To Our Shareholders

We are pleased to present our notice of convocation of the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders for the 113th Business Term (from January 1, 2013 to December 31, 2013).

In the current business term, the U.S. and Japanese economies recovered at a moderate pace during the second half, while the European economy experienced a prolonged downturn and the growth of China and other emerging economies slowed down further. On the whole, economic conditions remained unfavorable with a sense of lingering stagnation.

The Canon Group, in the current business term, which is the third year of Phase IV (2011 to 2015) of our Excellent Global Corporation Plan, strived to improve our business results by taking various measures and making all-out efforts under the basic policy of Decisively implement reforms and achieve sound business growth in the face of the current turbulent business environment. As a result, under the difficult

For the term-end dividend, we will propose to pay 65.00 yen per share at the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders for the 113th Business Term. This is in appreciation for the ongoing support of our shareholders and for the purpose of realizing stable and proactive shareholder returns. Combined with the interim dividend (65.00 yen per share), dividends for this year will be 130.00 yen per share, which is the same as the previous term that included payment of a special dividend (10.00 yen per share).

business conditions, we achieved sales revenue and profit growth.

As for business conditions going forward, although we cannot be too optimistic, the global economy, especially the U.S. and Japanese economies, is expected to recover at a moderate pace as a whole. Under these conditions, the Canon Group remains united in its commitment to further improve our business results and return to the growth path.

We look forward to your continued support and encouragement.

BUSINESS REPORT (From January 1, 2013 to December 31, 2013)

1. Current Conditions of the Canon Group

(1) Business Progress and Results

General Business Conditions

Looking at the general picture of the global economy during the current business term, the U.S. and Japanese economies were on a path to moderate recovery during the second half, while the European economy remained stagnant. The speed of economic expansion in China slowed down and other emerging countries in general also experienced weakness in their economic growth. The foreign exchange markets saw a correction of the strong yen, which had risen to historic levels until the previous term, resulting in a significant depreciation of the yen both against the U.S. dollar and the euro.

As for the markets in which the Canon Group competes, the market conditions for office multifunction devices (MFDs) and laser printers were robust in general. On the other hand, the market for interchangeable lens digital cameras started to shrink with the exception of the Japanese market and the market for digital compact cameras shrunk significantly on a global basis. In addition, the inkjet printer market also shrunk slightly. Semiconductor lithography equipment and flat panel display (FPD) lithography equipment continued to face unfavorable market conditions, but gradually started to see some signs of recovery in the second half of the year.

Digital production printing system

EOS 70D employing innovative autofocus technology Dual Pixel CMOS AF

Under such business environment, the Canon Group, in the current business term, which is the third year of Phase IV (2011 to 2015) of our Excellent Global Corporation Plan, took various measures under the basic policy of Decisively implement reforms and achieve sound business growth in the face of the current turbulent business environment.

For example, as part of our efforts to reinforce business by creating outstanding hit products, in the office products domain, we further strengthened office solutions business centered around the imageRUNNER ADVANCE multifunction device series as well as the commercial printing business through the integration with Océ. In the consumer products domain, we launched new interchangeable lens digital cameras adopting an innovative AF technology and new inkjet printers with expanded functions including cloud functions.

As for securely launching new businesses and achieving sound expansion, in addition to fundamentally strengthening the network camera system business, we strengthened the business involving our MR (mixed reality) System MREAL designed to support, for example, product design and development by combining the real image with 3D-CG. In addition, the CINEMA EOS SYSTEM digital cinema cameras, which have been received enthusiastically since their launch, were able to powerfully support the workplace in the motion picture production industry for both motion picture input and output as it is equipped with a newly developed 4K industrial video display realizing super high-resolution.

Regarding our efforts toward thoroughly strengthening sales in accordance with respective market characteristics, we implemented a new sales strategy in the office products domain targeted at global enterprises that have offices all over the world. In China, we restructured our sales system and carried out further market development, while in other emerging markets such as India, Russia, and South America, we expanded the sales network and introduced products to meet the needs of each market.

