financial, in each case in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to such counsel. The opinion of counsel is not binding on the Internal Revenue Service.

Based upon the above assumptions and qualifications, for U.S. federal income tax purposes the merger will constitute a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code. Each of Community Financial and City Holding will be a party to the merger within the meaning of Section 368(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, and neither of Community Financial or City Holding will recognize any gain or loss as a result of the merger.

Consequences to Shareholders

Exchange of Community Financial Common Stock for City Holding Common Stock. A holder of Community Financial common stock who exchanges all of his or her Community Financial common stock solely for City Holding common stock will not recognize income, gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes, except, as discussed below, with respect to cash received in lieu of fractional shares of City Holding common stock.

Cash in Lieu of Fractional Shares. Holders of Community Financial common stock who receive cash in lieu of fractional shares of City Holding common stock in the merger generally will be treated as if the fractional shares of City Holding common stock had been distributed to them as part of the merger, and then redeemed by City Holding in exchange for the cash actually distributed in lieu of the fractional shares, with the redemption generally qualifying as an exchange under Section 302 of the Internal Revenue Code, as described below. Consequently, those holders generally will recognize capital gain or loss with respect to the cash payments they receive in lieu of fractional shares measured by the difference between the amount of cash received and the tax basis allocated to the fractional shares.

Community Financial shareholders are urged to consult their own tax advisors for a full understanding of the tax consequences of these contingent payments.

Possible Treatment of Cash as a Dividend. Whether the cash received by a holder of Community Financial common stock, in those situations described in the immediately preceding three paragraphs, will be treated as capital gain or as ordinary dividend income is determined under the principles of Section 302 of the Internal Revenue Code. In applying these principles, the holder is treated as if shares of City Holding having a fair market value equal to the cash paid to the holder had been distributed by City Holding to the holder with such shares of City Holding common stock then being redeemed by City Holding in return for the cash. If this hypothetical redemption constitutes an exchange under Section 302 of the Internal Revenue Code, taking into account the holder's actual and constructive ownership of Community Financial common stock under Section 318 of the Internal Revenue Code, the holder of Community Financial common stock who receives cash will recognize capital gain measured by the difference between that holder's adjusted basis for the portion of City Holding common stock exchanged and the cash received. If the hypothetical redemption does not qualify as an exchange under Section 302 of the Internal Revenue Code, the cash received by the holder will be treated as ordinary dividend income, generally to the extent of the holder's ratable share of the accumulated earnings and profits of Community Financial and of City Holding. To the extent the cash distribution exceeds the holder's ratable share of accumulated earnings and profits, the amount received will be applied against and reduce the holder's adjusted basis in his or her stock and any excess will be treated as gain from the sale or exchange of the stock.

In general, whether this hypothetical redemption constitutes an exchange under Section 302 of the Internal Revenue Code will depend upon whether and to what extent the hypothetical redemption reduces the holder's percentage stock ownership in City Holding. The hypothetical redemption will be treated as an exchange if, under the principles of Section 302 of the Internal Revenue Code, the hypothetical redemption is (a) substantially disproportionate, (b) not essentially equivalent to a dividend or (c) results in a complete termination of the holder's interest in City Holding common stock.

In general, the determination of whether the hypothetical redemption will be substantially disproportionate will require a comparison of (x) the percentage of the outstanding voting stock of City Holding that the holder of Community Financial common stock is deemed to actually and constructively own immediately before the hypothetical redemption by City Holding and (y) the percentage of the outstanding voting stock of City Holding actually and constructively owned by the holder immediately after the hypothetical redemption by City Holding. Generally, the hypothetical redemption will be substantially disproportionate to a holder of Community Financial common stock if the percentage described in (y) above is less than 80% of the percentage described in (x) above.

Whether the hypothetical redemption is not essentially equivalent to a dividend with respect to the holder will depend on the holder's particular circumstances. In order for the hypothetical redemption to be not essentially equivalent to a dividend, the hypothetical redemption must result in a meaningful reduction in the holder's percentage stock ownership of the merged company's common stock. The Internal Revenue Service has ruled that a minority shareholder in a publicly traded corporation whose relative stock interest is minimal and who exercises no control with respect to corporate affairs is considered to have a meaningful reduction generally if such shareholder has some reduction in such shareholder's percentage stock ownership. Holders should consult their tax advisors as to the applicability of the ruling to their own individual circumstances.

The hypothetical redemption will result in a complete termination of the holder's interest in City Holding common stock if either (i) all of the shares actually and constructively owned by the shareholder are exchanged for cash pursuant to the merger or (ii) all of the shares actually owned by the holder are exchanged pursuant to the merger and the holder is eligible to waive, and effectively waives, the attribution of shares constructively owned by the holder in accordance with the procedures described in Section 302(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code. Only family attribution, as referred to below, may be waived under Section 302(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Constructive Ownership. In applying the constructive ownership provisions of Section 318 of the Internal Revenue Code, a holder of Community Financial common stock may be deemed to own stock that is owned directly or indirectly by other persons, such as certain family members and entities such as trusts, corporations, partnerships or other entities in which the holder has an interest. Because the constructive ownership provisions are complex, holders should consult their tax advisors as to the applicability of these provisions.

Taxation of Capital Gain. Any capital gain recognized by any holder of Community Financial common stock under the above discussion will be long-term capital gain if the holder has held the Community Financial common stock for more than twelve months at the time of the exchange. In the case of a non-corporate holder, that long-term capital gain may be subject to a maximum federal income tax of 15% for 2012, which is scheduled to increase to 20% in 2013. The deductibility of capital losses by shareholders may be limited.

Unearned Income Tax. For 2013, certain taxpayers may be subject to a tax on unearned income of 3.8%. Both capital gains and dividends are treated as unearned income. This additional 3.8% tax will apply to taxpayers with adjusted gross income in excess of the threshold amount ($250,000 married filing jointly and $200,000 for all other taxpayers).

Basis and Holding Period of City Holding Common Stock. Each holder's aggregate tax basis in City Holding common stock received in the merger will be the same as the holder's aggregate tax basis in the Community Financial common stock exchanged, decreased by the amount of any cash received in the merger and the amount of loss recognized by the taxpayer on the exchange and increased by the amount of cash which was treated as a dividend and by any gain recognized in the exchange. The holding period of City Holding common stock received by a holder in the merger will include the holding period of the Community Financial common stock exchanged in the merger to the extent the Community Financial common stock exchanged is held as a capital asset at the time of the merger.

Backup Withholding and Reporting Requirements

Holders of Community Financial common stock, other than certain exempt recipients, may be subject to backup withholding at a current rate of 28% which is scheduled to increase to 31% in 2013 with respect to any cash payment received in the merger in certain circumstances. Generally, however, backup withholding will not apply to any holder who either (a) furnishes a correct taxpayer identification number and certifies that he or she is not subject to backup withholding by completing the substitute Form W-9 that will be included with the transmittal letter, or (b) otherwise proves to City Holding and its exchange agent that the holder is exempt from backup withholding.

Shareholders will also be required to file certain information with their federal income tax returns and to retain certain records with regard to the merger.

The discussion of U.S. federal income tax consequences set forth above is for general information only and does not purport to be a complete analysis or listing of all potential tax effects that may apply to a holder of Community Financial common stock. We strongly encourage shareholders of Community Financial to consult their tax advisors to determine the particular tax consequences to them of the merger, including the application and effect of federal, state, local, foreign and other tax laws.

INFORMATION ABOUT CITY HOLDING

City Holding is a bank holding company headquartered in Charleston, West Virginia. City Holding conducts its principal activities through its wholly-owned subsidiary, City National. Through its network of 73 banking offices in West Virginia (57 offices), Kentucky (8 offices), Ohio (3 offices) and Virginia (5 offices), City National provides credit, deposit, trust and investment management, and insurance products and services to its customers. In addition to its branch network, City National's delivery channels include ATMs, check cards, interactive voice response systems, and internet technology. As of June 30, 2012, City National has approximately 7% of the deposit market share in West Virginia and City Holding is the third largest bank holding company headquartered in West Virginia based on deposit share. City Holding's business activities are currently limited to one reportable business segment, which is community banking.

No portion of City National's deposits are derived from a single person or persons, the loss of which could have a material adverse effect on liquidity, capital, or other elements of financial performance. Although no portion of City National's loan portfolio is concentrated within a single industry or group of related industries, it historically has held residential mortgage loans as a significant portion of its loan portfolio. At September 30, 2012, 55% of City Holding's loan portfolio was categorized as residential mortgage and home equity loans. However, due to the fractionated nature of residential mortgage lending, there is no concentration of credits that would be considered materially detrimental to City Holding's financial position or operating results.

City Holding's business is not seasonal and has no foreign sources or applications of funds. There are no anticipated material capital expenditures, or any expected material effects on earnings or City Holding's competitive position as a result of compliance with federal, state and local provisions enacted or adopted relating to environmental protection.

City Holding's loan portfolio is comprised of commercial and industrial, commercial real estate, residential real estate, home equity, consumer loans, Demand Deposit Account (DDA) overdrafts and previously securitized loans.

The commercial and industrial loan portfolio consists of loans to corporate borrowers primarily in small to mid-size industrial and commercial companies, as well as automobile dealers, service, retail and wholesale merchants. Collateral securing these loans includes equipment, machinery, inventory, receivables and vehicles. Commercial and industrial loans are considered to contain a higher level of risk than other loan types although care is taken to minimize these risks. Numerous risk factors impact this portfolio including industry specific risks such as economy, new technology, labor rates and cyclicalities, as well as customer specific factors, such as cash flow, financial structure, operating controls and asset quality. As of September 30, 2012, City National reported $105.0 million of loans classified as Commercial and Industrial.

Commercial real estate loans consist of commercial mortgages, which generally are secured by nonresidential and multi-family residential properties, including hotel/motel and apartment lending. Commercial real estate loans are to many of the same customers and carry similar industry risks as the commercial and industrial loans. As of September 30, 2012, City Holding reported $787.9 million of loans classified as Commercial Real Estate.

City Holding diversifies risk within the commercial and industrial and commercial real estate portfolios by closely monitoring industry concentrations and portfolios to ensure that it does not exceed established lending guidelines. Diversification is intended to limit the risk of loss from any single unexpected economic event or trend. Underwriting standards require a comprehensive credit analysis and independent evaluation of virtually all larger balance commercial loans by the loan committee prior to approval.

Residential mortgage loans represent loans to consumers for the purchase or refinance of a residence. These loans are generally financed over a 15- to 30-year term, and in most cases, are extended to borrowers to finance their primary residence. In some cases, government agencies or private mortgage insurers guarantee the loan. City Holding sells a significant majority of our fixed-rate originations in the secondary market. As of September 30, 2012, City Holding reported $1.0 billion of loans classified as Residential Real Estate.

Home equity lending includes both home equity loans and lines-of-credit. This type of lending, which is secured by a first- or second-mortgage on the borrower's residence, allows customers to borrow against the equity in their home. Real estate market values as of the time the loan or line is granted directly affect the amount of credit extended. As of September 30, 2012, City Holding reported $143.1 million of loans classified as Home Equity.

Consumer loans are secured by automobiles, boats, recreational vehicles, and other personal property. City Holding monitors the risk associated with these types of loans by monitoring such factors as portfolio growth, lending policies and economic conditions. Underwriting standards are continually evaluated and modified based upon these factors. As of September 30, 2012, City Holding reported $38.3 million of loans classified as Consumer.

DDA overdraft balances reflect demand deposit accounts that have been overdrawn by deposit customers and have been reclassified as loans. As of September 30, 2012, City Holding reported $2.7 million of loans classified as DDA Overdrafts.

City Holding's loan underwriting guidelines and standards are updated periodically and are presented for approval by City Holding's board of directors. The purpose of the standards and guidelines is to grant loans on a sound and collectible basis; to invest available funds in a safe, profitable manner; to serve the legitimate credit needs of the communities in our primary market area; and to ensure that all loan applicants receive fair and equal treatment in the lending process. It is the intent of the underwriting guidelines and standards to: minimize loan losses by carefully investigating the credit history of each applicant, verify the source of repayment and the ability of the applicant to repay, collateralize those loans in which collateral is deemed to be required, exercise care in the documentation of the application, review, approval, and origination process, and administer a comprehensive loan collection program. The above guidelines are adhered to and subject to the experience, background and personal judgment of the loan officer assigned to the loan application.

City Holding categorizes commercial loans by industry according to the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) to monitor the portfolio for possible concentrations in one or more industries. As of September 30, 2012, City Holding has no industry classifications that exceeded 10% of total loans.

For more information regarding City Holding, please see City Holding's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the Quarter ended September 30, 2012 and its proxy statement for its 2012 Annual Meeting of Shareholders, all of which are incorporated into this proxy statement/prospectus by reference.

Director of Community Financial and Community Bank Who Will Become a Director of City Holding and City National

This paragraph provides information as of the date hereof about Charles W. Fairchilds who will serve on the board of directors of City Holding and City National after the effective date of the merger. Mr. Fairchilds (Age 64) has been a director of Community Financial and/or Community Bank since 1996. Mr. Fairchilds was President of Allied Ready Mix Company in Waynesboro from 1987 until his retirement in January 2009. In this role, he was responsible for all aspects of three operating divisions that specialized in construction materials and employed over 150 people. Prior to joining Allied Ready Mix Company, Mr. Fairchilds owned and operated his own machine shop business in Waynesboro, Virginia for five years. Mr. Fairchilds started his manufacturing career with Cummins Engine Company in 1973, holding various manufacturing positions within the company, including serving as Plant Manager of the Columbus Engine Plant which had over a million square feet of space and housed 5,500 employees, until his departure in 1983. During his time in Waynesboro and Augusta County, Mr. Fairchilds has served his community in a variety of different roles including President of the Waynesboro YMCA and the Waynesboro/East Augusta Chamber of Commerce. He began serving on the Community Bank board in 1996 and is currently the Chairman of the Audit Committee. Mr. Fairchilds earned his MBA at the University of Virginia. As a result of his education and professional experiences, Mr. Fairchilds is expected to bring strong leadership, management, finance and accounting skills to the board of City Holding and City National. During fiscal 2012, fees paid for Mr. Fairchild's service as a director totaled $14,000.

Loans and Related Transactions with Executive Officers and Directors

Community Bank has followed a policy of granting loans to officers and directors. These loans are made in the ordinary course of business and on the same terms and conditions as those of comparable transactions with the general public prevailing at the time, in accordance with our underwriting guidelines, and do not involve more than the normal risk of collectibility or present other unfavorable features. All loans that Community Bank makes to directors and executive officers are subject to Office of the Comptroller of the Currency regulations restricting loans and other transactions with affiliated persons of Community Bank. All loans to directors and executive officers were performing in accordance with their terms at September 30, 2012.

The Audit Committee of the board of directors is responsible for the review and approval of all related party transactions for potential conflict of interest situations. A related party transaction is a transaction required to be disclosed pursuant to SEC Regulation S-K, Item 404. While there are no written policies or procedures regarding the Audit Committee's review of related party transactions, the committee must review the material facts of any related party transaction and approve the transaction. If advance approval is not practicable, then the committee must ratify the related party transaction at its next scheduled meeting or the transaction must be rescinded. In making its determination to approve or ratify the transaction, the committee will consider such factors as (i) the extent of the related party's interest in the related party transaction; (ii) if applicable, the availability of other sources of comparable products or services; (iii) whether the terms of the related party transaction are no less favorable than terms generally available in unaffiliated transactions under like circumstances; (iv) the benefit to City Holding; and (v) the aggregate value of the related party transaction. During fiscal 2012, there were no related party transactions between Community Financial (or its subsidiary) and any of its directors, executive officers and/or their related interests.

Employment Agreements. At March 31, 2012, Community Bank had an employment agreement with Mr. Smiley for his services as President of Community Bank. Mr. Smiley's employment agreement provides for an annual base salary of not less than his annual base salary for the prior year. The agreement provides for annual extensions of one year in addition to the then-remaining term, subject to a formal performance evaluation of the executive and approval of the one year extension by Community Bank's board of directors. Mr. Smiley is also entitled to participate (i) in performance-based and discretionary bonuses, if any, as are authorized and declared by the board of directors and (ii) employee benefit and welfare programs applicable to executive officers, subject to any limitation that might be imposed as a result of Community Financial's participation in the U.S. Treasury Department's Capital Purchase Program. The agreement provides for termination of the executive upon his death, an illness which causes the executive to be unable to perform his duties under the agreement on a full-time basis for six consecutive months, for cause and in certain events specified by banking regulations.

Mr. Smiley, if he had been terminated without cause or resigned for good reason at March 31, 2012, would have been entitled to receive for 12 months following the date of his termination, an amount equal to his annual base salary under his agreement plus any bonus paid during the 12 months preceding his termination or resignation. In addition, Community Bank would also be required to maintain in full force and effect for the continued benefit of Mr. Smiley for 12 months following the effective date of his termination or resignation, as the case may be, at no cost to him, substantially the same health and other benefits available to him in effect immediately prior to such termination. The foregoing payments would be reduced by any cash compensation or health and other benefits actually paid to, or receivable by, Mr. Smiley from another employer during the period he is receiving post-termination compensation benefits from Community Bank. In the event Mr. Smiley is terminated for cause, he would have no further rights under the employment agreement.

In the event Mr. Smiley's employment is terminated in connection with or following a change in control (as defined in his change of control agreement with Community Financial), then he will be entitled to receive, in lieu of the amounts described in the preceding paragraph, a cash payment in an amount not to exceed 2.99 times his base amount as determined under Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. The terms of the change of control agreement are set forth under - Change of Control Agreements - below.

Change of Control Agreements. As of September 30, 2012, Community Financial had a change of control agreement with each of Messrs. Smiley, Giles and Howerton. These agreements remain in effect until canceled by either party, upon at least 24 months prior written notice to the other party. Under these agreements, the executive generally is entitled to a change of control payment from Community Financial if he is terminated (or for Mr. Smiley, if he resigns for good reason) within six months preceding or 24 months after a change in control (as defined in the agreements). In such an event, Mr. Smiley would be entitled to receive (i) a cash payment in an amount not to exceed 2.99 times his base amount as determined under Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended and (ii) for one year from the date of termination, substantially the same health and other benefits available to him in effect immediately prior to such termination at no additional cost to him. The foregoing payments would be in lieu of any amounts owed to Mr. Smiley under his employment agreement discussed above and would also be reduced by any cash compensation or health and other benefits actually paid to, or receivable by, him from another employer during the period he is receiving post-termination compensation benefits. Messrs. Giles and Howerton would each be entitled to receive a cash payment in an amount equal to 24 months of their then current salary.

All of the above payments that would be made in connection with a change in control are subject to cut-back to the extent the payments would result in either the loss of a tax deduction to Community Financial or the imposition of a penalty tax on the executive.

Tax-Qualified Pension Plan. Community Financial's subsidiary, Community Bank, has a noncontributory defined benefit pension plan (Pension Plan) covering substantially all of the employees of Community Financial and Community Bank who have met minimum service requirements, excluding hourly employees. The benefits under this Pension Plan are not subject to Social Security or other offsets.

Salary Continuation Agreements. The Bank has entered into a Salary Continuation Agreement with Messrs. Smiley and Giles. Benefits will commence upon the later of the executive reaching age 65 or the executive's termination of service, at a benefit level equal to 20% and 25%, respectively, of his final pay, as defined, and will be paid for a period of 15 years, except in the case of an executive's voluntary termination of employment prior to reaching normal retirement age or termination for cause. In the event of an executive's voluntary termination of employment prior to reaching age 65, Community Bank will pay the executive, over 15 years, the accrued balance in the executive's account. In the event of an executive's termination of employment for cause (as defined in the agreement), no benefit shall be payable under the Salary Continuation Agreement. Benefits payable under these agreements are unfunded, unsecured obligations of Community Bank. The cost of benefits payable under the retirement agreements are expected to be offset by the earnings and death benefits from life insurance purchased by Community Bank.

Executive Compensation Restrictions and Limitations Resulting from Participation in Treasury's Capital Purchase Program

In December 2008, Community Financial participated in the Capital Purchase Program (referred to in this section as the "CPP") through which the U.S. Treasury Department invested approximately $12.6 million in exchange for our preferred stock and warrants for our common stock. The CPP mandates that we implement certain restrictions and limitations on executive compensation. In particular, it requires a review to ensure our incentive compensation programs do not encourage our senior executive officers to take excessive risks and limits our tax deductions for senior executive pay.

On February 17, 2009, President Obama signed into law the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (the "ARRA"). The ARRA amends, among other things, the CPP legislation by directing the U.S. Treasury Department to issue regulations implementing strict limitations on compensation paid or accrued by financial institutions, like us, participating in the CPP. Except as expressly mentioned otherwise, the foregoing discussion under "Executive Compensation of Executive Officers" does not address the effect, if any, compliance with the ARRA may have on our executive compensation programs.

The authorized capital stock of City Holding consists of 50,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $2.50 per share, and 500,000 shares of preferred stock, par value of $25.00 per share. City Holding has 14,833,283 shares of common stock issued (including 3,665,999 shares held as treasury shares) and no shares of preferred stock issued, each as of November 21, 2012. The outstanding shares are held by approximately 2,848 shareholders of record, as of November 15. All outstanding shares of City Holding common stock are fully paid and non-assessable. The unissued portion of City Holding's authorized common stock (subject to registration approval by the SEC) and the treasury shares are available for issuance as the board of directors of City Holding determines advisable.

Common Stock

Voting Rights. City Holding has only one class of stock issued and outstanding and all voting rights are vested in the holders of City Holding's common stock. On all matters subject to a vote of shareholders, the shareholders of City Holding will be entitled to one vote for each share of common stock owned. Shareholders of City Holding have cumulative voting rights with regard to election of directors. At the present time, no senior securities of City Holding are outstanding, nor does the board of directors presently contemplate issuing senior securities.

Dividend Rights. The shareholders of City Holding are entitled to receive dividends when and as declared by its board of directors. Dividends were $1.37 per share in 2011, $1.36 per share in 2010 and $1.36 per share in 2009. The dividends paid in the first nine months of 2012, were $1.05 per share. The payment of dividends is subject to the restrictions set forth in the West Virginia Corporation Act and the limitations imposed by the Federal Reserve.

