Disclaimer

Safe harbor statement under the US Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995.

This document contains statements that YPF believes constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the US Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995.

These forward-looking statements may include statements regarding the intent, belief, plans, current expectations or objectives of YPF, including statements with respect to YPF's future financial condition, financial, operating, reserve replacement and other ratios, business strategy, geographic concentration, business concentration, production and marketed volumes and reserves, as well as YPF's plans and objectives with respect to future capital expenditures, investments, expansion and other projects, exploration activities, ownership interests, savings and dividend payout policies. These forward-looking statements may also include assumptions regarding future economic conditions, such as future crude oil and other prices, refining and marketing margins and exchange rates. These statements are not guarantees of performance and are subject to material risks, uncertainties, changes and other factors which may be difficult to predict.

YPF's actual future financial condition, financial, operating, reserve replacement and other ratios, results of operations, business strategy, geographic concentration, business concentration, production and marketed volumes, reserves, capital expenditures, investments, expansion and other projects, exploration activities, ownership interests, divestments, cost savings and dividend payout policies, as well as actual future economic conditions, such as future crude oil and other prices, refining margins and exchange rates, could differ materially from those expressed or implied in these forward-looking statements. Important factors that could cause such differences include, but are not limited to, oil, gas and other price fluctuations.

demand levels, currency fluctuations, exploration, drilling and production results, changes in reserves estimates, success in part of market share, industry competition, environmental risks, physical risks, the risks of doing business in developing countries, regulatory developments, economic and financial market conditions in various countries and regions, political risks, wars and disasters, project delays or advancements and lack of approvals, as well as those factors described in the filings made by YPF and Securities and Exchange Commission, in particular, those described in Item 3. Key Information Risk Factors and Item 5. and Prospects in YPF's Annual Report on Form 20-F for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013 filed with the US Securities and Exchange Commission. In light of the foregoing, the forward-looking statements included in this document may not occur.

Except as required by law, YPF does not undertake to publicly update or revise these forward-looking statements even if experience it clear that the projected performance, conditions or events expressed or implied therein will not be realized.

These materials do not constitute an offer for sale of YPF S.A. bonds, shares or ADRs in the United States or otherwise.

5% reduction of gasoline and diesel prices at the pump, partially supported by federal taxes reduction. (Dec. 2579/14)

Recent changes in domestic prices

Understanding among various sectors and the Argentine Federal Government to reduce domestic crude oil prices by U.S.$7/Bbl.

Lower cost for YPF on domestic crude oil purchases
(~20% of total processed crude)

Reduction on royalties paid amounts to provinces due to lower wellhead prices

Additional U.S.$3/Bbl compensation for producers that maintain or increase production from one year to another.

Reduction of export taxes for all products to 1%, while Brent price is below
U.S.$71/Bbl.