Simulation using super computer

Moreover, to relentlessly pursue cost reductions and accelerating optimization of global production, we promoted prototype-less activities using computer simulation, strengthened the procurement department, and expanded the scope of in-house production. We also put into operation new factories for multifunction devices and inkjet printers in Thailand, laser printers in the Philippines, and cameras in Brazil.

Retail store in Huaxi district, China

As a result of such efforts, we recorded net sales of 3,731.4 billion yen (up 7.2% from the previous term), income before income taxes of 347.6 billion yen (up 1.5%), and net income attributable to Canon Inc. of 230.5 billion yen (up 2.6%), all on a consolidated basis. On a non-consolidated basis, we recorded net sales of 2,128.8 billion yen (up 0.7%), ordinary profit of 236.7 billion yen (up 0.4%), and net income of 170.4 billion yen (up 8.1%). In the face of the difficult business environment, we achieved sales revenue and profit growth.

Business Conditions by Operations

Office Business Unit

In the area of office multifunction devices (MFDs), we worked to increase sales and to expand the lineup of next-generation models of the imageRUNNER ADVANCE series with improved performance and increased functions. Our sales in the Americas struggled somewhat, whereas our unit sales in Japan, where demand was firm throughout the year, increased steadily. Moreover, sales performance in Europe and China was as strong as in the previous term. As a result, our office MFD sales outperformed the previous term. While sales of color machines were generally robust in all geographic regions, sales of the imageRUNNER ADVANCE C5200 and C2200 series in the Japanese market were particularly strong.

Digital production printing systems delivered solid sales performance in Asia and Oceania. The growth in unit sales of the imagePRESS C7010VP series in the Americas, in addition to orders received from large customers in Japan, contributed to the overall sales growth.

As for Canon's laser multifunction printers (MFPs) and laser printers for small to mid-sized businesses, unit sales of color machines in the Americas and Europe increased from the previous term.

imageRUNNER ADVANCE 4045F

A3 monochrome multifunction device with compact dimensions (W=565 mm, D=708 mm) and enhanced security features. It has diverse PDF creation options and supports data sharing between multifunction devices.

Satera MF8570Cdw

Color laser multifunction device with high user convenience supporting Wi-Fi and mobile printing. Employing a 7-line color LCD panel, its intuitive visual display is easy to operate.

In the area of OEM-brand laser multifunction printers and laser printers, both unit sales and sales revenue rose from the previous term as orders from OEM customers increased owing to the expansion of the market size for laser multifunction printers in the second half of the year.

Sales of high speed continuous feed printers manufactured by Océ were strong particularly for the ColorStream 3000 series.

As a result of the above, sales for this business unit increased by 13.8% on a consolidated basis and by 12.0% on a non-consolidated basis, both in comparison to the previous term.

Océ ColorStream 3000 Twin series

High-speed, continuous feed commercial printer for applications requiring high speed and high quality such as invoice, direct mail, etc. as demanded by the data print services (DPS) market.

Imaging System Business Unit

In the area of interchangeable lens digital cameras, although domestic demand was firm, demand in Europe and China was dampened by the economic slowdown. Under such a difficult market environment, certain models such as EOS 5D Mark III and EOS Kiss X5 (also known as EOS Rebel T3i and EOS 600D) maintained strong performance and contributed to sales. We also strived to increase sales by further expanding the product lineup including the new launch of EOS 70D, which is equipped with an innovative AF technology called Dual Pixel CMOS AF, as well as EOS Kiss X7i (also known as EOS Rebel T5i and EOS 700D) and non-reflex camera EOS M2. As a result, although unit sales of interchangeable lens digital cameras were down from the previous term, we maintained our No.1 market share position in worldwide unit sales.

Digital compact cameras underperformed the previous term as demand fell sharply from the previous term due to the continued expansion of smartphone users coupled with the lackluster economic conditions.

As for digital cinema cameras targeted at the motion picture production industry, the CINEMA EOS SYSTEM was used for the world's first successful shooting of the comet ISON from the International Space Station, further boosting the reputation of the product.

In the area of digital camcorders for consumer use, we focused on the sales expansion of high value added products amid stagnation in global demand.

Broadcast equipment delivered solid sales performance on the back of rising demand in emerging economies particularly China and the Middle East. Sales of DIGISUPER 95 and other field lenses for live sports broadcasts were brisk on a global basis.

Interchangeable lens digital cameras, digital cinema cameras and diverse EF-mount lens family that expands the possibilities of cameras.

As for inkjet printers, although markets in the Americas and Europe started to recover in the second half of the term, the overall market shrank as Asian and other emerging economies, which had been driving demand, rapidly lost momentum. However, we expanded the product lineup by launching new products designed to meet customer needs including PIXUS MG7130 (PIXMA MG7100 series) with improved cloud functions and smartphone compatibility while making sales expansion efforts for each model. As a result, our inkjet printer sales increased supported also by the increase in sales volume of consumables.

Sales of both large-format inkjet printers and related consumables increased despite the shrinking market.

As a result of the above, sales for this business unit increased by 3.1% on a consolidated basis and decreased by 8.9% on a non-consolidated basis, both in comparison to the previous term.

PIXUS MG7130 (PIXMA MG7100 series)

Inkjet printer designed for easy printing of photos and web pages even from smartphones or tablet PCs. Equipped with six-color hybrid ink, it prints vivid, beautiful photos and clear, easy-to-read text.

Industry and Others Business Unit

In relation to semiconductor lithography equipment, demand for memories started to recover in fall after prolonged weakness. As a result, sales of FPA-5550iZ i-line steppers, which have been highly trusted for many years for their stable quality and operating rate, and FPA-6300ES6a, which uses a krypton fluoride excimer laser to boast high productivity, increased.

As for flat panel display (FPD) lithography equipment, as demand for 4K reference monitors was increasing and the pace of increase in the use of liquid crystal television in emerging economies was accelerating, investment in equipment used to manufacture large-sized panels started to show signs of recovery, and sales increased.

FPA-5550iZ

The i-line stepper employing the FPA-5500 platform with proven high performance and reliability, which enables high throughput such as short exposure time through a high-acceleration wafer stage.

In medical equipment, orders increased in the area of digital radiography systems for portable products and new products equipped with an X-ray automatic detection function. In the area of ophthalmic equipment, sales of measuring instruments such as keratometer were strong. As a result, unit sales in both areas increased.

As for network cameras, amid the trend for more digitization and larger numbers of pixels and corresponding market expansion, we put in place our business operation system to enable us to speedily respond to such developments, while promoting the sales particularly those of full HD compatible products. As a result, in the area of high image quality products, our sales grew at a higher pace than the market.

MPAsp-E810 series

Flat panel display (FPD) lithography equipment that enables production of precision panels exceeding 300 ppi (pixel per inch). Equipped with new-design mirror optics, it achieves the world's greatest resolving power.

Sales of document scanners manufactured by Canon Electronics Inc. increased helped by brisk sales in the Americas and Europe.

Sales of semiconductor film deposition equipment manufactured by Canon ANELVA Corporation, organic LED (OLED) panel manufacturing equipment manufactured by Canon Tokki Corporation, and FA systems and semiconductor manufacturing equipment manufactured by Canon Machinery Inc. were all sluggish due to the weak appetite for capital investment by the corporate customers.

As a result of the above, sales for this business unit decreased by 8.1% on a consolidated basis and increased by 0.0% on a non-consolidated basis, both in comparison to the previous term.

CXDI-701C/G Wireless

Wireless digital radiography system that captures high-quality, high-resolution diagnostic images. It is equipped with X-ray auto detection feature and Canon proprietary X-ray flat-panel sensors of 125-micron pixel pitch.

(3) Acquisition of Shares of Other Companies

Aiming to further develop its solution business in the office products domain, Canon Europa N.V. acquired shares of Belgium company, Image Recognition Integrated Systems Group S.A., which develops and sells document management software, through a tender offer, etc., and made the company its wholly owned subsidiary on June 25, 2013.

(4) Management Perspectives

The global economy as a whole is expected to be on a path to recovery going forward driven by the economic recovery in the U.S. and Japan, although the pace of recovery would vary in different regions.