Payment of dividends by City Holding is dependent upon receipt of dividends from its banking subsidiary. City National is subject to various statutory restrictions on its ability to pay dividends to City Holding. Specifically, the approval of the OCC is required prior to the payment of dividends by City National in excess of its earnings retained in the current year plus retained net profits for the preceding two years. The payment of dividends by City Holding and City National may also be limited by other factors, such as requirements to maintain adequate capital above regulatory guidelines. The OCC has the authority to prohibit any bank under its jurisdiction from engaging in an unsafe and unsound practice in conducting its business. Depending upon the financial condition of City National, the payment of dividends could be deemed to constitute such an unsafe or unsound practice. The Federal Reserve Board and the OCC have indicated their view that it generally would be an unsafe and unsound practice to pay dividends except out of current operating earnings. The Federal Reserve Board has stated that, as a matter of prudent banking, a bank or bank holding company should not maintain its existing rate of cash dividends on common stock unless (1) the organization's net income available to common shareholders over the past year has been sufficient to fund fully the dividends and (2) the prospective rate of earnings retention appears consistent with the organization's capital needs, asset quality, and overall financial condition. Moreover, the Federal Reserve Board has indicated that bank holding companies should serve as a source of managerial and financial strength to their subsidiary banks. Accordingly, the Federal Reserve Board has stated that a bank holding company should not maintain a level of cash dividends to its shareholders that places undue pressure on the capital of bank subsidiaries, or that can be funded only through additional borrowings or other arrangements that may undermine the bank holding company's ability to serve as a source of strength.

Liquidation Rights. Upon any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of its affairs, the holders of City Holding common stock are entitled to receive pro rata all of the assets of City Holding for distribution to shareholders. There are no redemption or sinking fund provisions applicable to the common stock.

Assessment and Redemption. Shares of City Holding common stock presently outstanding are validly issued, fully paid and non-assessable. There is no provision for any voluntary redemption of City Holding common stock.

Transfer Agent and Registrar. The transfer agent and registrar for City Holding's common stock is Computershare Investor Services, LLC.

Preferred Stock

The authorized preferred stock may be issued by the City Holding board of directors in one or more series, from time to time, with each such series to consist of such number of shares and to have such voting powers, full or limited, or no voting powers, and such designations, preferences and relative, participating, optional or other special rights, and the qualifications, limitations or restrictions thereof, as shall be stated in the resolution or resolutions providing for the issuance of such series adopted by the City Holding board of directors. Currently, no shares of preferred stock have been issued.

The authorization of preferred stock will not have an immediate effect on the holders of City Holding common stock. The actual effect of the issuance of any shares of preferred stock upon the rights of the holders of common stock cannot be stated until the City Holding board of directors determines the specific rights of any shares of preferred stock. However, the effects might include, among other things, restricting dividends on common stock, diluting the voting power of common stock, reducing the market price of common stock or impairing the liquidation rights of the common stock without further action by the shareholders. Holders of the common stock will not have preemptive rights with respect to the preferred stock.

Preemptive Rights

No holder of any share of the capital stock of City Holding has any preemptive right to subscribe to an additional issue of its capital stock or to any security convertible into such stock.

Certain Provisions of the Bylaws

Indemnification and Limitations on Liability of Officers and Directors. As permitted by the West Virginia Business Corporation Act, the articles of incorporation of City Holding contain provisions that indemnify its directors and officers to the fullest extent permitted by West Virginia law. These provisions do not limit or eliminate the rights of City Holding or any shareholder to seek an injunction or any other non-monetary relief in the event of a breach of a director's or officer's fiduciary duty. In addition, these provisions apply only to claims against a director or officer arising out of his role as a director or officer and do not relieve a director or officer from liability if he engaged in willful misconduct or a knowing violation of the criminal law or any federal or state securities law.

In addition, the articles of incorporation of City Holding provide for the indemnification of both directors and officers for expenses that they incur in connection with the defense or settlement of claims asserted against them in their capacities as directors and officers. This right of indemnification extends to judgments or penalties assessed against them. City Holding has limited its exposure to liability for indemnification of directors and officers by purchasing directors' and officers' liability insurance coverage.

The rights of indemnification provided in the articles of incorporation of City Holding are not exclusive of any other rights that may be available under any insurance or other agreement, by vote of shareholders or disinterested directors or otherwise.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers or persons controlling City Holding pursuant to the foregoing provisions, City Holding has been informed that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and is therefore unenforceable.

Shares Eligible for Future Sale

All of the City Holding shares that will be exchanged for shares of Community Financial common stock upon consummation of the merger will be freely tradable without restriction or registration under the Securities Act.

City Holding cannot predict the effect, if any, that future sales of shares of its common stock, or the availability of shares for future sales, will have on the market price prevailing from time to time. Sales of substantial amounts of shares of City Holding common stock, or the perception that such sales could occur, could adversely affect the prevailing market price of the shares.

COMPARISON OF THE RIGHTS OF SHAREHOLDERS

In the merger, Community Financial shareholders will exchange their shares of Community Financial common stock for shares of City Holding common stock. City Holding is organized under the laws of the State of West Virginia and Community Financial is organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia. On consummation of the merger, some of Community Financial's shareholders will become City Holding shareholders, and the Articles of Incorporation of City Holding Company (the "City Holding Articles") and the Amended and Restated Bylaws of City Holding Company (the "City Holding Bylaws") will govern their rights as City Holding shareholders.

The following summary discusses some of the material differences between the current rights of City Holding shareholders and Community Financial shareholders under the City Holding Articles, City Holding Bylaws, the Articles of Incorporation of Community Financial (the "Community Financial Articles"), and the Bylaws of Community Financial (the "Community Financial Bylaws"). The statements in this section are qualified in their entirety by reference to, and are subject to, the detailed provisions of the Virginia Stock Corporation Act, the West Virginia Business Corporation Act (the "WVBCA"), and the articles of incorporation and bylaws of City Holding and Community Financial, respectively.

Voting Rights and Cumulative Voting

City Holding. Each holder of City Holding common stock generally has the right to cast one vote for each share of City Holding common stock held of record on all matters submitted to a vote of shareholders of City Holding. If City Holding issues shares of preferred stock, holders of the preferred stock may also possess voting rights. The WVBCA and the City Holding Bylaws allow a shareholder to cumulate his votes in the election of directors.

Community Financial. Each holder of Community Financial common stock generally has the right to cast one vote for each share of Community Financial common stock held of record on all matters submitted to a vote of shareholders of Community Financial. Holders of Community Financial TARP preferred stock generally do not have voting rights. Shareholders are not permitted to cumulate votes in the election of directors.

Liquidation

In the event of liquidation, dissolution or winding up of City Holding or Community Financial, the holders of shares of common stock will be entitled to receive, after payment or provision for payment of City Holding's and Community Financial's debts and other liabilities and of all shares having priority over the common stock, a ratable share of the remaining assets of City Holding or Community Financial, respectively.

Preemptive Rights

Holders of City Holding and Community Financial common stock are not entitled to preemptive rights with respect to any shares which may be issued.

Preferred Stock

The merger agreement prohibits Community Financial's board of directors from issuing preferred stock prior to the effective time of the merger. The boards of directors of City Holding and Community Financial are generally authorized to issue preferred stock in series and to fix and state the voting powers, designations, preferences and other rights of the shares of each such series and the limitations thereof. City Holding's preferred stock may rank prior to its common stock as to dividend rights, liquidation preferences or both, and may have full or limited voting rights. The holders of such preferred stock will be entitled to vote as a separate class or series under certain circumstances, regardless of any other voting rights which such holders may have.

Issuance of Additional Shares

City Holding. Except in connection with the proposed merger with Community Financial, the exercise of stock options and as otherwise provided herein, City Holding has no specific plans for the issuance of the additional authorized shares of its common stock or for the issuance of any shares of preferred stock. In the future, the authorized but unissued and unreserved shares of City Holding common stock will be available for general corporate purposes including, but not limited to, possible issuance as stock dividends or stock splits, in future mergers or acquisitions, under a cash dividend reinvestment and stock purchase plan, or in future underwritten or other public or private offerings. The authorized but unissued shares of City Holding preferred stock will similarly be available for issuance in future mergers or acquisitions, in future underwritten public offerings or private placements or for other general corporate purposes.

Section 31D-6-621 of the WVBCA authorizes the board of directors of a West Virginia corporation to authorize the issuance of additional shares, unless the corporation's articles of incorporation reserve such a right for the corporation's shareholders. In accordance with the City Holding Articles, except as otherwise required to approve the transaction in which the additional authorized shares of City Holding common stock or authorized shares of preferred stock would be issued, no shareholder approval will be required for the issuance of these shares. Accordingly, City Holding's board of directors, without shareholder approval, may issue preferred stock with voting and conversion rights which could adversely affect the voting power of the holders of City Holding common stock subject to the restrictions imposed on the issuance of such shares by The Nasdaq Stock Market.

Community Financial. Community Financial has no specific plans for the issuance of additional shares of its capital stock. The authorized but unissued and unreserved shares of Community Financial capital stock are available for general corporate purposes including, but not limited to, possible issuance as stock dividends or stock splits, in future mergers or acquisitions, pursuant to stock purchase or similar plans, or in future underwritten or other public or private offerings.

Section 13.1-643 of the VSCA authorizes the board of directors of a Virginia corporation to authorize the issuance of additional shares unless the corporation's articles of incorporation reserve such a right for the corporation's shareholders. In accordance with the Community Financial Articles, except as otherwise required to approve the transaction in which the additional authorized shares of Community Financial common stock or Community Financial preferred stock would be issued, no shareholder approval will be required for the issuance of these shares. Accordingly, Community Financial's board of directors, without shareholder approval, may issue preferred stock with voting and conversion rights which could adversely affect the voting power of the holders of Community Financial common stock and Community Financial preferred stock.

Number and Restrictions upon Directors

City Holding. The City Holding Bylaws provide that the size of the City Holding board of directors shall range between five and twenty-five directors, with the exact number of directors to be fixed from time to time exclusively by the City Holding board of directors pursuant to a resolution adopted by a majority of the total number of directors, subject to certain conditions.

The City Holding Bylaws provide that directors of City Holding need not be residents of the State of West Virginia. No board member may serve beyond the annual meeting following the date that he or she shall attain age 75.

Community Financial. The Community Financial Bylaws provide that the number of directors constituting the Community Financial board of directors shall be eight directors.

Removal from Board

City Holding. Under the WVBCA, any member of a corporation's board of directors may be removed, with or without cause, by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the votes entitled to be cast for the election of directors; provided, however, that a director may not be removed if the number of votes sufficient to elect the director under cumulative voting is voted against the director's removal. The City Holding Bylaws provide that a director may be removed by the affirmative vote of a majority of shareholders.

Community Financial. Under the VSCA and the Community Financial Articles, any member of Community Financial's board of directors may be removed, for cause, by the affirmative vote of a majority of all votes entitled to be cast for the election of directors.

Special Meetings of the Board

City Holding. The City Holding Bylaws provide that special meetings of the City Holding board of directors may be called by any three directors or by the president of City Holding upon not less than one day's notice.

Community Financial. The Community Financial Bylaws provide that special meetings of the Community Financial board of directors may be called by the chairman of the board or the president upon not less than 24 hours' notice.

Classified Board of Directors

The City Holding Bylaws and the Community Financial Articles provide that their companies' respective boards of directors will be divided into three classes, with directors in each class elected for three-year staggered terms. Therefore, it could take two annual elections to replace a majority of the board of directors of City Holding or Community Financial, respectively.

Indemnification

City Holding. The WVBCA provides in part that each West Virginia corporation has the power to indemnify any director against liability incurred in a proceeding against him by reason of being or having been such director (other than in an action by or in the right of the corporation) if he acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, or, in the case of any criminal proceeding, he had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. With respect to an action by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in the proceeding as to which he meets the foregoing standard of conduct, a director may not be indemnified. A director also may not be indemnified unless ordered by a court if he is adjudged liable on the basis that he received a financial benefit to which he was not entitled. A West Virginia corporation may make any other or further indemnity to any such persons that may be authorized by the corporation's articles of incorporation.

A corporation must indemnify a director who was wholly successful on the merits in the proceeding against reasonable expenses of the proceeding. A corporation may advance expenses incurred by a director in such a proceeding if he affirms he has met the standard of conduct and agrees to return the advanced expenses if it is determined he has not met this standard.

The City Holding Articles provide that City Holding shall indemnify any current or former officer or director of City Holding or a person serving as an officer or director of another corporation at City Holding's request against costs and expenses incurred by him in connection with a claim or proceeding against him by reason of his being or having been an officer or director, unless the claim or proceeding relates to matters as to which the officer or director has been adjudged to be liable for gross negligence or willful misconduct in the performance of his duty to the corporation. To the extent that City Holding board of directors determines that a settlement is in City Holding's best interests, City Holding shall reimburse the officer or director for any amounts paid in effecting the settlement and for reasonable expenses associated therewith.

Community Financial. Unless its articles of incorporation provide otherwise, a Virginia corporation must indemnify a director who entirely prevails in the defense of any proceeding to which he was a party because he is or was a director of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by him in connection with the proceeding.

The Community Financial Articles provide that Community Financial shall indemnify any current or former officer or director of Community Financial, and may indemnify a person serving as a director, trustee, partner or officer of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise at Community Financial's request, against costs and expenses incurred by him in connection with a claim or proceeding against him by reason of him being or having been an officer or director, to the fullest extent permitted under Virginia law. The Community Financial board of directors may, by a majority vote of a quorum of disinterested directors, enter into a contract to indemnify any director or officer in respect of any proceedings arising from any act or omission, whether occurring before or after the execution of such contract.

Special Meetings of Shareholders

City Holding. The City Holding Articles provide that a special meeting of shareholders may be called at any time by the City Holding board of directors, or by the president and secretary, or by any three or more shareholders holding together not less than ten percent (10%) of the shares of City Holding, in accordance with the WVBCA.

Community Financial. The Community Financial Bylaws provide that a special meeting of shareholders may be called at any time by the chairman of the board, the president, or a majority of the board of directors.

Shareholder Nominations

City Holding. The City Holding Bylaws provide that the City Holding board of directors or any City Holding shareholder entitled to vote in the election of directors may nominate persons for election to City Holding's board of directors pursuant to certain procedures set forth in the City Holding Bylaws. A shareholder nominating a person for the board of directors must give notice to City Holding's secretary not less than 120 days prior to the first anniversary of the previous year's annual meeting unless the dates of the annual meeting has changed by more than 30 days from the anniversary date of the previous year's annual meeting in which case notice must be received not later than 120 calendar days prior to such annual meeting or 10 calendar days following the date on which public announcement of the meeting date is first made. If no annual meeting was held in the previous year or the date of the annual meeting was changed by more than 30 days from the anniversary date of the previous year's annual meeting, the shareholder must give notice not later than 120 calendar days prior to such annual meeting or 10 calendar days following the date on which public announcement of the meeting is first made.

Community Financial. The Community Financial Bylaws provide that shareholders entitled to vote in the election of directors may nominate persons for election to Community Financial's board of directors. A shareholder nominating a person for the board of directors must give notice to Community Financial's secretary not less than 60 days before the date of the annual meeting.

Notice of Shareholder Proposals

City Holding. Pursuant to the City Holding Bylaws, shareholder proposals must be submitted to City Holding's secretary not less than 120 days prior to the meeting at which such proposals are to be considered. If no annual meeting was held in the previous year or the date of the annual meeting was changed by more than 30 days from the anniversary date of the previous year's annual meeting, the shareholder must give notice not later than 120 calendar days prior to such annual meeting or 10 calendar days following the date on which public announcement of the meeting is first made.

Community Financial. Pursuant to the Community Financial Bylaws, shareholder proposals must be submitted to Community Financial's secretary not less than 60 days prior to the anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting.

Amendment of Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws

City Holding. Under the WVBCA, the City Holding Articles generally may be amended by the affirmative vote of a majority of all votes of shareholders entitled to be cast on a matter and a majority of the outstanding stock of each class entitled to vote on the amendment, unless a greater number is specified in the articles of incorporation. The City Holding Articles do not require a greater vote.

The City Holding Bylaws may be amended only by a majority vote of the directors of City Holding.

Community Financial. The Community Financial Articles generally may be amended by the affirmative vote of a majority of the total votes entitled to be cast by each voting group entitled to vote on the amendment.

The Community Financial Bylaws may be amended by a majority vote of the directors of Community Financial or by a majority vote of the shareholders voting in the election of directors.

Factors in Board Decision-Making

City Holding. Neither the City Holding Articles nor the WVBCA addresses the factors that may be considered by a board of directors in its decision-making process when considering acquisition or merger proposals.

Community Financial. Similar to City Holding, neither the Community Financial Articles nor the VSCA addresses the factors that may be considered by a board of directors in its decision-making process when considering acquisition or merger proposals.

Business Combinations with Interested Parties

City Holding. West Virginia corporate law does not contain statutory provisions restricting certain business combinations. Additionally, the City Holding Articles do not contain special provisions related to business combinations with interested parties.

Table of Contents

Community Financial. The Affiliated Transactions Statute of the VSCA contains provisions governing affiliated transactions. These include various transactions such as mergers, share exchanges, sales, leases, or other dispositions of material assets, issuances of securities, dissolutions, and similar transactions with an interested shareholder. An interested shareholder is generally the beneficial owner of more than 10% of any class of a corporation's outstanding voting shares. During the three years following the date a shareholder becomes an interested shareholder, any affiliated transaction with the interested shareholder must be approved by both a majority of the disinterested directors (those directors who were directors before the interested shareholder became an interested shareholder or who were recommended for election by a majority of disinterested directors) and by the affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds of the corporation's voting shares other than shares beneficially owned by the interested shareholder. These requirements do not apply to affiliated transactions if, among other things, a majority of the disinterested directors approve the interested shareholder's acquisition of voting shares making such a person an interested shareholder before such acquisition. Beginning three years after the shareholder becomes an interested shareholder, the corporation may engage in an affiliated transaction with the interested shareholder if:

the transaction is approved by the holders of two-thirds of the corporation's voting shares, other than shares beneficially owned by the interested shareholder;

the affiliated transaction has been approved by a majority of the disinterested directors; or subject to certain additional requirements, in the affiliated transaction the holders of each class or series of voting shares will receive consideration meeting specified fair price and other requirements designed to ensure that all shareholders receive fair and equivalent consideration, regardless of when they tendered their shares.

The Affiliated Transactions Statute is only applicable to corporations that have more than 300 shareholders. Corporations may opt out of the Affiliated Transactions Statute in their articles of incorporation or bylaws. Community Financial has opted-out of the Affiliated Transactions Statute and the Community Financial Articles do not contain special provisions related to business combinations with interested parties.

PROPOSAL TWO: ADJOURNMENT OF THE SPECIAL MEETING

In the event that there are not sufficient votes to constitute a quorum at the time of the special meeting, the meeting will be adjourned or postponed to a later date or dates in order to permit further solicitation of proxies. In order to allow proxies that have been received at the time of the meeting to be voted for an adjournment, if necessary, to solicit proxies to approve the merger agreement, Community Financial is submitting this question to its shareholders as a separate matter for their consideration. The board of directors of Community Financial recommends that its shareholders vote FOR the proposal to adjourn or postpone the meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary, to permit further solicitation of proxies in the event there are not sufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the merger agreement. If it is necessary to adjourn or postpone the special meeting, no notice of such adjourned or postponed meeting is required to be given to Community Financial's shareholders, other than an announcement at the special meeting of the place, date and time to which the meeting is adjourned or postponed.

The adjournment proposal will be approved if the number of shares, represented in person or by proxy at the special meeting and entitled to vote thereon, voted in favor of the proposal exceeds the number of shares voted against such proposal. Therefore, if you mark ABSTAIN on your proxy with respect to the adjournment proposal, or if you fail to vote or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the adjournment proposal, it will have no effect on the compensation proposal.

The board of directors of Community Financial recommends that you vote FOR approval of this proposal.

Table of ContentsPROPOSAL THREE: ADVISORY (NON-BINDING) VOTE*ON THE COMPENSATION PROPOSAL

The following table sets forth the amount of payments and benefits that each of the named executive officers of Community Financial would receive in connection with the merger, assuming the merger was completed on November 21, 2012, and that each of them incurred a severance-qualifying termination on such date. These payments and benefits are the subject of an advisory (non-binding) vote of Community Financial's shareholders.

On June 18, 2012, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) informed Community Bank that it was deemed to be in troubled condition due to its deteriorated financial condition and high level of risk exposure associated with its asset quality. On August 9, 2012, Community Bank entered into an Agreement with the OCC which requires Community Bank to take certain actions to strengthen management and improve asset quality, lending, risk management, liquidity, profit, capital and other matters. This Agreement repeats the troubled condition designation already in place. Federal law may limit or prohibit certain payments to employees of banks which are designated as troubled. City Holding and City National Bank have filed applications with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation asserting that these limitations do not apply to City Holding and City National but seeking permission to make these payments if those regulatory agencies do not agree. The merger agreement provides that City Holding and City National are not obligated to make any payments or enter into any agreements which are not permitted by law.

The Agreement provides that entry into agreements with Norman C. Smiley and Lyle Moffett are conditions to closing of the merger. In the event that City Holding and City National are not permitted to enter into the agreements with Mr. Smiley and Mr. Moffett, then the conditions will have to be waived by the parties or alternative arrangements which are acceptable to the regulatory agencies will have to be substituted in order to close the merger.

Section 14A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 adopted pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act requires that any proxy statement relating to a meeting of shareholders at which shareholders are asked to approve a merger must disclose any type of compensation payable to the acquired company's named executive officers in connection with the transaction, and must include a separate resolution subject to a shareholder advisory (non-binding) vote to approve any such compensation. The tables and the narrative contained in this proxy statement/prospectus under The Merger Interests of Community Financial's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger provide the required disclosures of the compensation that may be paid or become payable to Community Financial's named executive officers in connection with the merger and the agreements and understandings pursuant to which such compensation may be paid or become payable. The following resolution, which Community Financial's shareholders are being asked to adopt, provides Community Financial's shareholders with the opportunity to cast an advisory (non-binding) vote on such compensation:

RESOLVED, that the shareholders of Community Financial Corporation, in connection with the merger of Community Financial Corporation with and into City Holding Company, and the agreements and understandings pursuant to which such compensation may be paid or become payable, as disclosed in the table in the section of the proxy statement/prospectus dated November 21, 2012, entitled, The Merger Interests of Community Financial s Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger .

The vote on the compensation proposal is a vote separate and apart from the vote to approve the merger agreement. You may vote for the compensation proposal and against the proposal to approve the merger agreement, and vice versa. Because the vote on the compensation proposal is advisory only, it will not be binding on either Community Financial or City Holding. Accordingly, because City Holding is contractually obligated to pay the compensation, if the merger is completed and subject to the non-objection of applicable banking regulators, the compensation will be payable subject only to the conditions applicable thereto, regardless of the outcome of the advisory vote.

Community Financial s board of directors recommends that you vote FOR the compensation proposal.

