TEVA & LUNDBECK ANNOUNCE PHASE III TRIALS DID NOT DEMONSTRATE ETILEVODOPA
SUPERIORITY OVER STANDARD LEVODOPA

Jerusalem, Israel, January 6, 2003 - Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Limited (NASDAQ: TEVA) and H. Lundbeck A/S (CSE: LUN.CO) announced today the results of two phase III clinical studies with an immediate release formulation of etilevodopa, a soluble prodrug of levodopa, in advanced Parkinson's Disease (PD) patients. Etilevodopa was found to be well tolerated and as effective as levodopa. On the primary endpoint, shortened the time to clinical effect, etilevodopa did not demonstrate statistically significant superiority over standard levodopa.

The studies - RAPID, conducted in North America, and RONDO, conducted in the EU - included over 700 advanced Parkinson's disease patients with motor fluctuations, who were treated for four months with either etilevodopa/carbidopa or continued treatment with standard levodopa/carbidopa.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Israel Makov, President and CEO of Teva said: "The results with etilevodopa are disappointing, however, Teva and Lundbeck will continue their joint research program in the field of Parkinson`s Disease and we look forward to the successful completion of the clinical development of rasagiline in the next few months".

Safe Harbor Statement under the U. S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995: This release contains forward-looking statements, which express the current beliefs and expectations of management. Such statements are based on current expectations and involve a number of known and unknown risks and uncertainties that could cause Teva's future results, performance or achievements to differ significantly from the results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Important factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include Teva's ability to successfully develop and commercialize additional pharmaceutical products, the introduction of competitive generic products, the impact of competition from brand-name companies that sell their own generic products or successfully extend the exclusivity period of their branded products, Teva's ability to rapidly integrate the operations of acquired businesses, the availability of product liability coverage in the current insurance market, the impact of pharmaceutical industry regulation and pending legislation that could affect the pharmaceutical industry, the difficulty of predicting U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") and other regulatory authority approvals, the regulatory environment and changes in the health policies and structure of various countries, acceptance and demand for new pharmaceutical products and new therapies, uncertainties regarding market acceptance of innovative products newly launched, currently being sold or in development, the impact of restructuring of clients, reliance on strategic alliances, exposure to product liability claims, dependence on patent and other protections for innovative products, fluctuations in currency, exchange and interest rates, operating results and other factors that are discussed in Teva's Annual Report on Form 20-F and its other filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date on which they are made, and the Company undertakes no obligation to update publicly or revise any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise
