Debut of NN Group on Euronext Amsterdam is milestone in restructuring of ING Group

Today, NN Group shares were listed and started trading on Euronext Amsterdam. The listing is the result of an Initial Public Offering (IPO) that marks the start of the last major divestment process in ING's restructuring. At the settlement of the IPO, and including the exchange into NN Group shares of EUR 450 million of mandatorily exchangeable subordinated notes, ING's shareholding in NN Group will have been reduced to 71.4%.

ING has kept momentum since it embarked on a restructuring in 2009, selling insurance businesses from Mexico to Hong Kong. During this period, ING also generated sufficient capital to repay the Dutch State EUR 12.5 billion, including EUR 9.3 billion in principal, for EUR 10 billion of support received in 2008. ING simultaneously strengthened the overall balance sheet of the Bank and established a solid financial basis for the Bank's future growth.

As announced earlier, ING intends to use the proceeds of the insurance divestments for the elimination of ING Group's double leverage. The combined proceeds of the NN Group IPO (excluding the exercise of the over-allotment option), the EUR 450 million of cash corresponding to the first tranche of subordinated notes that will be exchanged into NN Group shares, and the sale of the remaining stake in SulAmérica SA (announced on 27 June 2014), will further reduce ING Group's First Quarter 2014 double leverage to approximately EUR 2.6 billion on a pro-forma basis and corrected for EUR 850 million capital injected into NN Group. The current market value of the remaining stakes in U.S. insurer Voya Financial, Inc. and NN Group N.V. eliminates the double leverage and leads to a pro forma excess value of approximately EUR 5.4 billion.

After the IPO of NN Group, we are well into the end phase of our restructuring, which includes the last repayment of approximately EUR 1 billion to the Dutch State and the divestment of the remaining stakes we have in two successfully publicly listed insurance companies – Voya and NN Group, Hamers said. I'm grateful for the continued support of our customers, employees, shareholders, regulators, the Dutch State and other stakeholders as we complete this transition. Our focus for ING Bank going forward is to further execute on our Think Forward strategy, strengthening our position as a European banking leader, creating a differentiating customer experience and empowering our customers to stay a step ahead in life and in business.

As announced, the settlement of the NN Group IPO and the start of unconditional trading of the NN Group shares are expected on 7 July 2014. ING has granted the joint global coordinators, on behalf of the underwriters, an over-allotment option to purchase up to approximately 11.6 million additional shares in NN Group (up to 15% of the offer shares) at the offer price. The over-allotment option can be exercised until 30 days after today. If this option is fully exercised, ING's ownership in NN Group will be further reduced to 68.1%. ING intends to divest its remaining stakes in NN Group and Voya in an orderly manner and ultimately by year end-2016.

This morning, allocation of the offer shares took place in the IPO of NN Group. As part of this process, the anchor investors RRJ Capital, Temasek and SeaTown were allocated a further EUR 140 million in offer shares of which EUR 85 million to RRJ, EUR 50 million to Temasek and EUR 5 million to SeaTown.