- B. Community Financial has 10,000,000 authorized shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share (Community Financial Common Stock), of which 4,361,658 shares are presently issued and outstanding, and 3,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.01 and liquidation value of $1,000 per share (Community Financial Preferred Stock), of which 12,643 shares are presently issued and outstanding (collectively, Community Financial Shares). Community Financial has also issued a Warrant to Purchase 351,194 shares of Community Financial Common Stock at an exercise price of $5.40 per share, dated December 19, 2008 (the Warrant);
- C. CHC has 50,000,000 authorized shares of common stock, par value $2.50 per share (CHC Common Stock), and 500,000 authorized shares of preferred stock, par value $25.00 per share, of which 14,820,633 shares of CHC Common Stock and no shares of preferred stock are presently issued and outstanding;
- D. Community Financial owns all of the issued and outstanding shares of Community Bank's common stock. CHC owns all of the issued and outstanding shares of capital stock of City National. In addition to the Company Merger, the parties desire to effect a merger of Community Bank with and into City National, with City National being the surviving entity in the merger (the Subsidiary Merger);
- E. The Boards of Directors of Community Financial, Community Bank, CHC, and City National, respectively, each have determined that it is in the best interests of their respective organizations and shareholders to effect the mergers; and
- F. It is the intention of the parties to this Agreement that the business combinations contemplated hereby each be treated as a reorganization under Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code).

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises, and of the mutual covenants, representations, warranties and agreements contained herein, the parties agree as follows:

Article I

The Company Merger

1.01 The Company Merger. On the Effective Time (as defined below) or as soon thereafter as possible, the Company Merger contemplated by this Agreement shall occur and in furtherance thereof:

(a) Structure and Effects of the Company Merger. Community Financial shall merge with and into CHC, and the separate corporate existence of Community Financial shall thereupon cease. CHC shall be the surviving corporation in the Company Merger (sometimes hereinafter referred to as the Surviving Corporation) and shall continue to be governed by the laws of the State of West Virginia, and the separate corporate existence of CHC with all its rights, privileges, immunities, powers and franchises shall continue unaffected by the Company Merger. Article III

Consideration

3.01 Consideration. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, at the Effective Time:

(a) Each holder of a share of Community Financial Common Stock issued and outstanding prior to the Effective Time (other than shares held directly or indirectly by CHC, except shares held by CHC in a fiduciary capacity or in satisfaction of a debt previously contracted, if any) shall receive in respect thereof 0.1753 shares of CHC Common Stock (the Exchange Ratio) for each share of Community Financial Common Stock (the Merger Consideration).

(b) Each share of Community Financial Common Stock that, immediately prior to the Effective Time, is held directly or indirectly by CHC, other than shares held in a fiduciary capacity or in satisfaction of a debt previously contracted, shall by virtue of the Company Merger be canceled and retired and shall cease to exist, and no exchange or payment shall be made therefor.

(c) Each share of CHC Common Stock that is issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall continue to be an issued and outstanding share of CHC Common Stock at and after the Effective Time.

3.02 Rights as Shareholders; Stock Transfers. At the Effective Time, holders of Community Financial Common Stock shall cease to be, and shall have no rights as, shareholders of Community Financial, other than the right to receive (a) any dividend or other distribution with respect to such Community Financial Common Stock with a record date occurring prior to the Effective Date, and (b) the per share Merger Consideration for each share of Community Financial Common Stock, as provided under this Article III. 3.03 Fractional Shares. The CHC Average Closing Price shall equal the average of the per share closing prices of a share of CHC Common Stock as reported on the Nasdaq Global Select Market during the ten (10) trading days immediately preceding the tenth (10th) calendar day immediately preceding the Effective Date (the CHC Average Closing Price).

3.04 Exchange Procedures.

(a) As soon as practicable but in no event more than five (5) calendar days after the Effective Date, the Exchange Agent shall mail a letter of transmittal to each holder of record of Community Financial Common Stock whose shares of Community Financial Common Stock were converted into the right to receive a portion of the Merger Consideration. The letter of transmittal shall provide instructions for the submission of certificates (Old Certificates) (or an indemnity satisfactory to CHC, the Surviving Bank and Computershare Investor Services, LLC, as Exchange Agent (the Exchange Agent), if any of such certificates are lost, stolen, or destroyed) representing all shares of Community Financial Common Stock of such holder of record converted into the right to receive the applicable portion of the Merger Consideration at the Effective Time.

(b) At or prior to the Effective Time, CHC shall deposit, or shall cause to be deposited, with the Exchange Agent an estimated amount of cash for fractional shares (such cash being hereinafter referred to as, the Exchange Fund). In accordance with the terms contained in the letter of transmittal contemplated in this Section 3.04, the Exchange Agent shall distribute the Exchange Fund to the Community Financial shareholders upon receipt of the Old Certificates or a satisfactory indemnity as contemplated in Section 3.04(a).

(c) CHC shall cause any check in respect of any cash that a holder of Community Financial Common Stock shall be entitled to receive to be delivered to such shareholder no later than five (5) days following delivery to the Exchange Agent of the Old Certificates (or indemnity satisfactory to CHC, the Surviving Bank and the Exchange Agent, if any of such certificates are lost, stolen or destroyed) owned by such shareholder. No interest will be paid on any per share Merger Consideration that any such holder shall be entitled to receive pursuant to this Article III upon such delivery.

(d) Any portion of the Exchange Fund that remains unclaimed by the shareholders of Community for one year after the Effective Time shall be returned to CHC. Any shareholders of Community Financial who have not theretofore complied with this Article III shall thereafter look only to CHC for payment of any applicable per share Merger Consideration, without any interest thereon.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither the Exchange Agent nor any party hereto shall be liable to any former holder of Community Financial Common Stock for any amount properly delivered to a public official pursuant to applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar laws.

3.05 Anti-Dilution Adjustments. Should CHC change (or establish a record date for changing) the number of shares of CHC Common Stock issued and outstanding prior to the Effective Time by way of a stock split, stock dividend, special cash dividend, recapitalization, reclassification, reorganization or similar transaction with respect to the outstanding CHC Common Stock, and the record date therefor shall be prior to the Effective Time, the Exchange Ratio shall be appropriately and proportionately adjusted.

3.06 Options. At the Effective Time, each outstanding option (each, a Community Financial Stock Option) to purchase shares of Community Financial Common Stock under any and all plans of Community Financial under which stock options have been granted and are outstanding (collectively, the Community Financial Stock Plans) shall vest and holders of Community Financial Stock Options shall be entitled to receive cash in an amount equal to the difference between the value of (a) $6.00 and (b) the exercise price (rounded to the nearest cent) for each outstanding Community Financial Stock Option (the Stock Option Consideration). There will be no payment by CHC to any holder of Community Financial Stock Options with an exercise price equal to or greater than $6.00 and any such Community Financial Stock Option shall be terminated as of the Effective Time. CHC shall have no obligation to make any additional grants or awards under the Community Financial Stock Plans.

Table of Contents

3.07 Preferred Stock and Warrant. Each share of Community Financial Preferred Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be canceled and retired and shall cease to exist as of the Effective Time in connection with the purchase of the Community Financial Preferred Stock by CHC as provided for in Section 6.22 of this Agreement. Prior to, or as soon as practicable after, the Effective Time, the Warrant shall be cancelled in connection with the purchase of the Warrant by CHC as provided for in Section 6.22. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Former Community Financial Employees shall be eligible to participate in City Holding's West Virginia Bankers Association Master Retirement Plan.

(b) Community Financial and Community Bank covenant and agree to take no steps prior to the Effective Time that would entitle any officer to resign and receive benefits under any employment agreement.

Furthermore, any terminated employees shall be entitled to continuation coverage under City National's group health plans or under Community Bank's health plans continued by City National as provided in Section 6.18(a), as required by COBRA. City National shall pay for COBRA coverage for the Severance Period for those employees entitled to severance under this Section 6.19. (a) Mutual Consent. At any time prior to the Effective Time, by the mutual consent of CHC and Community Financial, if the Board of Directors of each so determines by vote of a majority of the members of its entire Board of Directors.

(b) Breach. At any time prior to the Effective Time, by CHC in writing if Community Financial or Community Bank has, or by Community Financial or Community Bank in writing if CHC or City National has, breached in any material respect any covenant or undertaking contained herein or any representation or warranty contained herein such that the conditions set forth in Section 7.02(a) or 7.02(b), or Section 7.03(a) or 7.03(b), whichever is applicable, would not be satisfied, unless such breach has been or may be cured within thirty (30) days after written notice of such breach.

(c) Delay. At any time prior to the Effective Time, by CHC or Community Financial, in each case if its Board of Directors so determines by vote of a majority of the members of its entire Board of Directors, in the event that the Company Merger is not consummated by January 31, 2013, except to the extent that the failure of the Company Merger then to be consummated arises out of or results from the action or inaction of the party seeking to terminate pursuant to this Section 9.01(c).

(d) No Approval. By Community Financial or CHC, in each case if its Board of Directors so determines by a vote of a majority of the members of its entire Board, in the event (1) the approval of any Governmental Authority required for consummation of the Company Merger, the Subsidiary Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall have been denied by final non-appealable action of such Governmental Authority or (2) the shareholder approval contemplated by Section 6.02 herein is not obtained within sixty (60) days of the date of the Proxy Statement; provided, however, that neither Community Financial nor CHC shall be entitled to terminate this Agreement under this section unless it has complied with all of its obligations under this Agreement with respect to the Registration Statement, the Proxy Statement and the Community Financial shareholder meeting.

During the five-day period commencing with its receipt of such notice, CHC shall have the option to increase the consideration to be received by the holders of Community Financial Common Stock hereunder, by adjusting the applicable Exchange Ratio (calculated to the nearest one one-thousandth) so that the value equals the lesser of (x) a number (rounded to the nearest one one-thousandth) obtained by dividing (A) the product of the Starting Price, 0.80 and the applicable Exchange Ratio (as then in effect) by (B) the CHC Average Price and (y) a number (rounded to the nearest one one-thousandth) obtained by dividing (A) the product of the Index Ratio and the applicable Exchange Ratio (as then in effect) by (B) the CHC Ratio. Board of Directors

Community Financial Corporation, Inc.

38 North Central Avenue

Staunton, VA 24401

Members of the Board:

The Board of Directors (the Board) of Community Financial Corporation, Inc., a Virginia corporation (the Company), has requested that Scott & Stringfellow, LLC provide to the Board our opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the Company's common shareholders of the Merger Consideration (defined below) set forth in that certain Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated August 2, 2012 (the Agreement), by and among the Company, Community Bank, a federal savings association (the Bank), City Holding Company, a West Virginia corporation (CHC), and City National Bank of West Virginia, a national banking association, pursuant to which the Company will merge with and into CHC (the Company Merger). Under the terms of the Agreement, upon consummation of the Company Merger, each outstanding share of Company common stock, par value $0.01 per share, issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Company Merger, will be converted into the right to receive 0.1753 shares of validly issued, fully paid and non-assessable shares of CHC common stock, par value $2.50 per share (the Exchange Ratio). The consideration provided through the Exchange Ratio and any cash in lieu of fractional shares of CHC common stock to be paid, will be defined as the Merger Consideration. The terms and conditions of the Company Merger are more fully set forth in the Agreement.

Scott & Stringfellow has acted as financial advisor to the Board in connection with the Company Merger. As a customary part of our investment banking business, we regularly engage in the valuation of financial institutions and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions and other corporate transactions. In the ordinary course of our business as a broker-dealer, we may, from time to time purchase securities from, and sell securities to, the Company and CHC, and as a market maker in securities, we may from time to time have a long or short position in, and buy, sell or hold equity securities of the Company and CHC for our own account and for the accounts of our customers. Further, Scott & Stringfellow initiated equity research coverage of CHC on August 19, 2011 and expects to publish research notes on CHC from time to time in the future.

Over the past two years, excluding in connection with the Company Merger, Scott & Stringfellow has not received compensation for investment banking services from either the Company or CHC. As of the date hereof, there are no material relationships mutually understood to be contemplated in which any compensation is intended to be received by us as a result of the relationship between us and any of the parties to the Agreement.

In connection with the Company Merger and the preparation and delivery of this opinion, we have reviewed, analyzed, and relied upon, among other things:

- i. The Agreement and meetings and discussions with members of senior management of the Company regarding the material terms of the Agreement;

Edgar Filing: CITY HOLDING CO - Form 424B3

- ii. Certain publicly available financial statements and other historical financial information of CHC that we deemed relevant and meetings and discussions regarding the same with members of senior management of CHC;

- iii. Certain publicly available and non-publicly available financial statements and other historical financial information of the Company that we deemed relevant and meetings and discussions regarding the same with members of senior management of the Company;
- iv. Internal financial forecasts for the Company related to the business, earnings, cash flows, assets and prospects of the Company for the calendar years ending December 31, 2011 through 2016 prepared by Scott & Stringfellow and reviewed with senior management of the Company (the Forecasts);
- v. The estimated pro forma financial impact of the Company Merger on CHC, based on assumptions relating to, without limitation, transaction expenses, purchase accounting adjustments, cost savings, and certain synergies determined by and reviewed with the senior management of the Company and discussed summarily with the senior management of CHC;
- vi. The historical market prices and trading activity for CHC common stock and a comparison of certain financial and stock market information for CHC and the Company with similar publicly-traded companies which we deemed to be relevant;
- vii. The proposed financial terms of the Company Merger and a comparison of such terms with the financial terms, to the extent publicly available, of certain recent business combinations in the banking industry which we deemed to be relevant;
- viii. The relative contribution of the Company and CHC with regard to certain assets, liabilities, earnings, and capital;
- ix. The current market environment generally and the banking environment in particular;
- x. A discounted dividend scenario of the Company based upon the Forecasts and an illustrative dividend payout; and
- xi. Such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations, and financial, economic, and market criteria as we deemed appropriate.

We also held discussions with members of senior management of the Company and CHC regarding the reasons and basis for the Company Merger and regarding the historical and current business operations, financial condition, results of operations, regulatory relationships and future prospects (including, with respect to senior management of the Company and CHC, synergies anticipated to result from the Company Merger) of their respective companies and such other matters as we have deemed relevant to our inquiry.

Edgar Filing: CITY HOLDING CO - Form 424B3

In conducting our review and arriving at our opinion, we have relied upon and assumed the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information that was available to us from public sources, that was provided to us by the Company and CHC or their respective representatives, or that was otherwise reviewed by us and Company management (including the Forecasts), and we assumed such accuracy and completeness in rendering this opinion. We have further relied on the assurances of management of the Company and CHC that they are not aware of any facts or circumstances that would make any of such information inaccurate or misleading. We have not been asked nor have we attempted independently to verify such information, and we assume no responsibility or liability for independently verifying the accuracy and completeness of such information. We did not make an independent evaluation or appraisal of any specific assets, any collateral securing assets or the liabilities, including any contingent, off-balance sheet assets or liabilities, of the Company or CHC or any of their subsidiaries. We did not make an independent evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses of the Company or CHC nor have we reviewed any individual credit files relating to the Company or CHC. We assumed, with your consent, the respective allowances for loan losses for both the Company and CHC are adequate to cover such losses and will be adequate for the combined entity on a pro forma basis after all accounting adjustments for the Company Merger. We also assumed that all governmental, regulatory or other consents and approvals necessary for the consummation of the Company Merger will be obtained without any adverse effect on the Company and CHC or on the expected benefits of the Company Merger.

With respect to the financial projections (including the Forecasts) and earnings estimates for the Company and CHC and all projections of transaction costs, purchase and other accounting adjustments and expected cost savings or other synergies prepared by and/or reviewed with the management of the Company and CHC and used by Scott & Stringfellow in its analyses, the Company's and CHC's senior management confirmed to us that they reflect the best currently available estimates and judgments of the respective management of the Company and CHC as to the future financial performance of CHC as the surviving entity in the Company Merger, and we assumed that such financial performance would be achieved. We express no opinion as to such financial projections (including the Forecasts) or the assumptions or judgments on which they are based. We have assumed that there has been no material change in the assets, financial conditions, results of operations, business or prospects of the Company and CHC since the date of the most recent financial statements made available to us. We have further assumed, with your consent, that the synergies referenced above will be realized substantially in accordance with the expectations of the Company and CHC as expressed in collaborative discussion between us and them. Moreover, we have assumed that the Company Merger will be consummated upon the terms set forth in the Agreement without material alteration or waiver thereof, and that the representations and warranties of each party in the Agreement and in all related documents and instruments referred to in the Agreement are true and correct. Finally, with your consent, we have relied upon the advice the Company has received from its legal, accounting and tax advisors as to all legal, accounting and tax matters related to the Company Merger and other transactions contemplated by the Agreement.

Our opinion is necessarily based on, and we have necessarily taken into account, the financial, economic, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to us as of, the date hereof. We are not legal, tax, regulatory, or bankruptcy advisors. We have not considered any legislative or regulatory changes recently adopted or currently being considered by the United States Congress, the various federal banking agencies, the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC), or any other regulatory bodies, or any changes in accounting methods or generally accepted accounting principles that may be adopted by the SEC or the Financial Accounting Standards Board, or any changes in regulatory accounting principles that may be adopted by any or all of the federal banking agencies. Our opinion is not a solvency opinion and does not in any way address the solvency or financial condition of CHC or the Company. Events occurring after the date hereof could materially affect this opinion. We have no obligation to update, revise, reaffirm or withdraw this opinion or otherwise comment upon events occurring after the date hereof. We are expressing no opinion herein as to what the value of shares of CHC common stock will be when issued to the Company shareholders at the closing of the Company Merger pursuant to the Agreement or the prices at which shares of CHC common stock may trade at any time.

The terms of the fee arrangement with Scott & Stringfellow, which Scott & Stringfellow and the Company believe are customary in transactions of this nature, were negotiated at arm's length between the Company and Scott & Stringfellow, and the Board was aware of such arrangement, including the fact that the majority of the fee payable to Scott & Stringfellow is contingent upon consummation of the merger. The Company also has agreed to reimburse Scott & Stringfellow for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with its engagement and has agreed to indemnify Scott & Stringfellow and certain related persons against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the federal securities laws, in connection with our engagement for the delivery of this opinion.

Our opinion is directed to the Board in connection with its consideration of the Company Merger and our opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any holder of the Company shares as to how such holder should vote at any meeting of shareholders called to consider and vote upon the Agreement. This opinion is not intended to, and does not, (i) create any rights or remedies for any person or entity, other than the Board or (ii) create any fiduciary duty on the part of Scott & Stringfellow to any party. Scott & Stringfellow was not retained as an advisor or agent to the Company's shareholders or any other person, and it is acting only as a financial advisor to the Company's Board of Directors. This opinion has been reviewed and approved by our Investment Banking Valuation Committee in conformity with our policies and procedures established under the requirements of FINRA Rule 5150 of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. Our opinion is limited and directed only to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the Company's common shareholders of the Merger Consideration to be received by such shareholders in connection with the Company Merger and pursuant to the terms of the Agreement and does not address the underlying business decision by the Company to engage in the Company Merger, the relative merits of the Company Merger as compared to any other alternative business strategies or other strategic alternatives that might exist for the Company, the fairness of the amount or nature of any compensation to any of the officers, directors or employees of the Company, or class of such persons, relative to the compensation to the public holders of the Company's common shares or the effect of any other transaction in which the Company might engage or the fairness of the Company Merger to the holders of the Company's preferred stock or any securities of CHC or any creditor or other constituencies of the Company or CHC. Our opinion is not to be quoted or referred to, in whole or part, in a registration statement, prospectus, proxy statement or in any other document, nor shall this opinion be used for any other purposes, without Scott & Stringfellow's prior written consent. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Scott & Stringfellow hereby consents to the inclusion of this opinion as an exhibit to the proxy statement to be distributed to the Company's shareholders to solicit their approval of the Company Merger. Scott & Stringfellow further consents to the inclusion of a summary of this opinion in such proxy statement.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, it is our opinion, as of the date hereof, that the Merger Consideration to be received by the common shareholders of the Company is fair, from a financial point of view, to such shareholders.

Very truly yours,

Scott & Stringfellow, LLC

These forward-looking statements include, without limitation, statements with respect to anticipated future operating and financial performance, including revenue creation, lending origination, operating efficiencies, loan sales, charge-offs and loan loss provisions, growth opportunities, interest rates, cost savings and funding advantages. These forward-looking statements are based on currently available competitive, financial and economic data and management's views and assumptions regarding future events. The important factors discussed below, as well as other factors discussed elsewhere in this document and factors identified in our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission and those presented elsewhere by our management from time to time, could cause actual results to differ materially from those indicated by the forward-looking statements made in this document. Among the factors that could cause our actual results to differ from these forward-looking statements are:

the strength of the United States economy in general and the strength of the local economies in which we conduct our operations;

general economic conditions, either nationally or regionally, may be less favorable than expected, resulting in, among other things, a deterioration in the credit quality of our loans and other assets;

the effects of, and changes in, trade, monetary and fiscal policies and laws, including interest rate policies of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; fluctuations in deposit flows, loan demand, and/or real estate values, which may adversely affect our business;

the credit risks of lending and investing activities, including changes in the level and direction of loan delinquencies and write-offs and changes in estimates of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses;

results of examinations of Community Bank by its primary regulator, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, including the possibility that the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency may, among other things, require Community Bank to increase its allowance for loan losses;

our ability to access cost-effective funding;

financial market, monetary and interest rate fluctuations, particularly the relative relationship of short-term interest rates to long-term interest rates;

the timely development of and acceptance of new products and services of Community Financial Corporation and Community Bank, and the perceived overall value of these products and services by users, including the features, pricing and quality compared to competitors' products and services;

the impact of changes in financial services laws and regulations (including laws concerning taxes, accounting standards, banking, securities and insurance); legislative or regulatory changes may adversely affect the business in which we are engaged;

our success in gaining regulatory approval of our products and services and branching locations, when required;

PART I

ITEM 1. BUSINESS

General

Community Financial Corporation is a Virginia corporation, which owns Community Bank. Community Bank was organized in 1928 as a Virginia-chartered building and loan association, converted to a federally-chartered savings and loan association in 1955 and to a federally-chartered savings bank in 1983. In 1988, Community Bank converted to the stock form of organization through the sale and issuance of shares of our common stock. References in this document to we, us, our, the Corporation, the Company and the Bank refer to Community Financial and/or Community Bank as the context requires.

Our principal asset is the outstanding stock of Community Bank, our wholly owned subsidiary. Our common stock trades on The Nasdaq Stock Market under the symbol CFFC.

