The Company today issued the following press release:

First National Lincoln Corporation Receives National Recognition as Outstanding Small Bank

DAMARISCOTTA, ME., July 29 -- First National Lincoln Corporation (Nasdaq NM: FNLC), the holding company for The First National Bank of Damariscotta, today announced that it has been named to Sandler O'Neill's first-ever "SmAll Stars" list. This elite group, constituting the 30 best-performing small-capitalization banks in the United States based upon absolute financial performance in eight distinct categories, was created by Sandler O'Neill & Partners LP, a full-service investment banking firm specializing in financial services companies.

"In my view," noted Daniel R. Daigneault, First National Lincoln Corporation's President & Chief Executive Officer, "being named to this elite list acknowledges, at a national level, the exceptional job that First National Lincoln Corporation has done, year in and year out. There are only a handful of Maine-based companies whose shares are listed on a national exchange, and this reinforces my view that First National Lincoln Corporation provides an excellent investment opportunity, especially for the investor interested in a top-performing Maine company."

According to Sandler O'Neill, "the SmAll Stars list was created as a means to recognize stand-out publicly traded banks and thrifts in the U.S. with a market capitalization of less than $2 billion. Small-cap stocks tend to go unrecognized by Wall Street as most of the available equity research focuses on recognizable, large-cap companies, even though small-caps have historically outperformed their larger counterparts."

To address this issue, Sandler O'Neill screened all 592 publicly-traded banks and thrifts with a market cap of less than $2 billion by eight distinct criteria. "These criteria range from fundamental momentum measures such as EPS growth to asset quality characteristics to capital strength," the Company noted. "Based on these metrics, 562 or 95% of the institutions were eliminated. The remaining 30 banks and thrifts are among the finest in their class."

"We are delighted to be named to Sandler O'Neill's SmAll Stars," commented First National Lincoln Corporation's President Daigneault. "For a number of years, FNLC has consistently outperformed its peers and delivered excellent results for its shareholders. We have accomplished this by remaining focused on serving the financial needs of our communities, and it was done through the efforts of all of our employees working together to deliver exceptional service to our customers."

"We felt it was important to create a group such as the SmAll Stars," said Mark Fitzgibbon, Principal and Director of Research at Sandler O'Neill. "It is time that small-cap companies gain more recognition from the Wall Street investment community."

"The 30 banks and thrifts recognized in this survey are best in class," added Steven Alexopoulos, the Sandler O'Neill analyst who compiled the Class of 2004 Sm-All Stars. "These are the companies we would expect to see great things from over the long-term."
