Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 14, 2016, Repligen Corporation (the Company) entered into a Stock Purchase Agreement (the Purchase Agreement) with Novasep Process SAS, a French corporation (Novasep), and John Connors (together with Novasep, the Sellers), pursuant to which the Company acquired TangenX Technology Corporation, a Massachusetts corporation (TangenX), through the purchase of (i) 20.29% of the outstanding equity of TangenX from John Connors and (ii) 100% of the equity of TangenX Holding, Inc., a Delaware corporation (TangenX Holding) holding 79.71% of the outstanding equity of TangenX, from Novasep (such transaction, the Acquisition).

The Company completed the Acquisition on December 14, 2016 (the Closing Date), for a total purchase price in cash of $35.6 million plus the assumption of a $1.0 million tax liability and a $0.4 million working capital deficit (the Closing Consideration). The Company funded the Closing Consideration with cash on-hand.

The Purchase Agreement contains customary representations and warranties and covenants by each party. The Purchase Agreement also provides that each Seller will indemnify the Company for breaches of the warranties and covenants of such Seller, as well as certain other specified matters, subject to certain limitations set forth therein, including, among other things, limitations on the period during which the Company may make certain claims for indemnification and limitations on the amounts and taxes for which each of the Sellers may be liable. A portion of the Closing Consideration was contributed to a third-party escrow fund against which the Company may make indemnification claims.

The Purchase Agreement also contains non-competition and non-solicitation clauses under which the Seller Parties must not, for two years following the consummation of the Acquisition, (i) engage in any business competitive with the business of TangenX, (ii) solicit any customer, supplier, agent or distributor of TangenX, or (iii) solicit any employee of TangenX hired by the Company for a period of one year following their employment with the Company.

Neither the Company nor any of its affiliates nor any person who is a director or officer of the Company had a material relationship with the Sellers, TangenX, TangenX Holding or any of their respective affiliates prior to the completion of the Acquisition.

The Purchase Agreement contains warranties and covenants that the Company, on one hand, and John Connors and Novasep, on the other hand, made to each other as of specific dates. The assertions embodied in those warranties and covenants were made solely for purposes of the Purchase Agreement between the parties and may be subject to important qualifications and limitations agreed to by the parties in connection with negotiating its terms, including being qualified by confidential disclosures exchanged between the parties in connection with the execution of the Purchase Agreement. Moreover, the warranties may be subject to a contractual standard of materiality that may be different from what may be viewed as material to investors or securityholders, or may have been used for the purpose of allocating risk between the parties to the Purchase Agreement rather than establishing matters as facts. Moreover, information concerning the subject matter of the warranties may change after the date of the Purchase Agreement, which subsequent information may or may not be fully reflected in the Company's public disclosures. For the foregoing reasons, no person should rely on the warranties as statements of factual information at the time they were made or otherwise.

The foregoing description of the Acquisition and the Purchase Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Purchase Agreement, a copy of which is filed herewith and incorporated herein by reference.