Community Financial Corporation and Community Bank are subject to comprehensive regulation, examination and supervision by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Department of the Treasury, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The Bank is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank (FHLB) System and our deposits are backed by the full faith and credit of the United States Government and are insured to the maximum extent permitted by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. At March 31, 2012, we had $503.9 million in assets, deposits of $372.4 million and stockholders' equity of $50.4 million. Our primary business consists of attracting deposits from the general public and originating real estate loans and other types of investments through our offices located in Staunton, Waynesboro, Stuarts Draft, Raphine, Verona, Lexington, Harrisonburg, Buena Vista and Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Like all financial institutions our operations are materially affected by general economic conditions, the monetary and fiscal policies of the federal government and the policies of the various regulatory authorities, including the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Federal Reserve Board). Our results of operations are largely dependent upon our net interest income, which is the difference between the interest we receive on our loan portfolio and our investment securities portfolio, and the interest we pay on our deposit accounts and borrowings.

Dramatic declines in the housing market over the past four years, with decreasing home prices and increasing delinquencies and foreclosures, unemployment and under-employment, have negatively impacted the credit performance of mortgage and construction loans and resulted in significant write-downs of assets by many financial institutions. General downward economic trends, reduced availability of commercial credit, and increasing unemployment and under-employment have negatively impacted the credit performance of commercial and consumer credit as well, resulting in additional write-downs for many financial institutions. Concerns over the stability of the financial markets and the economy also have resulted in decreased lending by many financial institutions to their customers and to each other. This market turmoil and tightening of credit has led to increased delinquencies and foreclosures, lack of customer confidence, increased market volatility and widespread reduction in general business activity. Some financial institutions have experienced decreased access to deposits or borrowings. The resulting economic pressure on consumers and businesses and the lack of confidence in the financial markets has and may continue to adversely affect our business, results of operations and stock price.

Our ability to assess the creditworthiness of customers and to estimate the losses inherent in our loan portfolio is more complex under these difficult market and economic conditions. We expect to face increased regulation and government oversight as a result of these downward trends. This increased government action may increase our costs and limit our ability to pursue certain business opportunities.

We do not expect these difficult conditions to improve in the near future. A worsening of these conditions would likely exacerbate the adverse effects of these difficult market and economic conditions on us, our customers and the other financial institutions in our market. As a result, we may experience increases in foreclosures, delinquencies and customer bankruptcies, as well as more restricted access to funds. We also may be required to pay even higher FDIC premiums, because financial institution failures resulting from the depressed market conditions have depleted and may continue to deplete the FDIC insurance fund and reduce the FDIC's ratio of reserves to insured deposits.

As previously mentioned, we are subject to extensive regulation, supervision and examination by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. These regulatory authorities have extensive discretion in connection with their supervisory and enforcement activities, including the ability to impose restrictions on a bank's operations, reclassify assets, determine the adequacy of a bank's allowance for loan losses and determine the level of deposit insurance premiums assessed. The laws and regulations governing our business are subject to frequent change. Any change in these regulations and oversight, whether in the form of regulatory policy, new regulations or legislation or additional deposit insurance premiums could have a material impact on our operations.

In response to the financial crisis of 2008 and early 2009, Congress has taken actions that are intended to strengthen confidence and encourage liquidity in financial institutions, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation has taken actions to increase insurance coverage on deposit accounts. In addition, there have been proposals made by members of Congress and others that would reduce the amount delinquent borrowers are otherwise contractually obligated to pay under their mortgage loans and limit an institution's ability to foreclose on mortgage collateral.

The potential exists for additional federal or state laws and regulations, or changes in policy, affecting lending and funding practices and liquidity standards. Moreover, bank regulatory agencies have been active in responding to concerns and trends identified in examinations, and have issued many formal enforcement orders requiring capital ratios in excess of regulatory requirements. Bank regulatory agencies, such as the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, govern the activities in which we may engage, primarily for the protection of depositors, and not for the protection or benefit of investors. New laws and regulations may increase our costs of regulatory compliance and of doing business, and otherwise affect our operations. New laws and regulations also may significantly affect the markets in which we do business, the markets for and value of our loans and investments, the fees we can charge and our ongoing operations, costs and profitability.

Congress passed the Dodd-Frank financial reform legislation. This legislation will have a significant impact on the regulation and operations of financial institutions and their holding companies. The legislation will subject Community Financial to regulatory capital requirements. The legislation also created a new consumer financial protection agency that will issue and enforce consumer protection initiatives governing financial products and services. Any legislative or regulatory changes in the future could adversely affect our operations and financial condition.

Our main office is located at 38 North Central Avenue, Staunton, Virginia 24401. Our telephone number is (540) 886-0796. Lending Activities

General. We concentrate our lending activities on first mortgage conventional loans secured by residential properties, commercial and multi-family real estate with an emphasis on multi-family housing and, to a lesser extent, construction loans secured by commercial and multi-family real estate and one- to four-family residential properties, and commercial business loans. Additionally, we make consumer loans in order to increase the diversification and decrease the interest rate sensitivity of our loan portfolio, and to increase interest income as these loans typically carry higher interest rates than residential mortgage loans. Beginning in fiscal 2011, we substantially curtailed our construction lending due to the lingering effects of the recession. Substantially all of our loans are originated within our market area.

Residential loan originations come primarily from walk-in customers, real estate brokers and builders. Commercial and multi-family real estate loan originations are obtained through direct solicitation of developers and continued business from customers. All completed loan applications are reviewed by our salaried loan officers. As part of the application process, information is obtained concerning the income, financial condition, employment and credit history of the applicant and any related business interests. If commercial or multi-family real estate is involved, information is also obtained concerning cash flow after debt service. The quality of loans is analyzed based on our experience and on guidelines with respect to credit underwriting as well as the guidelines issued by Freddie Mac and Fannie Mae and other purchasers of loans, depending on the type of loans involved. All real estate is appraised by independent fee appraisers who have been pre-approved by our Board of Directors.

Our loan commitments are approved at different levels, depending on the size and type of the loan being sought. Our Board of Directors has authorized different loan limits for individual loan officers depending on the types of loans being approved. Individual loan officer limits for one- to four-family real estate loans range from $125,000 to $300,000 and for commercial real estate loans range from $100,000 to $175,000. One- to four-family real estate loans not exceeding $350,000 and commercial real estate loans not exceeding $225,000 may be approved by the President of the Bank. One- to four-family real estate loans not exceeding $950,000 and commercial real estate loans not exceeding $875,000 may be approved by one member of senior management and two other officers. Any loan not exceeding $1,000,000 may be approved by the Bank's loan committee. All loans in excess of $1,000,000 must be approved by the Board of Directors. Individual loan officer limits for unsecured consumer and commercial business loans range from $10,000 to $50,000 and for secured consumer and commercial business loans range from $25,000 to $175,000. Consumer and commercial business loans up to $375,000 on a secured basis and $150,000 on an unsecured basis require the approval of one member of senior management and two other officers. Consumer and commercial business loans in excess of individual loan officer or collective senior management loan authority must be approved by a majority of our Loan Committee or Board of Directors.

The aggregate amount of loans that the Bank is permitted to make to any one borrower, including related entities, and the aggregate amount that the Bank may invest in any one real estate project, with certain exceptions, is limited to the greater of 15% of our unimpaired capital and surplus or $500,000. At March 31, 2012, the maximum amount which we could have loaned to one borrower and the borrower's related entities or invested in any one project was approximately $8.4 million. At March 31, 2012, we had only 14 borrowers, or groups of related borrowers, with an aggregate outstanding loan balance in excess of $3.0 million, with the largest being a $6.6 million relationship, consisting of one secured business loan. At March 31, 2012, we had one relationship in excess of $3.0 million that was not performing in accordance with its payment terms. We also had 28 other borrowers, or groups of related borrowers, with an aggregate outstanding loan balance at March 31, 2012 of between $2.0 million and $3.0 million. At March 31, 2012, we had four relationships between $2.0 million and $3.0 million not performing in accordance with their payment terms.

One- to Four-Family Residential Real Estate Lending. We originate loans secured by one- to four-family residences, substantially all of which are located in our market areas. We evaluate both the borrower's ability to make principal and interest payments and the value of the property that will secure the loan. Although federal law permits us to make loans in amounts of up to 100% of the appraised value of the underlying real estate, we generally make one- to four-family residential real estate loans in amounts of 80% or less of the appraised value. In certain instances, we will lend up to 90% of the appraised value of the underlying real estate and require the borrower to purchase private mortgage insurance in an amount sufficient to reduce our exposure to 80% or less.

In order to manage our exposure to changes in interest rates, in the past we originated only a limited amount of 30-year and 15-year fixed-rate, one-to four-family residential mortgage loans for our portfolio. For the year ended March 31, 2012, 83.0% of all one-to four-family residential loans we originated had adjustable interest rates. At March 31, 2012, only $16.9 million, or 3.7%, of our total loans receivable, before net items, consisted of fixed-rate residential mortgage loans. During the year ended March 31, 2012, we originated $230,000 of fixed rate residential loans with terms of 15 years or more for our portfolio.

To compete with other lenders in our market area, we make one, three and five year adjustable-rate mortgage (ARM) loans at interest rates which, for the initial period, may be below the index rate which would otherwise apply to these loans. Borrowers are qualified, however, at the fully indexed interest rate. Our one- to four-family residential ARM loans primarily have interest rates that adjust annually after the initial fixed period based on a stated interest margin over the yields on one year U.S. Treasury Bills. Although our one- to four-family ARM loans primarily adjust annually after the initial period, we currently offer residential ARM loans which adjust every three and five years generally in accordance with the rates based on a stated margin over the yields on the applicable U.S. Treasury Bills. At March 31, 2012 we had the following loans that adjust on an annual basis after the initial period: $24.3 million that adjust after three years, $56.1 million after five years, $404,000 after seven years and $4.6 million after ten years. An additional $191,000 of loans adjust every three years. We do not currently offer residential ARM loans with an initial adjustment period greater than five years. Our ARM loans generally limit interest rate increases to 2% each rate adjustment period and have an established ceiling rate at the time the loans are made of up to 6% over the original interest rate. At March 31, 2012, residential ARM loans totaled $118.6 million, representing 87.5% of our total residential real estate loans and 26.0% of our total loans receivable, before net items. ARM loans generally pose different credit risks than fixed-rate loans primarily because during periods of rising interest rates, the risk of defaults on ARM loans may increase due to the upward adjustment of interest costs to borrowers.

All one- to four-family real estate mortgage loans originated by us contain a due-on-sale clause that allows us to declare the unpaid principal balance due and payable upon the sale of the mortgaged property. It is our policy to enforce these due-on-sale clauses concerning fixed-rated loans and to permit assumptions of ARM loans, for a fee, by qualified borrowers.

We require, in connection with the origination of residential real estate loans, title opinions and fire and casualty insurance coverage, as well as flood insurance where appropriate, to protect our interests. The cost of this insurance coverage is paid by the borrower. We generally do not require escrows for taxes and insurance.

Commercial Real Estate and Construction Lending. We have originated and, in the past have purchased, commercial real estate loans and loan participations. We also make commercial and residential real estate construction loans. Our commercial real estate loans are secured by various types of collateral, including raw land, multi-family residential buildings, hotels and motels, convenience stores, commercial and industrial buildings, shopping centers and churches. At March 31, 2012, commercial real estate and construction loans aggregated $191.9 million or 42.0% of our total loans receivable, before net items, with $156.3 million of these loans having adjustable interest rates and $35.6 million having fixed interest rates. Our commercial real estate and construction loans are secured primarily by properties located in our market areas.

Our commercial real estate loans are generally made at interest rates that adjust annually based on yields for one-year U.S. Treasury securities, with a 2% annual cap on rate adjustments and a 6% cap on interest rates over the life of the loan. Typically, we charge origination fees ranging from 1% to 2% on these loans. Commercial real estate loans made by us are fully amortizing with maturities ranging from five to 30 years. Our construction loans are generally for a term of 12 months or less with interest only due monthly. Construction loans are generally made with permanent financing to be provided by us, although not required. Construction loans to builders may be made on a basis where a buyer has contracted to buy the house or the construction may be on a speculative basis. Limits are set by us as to the number of each type of construction loan for each builder, whether speculative or pre-sold, dependent on the determination made by us during the underwriting process.

In our underwriting of commercial real estate and construction loans, we may lend, under federal regulations, up to 100% of the security property's appraised value, although the loan to original appraised value ratio on such properties is generally 80% or less. Our commercial real estate and construction loan underwriting requires an examination of debt service coverage ratios, the borrower's creditworthiness and prior credit history and reputation, and we generally require personal guarantees or endorsements of borrowers. We also carefully consider the location of the security property.

At March 31, 2012, we had commercial real estate loans totaling $170.2 million, including 61 commercial real estate loans (or multiple loans to one borrower) in excess of $1.0 million with an aggregate balance of $78.7 million. The largest loan or lending relationship to a single borrower was for $4.9 million, which consisted of one loan secured by commercial real estate. Loans secured by commercial and industrial buildings decreased from $52.7 million at March 31, 2011 to $50.1 million at March 31, 2012, loans secured by hotels and motels decreased from $21.0 million at March 31, 2011 to $16.6 million at March 31, 2012, and loans secured by raw land decreased from $44.0 million at March 31, 2011 to $40.2 million at March 31, 2012, accounting for the decrease in our commercial real estate loan portfolio.

At March 31, 2012, we had 19 commercial construction loans totaling $9.9 million, the largest one having an outstanding balance of $2.9 million. At that date, all commercial construction loans were performing in accordance with their payment terms. Our commercial construction loans are generally made for a one year term or less, with a requirement that the borrower have a commitment for permanent financing prior to funding the construction loan. Our construction loans generally provide for a fixed rate of interest at or above the prevailing prime rate. Such loans are generally secured by the personal guarantees of the borrowers and by first mortgages on the projects.

A large portion of our commercial real estate portfolio consists of loans secured by raw land. The Company originates loans to local real estate developers with whom it has established relationships for the purpose of developing residential subdivisions (i.e., installing roads, sewers, water and other utilities), as well as loans to individuals to purchase building lots. Land development loans are secured by a lien on the property and made for a period usually not to exceed twelve months with an interest rate that adjusts with the prime rate, and are made with loan-to-value ratios not exceeding 80%. Monthly interest payments are required during the term of the loan. Subdivision loans are structured so that we are repaid in full upon the sale by the borrower of approximately 90% of the subdivision lots. All of our land loans are secured by property located in our primary market area. We also generally obtain personal guarantees from financially capable parties based on a review of personal financial statements.

Loans secured by undeveloped land or improved lots involve greater risks than one- to four- family residential mortgage loans because these loans are advanced upon the predicted future value of the developed property. If the estimate of the future value proves to be inaccurate, in the event of default and foreclosure, the Company may be confronted with a property the value of which is insufficient to assure full repayment. Loans on raw land may run the risk of adverse zoning changes, environmental or other restrictions on future use. At March 31, 2012, we had $3,149,000 of non-performing raw land loans.

We also make construction loans to individuals for the construction of their residences as well as to builders and developers for the construction of non-residential properties, one- to four-family residences and the development of one- to four-family lots in Virginia. These construction loans are generally for a term of 12 months or less with interest only due monthly. Construction loans are generally made with permanent financing to be provided by us, although not required. Construction loans to builders may be made on a basis where a buyer has contracted to buy the house or the construction may be on a speculative basis. Limits are set by us as to the number of each type of construction loan for each builder, whether speculative or pre-sold, dependent on the determination made by us during the underwriting process. At March 31, 2012, we had $11.9 million or 2.6% of our total loans receivable, before net items, in 62 residential construction loans, the largest of which was $520,000, compared to $21.3 million or 4.3% at March 31, 2011. Residential construction loans totaled approximately 54.6% of the total construction loan portfolio. Unfunded commitments on residential construction loans totaled $3.2 million at March 31, 2012. At March 31, 2012, we had $520,000 of non-performing residential construction loans.

Commercial real estate and construction lending is generally considered to involve a higher level of credit risk than one- to four-family residential lending due to the concentration of principal in a limited number of loans and borrowers and the effects of general economic conditions on real estate developers and managers. Our risk of loss on a construction loan is dependent largely upon the accuracy of the initial estimate of the property's sale value upon completion of the project and the estimated cost of the project. If the estimated cost of construction or development proves to be inaccurate, we may be required to advance funds beyond the amount originally committed to permit completion of the project. If the estimate of value proves to be inaccurate, we may be confronted, at or prior to the maturity of the loan, with a project with value which is insufficient to assure full repayment. Because we usually provide loans to a developer for the entire estimated cost of the project, defaults in repayment generally do not occur during the construction period and it is therefore difficult to identify problem loans at an early stage. When loan payments become due, borrowers may experience cash flow from the project which is not adequate to service total debt. This cash flow shortage can result in the failure to make loan payments. In such cases, we may be compelled to modify the terms of the loan. In addition, the nature of these loans is such that they are generally less predictable and more difficult to evaluate and monitor. We have reduced our non-owner occupied commercial real estate loans from $148.9 million and 270% of risk based capital at March 31, 2011 to $146.5 million and 264% of risk based capital at March 31, 2012.

Consumer Lending. We offer a variety of secured consumer loans, including new and used automobile loans, home equity loans and lines of credit, and deposit account, installment and demand loans. We also offer unsecured loans. We originate our consumer loans primarily in our market areas. At March 31, 2012, our consumer loans totaled $81.3 million or 17.8% of our total loans receivable, before net items. With the exception of $39.1 million of home equity loans and lines of credit at March 31, 2012, our consumer loans primarily have fixed interest rates and generally have terms ranging from 90 days to six years.

The largest component of our consumer loans is home equity loans and lines of credit. At March 31, 2012, our home equity loans and lines of credit totaled $46.7 million and comprised 10.2% of our total loan portfolio, before net items, including $39.1 million of home equity lines of credit. Home equity loans may be originated in amounts, together with the amount of the existing first mortgage, of up to 90% of the value of the property securing the loan. Home equity lines of credit generally are originated with an adjustable rate of interest, based on the prime rate of interest. Home equity lines of credit have a 20 year term and amounts may be re-borrowed after payment at any time during the life of the loan. At March 31, 2012, unfunded commitments on these lines of credit totaled $17.8 million.

We originate automobile loans on a direct and indirect basis. Automobile loans totaled $27.4 million at March 31, 2012, or 12.5% of our total loan portfolio, before net items, with $5.2 million in direct loans and $22.2 million in indirect loans. Our automobile loan portfolio decreased from $31.3 million at March 31, 2011 to $27.4 million at March 31, 2012, or 6.0%. The decrease in automobile loans is attributable to a slower economic environment and increased competition. The bulk of our indirect lending comes from relationships with approximately 40 car dealerships under an arrangement providing a premium for the amount over our interest rate to the referring dealer, with approximately half of these loans originated through four dealerships located in our market area. Indirect lending is highly competitive; however, our ability to provide same day funding makes our product competitive. Automobile loans may be written for a term of up to six years and have fixed rates of interest. Loan-to-value ratios are up to 110% of the manufacturer's suggested retail price for new direct auto loans and 125% of the manufacturer's invoice for new indirect auto loans. For used car loans we use the same loan-to-value ratios based on National Automobile Dealers Association (NADA) retail value for direct loans and NADA trade-in value for indirect loans.

The automobile loans are generally evenly divided between new and used vehicles. The automobile loans are primarily without recourse to the dealer, but the Bank may require either full or partial recourse to the dealer if the customer's credit history or the loan to value ratio of the vehicle warrants such recourse.

We follow our internal underwriting guidelines in evaluating direct automobile loans, including credit scoring. Indirect automobile loans are underwritten by a third party on our behalf, using substantially similar guidelines to our internal guidelines. However, because these loans are originated through a third party and not directly by us, they present greater risks than other types of lending activities. At March 31, 2012, we had $82,000 in non-performing automobile loans, which included $61,000 in indirect automobile loans.

The underwriting standards employed by us for consumer loans include a determination of the applicant's payment history on other debts and an assessment of ability to meet existing obligations and payments on the proposed loan. The stability of the applicant's monthly income may be determined by verification of gross monthly income from primary employment, and additionally from any verifiable secondary income. Although creditworthiness of the applicant is of primary consideration, the underwriting process also includes a comparison of the value of the security in relation to the proposed loan amount.

Consumer loans may entail greater risk than do residential mortgage loans, particularly in the case of consumer loans which are unsecured, such as credit card receivables, or secured by rapidly depreciable assets such as automobiles. In such cases, any repossessed collateral for a defaulted consumer loan may not provide an adequate source of repayment of the outstanding loan balance as a result of the greater likelihood of damage, loss or depreciation. The remaining deficiency often does not warrant further substantial collection efforts against the borrower. In addition, consumer loan collections are dependent on the borrower's continuing financial stability, and thus are more likely to be adversely affected by job loss, divorce, illness or personal bankruptcy. Furthermore, the application of various federal and state laws, including federal and state bankruptcy and insolvency laws, may limit the amount which can be recovered on such loans. Such loans may also give rise to claims and defenses by a consumer loan borrower against an assignee of such loan such as us, and a borrower may be able to assert against such assignee claims and defenses which it has against the seller of the underlying collateral. We add general provisions to our loan loss allowance, in amounts determined in accordance with industry standards, at the time the loans are originated. Consumer loan delinquencies often increase over time as the loans age. The level of non-performing assets in our consumer loan portfolio increased from $455,000 at March 31, 2011 to $1.4 million at March 31, 2012 due primarily to additions to repossessed assets and an increase in non-accruing loans. There can be no assurance that delinquencies will not increase in the future.

Commercial Business Lending. At March 31, 2012, our commercial business loans totaled $48.6 million, or 10.6%, of our total loans receivable, before net items. We offer commercial business loans to service existing customers, to consolidate our banking relationships with these customers, and to further our asset/liability management goals. Our commercial business lending activities encompass loans with a variety of purposes and security, including but not limited to business secured and unsecured lines of credit, business automobiles, equipment and accounts receivable. We recognize the generally increased credit risk associated with commercial business lending. Our commercial business lending practice emphasizes credit file documentation and analysis of the borrower's character, management capabilities, capacity to repay the loan, the adequacy of the borrower's capital and collateral. An analysis of the borrower's past, present and future cash flows is also an important aspect of our credit analysis.

Unlike residential mortgage loans which generally are made on the basis of the borrower's ability to make repayment from his or her employment and other income, and which are secured by real property whose value tends to be more easily ascertainable, commercial business loans are of higher risk and typically are made on the basis of the borrower's ability to make repayment from the cash flow of the borrower's business. As a result, the availability of funds for the repayment of commercial business loans may be dependent upon the success of the business itself. Our commercial business loans almost always include personal guarantees and are usually, but not always, secured by business assets. However, the collateral securing the loans may depreciate over time, may be difficult to appraise and may fluctuate in value based on the success of the business. At March 31, 2012, $1.2 million of commercial business loans were non-accruing.