Under these circumstances, in the 114th business term, the fourth year of Phase IV of our Excellent Global Corporation Plan, Canon will implement various measures to fully achieve the goals of Phase IV, under a basic policy; Carry out further reforms in order to return to the growth track.

Bolstering Strengths of Existing Core Businesses by Creating Outstanding Hit Products

Canon aims to secure further market share for existing core businesses, developing appealing products that provide excellence, not only in terms of basic performance, but also in all other aspects. Canon will also promote the development of businesses derived from existing core businesses (e.g., CINEMA EOS SYSTEM and DreamLabo commercial photo printer) even more vigorously. Moreover, Canon will further strengthen the solution service in order to develop it into a profitable business together with its hardware business.

Securely Launch and Steadily Expand New Businesses

Canon will work to accelerate the business expansion of network camera systems, for which significant growth is expected, by accumulating a track record of successful solutions to satisfy customer needs. Canon will also focus on strengthening its business foundation for 4K reference displays and mixed-reality systems, while also concentrating on the commercialization of Super Machine Vision, which is expected to be applied effectively in production sites. In the medical field, Canon aims to realize the early launch of DNA diagnostic systems.

Holistically Developing Global Sales Forces

In emerging markets, Canon will work to expand sales networks and enhance product lineups in accordance with conditions in each country. In developed countries, in the consumer products domain, Canon will boost its ability to respond to Internet-based direct-order sales in addition to existing sales channels, while in the office products domain, Canon will strengthen its response to the centralized purchasing practices used by global corporations when procuring office products. Through these efforts, Canon will aim to increase market share in both domains.

Optimizing the Global Production System

Based on such factors as changes in local conditions in each country, Canon will work to realize the optimized global allocation of its production assets in consideration of both economic rationality and risk diversification. Canon will also work to maintain or expand its production in Japan through automation, while also accelerating localized production of mainly consumables in the Americas and Europe through automated production systems.

Exploring a New Dimension of Cost Reductions

Through the promotion of procurement reform activities, Canon will thoroughly ensure the procurement of materials at a reasonable cost. In addition to further enhancement of in-house production of parts, Canon will promote further automation. Additionally, Canon will work to significantly reduce product development times and achieve cost savings, promoting prototype-less production activities through the utilization of its state-of-the-art super computer.

In addition to the above, in order to steadily return to a path of growth in the face of the dramatically changing business environment, Canon will select and concentrate on technological themes that will open the way to the future, further enhance product quality management, effectively make use of its workforce, and carry out reforms such as thoroughly strengthening information security.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

<Notes to Basic Significant Matters Regarding Preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements>

Significant Accounting Policies

1. Group Position

The number of consolidated subsidiaries was 257, and the number of affiliated companies accounted for by the equity method was 11.

2. Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (US GAAP) pursuant to the provision of paragraph 1, Article 120-2 of the Company Accounting Regulations. However, certain disclosures required under US GAAP are omitted pursuant to the provision of the latter part of that paragraph.

3. Cash Equivalents

All highly liquid investments acquired with an original maturity of three months or less are considered to be cash equivalents.

4. Translation of Foreign Currencies

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rate of exchange in effect at the balance sheet date. Exchange differences are charged or credited to income. Assets and liabilities of subsidiaries located outside Japan are translated into Japanese yen at the rates of exchange in effect at the balance sheet date and income and expense items are translated at the average exchange rates prevailing during the year. The resulting translation adjustments are reported in other comprehensive income (loss).

5. Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market value. Cost is determined by the average method for domestic inventories and principally the first-in, first-out method for overseas inventories.

6. Investments

Canon accounts for its debt and marketable equity securities as follows. Held-to-maturity securities are recorded at amortized cost, adjusted for the amortization or accretion of premiums or discounts. Available-for-sale securities are recorded at fair value. Unrealized holding gains and losses, net of the related tax effect, on available for-sale securities are excluded from earnings and are reported in other comprehensive income (loss) until realized. Realized gain and losses are determined on the average cost method.

7. Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are depreciated principally by the declining-balance method.

8. Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets

Goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortized, but are instead tested for impairment at least annually in the fourth quarter of each year, or more frequently if indicators of potential impairment exist. Intangible assets with finite useful lives are amortized over the respective estimated useful lives. Software is amortized on a straight-line basis over the period of three to five years. Customer relationship is amortized principally by the declining-balance method over the period of five years.

9. Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

Long-lived assets, such as property, plant and equipment, and acquired intangibles subject to amortization, are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. If the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its estimated undiscounted future cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized in the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset.

10. Basis of Recording Allowances

(Allowance for doubtful accounts)

An allowance for doubtful accounts is provided based on credit loss history and an evaluation of any specific doubtful accounts.

(Accrued pension and severance cost)

Pension and severance cost is accrued based on the projected benefit obligations and the fair value of plan assets at the balance sheet date. Unrecognized actuarial loss is recognized by amortizing a portion in excess of a corridor (i.e., 10% of the greater of the projected benefit obligations or the fair value of plan assets) using the straight-line method over the average remaining service period of employees. Unrecognized prior service cost or credit is amortized using the straight-line method over the average remaining service period of employees.

11. Taxes collected from customers

Taxes collected from customers and remitted to governmental authorities are excluded from revenues, cost and expenses in consolidated statements of income.

12. Stock-Based Compensation

Canon measures stock-based compensation cost at the grant date, based on the fair value of the award, and recognizes the cost on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period.

13. Net Income Attributable to Canon Inc. Stockholders Per Share

Basic net income attributable to Canon Inc. stockholders per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during each year. Diluted net income attributable to Canon Inc. stockholders per share includes the effect from potential issuance of common stock based on the assumption that all stock options were exercised.

<Notes to Financial Instruments>

1. Status of Financial Instruments

Canon invests in highly safe and short-term financial instruments.

Canon has certain financial instruments such as trade receivables and securities. Canon reduces the customer credit risk related to trade receivables in accordance with its credit management policy. At December 31, 2013, a major customer accounted for approximately 15% of consolidated trade receivables. Securities consist primarily of equity securities of the companies with which Canon has a business relationship.

Derivative financial instruments are comprised principally of foreign exchange contracts to reduce the risk. Canon does not hold or issue derivative financial instruments for trading and speculative purposes.

2. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The estimated fair values of Canon's financial instruments as of December 31, 2013 are set forth below. The following summary excludes cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, finance receivables, noncurrent receivables, short-term loans, trade payables and accrued expenses for which fair values approximate their carrying amounts. The following summary excludes non-marketable equity securities accounted for under the cost method (balance sheet amount 14,794 million yen) as it was not practicable to estimate the fair value of such investments.

	(Millions of yen)
	Carrying amount	Estimated fair value	Difference
Available-for-sale securities	35,392	35,392	-
Long-term debt, including current portion	(2,693)	(2,693)	-
Foreign exchange contracts:
Assets	254	254	-
Liabilities	(14,945)	(14,945)	-

The following methods and assumptions are used to estimate the fair value in the above table.

Available-for-sale securities

Available-for-sale securities are recorded at fair value.

Long-term debt

The fair values of Canon's long-term debt instruments are based on the present value of future cash flows associated with each instrument discounted using current market borrowing rates for similar debt instruments of comparable maturity.

Foreign exchange contracts

The fair values of foreign exchange contracts are measured based on the market price obtained from financial institutions.

For those shareholders who receive dividends by way of Receipt of Dividend

The way to receive dividends is shown on the backside of Receipt of Dividend.

We recommend one of the following three methods as a safer and more expeditious way to receive dividends. For more information, please ask your securities company etc.

i) The method of depositing the dividends of all the issues, including shares of Canon Inc., that are managed by a shareholder using securities company accounts into said securities company accounts. (System of allocating dividends to securities company accounts in proportion to the number of shares held in respective accounts)

ii) The method of transferring the dividends of all the issues, including shares of Canon Inc., held by a shareholder into the same bank deposit account.

(System of receiving dividends in the account registered for receipt of dividends)

iii) The method of transferring dividends into an account at a financial institution such as a bank (including Japan Post Bank).

(System of designating an account for each issue held)

*It is not possible to use method i) for shares that are managed in a special account.

*In the case of method ii), it is not possible to choose a Japan Post Bank account as the account into which the dividends are transferred.
