Item 8.01 Other Events.

Enova Systems Inc. announced today that it obtained the express authorization of its independent registered public accounting firm, Windes & McClaughry Accountancy Corporation to file an amendment to the Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2006. At the end of November 2006, Enova disclosed that the initial Form 10-Q had been filed without the express authorization of Windes. Since then, Enova and Windes have engaged in a series of discussions that have resulted in the company exploring ways to improve its controls and procedures, and therefore enabling it to file the Form 10-Q as amended. The amendment reflects an additional $4,000 in net losses attributable to a reversal of revenue previously recorded for certain invoiced purchase orders. Other than the financial statement corrections for revenue, related costs and balance sheet items, the Form 10-Q contains no other material changes from the initial filing made in November 2006.