Table of ContentsLoan Originations

Federal regulations authorize us to make real estate loans anywhere in the United States. At March 31, 2012, substantially all of our real estate loans were secured by real estate located in our market area.

We originate both fixed-rate and adjustable-rate loans. Our ability to originate loans, however, is dependent upon customer demand for loans in our market areas. Demand is affected by competition and the interest rate environment.

Loans purchased must conform to our underwriting guidelines. We have not purchased any loans during the last seven fiscal years and did not sell any loans during the last fiscal year. We sold $3.2 million in loans during fiscal year 2011. Management believes that purchases of loans and loan participations are generally desirable only when local mortgage demand is less than the supply of funds available for local mortgage origination.

During the past few years, we, like many other financial institutions, have experienced significant prepayments on loans due to the low interest rate environment prevailing in the United States. In periods of economic uncertainty, the ability of financial institutions, including us, to originate or purchase large dollar volumes of real estate loans may be substantially reduced or restricted, with a resultant decrease in interest income.

The following table shows our loan origination and repayment activities for the periods indicated.

Delinquent Loans. When a borrower fails to make a required payment on a loan, we attempt to cause the deficiency to be cured by contacting the borrower, generally within 15 days of the loan becoming delinquent. A notice is mailed to the borrower after a payment is 15 days past due and again when the loan is 30 days past due.

C-14

Table of Contents

For most loans, if the delinquency is not cured within 30 days we issue a notice of intent to foreclose on the property and if the delinquency is not cured within 60 days, we may institute foreclosure action. If foreclosed on, real property is sold at a public sale and may be purchased by us.

The following table sets forth information concerning delinquent mortgage and other loans at March 31, 2012. The amounts presented represent the total remaining principal balances of the related loans, rather than the actual payment amounts which are overdue.

Risk Elements. The table below sets forth the amounts and categories of non-performing assets and troubled debt restructurings in our loan portfolio. Non-performing assets include non-accruing loans, accruing loans delinquent 90 days or more as to principal or interest payments and real estate acquired through foreclosure, which include assets acquired in settlement of loans. Typically, a loan becomes nonaccruing when it is 90 days delinquent. All consumer loans more than 120 days delinquent are charged against the allowance for loan losses. Accruing mortgage loans delinquent more than 90 days are loans that we consider to be well secured and in the process of collection.

Non-performing assets at March 31, 2012 were comprised primarily of non-accruing loans, real estate owned and repossessed automobiles. Real estate acquired through foreclosure consisted of $910,000 in residential construction, $1.6 million in land, $4.6 million in 1-4 family residences and $2.1 million in commercial real estate. Based on current market values of the properties securing these loans, management anticipates no significant losses in excess of the reserves for losses previously recorded. Our largest non-accruing loan relationship at March 31, 2012 totaled $3.1 million and is located in the Virginia Beach, Virginia area secured by a hotel. The next largest non-accruing loan relationship was $2.2 million secured by eight 1-4 family residences.

Nonaccrual loans amounted to $12.2 million at March 31, 2012. If interest on these loans had been accrued, such income would have approximated $212,000 for the year ended March 31, 2012, none of which is included in interest income.

C-15

Troubled debt restructurings amounted to $21.1 million at March 31, 2012, of which $6.1 million is also included in non-performing assets.

Other Loans Of Concern. In addition to the non-performing assets set forth in the table above, as of March 31, 2012, we had approximately $24.0 million of loans with respect to which known information about the possible credit problems of the borrowers or the cash flows of the security properties have caused management to have doubts as to the ability of the borrowers to comply with present loan repayment terms and which may result in the future inclusion of such items in the non-performing asset categories. Although management believes that these loans are adequately secured and no material loss is expected, certain circumstances may cause the borrower to be unable to comply with the present loan repayment terms at some future date. These loans have been considered in management's determination of our allowance for loan losses.

Classified Assets. Federal regulations provide for the classification of loans and other assets, such as debt and equity securities considered by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency to be of lesser quality, as substandard, doubtful or loss. An asset is considered substandard if it is inadequately protected by the current net worth and paying capacity of the obligor or of the collateral pledged, if any. Substandard assets include those characterized by the distinct possibility that the insured institution will sustain some loss if the deficiencies are not corrected. Assets classified as doubtful have all of the weaknesses in those classified substandard, with the added characteristic that the weaknesses present make collection or liquidation in full, on the basis of currently existing facts, conditions and values, highly questionable and improbable. Assets classified as loss are those considered uncollectible and of such little value that their continuance as assets without the establishment of a specific loss reserve is not warranted.

When an insured institution classifies problem assets as either substandard or doubtful, it may establish general allowances for loan losses in an amount deemed prudent by management. General allowances represent loss allowances which have been established to recognize the risk associated with lending activities, but which, unlike specific allowances, have not been allocated to particular problem assets. When an insured institution classifies problem assets as loss, it is required either to establish a specific allowance for losses equal to 100% of that portion of the asset so classified or to charge off such amount. An institution's determination as to the classification of its assets and the amount of its valuation allowances is subject to review by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, which may order the establishment of additional general or specific loss allowances.

We regularly review the problem assets in our portfolio to determine whether any assets require classification in accordance with applicable regulations. On the basis of management's review of our assets, at March 31, 2012, we had classified $34.8 million of our assets as substandard, $1.2 million as doubtful and none as loss. The $34.8 million in classified loans is comprised primarily of residential and commercial real estate loans and commercial business loans. The $1.2 million in doubtful loans is comprised primarily of commercial business loans.

Allowance for Losses on Loans and Real Estate. We provide valuation allowances for anticipated losses on loans and real estate when management determines that a significant decline in the value of the collateral has occurred, as a result of which the value of the collateral is less than the amount of the unpaid principal of the related loan plus estimated costs of acquisition and sale. In addition, we also provide allowances based on the dollar amount and type of collateral securing our loans in order to protect against unanticipated losses. Although management believes that it uses the best information available to make such determinations, future adjustments to allowances may be necessary, and net income could be significantly affected, if circumstances differ substantially from the assumptions used in making the initial determinations. See Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations - Results of Operations - Provision for Loan Losses in Item 7 of this report and Note 2 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of this report.

The allowance for loan loss balances is subject to change dependent on both the anticipated losses on specific loans and the charge-off percentage for the loan portfolio as a whole. These factors can affect the total allowance for loan losses and the allocation by loan category.

Investment Activities

Federally chartered savings institutions have the authority to invest in various types of liquid assets, including United States Treasury obligations, securities of various federal agencies, including callable agency securities, certain certificates of deposit of insured banks and savings institutions, certain bankers' acceptances, repurchase agreements and federal funds. Subject to various restrictions, federally chartered savings institutions may also invest their assets in investment grade commercial paper and corporate debt securities and mutual funds whose assets conform to the investments that a federally chartered savings institution is otherwise authorized to make directly. See Regulation Qualified Thrift Lender Test below for a discussion of additional restrictions on our investment activities.

The senior vice president/chief financial officer has the basic responsibility for the management of our investment portfolio, subject to the direction and guidance of the President and Board of Directors. The senior vice president/chief financial officer considers various factors when making decisions, including the marketability, maturity and tax consequences of the proposed investment. The maturity structure of investments will be affected by various market conditions, including the current and anticipated slope of the yield curve, the level of interest rates, the trend of new deposit inflows, and the anticipated demand for funds via deposit withdrawals and loan originations and purchases.

The general objectives of our investment portfolio are to assist in maintaining earnings when loan demand is low and to maximize earnings while satisfactorily managing risk, including credit risk, reinvestment risk, liquidity risk and interest rate risk. As a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta, we had $5.2 million in stock of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta at March 31, 2012, and for the year ended March 31, 2012, we received $49,000 in dividends on such stock.

(1) Excludes Freddie Mac common stock and other marketable equity securities.

During fiscal 2012, the market rates paid on investment securities decreased. During fiscal 2010 through 2011, we made limited investment securities purchases due to the minimal spread between short and long term rates during most of these reporting periods. We increased investment security purchases during fiscal 2012 to increase our liquidity position and offset the decline in interest income due to the decline in our loan balances.

During fiscal 2009, due to the conservatorship of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac in September, 2008 and the related restrictions on its outstanding preferred stock (including the elimination of dividends), the Company recorded an other than temporary impairment (OTTI) non-cash charge with respect to the Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac preferred stock it owned of $11,536,000. The Company sold its remaining 57,000 shares of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac preferred stock during fiscal year 2011.

Sources of Funds

General. Deposits have traditionally been the principal source of our funds for use in lending and for other general business purposes. In addition to deposits, we derive funds from loan repayments, cash flows generated from operations, which includes interest credited to our deposit accounts, repurchase agreements entered into with commercial banks and FHLB of Atlanta advances.

Contractual loan payments are a relatively stable source of funds, while deposit inflows and outflows and the related cost of such funds have varied widely. Borrowings may be used on a short-term basis to compensate for reductions in deposits or deposit inflows at less than projected levels and may be used on a longer-term basis to support expanded lending activities.

Deposits. We attract both short-term and long-term deposits from the general public by offering a wide assortment of accounts and rates. We have been required by market conditions to rely on short-term accounts and other deposit alternatives that are more responsive to market interest rates than fixed interest rate, fixed-term certificates that were our primary source of deposits in the past. We offer regular savings accounts, checking accounts, various money market accounts, fixed-rate long-term certificates with varying maturities, $100,000 or more jumbo certificates of deposit and individual retirement accounts. During fiscal 2012, 2011, 2010 and 2009 we utilized brokered deposits due to their lower relative costs. At March 31, 2012, we had total brokered deposits of $19.1 million.

The following table sets forth the dollar amount of savings deposits in the various types of deposit programs offered by us at the periods indicated.

	2012	March 31, 2011 (In Thousands)	2010
Passbook and statement accounts	$ 35,657	$ 33,997	$ 31,586
NOW and Super NOW accounts including non-interest bearing	88,466	75,446	68,844
Money market accounts	51,089	43,850	38,466
Six-month and 91 day certificates	7,656	7,075	13,195
One- to five-year fixed-rate certificates	189,550	218,677	246,329
Total	$ 372,418	$ 379,045	$ 398,420

The variety of deposit accounts we offer has allowed us to be competitive in obtaining funds and has allowed us to respond with flexibility (by paying rates of interest more closely approximating market rates of interest) to, although not eliminate the threat of, disintermediation (the flow of funds away from depository institutions such as thrift institutions into direct investment vehicles such as government and corporate securities). In addition, we have become much more subject to short-term fluctuations in deposit flows, as customers have become more interest rate conscious. Our ability to attract and maintain deposits, and our cost of funds, has been, and will continue to be, significantly affected by money market conditions.

Percent increase(decrease)	(1.75%)	(4.86%)	9.01%

During fiscal 2010, the change in deposits was related primarily to the utilization of brokered deposits and our continued emphasis on increasing transaction accounts. During fiscal 2011 and 2012, the change in deposits was related to the decrease in loans and lower time deposit rates with continued emphasis on transaction accounts. We remained competitive on deposit rates. We may use borrowings from time to time as an alternative source of funds. See Borrowings.

Table of ContentsBorrowings

We generally utilize borrowings to supplement deposits when they are available at a lower overall cost to us or they can be invested at a positive rate of return. Our borrowings generally consist of advances from the FHLB of Atlanta. Each FHLB credit program has its own interest rate, which may be fixed or variable, and range of maturities. The FHLB of Atlanta may prescribe the acceptable uses to which these advances may be put, as well as limitations on the size of the advances and repayment provisions.

Our borrowings, from time to time, also include securities sold under agreements to repurchase, with mortgage-backed securities or other securities pledged as collateral. At March 31, 2012, we did not have any securities sold under agreements to repurchase which adjust with the federal funds rate. For additional information on our borrowings and securities sold under agreements to repurchase, see Notes 6 and 7 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements contained in Item 8 of this report.

The following table sets forth information as to our borrowings and the weighted average interest rate paid on such borrowings at the dates indicated.

Competition

Community faces strong competition both in originating loans and in attracting deposits. Competition in originating loans comes primarily from other thrift institutions, commercial banks, credit unions and mortgage bankers who also make loans in our market area. We compete for loans principally on the basis of our interest rates and loan fees, the types of loans and the quality of services provided to borrowers.

We face substantial competition in attracting deposits from other thrift institutions, commercial banks, money market and mutual funds, credit unions and other investment vehicles. Our ability to attract and retain deposits depends on our ability to provide an investment opportunity that satisfies the requirements of investors as to rate of return, liquidity, risk and other factors. We compete for these deposits by offering a variety of deposit accounts at competitive rates and convenient business hours.

Table of Contents

We consider our primary markets for deposits to be Augusta County and Hampton Roads and for loans to be Augusta and Rockingham Counties and the Hampton Roads area. We estimate that our market share of savings deposits in Augusta County is approximately 15% and our share of loans in Augusta and Rockingham Counties is less than 10%.

Regulation

General. Set forth below is a brief description of certain laws and regulations that are applicable to Community Financial and Community Bank. The description of these laws and regulations, as well as descriptions of laws and regulations contained elsewhere herein, does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the applicable laws and regulations. Legislative or regulatory changes in the future could adversely affect our operations and financial condition.

The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency has extensive enforcement authority over all savings associations and their holding companies, including Community Financial and Community Bank. The Federal Reserve has the same type of authority over Community Financial. This enforcement authority includes, among other things, the ability to assess civil money penalties, to issue cease-and-desist or removal orders and to initiate injunctive actions. In general, these enforcement actions may be initiated for violations of laws and regulations and unsafe or unsound practices. Other actions or inactions may provide the basis for enforcement action, including misleading or untimely reports filed with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency or the Federal Reserve. Except under certain circumstances, public disclosure of final enforcement actions by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency or the Federal Reserve is required by law.

Recently Enacted Regulatory Reform . On July 21, 2010, the President signed into law the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank Act). The Dodd-Frank Act imposes new restrictions and an expanded framework of regulatory oversight for financial institutions, including depository institutions. In addition, the new law changes the jurisdictions of existing bank regulatory agencies and in particular transfers the regulation of federal savings associations from the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) to the Office of Comptroller of the Currency, effective July 21, 2011. At the same time, responsibility for regulation of savings and loan holding companies will be transferred to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. The new law also establishes an independent federal consumer protection bureau within the Federal Reserve, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB). The following discussion summarizes significant aspects of the Dodd-Frank Act that may affect Community Bank and Community Financial. Regulations implementing many of these changes have not been promulgated, so we cannot determine the full impact of the Dodd-Frank Act on our business and operations at this time.

The following aspects of the Dodd-Frank Act are related to the operations of Community Bank:

Effective July 21, 2011, The OTS was merged into the Comptroller of the Currency which assumed the OTS's authority and responsibilities to regulate and supervise federal savings associations under the same laws as the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (except where modified by the Dodd-Frank Act). The regulations and policies of the Office of Thrift Supervision for savings associations will continue to apply unless and until the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency modifies them.

The federal thrift charter has been preserved and the Federal Reserve assumed the authority and responsibilities of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency to regulate and supervise savings and loan holding companies under the same laws as the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (except where modified by the Dodd-Frank Act). The regulations and policies of the Office of Thrift Supervision for savings and loan holding companies will continue to apply unless and until modified by the OCC or the Federal Reserve. There have been no substantial modifications to these regulations to date.

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (the CFPB), an independent consumer compliance regulatory agency within the Federal Reserve, has been established. The CFPB is empowered to exercise broad regulatory, supervisory and enforcement authority over financial institutions with total assets over $10 billion with respect to both new and existing consumer financial protection laws. Smaller financial institutions, like Community Bank, will be subject to supervision and enforcement by their primary federal banking regulators with respect to federal consumer financial protection laws and regulations. The CFPB also has authority to promulgate new consumer financial protection regulations and amend existing consumer financial protection regulations.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Act was amended to direct federal regulators to require depository institution holding companies to serve as a source of strength for their depository institution subsidiaries.

Tier

Tier 1 capital treatment for hybrid capital items like trust preferred securities is eliminated, subject to various grandfathering and transition rules. The federal banking agencies must promulgate new rules on regulatory capital for both depository institutions and their holding companies, to include leverage capital and risk-based capital measures at least as stringent as those now applicable to Community Bank under the prompt corrective action regulations. To date, the federal banking agencies have not yet established such new regulatory capital requirements. Recently, new regulations were proposed for this purpose and for the purpose of compliance with certain agreements of the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (Basel III). We cannot predict when or in what form such regulations may be adopted in final form, but the final regulations may impose more stringent capital requirements on Community Financial and Community Bank.

The current prohibition on payment of interest on demand deposits was repealed, effective July 21, 2011.

State consumer financial protection law will be preempted only if it would have a discriminatory effect on a federal savings association or is preempted by any other federal law. The OCC must make a preemption determination with respect to a state consumer financial protection law on a case-by-case basis with respect to a particular state law or other state law with substantively equivalent terms.

Deposit insurance is permanently increased to $250,000 and unlimited deposit insurance for noninterest-bearing transaction accounts applies through December 31, 2012.

The deposit insurance assessment base for FDIC insurance is the depository institution's average consolidated total assets less average tangible equity during the assessment period.

The minimum reserve ratio of the Deposit Insurance Fund increased to 1.35 percent of estimated annual insured deposits or the comparable percentage of the assessment base; however, the FDIC is directed to offset the effect of the increased reserve ratio for insured depository institutions with total consolidated assets of less than $10 billion. Pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Act, the FDIC recently issued a rule setting a designated reserve ratio at 2.0% of insured deposits.

Public companies are required to provide their shareholders with a non-binding vote: (i) at least once every three years on the compensation paid to executive officers, and (ii) at least once every six years on whether they should have a say on pay vote every one, two or three years.

A separate, non-binding shareholder vote is required regarding golden parachutes for named executive officers when a shareholder vote takes place on mergers, acquisitions, dispositions or other transactions that would trigger the parachute payments.

Edgar Filing: CITY HOLDING CO - Form 424B3

Securities exchanges are required to prohibit brokers from using their own discretion to vote shares not beneficially owned by them for certain significant matters, which include votes on the election of directors, executive compensation matters, and any other matter determined to be significant.

Stock exchanges, not including the OTC Bulletin Board, are prohibited from listing the securities of any issuer that does not have a policy providing for (i) disclosure of its policy on incentive compensation that is based on financial information required to be reported under the securities laws, and (ii) the recovery from current or former executive officers, following an accounting restatement triggered by material noncompliance with securities law reporting requirements, of any incentive compensation paid erroneously during the three-year period preceding the date on which the restatement was required that exceeds the amount that would have been paid on the basis of the restated financial information.

Disclosure in annual proxy materials is required concerning the relationship between the executive compensation paid and the financial performance of the issuer.

Item 402 of Regulation S-K is amended to require companies to disclose the ratio of the median annual total compensation of all employees (excluding the Chief Executive Officer's compensation) to the Chief Executive Officer's annual total compensation.

Federal Regulation of Savings Associations. Community Bank, as a federally chartered savings bank, is subject to regulation and oversight by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency extending to all aspects of its operations. This regulation of Community Bank is intended for the protection of depositors and the insurance of accounts fund and not for the purpose of protecting shareholders. Community Bank is required to maintain minimum levels of regulatory capital and is subject to some limitations on the payment of dividends to Community Financial. See - Regulatory Capital Requirements and - Limitations on Dividends and Other Capital Distributions. Community Bank also is subject to regulation and examination by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, which insures the deposits of Community Bank to the maximum extent permitted by law.

We are subject to periodic examinations by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. During these examinations, the examiners may require Community Bank to provide for higher general or specific loan loss reserves, which can impact our capital and earnings. As a federal savings bank, Community Bank is subject to a semi-annual assessment, based upon its total assets, to fund the operations of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency has adopted guidelines establishing safety and soundness standards on such matters as loan underwriting and documentation, asset quality, earnings standards, internal controls and audit systems, interest rate risk exposure and compensation and other employee benefits. Any institution regulated by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency that fails to comply with these standards must submit a compliance plan.

Insurance of Accounts and Regulation by the FDIC. The Deposit Insurance Fund (DIF) of the FDIC insures deposit accounts in Community Bank up to $250,000 per separately insured depositor. Transaction accounts have unlimited coverage until December 31, 2012.

The FDIC assesses deposit insurance premiums on each FDIC-insured institution quarterly based on annualized rates for one of four risk categories applied to its deposits, subject to certain adjustments. Each institution is assigned to one of four risk categories based on its capital levels, supervisory ratings and other factors. Well capitalized institutions that are financially sound with only a few minor weaknesses are assigned to Risk Category I. Risk Categories II, III and IV present progressively greater risks to the DIF.

As a result of a decline in the reserve ratio (the ratio of the net worth of the DIF to estimated insured deposits) and concerns about expected failure costs and available liquid assets in the DIF, the FDIC adopted a rule requiring each insured institution to prepay on December 30, 2009 the estimated amount of its quarterly assessments for the fourth quarter of 2009 and all quarters through the end of 2012 (in addition to the regular quarterly assessment for the third quarter due on December 30, 2009). The prepaid amount is recorded as an asset with a zero risk weight and the institution will continue to record quarterly expenses for deposit insurance. For purposes of calculating the prepaid amount, assessments were measured at the institution's assessment rate as of September 30, 2009, with a uniform increase of 3 basis points effective January 1, 2011, and were based on the institution's assessment base for the third quarter of 2009, with growth assumed quarterly at an annual rate of 5%. If events cause actual assessments during the prepayment period to vary from the prepaid amount, institutions will pay excess assessments in cash, or receive a rebate of prepaid amounts not exhausted after collection of assessments due on June 30, 2013, as applicable. Collection of the prepayment does not preclude the FDIC from changing assessment rates or revising the risk-based assessment system in the future.

Beginning with the second quarter of 2011, the Dodd-Frank Act requires the FDIC's deposit insurance assessments to be based on assets instead of deposits. The FDIC has issued rules, effective as of the second quarter of 2011, which specify that the assessment base for a bank is equal to its total average consolidated assets less average tangible capital. The FDIC assessment rates range from approximately 5 basis points to 35 basis points, depending on applicable adjustments for unsecured debt issued by an institution and brokered deposits (and to further adjustment for institutions that hold unsecured debt of other FDIC-insured institutions), until such time as the FDIC's reserve ratio equals 1.15%. Once the FDIC's reserve ratio reaches 1.15% and the reserve ratio for the immediately prior assessment period is less than 2.0%, the applicable assessment rates may range from 3 basis points to 30 basis points (subject to adjustments as described above). If the reserve ratio for the prior assessment period is equal to or greater than 2.0% and less than 2.5%, the assessment rates may range from 2 basis points to 28 basis points and if the prior assessment period is greater than 2.5%, the assessment rates may range from 1 basis point to 25 basis points (in each case subject to adjustments as described above). No institution may pay a dividend if it is in default on its federal deposit insurance assessment.

Transactions with Affiliates. Transactions between Community Bank and its affiliates generally are required to be on terms as favorable to the institution as transactions with non-affiliates, and certain of these transactions, such as loans to an affiliate, are restricted to a percentage of Community Bank's capital and require eligible capital in specified amounts. In addition, Community Bank may not lend to any affiliate engaged in activities not permissible for a bank holding company or acquire the securities of most affiliates. Community Financial is an affiliate of Community Bank.

Regulatory Capital Requirements. To be considered well capitalized, an institution must have a ratio of Tier 1 capital to adjusted total assets of at least 5.0%, a ratio of Tier 1 capital to risk-weighted assets of at least 6.0%, and a ratio of total capital to risk-weighted assets of at least 10.0% and not be subject to any agreement, order or directive of the OCC to meet and maintain any specific capital measure. Tier 1 capital generally consists of common stockholders' equity, retained earnings and certain noncumulative perpetual preferred stock, plus certain intangibles. At March 31, 2012, Community Bank had no intangibles in Tier 1 capital.

Total capital consists of Tier 1 and Tier 2 capital. Tier 2 capital generally consists of certain permanent and maturing capital instruments that do not qualify as Tier 1 capital and up to 1.25% of risk-weighted assets in allowance for loan and lease losses. The amount of Tier 2 capital includable in total capital may not exceed the amount of Tier 1 capital. Risk-weighted assets are determined by assigning a risk weight ranging from 0% to 100% to all assets and certain off-balance sheet items.

To be adequately capitalized, an institution must have a ratio of Tier 1 capital to adjusted total assets of at least 4.0%, a ratio of Tier 1 capital to risk-weighted assets of at least 4.0% and a ratio of total capital to risk-weighted assets of at least 8.0%. At March 31, 2012, Community Bank was well capitalized. The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency is authorized to require federal savings banks on a case-by-case basis to maintain an additional amount of total capital to account for concentration of credit risk, level of interest rate risk, equity investments in non-financial companies and the risk of non-traditional activities.

The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency is authorized, and under certain circumstances required, to take certain actions against savings banks that are not at least adequately capitalized. Any such institution must submit a capital restoration plan and until such plan is approved by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency may not increase its assets, acquire another institution, establish a branch or engage in any new activities, and generally may not make capital distributions. Additional restrictions may apply, including a forced merger, acquisition, or liquidation of the institution. The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency generally is authorized to reclassify an institution into a lower capital category and impose the restrictions if the institution is engaged in unsafe or unsound practices or is in an unsafe or unsound condition. The imposition by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency of any of these measures on Community Bank may have a substantial adverse effect on our operations and profitability. Regulatory capital is discussed further in Note 11 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements contained in Item 8 of this report.

Any institution that meets the requirement to be adequately capitalized and not the requirements to be well capitalized may not accept, renew or rollover brokered deposits without a waiver from the FDIC. An institution that does not meet the requirements to be adequately capitalized may not accept, renew or rollover brokered deposits. Brokered deposits include deposits solicited by the institution or its employees if the interest rates on such deposits exceed certain thresholds.

Under recently proposed regulations, the criteria for an institution to be considered well capitalized and adequately capitalized would become more stringent. We cannot predict when or in what form such regulations may be adopted in final form.

Limitations on Dividends and Other Capital Distributions. Office of the Comptroller of the Currency regulations impose various restrictions on the ability of Community Bank to make distributions of capital, which include dividends, stock redemptions or repurchases, cash-out mergers and other transactions charged to the capital account. Community Bank must file a notice or application with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency before making any capital distribution. Community Bank generally may make capital distributions during any calendar year in an amount up to 100% of net income for the year-to-date plus retained net income for the two preceding years, so long as it is well-capitalized after the distribution. If, however, Community Bank proposes to make a capital distribution when it does not meet (or will not meet following the proposed capital distribution) the requirements to be adequately capitalized or to make a distribution that will exceed these net income limitations, it must obtain Office of the Comptroller of the Currency approval prior to making such distribution. The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency may object to any distribution based on safety and soundness concerns.

Community Financial is not subject to Office of the Comptroller of the Currency regulatory restrictions on the payment of dividends. Dividends from Community Financial, however, may depend, in part, upon its receipt of dividends from Community Bank. Issuance of preferred stock under the TARP and CPP restricts the Company from increasing its dividend distribution to stockholders without approval from the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. Community Bank, as a federal savings bank, must notify the Federal Reserve prior to paying a dividend to Community Financial. The Federal Reserve may disapprove a dividend if, among other things, the Federal Reserve determines that the federal savings bank would be undercapitalized on a pro forma basis or the dividend is determined to raise safety or soundness concerns or violates a prohibition contained in applicable statutes, regulations, enforcement actions or agreements between the institution (or its holding company) and a federal bank regulator.

Qualified Thrift Lender Test and Asset Limitations. All savings associations, including Community Bank, are required to meet a qualified thrift lender test to avoid certain restrictions on their operations. This test requires a savings association to have at least 65% of its portfolio assets (as defined by statute) in qualified thrift investments on a monthly average for nine out of every 12 months on a rolling basis. As an alternative, the savings association may maintain 60% of its assets in those assets specified in Section 7701(a)(19) of the Internal Revenue Code. Under either test, such assets primarily consist of residential housing related loans and investments. At March 31, 2012, Community Bank met the test and has always met the test since its effective date.

Any savings institution that fails to meet the QTL test is subject to certain restrictions on its operations and the institution's dividend payments are limited to amounts approved by the OCC and the Federal Reserve that are necessary to meet obligations of a company that controls the institution and would be permissible for a national bank, unless within one year it meets the test, and thereafter remains a qualified thrift lender. An institution that fails the test a second time must be subjected to the above restrictions and is subject to enforcement action. Any holding company of an institution that fails the test and does not re-qualify within a year must become a bank holding company. If such an institution has not converted to a bank within three years after it failed the test, it must divest all investments and cease all activities not permissible for both a national bank and a savings association.

Community Bank is subject to a 35% of total assets limit on consumer loans, commercial paper and corporate debt securities, a 20% limit on commercial loans, provided that the amount in excess of 10% of total assets can only be used for small business loans, and a 400% of capital limit on non-residential real property loans. At March 31, 2012, Community Bank had 6.87% of its assets in consumer loans, commercial paper and corporate debt securities, 9.65% of its assets in commercial loans and 336% of its capital in non-residential real property loans.

Community Reinvestment Act. Under the Community Reinvestment Act, every FDIC-insured institution has a continuing and affirmative obligation consistent with safe and sound banking practices to help meet the credit needs of its entire community, including low and moderate income neighborhoods. The Community Reinvestment Act does not establish specific lending requirements or programs for financial institutions nor does it limit an institution's discretion to develop the types of products and services that it believes are best suited to its particular community, consistent with the Act. The Community Reinvestment Act requires the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, in connection with the examination of Community Bank, to assess the institution's record of meeting the credit needs of its community and to take such record into account in its evaluation of certain applications, such as a merger or the establishment of a branch, by Community Bank. An unsatisfactory rating may be used as the basis for the denial of an application by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. Community Bank was examined for Community Reinvestment Act compliance in November, 2010 and received a rating of Satisfactory.

Holding Company Regulation. Community Financial is a unitary savings and loan holding company subject to regulatory oversight by the Federal Reserve. As such, we are required to register and file reports with the Federal Reserve and are subject to regulation and examination by the Federal Reserve. In addition, the Federal Reserve has enforcement authority over us and our non-savings association subsidiaries, which also permits the Federal Reserve to restrict or prohibit activities that are determined to be a serious risk to the subsidiary savings association.

As a unitary savings and loan holding company that acquired Community Bank before May 4, 1999, we generally are not subject to activity restrictions. If we acquire control of one or more additional savings associations as a separate subsidiary, our activities and those of any of our subsidiaries (other than Community Bank or any other insured savings association) would become subject to such restrictions unless such other associations each qualify as a QTL and were acquired in supervisory acquisitions.

Federal Securities Laws. The stock of Community Financial is registered with the SEC under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Community Financial is subject to the information, proxy solicitation, insider trading restrictions and other requirements of the SEC under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The SEC and the NASDAQ have adopted regulations and policies under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 that apply to Community Financial as a registered company under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and a NASDAQ-traded company. The stated goals of these Sarbanes-Oxley requirements are to increase corporate responsibility, provide for enhanced penalties for accounting and auditing improprieties at publicly traded companies and to protect investors by improving the accuracy and reliability of corporate disclosures pursuant to the securities laws. The SEC and NASDAQ Sarbanes-Oxley-related regulations and policies include very specific additional disclosure requirements and corporate governance rules. The Sarbanes-Oxley Act represents significant federal involvement in matters traditionally left to state regulatory systems, such as the regulation of the accounting profession, and to state corporate law, such as the relationship between a board of directors and management and between a board of directors and its committees.

Capital Purchase Program. On December 19, 2008, as part of the Troubled Asset Relief Program (TARP) Capital Purchase Program (CPP) of the United States Department of the Treasury (Treasury), the Company entered into a Letter Agreement and Securities Purchase Agreement (collectively, the Purchase Agreement) with Treasury, pursuant to which the Company (i) sold to Treasury 12,643 shares of the Company s Fixed Rate Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A (the Series A Preferred Stock), having a liquidation preference amount of $1,000 per share, for a purchase price of $12.6 million in cash and (ii) issued to Treasury a ten-year warrant (the Warrant) to purchase 351,194 shares of the Company s common stock, par value $0.01 per share (the Common Stock), at an exercise price of $5.40 per share.

The Series A Preferred Stock qualified as Tier 1 capital and will pay cumulative dividends on the liquidation preference amount on a quarterly basis at a rate of 5% per annum for the first five years, and 9% per annum thereafter. Subject to the prior approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Series A Preferred Stock is redeemable at the option of the Company in whole or in part at a redemption price of 100% of the liquidation preference amount plus any accrued and unpaid dividends.

The enactment of ARRA on February 17, 2009 permits the Company to repay the Treasury without penalty and without the need to raise new capital, subject to the Treasury s consultation with the recipient s appropriate regulatory agency. Additionally, upon repayment the Treasury will liquidate all outstanding warrants at their current market value.

The Series A Preferred Stock and the Warrant were issued in a private placement exempt from registration pursuant to Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the Securities Act). In accordance with the Purchase Agreement, the Company subsequently registered the Series A Preferred Stock, the Warrant and the shares of Common Stock underlying the Warrant under the Securities Act.

Federal and State Taxation

Federal Taxation. In addition to the regular income tax, corporations, including savings associations such as Community Bank, generally are subject to a minimum tax. An alternative minimum tax is imposed at a minimum tax rate of 20% on alternative minimum taxable income, which is the sum of a corporation s regular taxable income (with certain adjustments) and tax preference items, less any available exemption. The alternative minimum tax is imposed to the extent it exceeds the corporation s regular income tax and net operating losses can offset no more than 90% of alternative minimum taxable income.

To the extent earnings appropriated to a savings association s bad debt reserves for qualifying real property loans and deducted for federal income tax purposes exceed the allowable amount of such reserves computed under the experience method and to the extent of the association s supplemental reserves for losses on loans (Excess), such Excess may not, without adverse tax consequences, be utilized for the payment of cash dividends or other distributions to a shareholder (including distributions on redemption, dissolution or liquidation) or for any other purpose (except to absorb bad debt losses).

Community Financial and Community Bank file consolidated federal income tax returns on a fiscal year basis. Savings associations, such as the Community Bank, that file federal income tax returns as part of a consolidated group are required by applicable Treasury regulations to reduce their taxable income for purposes of computing the percentage bad debt deduction for losses attributable to activities of the non-savings association members of the consolidated group that are functionally related to the activities of the savings association member.

Our federal income tax returns and our consolidated subsidiary for the last three years are open to possible audit by the Internal Revenue Service. In the opinion of management, any examination of still open returns (including returns of subsidiaries and predecessors of, or entities merged into, Community Bank) would not result in a deficiency which could have a material adverse effect on the financial condition of Community Financial and our consolidated subsidiaries.

Virginia Taxation. We conduct our business in Virginia and consequently are subject to the Virginia corporate income tax. The Commonwealth of Virginia imposes a corporate income tax on a basis similar to federal income tax at a rate of 6% on Virginia taxable income.

ITEM 7. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS
Executive Overview

Community Financial Corporation is a Virginia corporation. Certain of the information presented herein relates to Community Bank, a wholly owned subsidiary of Community Financial. Community Financial and Community Bank, like all thrift institutions and their holding companies, are subject to comprehensive regulation, examination and supervision by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The following information is intended to provide investors a better understanding of our financial position and the operating results of Community Financial Corporation and its subsidiary, Community Bank. This discussion is primarily from management's perspective and may not contain all information that is of importance to the reader. Accordingly, the information should be considered in the context of the consolidated financial statements and other related information contained herein.

Our net income is primarily dependent on the difference or spread between the average yield earned on loans and investments and the average rate paid on deposits and borrowings, as well as the relative amounts of such assets and liabilities. The interest rate spread is affected by regulatory, economic and competitive factors that influence interest rates, loan demand and deposit flows. Like other financial institutions, we are subject to interest rate risk to the degree that our interest bearing liabilities, primarily deposits and borrowings with short and medium term maturities, mature or reprice more rapidly, or on a different basis, than interest earning assets, primarily loans with longer term maturities than deposits and borrowings. While having liabilities that mature or reprice more frequently on average than assets may be beneficial in times of declining interest rates, such an asset/liability structure may result in lower net income or net losses during periods of rising interest rates, unless offset by other noninterest income. Our net income is also affected by, among other things, fee income, asset quality, provision for loan losses, operating expenses and income taxes.

The primary factors contributing to our increase in net income for the fiscal year was the decrease in the provision for loan losses and a 4.3% increase in our net interest income for the current fiscal year compared to the prior fiscal year.

The primary factor contributing to the increase in net interest income for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012 was an increase in the interest rate spread. The increased interest rate spread is primarily attributable to a reduction in the cost of our interest-bearing liabilities due to the repricing of these liabilities during the current low interest rate environment. The aggressive rate reductions in prior fiscal years resulted in a timing difference in the repricing of assets and liabilities. We will monitor the impact a change in interest rates may have on both the growth in interest-earning assets and our interest rate spread. The pace and extent of future interest rate changes will impact our loan growth and interest rate spread, as well as interest rate adjustments on certain adjustable rate loans that are subject to caps.

Utilization of brokered deposits and management's emphasis on increasing low and no interest bearing transaction accounts has impacted the composition of our interest-bearing liabilities. Deposits were the primary source of funding during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012. We acquired lower cost brokered deposits and low interest bearing transaction accounts during the fiscal year to replace higher cost time deposits. While we have the capacity to continue to utilize borrowings to meet funding needs, management recognizes the practical long-term limitations of such a funding strategy. Management is also cognizant of the potential for compression in our net interest margin related to the need to acquire funds and the pace of interest rate changes. Management will continue to monitor the level of deposits and borrowings in relation to the current interest rate environment.

Table of ContentsCritical Accounting Policies

General. Our financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (GAAP). The financial information contained within our financial statements is, to a significant extent, financial information that is based on measures of the financial effects of transactions and events that have already occurred. A variety of factors could affect the ultimate value that is obtained either when earning income, recognizing an expense, recovering an asset or relieving a liability. We use historical loss factors as one factor in determining the inherent loss that may be present in our loan portfolio. Actual losses could differ significantly from the historical factors that we use. In addition, GAAP itself may change from one previously acceptable method to another method. Although the economics of our transactions would be the same, the timing of events that would impact our transactions could change.

Allowance for Loan Losses. The allowance for loan losses is an estimate of the losses that may be inherent in our loan portfolio. The allowance is based on two basic principles of accounting: (i) that losses be accrued when they are probable of occurring and estimable and (ii) that losses be accrued based on the differences between the value of collateral, present value of future cash flows or values that are observable in the secondary market, and the loan balance.

The allowance for loan losses is maintained at a level considered by management to be adequate to absorb future loan losses currently inherent in the loan portfolio. Management's assessment of the adequacy of the allowance is based upon type and volume of the loan portfolio, past loan loss experience, existing and anticipated economic conditions, and other factors which deserve current recognition in estimating future loan losses. This evaluation is inherently subjective as it requires estimates that are susceptible to significant revision as more information becomes available. Additions to the allowance are charged to operations. Subsequent recoveries, if any, are credited to the allowance. Loans are charged-off partially or wholly at the time management determines collectibility is not probable. Management's assessment of the adequacy of the allowance is subject to evaluation and adjustment by our regulators.

The allowance consists of specific, general and unallocated components. The specific component relates to loans that are classified as either doubtful or substandard. For such loans that are also classified as impaired, an allowance is established when the discounted cash flows (or collateral value or observable market price) of the impaired loan is lower than the carrying value of that loan. The general component covers special mention and non-classified loans and is based on historical loss experience adjusted for qualitative factors. An unallocated component may be maintained to cover uncertainties that could affect management's estimate of probable losses. The unallocated component of the allowance reflects the margin of imprecision inherent in the underlying assumptions used in the methodologies for estimating specific and general losses in the portfolio.

The Corporation uses real estate appraisals, discounted cash flows or other appropriate methods to determine the value of impaired loans. With the use of these methods, the Corporation provides valuation allowances for anticipated losses when management determines that a decline in the value of the collateral or expected cash flows has occurred. Updated appraisals are obtained periodically and in those instances where management has reason to believe a material change may have occurred in the fair value of the collateral. Evaluation of impairment requires judgment and estimates and management uses all relevant and timely information available to determine specific reserves on impaired loans, including appraisals and cash flow analysis. Loans are partially or completely charged off in the period when they are deemed uncollectible in accordance with ASC 310-35.

Large groups of smaller balance homogeneous loans are collectively evaluated for impairment. Accordingly, we do not separately identify individual consumer and residential loans for impairment disclosures, unless such loans are the subject of a restructuring agreement. These loans were included in the allowance calculation as pools of loans in the general component with allocations based on historic charge-offs and qualitative factor adjustments deemed appropriate by management for these types of loans and their nonaccrual status.

In preparing consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as of the date of the balance sheet and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Material estimates that are particularly susceptible to significant change in the near term relate to the determination of the allowance for loan losses, the valuation of deferred tax assets, the valuation of real estate owned and the fair value of financial instruments.

Asset/Liability Management

Management believes it is important to manage the relationship between interest rates and the effect on our net portfolio value. This approach calculates the difference between the present value of expected cash flows from assets and the present value of expected cash flows from liabilities, as well as cash flows from off-balance sheet contracts. Management of our assets and liabilities is done within the context of the marketplace, but also within limits established by the board of directors on the amount of change in net portfolio value which is acceptable given certain interest rate changes.

Presented in the following table, as of March 31, 2012 and 2011, is an analysis of our interest rate risk as measured by changes in net portfolio value for instantaneous and sustained parallel shifts in the yield curve and compared to our board policy limits. The Board limits have been established with consideration of the dollar impact of various rate changes and our capital position. The Board limit has been established as a minimum percentage of the Company's net portfolio value. Our net portfolio values at March 31, 2012 were within the parameters set by the Board of Directors. As illustrated in the table, net portfolio value is not significantly impacted by rising or falling rates as of the date indicated. Information in the table for the fiscal year 2011 was provided by the Office of Thrift Supervision. Information for the 2012 fiscal year was provided by a third party engaged by the Bank due to the change in regulatory authorities to the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

Generally, management strives to maintain a neutral position regarding interest rate risk. In the current interest rate environment, our customers are interested in obtaining long-term credit products and short-term savings products. Management has taken action to counter this trend. A significant effort has been made to reduce the duration and average life of our interest-earning assets. As of March 31, 2012, approximately 77.0% of our gross loan portfolio consisted of loans which reprice during the life of the loan. Applications are taken and processed for customers seeking longer term fixed-rate mortgage loans, 15 to 30 years, with the loan being closed and retained by other organizations.

On the deposit side, management has worked to reduce the impact of interest rate changes by emphasizing non-interest bearing or low interest deposit products and maintaining competitive pricing on longer term certificates of deposit. We have also used Federal Home Loan Bank advances to provide funding for loan originations and to provide liquidity as needed.

In managing our asset/liability mix, depending on the relationship between long- and short-term interest rates, market conditions and consumer preference, we may place somewhat greater emphasis on maximizing our net interest income rather than on strictly matching the interest rate sensitivity of our assets and liabilities. We believe the increased net income that may result from an acceptable mismatch in the actual maturity or repricing of our asset and liability portfolio can provide sufficient returns to justify the increased exposure to sudden and unexpected increases in interest rates which may result from such a mismatch. We have established limits, which may change from time to time, on the level of acceptable interest rate risk. There can be no assurance, however, that in the event of an adverse change in interest rates, our efforts to limit interest rate risk will be successful.

As with any method of measuring interest rate risk, certain shortcomings are inherent in the method of analysis presented in the foregoing table. For example, although certain assets and liabilities may have similar maturities or periods to repricing, they may react in different degrees to changes in market interest rates. Also, the interest rates on certain types of assets and liabilities may fluctuate in advance of changes in market interest rates, while interest rates on other types may lag behind changes in market rates. Additionally, certain assets, such as adjustable-rate mortgage loans, have features which restrict changes in interest rates on a short-term basis and over the life of the asset. Further, in the event of a change in interest rates, expected rates of prepayments on loans and early withdrawals from certificates could likely deviate significantly from those assumed in calculating the information in the table above. Finally, the ability of many borrowers to service their debt may decrease in the event of an interest rate increase. We consider all of these factors in monitoring our exposure to interest rate risk.

Average Balances, Interest Rates and Yields

The following table sets forth certain information relating to categories of our interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities for the periods indicated. All average balances are computed on a daily basis. Non-accruing loans have been included in the table as loans carrying a zero yield. The yields have not been adjusted for tax preferences.

Table of ContentsRate/Volume Analysis

The following table describes the extent to which changes in interest rates and changes in volume of interest-related assets and liabilities have affected our interest income and expense during the periods indicated. For each category of interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities, information is provided on changes attributable to (i) changes in volume (change in volume multiplied by prior year rate), (ii) changes in rate (change in rate multiplied by prior year volume), and (iii) total changes in rate and volume. The combined effect of changes in both volume and rate, which cannot be separately identified, has been allocated proportionately to the change due to volume and the change due to rate.

Financial Condition

Total assets decreased $26.2 million, or 4.9%, to $503.9 million at March 31, 2012 due primarily to a decrease in loans of $33.2 million and real estate owned of $1.0 million, partially offset by an increase in investments of $9.1 million. Deposits decreased $6.6 million, or 1.8% and borrowings decreased $20.4 million, or 20.8%. The decrease in deposits is reflected primarily in a decrease in time deposits of $28.6 million, partially offset by increases in transaction accounts of $13.1 million, money market accounts of $7.2 million and savings accounts of $1.7 million. The decrease in borrowings is reflected primarily in a decrease in FHLB borrowings of $19.0 million. Management believes the increase in transaction and money market deposits is primarily attributable to an increased emphasis on customer relationships, service and pricing. Management attributes the decrease in loans receivable primarily to weak economic conditions and related reduced loan demand.

The Hampton Roads region of the Bank experienced a loan decrease of $30.7 million, primarily commercial and residential real estate loans and construction loans, for the fiscal year ended 2012. The Shenandoah Valley region of the Bank had a loan decrease of approximately $2.5 million, primarily construction loans.

Asset quality is an important factor in the successful operation of a financial institution. The loss of interest income and principal that may result from non-performing assets has an adverse effect on earnings, while the resolution of those assets requires the use of capital and managerial resources. At March 31, 2012, non-performing assets, consisting of non-performing loans, foreclosed real estate and repossessed automobiles, totaled $21.6 million, or 4.29% of total assets, compared to $16.6 million or 3.13% of total assets at March 31, 2011. Non-performing assets at March 31, 2012 were comprised primarily of residential real estate and commercial real estate loans delinquent 90 days or more and real estate owned. Based on current market values of the collateral securing these loans, management anticipates no significant losses in excess of the reserves for losses previously recorded. Due to an uncertain real estate market and the economy in general, no assurances can be given that our level of non-performing assets will not increase in the future.

Stockholders' equity increased $642,000, or 1.3%, to $50.4 million at March 31, 2012 compared to $49.8 million at March 31, 2011. The increase was the result of earnings for the year ended March 31, 2012 offset by cash dividend payments on preferred stock and pension liability adjustments.

Results of Operations

Our results of operations depend primarily on the level of our net interest income and noninterest income and the level of our operating expenses. Net interest income depends upon the value of interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities and the interest rate earned or paid on them.

Comparison of Years Ended March 31, 2012 and 2011

General. Net income for the year ended March 31, 2012 was $1.8 million or $0.24 diluted earnings per common share compared to $1.5 million or $0.18 diluted earnings per common share for the year ended March 31, 2011. Net income increased primarily due to an increase in net interest income and a decrease in the provision for loan losses, partially offset by an increase in noninterest expenses for the March 31, 2012 fiscal year.

Interest Income. Total interest income decreased $1.2 million, or 4.5%, to $26.4 million for the year ended March 31, 2012 as compared to $27.6 million for the year ended March 31, 2011. The decrease in total interest income can be attributed to a decrease in the average dollar volume of loans of $29.4 million partially offset by an increase in the yield on interest earning assets. Average yields on total interest-earning assets increased four basis points from 5.50% in fiscal 2011 to 5.54% for the current fiscal year due primarily to an increase in loan yields.

Interest Expense. Total interest expense decreased $2.2 million, or 38.6%, to $3.4 million for the year ended March 31, 2012 from $5.6 million for the year ended March 31, 2011. The decrease in total interest expense is primarily attributable to a decrease in the cost of interest-bearing liabilities. The cost of funds decreased 41 basis points from 1.16% for the year ended March 31, 2011 to 0.75% for the current year. There was also a decrease in the average volume of interest-bearing liabilities due to decreases in both deposits and borrowings. The decrease in average deposit balances was due primarily to decreases in time deposit accounts for the current fiscal year.

Provision for Loan Losses. We establish provisions for loan losses, which are charged to earnings, at a level required to reflect credit losses inherent in the loan portfolio. In evaluating the level of the allowance for loan losses, management considers historical loss experience, the types of loans and the amount of loans in the loan portfolio, adverse situations that may affect borrowers' ability to repay, estimated value of any underlying collateral, peer group data, prevailing economic conditions and current factors. Large groups of smaller balance homogeneous loans, such as residential real estate, small commercial real estate, home equity and consumer loans, are evaluated in the aggregate using historical loss factors adjusted for current economic conditions and other relevant data. Larger non-homogeneous loans, such as commercial loans for which management has concerns about the borrowers' ability to repay, are evaluated individually, and specific loss allocations are provided for these loans when necessary.

In the current economic environment, management has considered the potential impact of subprime lending in certain areas of the national economy. These circumstances appear to have impacted economic conditions in our market areas to a lesser extent than the national economy. We have experienced increases in delinquency rates during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012. We have maintained experienced and stable lending personnel during that period.

Based on management's evaluation of these factors, the provision for loan losses decreased $1.6 million, or 24.1%, to $4.9 million for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012 from $6.5 million for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2011 due to a decrease in the provision for specific impaired loans. The loan loss allowance for specific impaired loans is dependent primarily on the value of the collateral relative to the outstanding loan balance. We monitor our loan loss allowance on a quarterly basis and make allocations as necessary. Management believes that the level of our loan loss allowance is adequate. As of March 31, 2012, the total allowance for loan losses amounted to $8.9 million. At March 31, 2012, our allowance as a percentage of total loans receivable was 1.96% and as a percentage of total non-performing loans was 73.0% compared to 1.61% and 127.0% respectively at March 31, 2011. The increase in the total allowance to loans was due to both an increase in the allowance and a decrease in total loans receivable. The decrease in the total allowance to non-performing loans was due to an increase in non-performing loans at March 31, 2012 compared to March 31, 2011 offset by an increase in the allowance for loan losses for the same periods.

Noninterest Income. Noninterest income decreased $270,000, or 6.7%, to $3.8 million in fiscal 2012 as compared to $4.1 million for the year ended March 31, 2011. The decrease was primarily due to lower secondary market mortgage loan fees, commercial and consumer loan fees and overdraft fees. The increase in other income is due to the increase in income from affiliates in the current fiscal year.

	Fiscal 2012	Fiscal 2011	Change
Loan fee income	$ 920,411	$ 1,163,409	$ (242,998)
Deposit fee income	2,491,554	2,548,391	(56,837)
Other	374,663	377,408	29,537
 Total noninterest income	 $ 3,786,628	 $ 4,089,208	 $ (270,298)

Noninterest Expense. Total noninterest expense increased $1.8 million, or 10.5%, to $19.0 million for the year ended March 31, 2012 from $17.2 million for the year ended March 31, 2011, due primarily to increased compensation expense of $334,000 and an increase in real estate owned expenses of $1.7 million, partially offset by a decreased deposit insurance expense of $283,000. The increase in compensation expenses is related to merit pay and benefit increases. The increase in other expenses is primarily due to the increase in nonperforming assets and related collection expenses.

Taxes. Total taxes increased $133,000 to $976,000 during the year ended March 31, 2012 from $843,000 during fiscal 2011. The effective tax rate for the year ended March 31, 2012 was 34.9%.

Comparison of Years Ended March 31, 2011 and 2010

General. Net income for the year ended March 31, 2011 was $1.5 million or $0.18 diluted earnings per common share compared to $3.6 million or $0.65 diluted earnings per common share for the year ended March 31, 2010. Net income decreased due primarily to an increase in the provision for loan losses, partially offset by an increase in net interest income for the March 31, 2011 fiscal year.

Interest Income. Total interest income decreased $613,000, or 2.2%, to $27.6 million for the year ended March 31, 2011 as compared to $28.2 million for the year ended March 31, 2010. The decrease in total interest income was attributed to a decrease in the yield on interest earning assets and a decrease in the average dollar volume of loans of $2.7 million. Average yields on total interest-earning assets decreased nine basis points from 5.59% in fiscal 2010 to 5.50% for the 2011 fiscal year due primarily to a decrease in loan yields in a decreasing rate environment.

Interest Expense. Total interest expense decreased $2.5 million, or 30.6%, to $5.6 million for the year ended March 31, 2011 from $8.1 million for the year ended March 31, 2010. The decrease in total interest expense was attributable to a decrease in the cost of interest-bearing liabilities slightly offset by an increase in the average dollar volume of deposits of $4.6 million. The cost of funds decreased 51 basis points from 1.67% for the year ended March 31, 2010 to 1.16% for the 2011 fiscal year. The increase in deposit balances was due primarily to increases in transaction accounts for the 2011 fiscal year.

Provision for Loan Losses We experienced increases in delinquency and charge-off rates during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2011. We have maintained experienced and stable lending personnel during that period.

Based on management's evaluation of these factors, the provision for loan losses increased $4.1 million, or 102.7%, to $8.1 million for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2011 from $4.0 million for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2010. The loan loss allowance for specific impaired loans is dependent primarily on the value of the collateral relative to the outstanding loan balance. We monitor our loan loss allowance on a quarterly basis and make allocations as necessary. Management believes that the level of our loan loss allowance is adequate. As of March 31, 2011, the total allowance for loan losses amounted to $7.9 million. At March 31, 2011, our allowance as a percentage of total loans receivable was 1.61% and as a percentage of total non-performing loans was 127.1%.

Noninterest Income. Noninterest income increased $239,000, or 6.2%, to $4.1 million in fiscal 2011 as compared to $3.9 million for the year ended March 31, 2010. The increase was primarily due to higher secondary market mortgage loan fees, commercial loan fees and overdraft fees. The decrease in other income is due to the income from the sale of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac preferred stock in the previous fiscal year ended March 31, 2010.

	Fiscal 2011	Fiscal 2010	Change
Loan fee income	$ 1,163,409	$ 920,013	$ 243,396
Deposit fee income	2,548,391	2,379,771	168,620
Other	377,408	550,421	(173,013)
Total noninterest income	$ 4,089,208	$ 3,850,205	$ 239,003

Noninterest Expense. Total noninterest expense increased $532,000, or 3.5%, to $15.5 million for the year ended March 31, 2011 from $15.0 million for the year ended March 31, 2010, primarily due to increased compensation expense of $369,000 and an increase in real estate owned expenses of $624,000, partially offset by a decreased deposit insurance expense of $409,000 due to a special assessment in the previous year. The increase in compensation expenses is related to merit pay increases and additional loan and customer service personnel. The increase in other expenses is primarily due to the increase in nonperforming assets and related collection expenses.

Taxes. Total taxes decreased $506,000 to $843,000 during the year ended March 31, 2011 from $1.3 million during fiscal 2010. The effective tax rate for the year ended March 31, 2011 was 35.6%. Income taxes for the March 31, 2010 fiscal year included a historic tax credit of $483,000.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Liquidity represents our ability to meet our on-going funding requirements for contractual obligations, the credit needs of customers, withdrawal of customers' deposits and operating expenses. Our principal sources of funds are customer deposits, advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta, amortization and prepayment of loans, proceeds from the sale of loans and funds provided from operations. Management maintains investments in liquid assets based upon its assessment of (i) our need for funds, (ii) expected deposit flows, (iii) the yields available on short-term liquid assets, (iv) the liquidity of our loan portfolio and (v) the objectives of our asset/liability management program.

Our dominant source of funds during the year ended March 31, 2012 was from deposits which decreased by $6.6 million. Our cash increased $335,000 from $7.9 million at March 31, 2011 to $8.2 million at March 31, 2012.

Table of Contents

At March 31, 2012, we had commitments to originate $8.1 million of loans. Certificates of deposit scheduled to mature in one year or less at March 31, 2012 totaled $148.3 million. Based on our historical experience, management believes that a significant portion of such deposits will remain with us. Management further believes that loan repayments and other sources of funds will be adequate to meet our foreseeable short- and long-term liquidity needs.

The Bank had at March 31, 2012, a line of credit at the Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta in the amount of $133.9 million. The Bank had borrowings of $78.0 million in addition to a letter of credit of $4.0 million and a remaining balance available of $51.9 million at March 31, 2012.

At March 31, 2012, we had tangible and core capital of 9.96% of adjusted total assets, which was in excess of their respective requirements of 1.5% and 4.0%. We also had risk-based capital of 13.08% of risk weighted assets, which also exceeded its requirement of 8.0%. The Bank was considered well capitalized as of March 31, 2012. Regulatory capital is discussed further in Note 10 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements contained in Item 8 of this report.

Contractual Obligations and Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

As of March 31, 2012, we have not participated in any unconsolidated entities or financial partnerships, often referred to as structured finance or special entities. We do have significant commitments to fund loans in the ordinary course of business. Such commitments and resulting off-balance sheet risk are further discussed in Note 14 of the Consolidated Financial Statements contained in Item 8 of this report.

The following table presents our contractual cash obligations, excluding deposit obligations, as of March 31, 2012.

Impact of Inflation and Changing Prices

The consolidated financial statements and related data presented herein have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America which require the measurement of financial position and results of operations in terms of historical dollars without considering changes in the relative purchasing power of money over time because of inflation. Unlike most industrial companies, virtually all of the assets and liabilities of a financial institution are monetary in nature. As a result, interest rates have a more significant impact on a financial institution's performance than the effects of general levels of inflation. Interest rates do not necessarily move in the same direction or the same magnitude as the price of goods and services. In the current interest-rate environment, equity, maturity structure and quality of our assets and liabilities are critical to the maintenance of acceptable performance levels.

Community Financial Corporation

Staunton, Virginia

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Community Financial Corporation and Subsidiary as of March 31, 2012 and 2011, and the related consolidated statements of income, stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Corporation is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Corporation's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Community Financial Corporation and Subsidiary as of March 31, 2012 and 2011, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the years then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Summary of Accounting Policies

Principles of Consolidation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Community Financial Corporation (the Corporation) and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Community Bank (the Bank). All material intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Nature of Business and Regulatory Environment

The Bank is a federally chartered savings association and the primary asset of the Corporation. The Corporation provides a full range of banking services to individual and corporate customers primarily in the Shenandoah Valley and Hampton Roads regions of Virginia through its wholly-owned subsidiary.

The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) System became the primary regulator for federally chartered savings associations and the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System became the primary regulator for savings and loan holding companies during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012.

The Bank's deposits are insured up to applicable limits by the Deposit Insurance Fund (DIF), which is administered by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). The FDIC has specific authority to prescribe and enforce such regulations and issue such orders as it deems necessary to prevent actions or practices by savings associations that pose a serious threat to the DIF.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Improvement Act of 1991 (FDICIA) was effective January 1, 1993. FDICIA contained provisions which allow regulators to impose prompt corrective action on undercapitalized institutions in accordance with a categorized capital-based system.

Estimates

In preparing consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as of the date of the balance sheet and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Material estimates that are particularly susceptible to significant change in the near term relate to the determination of the allowance for loan losses, the valuation of deferred tax assets, the valuation of real estate owned and the fair value of financial instruments.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of reporting cash flows, cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, amounts due from banks, interest-bearing deposits and federal funds sold.

Securities

Securities may be classified as either trading, held to maturity or available for sale. Trading securities are held principally for resale and recorded at their fair values. Unrealized gains and losses on trading securities are included immediately in operations. Held to maturity securities are those which the Corporation has the positive intent and ability to hold to maturity and are reported at amortized cost. Available for sale securities consist of securities not classified as trading securities nor as held to maturity securities. Unrealized holding gains and losses on available for sale securities are excluded from operations and reported in accumulated other comprehensive income. Gains and losses on the sale of available for sale securities are recorded on the trade date and are determined using the specific identification method. Premiums and discounts on securities are recognized in interest income using the interest method over the period to maturity.

Securities, Continued

Management evaluates securities for other-than-temporary impairment on a quarterly basis, and more frequently when economic or market concerns warrant such evaluation. Impairment of securities occurs when the fair value of a security is less than its amortized cost. For debt securities, impairment is considered other-than-temporary and recognized in its entirety in net income if either (i) the Corporation intends to sell the security or (ii) it is more likely than not that the Corporation will be required to sell the security before recovery of its amortized cost basis. If, however, the Corporation does not intend to sell the security and it is not more-than-likely that the Corporation will be required to sell the security before recovery, management must determine what portion of the impairment is attributable to a credit loss, which occurs when the amortized cost of the security exceeds the present value of the cash flows expected to be collected from the security. If there is no credit loss, there is no other-than-temporary impairment. If there is a credit loss, other-than-temporary impairment exists, and the credit loss must be recognized in net income and the remaining portion of impairment must be recognized in other comprehensive income.

Loans Receivable

Loans receivable consists primarily of long-term real estate loans secured by first deeds of trust on single family residences, other residential property, commercial property and land located primarily in the state of Virginia. Interest income on mortgage loans is recorded when earned and is recognized based on the level yield method. The Corporation provides an allowance for accrued interest deemed to be uncollectible, which is netted against accrued interest receivable in the consolidated balance sheets.

The Corporation defers loan origination and commitment fees, net of certain direct loan origination costs, and the net deferred fees are amortized into interest income over the lives of the related loans as yield adjustments. Any unamortized net fees on loans fully repaid or sold are recognized as income in the year of repayment or sale.

The Corporation generally places loans on nonaccrual status after being delinquent greater than 90 days or earlier if the Corporation becomes aware that the borrower has entered bankruptcy proceedings, or in situations in which the loans have developed inherent problems prior to being 90 days delinquent that indicate payments of principal or interest will not be made in full. Whenever the accrual of interest is stopped, previously accrued but uncollected interest income is reversed. Thereafter, interest is recognized only as cash is received until the loan is reinstated to accrual status. Loans are returned to accrual status when all the principal and interest amounts contractually due are brought current and future payments are reasonably assured. The Corporation may continue to accrue interest on certain loans that are 90 days or more delinquent if the Corporation has reason to believe that all principal and interest payments will be collected such as well secured loans.

One-to-Four-Family Residential Real Estate Lending

Residential mortgage loans generally are made on the basis of the borrower's ability to make repayment from employment and other income and are secured by real estate whose value tends to be readily ascertainable. As part of the application process, information is gathered concerning income, employment and credit history of the applicant. The valuation of residential collateral is provided by independent fee appraisers who have been approved by the Bank's Board of Directors.

Commercial Real Estate Lending

Commercial real estate lending entails significant additional risk as compared with residential mortgage lending. Commercial real estate loans typically involve larger loan balances concentrated with single borrowers or groups of related borrowers. Additionally, the repayment of loans secured by income producing properties is typically dependent on the successful operation of a business or a real estate project and thus may be subject, to a greater extent, to adverse conditions in the real estate market or the economy, in general.

Construction and Land Development Lending

There are two characteristics of construction lending which impact its overall risk as compared to residential mortgage lending. First, there is more concentration risk due to the extension of a large loan balance through several lines of credit to a single developer or contractor. Second, there is more collateral risk due to the fact that loan funds are provided to the borrower based upon the estimated value of the collateral after completion. This could cause an inaccurate estimate of the amount needed to complete construction or an excessive loan-to-value ratio. To mitigate the risks associated with construction lending, the Bank generally limits loan amounts to 80% of the estimated appraised value of the finished home.

Commercial and Industrial Lending

Commercial business loans generally have more risk than residential mortgage loans, but have higher yields. To manage these risks, the Bank generally obtains appropriate collateral and personal guarantees from the borrower's principal owners and monitors the financial condition of the borrower. Commercial business loans typically are made on the basis of the borrower's ability to make repayment from cash flow from its business and are secured by business assets, such as commercial real estate, accounts receivable, equipment and inventory. As a result, the availability of funds for the repayment of commercial business loans is substantially dependent on the success of the business itself. Furthermore, the collateral for commercial business loans may depreciate over time and generally cannot be appraised with as much precision as residential real estate.

Consumer Lending

Consumer loans generally entail greater risk than residential mortgage loans, particularly in the case of consumer loans which are unsecured or secured by rapidly depreciable assets such as automobiles. In such cases, any repossessed collateral on a defaulted consumer loan may not provide an adequate source of repayment of the outstanding loan balance as a result of the greater likelihood of damage, loss or depreciation.

Troubled Debt Restructurings

In situations where, for economic or legal reasons related to a borrower's financial condition, management may grant a concession to the borrower that it would not otherwise consider, the related loan is classified as a troubled debt restructuring (TDR). Management strives to identify borrowers in financial difficulty early and work with them to modify their loan to more affordable terms before their loan reaches nonaccrual status. These modified terms may include rate reductions, principal forgiveness, payment extensions or forbearance and other actions intended to minimize the economic loss and to avoid foreclosure or repossession of the collateral. In cases where borrowers are granted new terms that provide for a reduction of either interest or principal, management measures any impairment on the restructuring as noted above for impaired loans.

Summary of Accounting Policies

Real Estate Owned

Real estate acquired through foreclosure is initially recorded at the lower of fair value, less selling costs on the property at the date of foreclosure. Costs relating to the development and improvement of property are capitalized, whereas those relating to holding the property are charged to expense.

Valuations are periodically performed by management, and an allowance for losses is established by a charge to operations if the carrying value of a property exceeds its estimated net realizable value.

Property and Equipment

Land is carried at cost. Property and equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Provisions for depreciation are computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the individual assets. Expenditures for betterments and major renewals are capitalized and ordinary maintenance and repairs are charged to operations as incurred. Estimated useful lives are three to ten years for furniture and equipment and five to fifty years for buildings and improvements.

Transfers of Financial Assets

Transfers of financial assets are accounted for as sales, when control over the assets has been surrendered. Control over transferred assets is deemed to be surrendered when (1) the assets have been isolated from the Corporation put presumptively beyond reach of the transferor and its creditors, even in bankruptcy or other receivership, (2) the transferee obtains the right (free of conditions that constrain it from taking advantage of that right) to pledge or exchange the transferred assets, and (3) the Corporation does not maintain effective control over the transferred assets through an agreement to repurchase them before their maturity or the ability to unilaterally cause the holder to return specific assets.

Income Taxes

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are determined using the balance sheet method. Under this method, the net deferred tax asset or liability is determined based on the tax effects of the temporary differences between the book and tax bases of the various balance sheet assets and liabilities and gives current recognition to changes in tax rates and laws.

When tax returns are filed, it is highly certain that some positions taken would be sustained upon examination by the taxing authorities, while others are subject to uncertainty about the merits of the position taken or the amount of the position that would be ultimately sustained. The benefit of a tax position is recognized in the financial statements in the period during which, based on all available evidence, management believes it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon examination, including the resolution of appeals or litigation processes, if any. Tax positions taken are not offset or aggregated with other positions. Tax positions that meet the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold are measured as the largest amount of tax benefit that is more than 50 percent likely of being realized upon settlement with the applicable taxing authority. The portion of the benefits associated with tax positions taken that exceeds the amount measured as described above is reflected as a liability for unrecognized tax benefit in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets along with any associated interest and penalties that would be payable to the taxing authorities upon examination. Interest and penalties associated with unrecognized tax benefits are classified as additional income taxes in the consolidated statements of income.

Earnings Per Common Share

Basic earnings per common share represents income available to common shareholders divided by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per common share reflects additional common shares that would have been outstanding if dilutive potential common shares had been issued, as well as any adjustment to income that would result from the assumed issuance. Potential common shares that may be issued by the Corporation relate solely to outstanding stock options and are determined using the treasury stock method.

Stock-Based Compensation Plan

The Corporation recognizes the costs resulting from all share-based payments in the financial statements. Share-based compensation is estimated at the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option valuation model for determining fair value. The cost is recognized over the period the employee is required to provide services for the award.

Advertising Costs

The Corporation follows the policy of charging the costs of advertising to expense as incurred.

Comprehensive Income

Accounting principles generally require that recognized revenue, expenses, gains and losses be included in net income. Although certain changes in assets and liabilities, such as unrealized gains and losses on available for sale securities and pension liability adjustments, are reported as a separate component of the equity section of the balance sheet, such items, along with net income, are components of comprehensive income.

Fair Value Measurements

Fair value of financial instruments are estimated using relevant market information and other assumptions, as more fully disclosed in Note 6. Fair value estimates involve uncertainties and matters of significant judgment. Changes in assumptions or in market conditions could significantly affect estimates.

Reclassifications

Certain reclassifications have been made to prior period balances to conform to the current year presentation. Losses on OREO in the amount of $1,701,322 have been reclassified from the Provision for loan losses to Real estate owned and collections in the consolidated statement of income for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2011.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In April 2011, the FASB issued ASU 2011-03, Transfers and Servicing (Topic 860) Reconsideration of Effective Control for Repurchase Agreements. The amendments in this ASU remove from the assessment of effective control (1) the criterion requiring the transferor to have the ability to repurchase or redeem the financial assets on substantially the agreed terms, even in the event of default by the transferee and (2) the collateral maintenance implementation guidance related to that criterion. The amendments in this ASU are effective for the first interim or annual period beginning on or after December 15, 2011. The guidance should be applied prospectively to transactions or modifications of existing transactions that occur on or after the effective date. Early adoption is not permitted. The adoption of the new guidance is not expected to have a material impact on the Corporation's consolidated financial statements.

In May 2011, the FASB issued ASU 2011-04, Fair Value Measurement (Topic 820) Amendments to Achieve Common Fair Value Measurement and Disclosure Requirements in U.S. GAAP and IFRSs. This ASU is the result of joint efforts by the FASB and International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) to develop a single, converged fair value framework on how (not when) to measure fair value and what disclosures to provide about fair value measurements. The ASU is largely consistent with existing fair value measurement principles in U.S. GAAP (Topic 820), with many of the amendments made to eliminate unnecessary wording differences between U.S. GAAP and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). The amendments are effective for interim and annual periods beginning after December 15, 2011 with prospective application. Early application is not permitted. The Corporation does not expect the adoption of ASU 2011-04 to have a material impact on the Corporation's consolidated financial statements.

In June 2011, the FASB issued ASU 2011-05, Comprehensive Income (Topic 220) Presentation of Comprehensive Income. The objective of this ASU is to improve the comparability, consistency and transparency of financial reporting and to increase the prominence of items reported in other comprehensive income by eliminating the option to present components of other comprehensive income as part of the statement of changes in stockholders' equity. The amendments require that all non-owner changes in stockholders' equity be presented either in a single continuous statement of comprehensive income or in two separate but consecutive statements. The single statement of comprehensive income should include the components of net income, a total for net income, the components of other comprehensive income, a total for other comprehensive income, and a total for comprehensive income. In the two-statement approach, the first statement should present total net income and its components followed consecutively by a second statement that should present all the components of other comprehensive income, a total for other comprehensive income, and a total for comprehensive income. The amendments do not change the items that must be reported in other comprehensive income, the option for an entity to present components of other comprehensive income either net of related tax effects or before related tax effects, or the calculation or reporting of earnings per share. The amendments in this ASU should be applied retrospectively. The amendments are effective for fiscal years and interim periods within those years beginning after December 15, 2011. Early adoption is permitted because compliance with the amendments is already permitted. The amendments do not require transition disclosures. The Corporation does not expect the adoption of ASU 2011-05 to have a material impact on the Corporation's consolidated financial statements.

In September 2011, the FASB issued ASU 2011-08, Intangible Goodwill and Other (Topic 350) Testing Goodwill for Impairment. The amendments in this ASU permit an entity to first assess qualitative factors related to goodwill to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of the reporting unit is less than its carrying amount as a basis for determining whether it is necessary to perform the two-step goodwill test described in Topic 350. The more-likely-than-not threshold is defined as having a likelihood of more than 50 percent. Under the amendments in this ASU, an entity is not required to calculate the fair value of a reporting unit unless the entity determines that it is more likely than not that its fair value is less than its carrying amount. The amendments in this ASU are effective for annual and interim goodwill impairment tests performed for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2011. Early adoption is permitted, including for annual and interim goodwill impairment tests performed as of a date before September 15, 2011, if an entity's financial statements for the most recent annual or interim period have not yet been issued. The adoption of the new guidance did not have a material impact on the Corporation's consolidated financial statements.

In December 2011, the FASB issued ASU 2011-11, Balance Sheet (Topic 210) Disclosures about Offsetting Assets and Liabilities. This ASU requires entities to disclose both gross information and net information about both instruments and transactions eligible for offset in the balance sheet and instruments and transactions subject to an agreement similar to a master netting arrangement. An entity is required to apply the amendments for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2013, and interim periods within those annual periods. An entity should provide the disclosures required by those amendments retrospectively for all comparative periods presented. The Corporation does not expect the adoption of ASU 2011-11 to have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

In December 2011, the FASB issued ASU 2011-12, Comprehensive Income (Topic 220) Deferral of the Effective Date for Amendments to the Presentation of Reclassifications of Items Out of Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income in Accounting Standards Update No. 2011-05. The amendments are being made to allow the Board time to redeliberate whether to present on the face of the financial statements the effects of reclassifications out of accumulated other comprehensive income on the components of net income and other comprehensive income for all periods presented. While the Board is considering the operational concerns about the presentation requirements for reclassification adjustments and the needs of financial statement users for additional information about reclassification adjustments, entities should continue to report reclassifications out of accumulated other comprehensive income consistent with the presentation requirements in effect before ASU 2011-05. All other requirements in ASU 2011-05 are not affected by ASU 2011-12, including the requirement to report comprehensive income either in a single continuous financial statement or in two separate but consecutive financial statements. Public entities should apply these requirements for fiscal years, and interim periods within those years, beginning after December 15, 2011. The Corporation does not expect the adoption of ASU 2011-12 to have a material impact on the Corporation's consolidated financial statements.

United States government and agency obligations. The unrealized loss on the six investments in direct obligations of U.S. government agencies was caused by interest rate increases. The contractual terms of these investments do not permit the issuer to settle at a price less than the amortized cost bases of the investment. Because the Corporation does not intend to sell the investment and it is not more likely than not that the Corporation will be required to sell the investment before recovery of the amortized cost basis, which may be maturity, the Corporation does not consider this investment to be other-than-temporarily impaired at March 31, 2012.

During the year ended March 31, 2009 due to the conservatorship of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac in September 2008 and the related restrictions on its outstanding preferred stock (including the elimination of dividends), the Corporation recorded an other-than-temporary impairment (OTTI) charge with respect to the Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac preferred stock it owned of $11.5 million. The OTTI charge was based on the closing quoted stock market values on March 31, 2009. The Corporation used guidance in ASC 320, Investments Debt and Equity Securities, to determine the OTTI. The Company sold its remaining 57,000 shares of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac preferred stock during fiscal year 2011.

The Corporation's investment in FHLB stock totaled $5,206,300 at March 31, 2012. FHLB stock is generally viewed as a long-term investment and as a restricted security, which is carried at cost, because there is no market for the stock, other than the FHLBs or member institutions. Therefore, when evaluating FHLB stock for impairment, its value is based on the ultimate recoverability of the par value rather than by recognizing temporary declines in value. We do not consider this investment to be other-than-temporarily impaired at March 31, 2012 and no impairment has been recognized. FHLB stock is shown in restricted investments on the balance sheet and is not part of the AFS securities portfolio.

Impaired loans include loans modified in troubled debt restructurings where concessions have been granted to borrowers experiencing financial difficulties. These concessions could include a reduction in the interest rate on the loan, payment extensions, forgiveness of principal, forbearance or other actions intended to maximize collection. No additional funds are committed to be advanced in connection with impaired loans.

Nonaccrual loans included in the impaired loan disclosure amounted to $12,206,705 and $6,175,599 at March 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively. If interest on these loans had been accrued, such income would have approximated $211,945 and $327,857 for the years ended March 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively.

The Corporation uses the following rating system for evaluating the risks associated with loans:

Pass	A Pass loan's primary source of repayment is satisfactory, with secondary sources very likely to be realized if necessary.
Special Mention	A Special Mention loan has potential weaknesses that deserve management's close attention. If left uncorrected, these potential weaknesses may result in the deterioration of the repayment prospects for the asset or the Corporation's credit position at some future date. Special Mention loans are not adversely classified and do not expose an institution to sufficient risk to warrant adverse classification.
Substandard	A Substandard loan is inadequately protected by the current sound net worth and paying capacity of the obligor or of the collateral pledged, if any. Loans so classified must have a well-defined weakness or weaknesses that jeopardize the liquidation of the debt. They are characterized by the distinct possibility that the Corporation will sustain some loss if the deficiencies are not corrected.
Doubtful	A loan classified Doubtful has all the weaknesses inherent in one classified Substandard with the added characteristics that the weaknesses make collection or liquidation in full, on the basis of currently existing facts, conditions, and values, highly questionable and improbable.
Loss	A loan classified Loss is considered uncollectible and of such little value that continuance as a bankable asset is not warranted. This classification does not mean that the asset has absolutely no recovery or salvage value, but rather it is not practical or desirable to defer writing off this basically worthless asset even though partial recovery may be affected in the future.

6. Fair Value Measurements

The Corporation uses fair value measurements to record fair value adjustments to certain assets and liabilities and to determine fair value disclosures. The fair value of a financial instrument is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer the liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Fair value is best determined based upon quoted market prices. However, in many instances, there are no quoted market prices for the Corporation's various financial instruments. In cases where quoted market prices are not available, fair values are based on estimates using present value or other valuation techniques. Those techniques are significantly affected by the assumptions used, including the discount rate and estimates of future cash flows. Accordingly, the fair value estimates may not be realized in an immediate settlement of the instrument.

The fair value guidance provides a consistent definition of fair value, which focuses on exit price in an orderly transaction (that is, not a forced liquidation or distressed sale) between market participants at the measurement date under current market conditions. If there has been a significant decrease in the volume and level of activity for the asset or liability, a change in valuation technique or the use of multiple valuation techniques may be appropriate. In such instances, determining the price at which willing market participants would transact business at the measurement date under current market conditions depends on the facts and circumstances and requires the use of significant judgment. The fair value is a reasonable point within the range that is most representative of fair value under current market conditions.

Fair Value Hierarchy

In accordance with this guidance, the Corporation groups assets and liabilities generally measured at fair value in three levels, based on the markets in which the assets and liabilities are traded and the reliability of the assumptions used to determine the fair value.

- Level 1 Valuation is based on quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities.
- Level 2 Valuation is based on observable inputs, including quoted prices in active markets for similar assets and liabilities, quoted prices for identical or similar assets and liabilities in less active markets, and model-based valuation techniques for which significant assumptions can be derived primarily from or corroborated by observable data in the market.
- Level 3 Valuation is based on model-based techniques that use one or more significant inputs or assumptions that are unobservable in the market.

The following describes the valuation techniques used by the Corporation to measure certain financial assets recorded at fair value on a recurring basis in the financial statements:

Edgar Filing: CITY HOLDING CO - Form 424B3

Securities available for sale: Securities available for sale are recorded at fair value on a recurring basis. Fair value measurement is based upon quoted market prices, when available (Level 1). If quoted market prices are not available, fair values are measured utilizing independent valuation techniques of identical or similar securities for which significant assumptions are derived primarily from or corroborated by observable market data. Third party vendors compile prices from various sources and may determine the fair value of identical or similar securities by using pricing models that consider observable market data (Level 2).

The following table presents the balances of financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of March 31, 2012 and 2011:

Description	Balance	Fair Value Measurements Using
		Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets (Level 1)	Significant Other Observable Inputs (Level 2)	Significant Unobservable Inputs (Level 3)

March 31, 2011:
Equity securities	$ 38,647	$	$ 38,647	$

Certain assets are measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Adjustments to the fair value of these assets usually result from the application of lower-of-cost-or-market accounting or write-downs of individual assets.

The following describes the valuation techniques used by the Corporation to measure certain assets recorded at fair value on a nonrecurring basis in the financial statements:

Impaired Loans: Loans are designated as impaired when, in the judgment of management based on current information and events, it is probable that all amounts due according to the contractual terms of the loan agreement will not be collected. The measurement of loss associated with impaired loans can be based on either the observable market price of the loan, the fair value of the collateral or discounted cash flow analyses. Fair value is typically measured based on the value of the collateral securing the loans. Collateral may be in the form of real estate or business assets including equipment, inventory, and accounts receivable. The vast majority of the collateral is real estate. The value of real estate collateral is determined utilizing an income or market valuation approach based on an appraisal conducted by an independent, licensed appraiser outside of the Corporation using observable market data (Level 2). However, if the collateral is a house or building in the process of construction or if an appraisal of the real estate property is over twelve months old, then the fair value is considered Level 3. The value of business equipment is based upon an outside appraisal if deemed significant, or the net book value on the applicable business's financial statements if not considered significant using observable market data. Likewise, values for inventory and accounts receivables collateral are based on financial statement balances or aging reports (Level 3). Loans valued using discounted cash flow analyses are considered Level 3. Impaired loans allocated to the Allowance for Loan Losses are measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis. Any fair value adjustments are recorded in the period incurred as provision for loan losses on the Consolidated Statements of Income.

Edgar Filing: CITY HOLDING CO - Form 424B3

Real Estate Owned: Foreclosed assets and repossessions are adjusted to fair value upon transfer of the loans to foreclosed assets and repossessions. Subsequently, foreclosed assets and repossessions are carried at the lower of carrying value or fair value. Fair value is based upon independent market prices, appraised values of the collateral or management's estimation of the value of the collateral. When the fair value of the collateral is based on an observable market price or a current appraised value, the Corporation records the foreclosed asset as nonrecurring Level 2. When an appraised value is not available or management determines the fair value of the collateral is further impaired below the appraised value and there is no observable market price, the Corporation records the foreclosed asset or repossession as nonrecurring Level 3. Any fair value adjustments are recorded in the period incurred as real estate owned expense in the Consolidated Statements of Income.

The following table summarizes the Corporation's assets that were measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis during the period.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

6. Fair Value Measurements, Continued

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instruments for which it is practicable to estimate that value.

Cash and cash equivalents

For those short-term investments, the carrying amount is a reasonable estimate of fair value.

Securities

Fair values for securities, excluding Federal Home Loan Bank stock, are based on quoted market prices or dealer quotes. If a quoted market price is not available, fair value is estimated using quoted market prices for similar securities. The carrying value of Federal Home Loan Bank stock approximates fair value based on the redemption provisions of the Federal Home Loan Bank.

Loans receivable

For variable-rate loans that reprice frequently and with no significant change in credit risk, fair values are based on carrying values. Fair values for certain mortgage loans (e.g., one-to-four family residential), credit card loans, and other consumer loans are based on quoted market prices of similar loans sold in conjunction with securitization transactions, adjusted for differences in loan characteristics. Fair values for other loans (e.g., commercial real estate and investment property mortgage loans, commercial and industrial loans) are estimated using discounted cash flow analyses, using interest rates currently being offered for loans with similar terms to borrowers of similar credit quality. Fair values for non-performing loans are estimated using discounted cash flow analyses or underlying collateral values, where applicable.

Deposit liabilities

The fair values disclosed for demand deposits (e.g., interest and non-interest checking, passbook savings, and certain types of money market accounts) are, by definition, equal to the amount payable on demand at the reporting date (i.e., their carrying amounts). The carrying amounts of variable-rate, fixed-term money market accounts and certificates of deposit approximate their fair values at the reporting date. Fair values for fixed-rate certificates of deposit are estimated using a discounted cash flow calculation that applies interest rates currently being offered on certificates to a schedule of aggregated expected monthly maturities on time deposits.

Borrowings

For advances that mature within one year of the balance sheet date, carrying value is considered a reasonable estimate of fair value. The fair values of all other advances are estimated using discounted cash flow analysis based on the Corporation's current incremental borrowing rate for similar types of advances.

Securities sold under agreements to repurchase

Securities sold under agreements to repurchase are treated as short-term borrowings and the carrying value approximates fair value.

Accrued interest

The carrying amounts of accrued interest approximate fair value.

Table of ContentsCommunity Financial Corporation and Subsidiary*Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements*6. Fair Value Measurements, Continued

Off-balance sheet instruments

The fair value of commitments to extend credit is estimated using the fees currently charged to enter into similar agreements, taking into account the remaining terms of the agreements and the present credit worthiness of the counterparties. For fixed-rate loan commitments, fair value also considers the difference between current levels of interest rates and the committed rates. The fair value of standby letters of credit is based on fees currently charged for similar agreements or on the estimated cost to terminate them or otherwise settle the obligations with the counterparties at the reporting date. At March 31, 2012 and 2011, the fair value of loan commitments and standby letters of credit were deemed immaterial.

7. Borrowings

Advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank and other borrowings are summarized as follows:

Due in year ending March 31,
2013	$ 78,000,000

The weighted average interest rate on borrowings was 0.22% and 0.23% at March 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively. The fixed-rate FHLB advances are collateralized by the investment in FHLB stock and the Corporation's portfolio of first mortgage loans, multi-family, commercial real estate, second mortgage and home equity lines of credit under a Blanket Floating Lien Agreement. Value of this collateral as of March 31, 2012 was $132,247,680.

Information related to borrowing activity of the borrowings is as follows:

Year Ended March 31,	2012	2011

Average amount outstanding during the year	$ 91,836,064	$ 96,402,388
Average interest rate during the year	0.17%	0.71%

8. Securities Sold Under Agreements to Repurchase

Securities sold under agreements to repurchase are secured borrowings that generally mature within one to four days from the transaction date. These amounts are recorded at the amount of cash received in connection with the transaction. The Corporation may be required to provide additional collateral based on the fair value of the underlying securities.

Table of ContentsCommunity Financial Corporation and Subsidiary*Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements*9. Income Taxes

The Corporation files income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and the state of Virginia. With few exceptions, the Corporation is no longer subject to U.S. federal, state and local income tax examinations by tax authorities for years prior to 2008.

Deferred tax assets (liabilities), included in the consolidated balance sheets are as follows:

March 31,	2012	2011
Deferred tax assets
Allowance for losses	$ 3,385,846	$ 2,981,461
Deferred compensation	831,425	759,533

Deferred tax liabilities
Depreciable assets	(49,655)	(173,320)
Net deferred tax asset	$ 7,013,917	$ 6,457,212

In accordance with ASC 740, Income Taxes, the Corporation was unable to recognize the deferred tax benefit related to the OTTI charge on Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac preferred stock during the quarter ended September 30, 2008. Tax laws in effect at September 30, 2008 characterized the loss as a capital loss. The Company did not have sufficient capital gain income to offset the loss and therefore set up a valuation allowance related to the capital loss. Subsequent to the September 30, 2008 quarter, the U.S. Congress passed the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act which re-characterized the OTTI loss on the Company's Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac preferred stock to ordinary from capital for tax purposes. The tax benefit related to this loss of $11.5 million based on the Company's approximate income tax rate of 38% was $4.4 million. Therefore the Company recognized the deferred tax asset during the quarter ended December 31, 2008, the period of enactment, as required by ASC 740. The Company also determined that it had sufficient taxable income available in carryback years and probable future taxable income to fully recognize the deferred tax asset. The deferred tax asset related to the OTTI loss was $4,248 and $4,248 at March 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively. During the year ended March 31, 2011, the Corporation sold and therefore realized losses for tax purposes on a portion of the preferred stock.

The provision for income taxes charged to operations for the years ended March 31, 2012 and 2011, consists of the following:

Year Ended March 31,	2012	2011
Current	$ 1,199,017	$ 1,316,299

11. Stockholders' Equity and Regulatory Capital Requirements

Savings institutions must maintain specific capital standards that are no less stringent than the capital standards applicable to national banks. The OCC regulations currently have three capital standards including (i) a tangible capital requirement, (ii) a core capital requirement, and (iii) a risk-based capital requirement. The tangible capital standard requires savings institutions to maintain tangible capital of not less than 1.5% of adjusted total assets. The core capital standard requires a savings institution to maintain core capital of not less than 4.0% of adjusted total assets. The risk-based capital standard requires risk-based capital of not less than 8.0% of risk-weighted assets.

The Bank may not declare or pay a cash dividend, or repurchase any of its capital stock if the effect thereof would cause the net worth of the Bank to be reduced below certain requirements imposed by federal regulations.

Capital distributions by OCC-regulated savings banks are limited by regulation (Capital Distribution Regulation). Capital distributions are defined to include, in part, dividends, stock repurchases and cash-out mergers. The Capital Distribution Regulation requires that savings banks provide the applicable OCC District Director and Federal Reserve with a 30-day advance written notice or, under certain circumstances an application in connection with all proposed capital distributions. Savings banks are generally permitted to make capital distributions during a calendar year equal to net income for the current year plus the previous two years net income, less capital distributions paid over that same time period.

The plan sponsor, in consultation with management, selects the expected long-term rate of return on assets assumption in consultation with their investment advisors. The rate is intended to reflect the average rate of earnings expected to be earned on the funds invested to provide plan benefits. Historical performance is reviewed with respect to real rates of return (net of inflation) for the major asset classes held or anticipated to be held by the trust, and for the trust itself. Undue weight is not given to recent experience that may not continue over the measurement period, with higher significance placed on current forecasts of future long-term economic conditions.

The investment policy of the Plan is to employ a total return investment approach whereby a mix of equities and fixed income investments are used to maximize the long-term return on plan assets for a prudent level of risk. The intent of this strategy is to minimize plan expenses by exceeding the interest growth in long-term plan liabilities. Risk tolerance is established through careful consideration of plan liabilities, plan funded status and corporate financial condition. This consideration involves the use of long-term measures that address both return and risk. The investment portfolio contains a diversified blend of equity and fixed income investments. Investment risks and returns are measured and monitored on an ongoing basis through regular investment portfolio reviews.
