Item 3. Source and Amount of Funds or Other Consideration

In aggregate, the PL Capital Group owns 463,455 shares of Common Stock of the Company acquired at an aggregate cost of $3,718,150.

From time to time, members of the PL Capital Group may purchase Common Stock on margin provided by BNP Paribas Prime Brokerage Inc. ("BNP Paribas") on such firms' usual terms and conditions. All or part of the shares of Common Stock owned by members of the PL Capital Group may from time to time be pledged with one or more banking institutions or brokerage firms as collateral for loans made by such entities to members of the PL Capital Group. Such loans, if any, generally bear interest at a rate based upon the federal funds rate plus a margin. Such indebtedness, if any, may be refinanced with other banks or broker-dealers. As of the date of this filing, no members of the PL Capital Group have margin from BNP Paribas or other loans outstanding secured by Common Stock except Focused Fund and Financial Edge Fund.

The amount of funds expended by Financial Edge Fund to acquire the 245,847 shares of Common Stock it holds in its name is $1,955,782. Such funds were provided from Financial Edge Fund's available capital and from time to time by margin loans provided by BNP Paribas.

The amount of funds expended by Financial Edge Strategic to acquire the 84,712 shares of Common Stock it holds in its name is $664,762. Such funds were provided from Financial Edge Strategic's available capital and from time to time by margin loans provided by BNP Paribas.

The amount of funds expended by Focused Fund to acquire the 49,152 shares of Common Stock it holds in its name is $394,832. Such funds were provided from Focused Fund's available capital and from time to time by margin loans provided by BNP Paribas.

The amount of funds expended by Goodbody/PL LP to acquire the 83,744 shares of Common Stock it holds in its name is $702,774. Such funds were provided from Goodbody/PL LP's available capital and from time to time by margin loans provided by BNP Paribas.

Item 4. Purpose of Transaction

This is the PL Capital Group's fifth amended Schedule 13D filing. The PL Capital Group owns 5.7% of the Company's Common Stock, based upon the Company's aggregate outstanding shares as of May 9, 2013. PL Capital Group acquired the Common Stock because it believes the Common Stock is undervalued. PL Capital's intent is to monitor the performance of the Company and the actions of the Company's management and board, and where needed, to assert PL Capital Group's stockholder rights.

As discussed in more detail below, in December 2012 the PL Capital Group objected to certain by-law amendments effected by Orrstown that imposed director eligibility requirements related to residency (contained in Section 3-12, Article III) and prohibited directors from serving as a management official of another bank (contained in Section 3-14, Article III). The company was unwilling to voluntarily remove or revise the amendments, and the PL Capital Group filed a complaint in federal district court. The PL Capital Group has now agreed to settle the action, with the Company agreeing to amend the Company's bylaws to rescind the director eligibility requirements related to residency (contained in Section 3-12, Article III) and not serving as a management official of another bank (contained in Section 3-14, Article III).

The PL Capital Group and the Company entered into the Settlement and General Release Agreement (the "Settlement Agreement") on January 31, 2013. A copy of the Settlement Agreement is attached as Exhibit 6 to Amendment No. 4 to the Schedule 13D filed on February 5, 2013. Under the terms of the Settlement Agreement, in consideration of the action of the PL Capital Group discussed below, the Company, among other things, has agreed (1) to amend the Company's bylaws to rescind the director eligibility requirements related to residency (contained in Section 3-12, Article III) and not serving as a management official of another bank (contained in Section 3-14, Article III); and (2) from the date of the Settlement Agreement through the last day of the Company's 2014 Annual Meeting of Shareholders, not to implement any changes to the Company's articles of incorporation or bylaws that would prevent the PL Capital Group from nominating a candidate to run for a seat on the Company's Board of Directors. The Company has also agreed to pay the reasonable legal fees and expenses of the PL Capital Group related to the litigation, not to exceed $125,000 in the aggregate.

Under the terms of the Settlement Agreement, the PL Capital Group agreed to, among other things: (1) not bring any shareholder proposals before the Company's 2013 Annual Meeting of Shareholders (the "2013 Annual Meeting"); (2) move to have the shareholder derivative action dismissed; (3) withdraw the nomination of Mr. Lashley to be elected as a member of the board of directors at the 2013 Annual Meeting; and (4) refrain from nominating any other director nominee through the last day of the 2013 Annual Meeting. The PL Capital Group has also agreed to advise the Company, within 10 days of the filing of the Company's 2013 third Quarter Form 10-Q (the "Third Quarter 10-Q"), whether it will nominate a candidate to run for a seat on the Board at the Company's 2014 Annual Meeting of Shareholders to be held in April 2014 (the "2014 Annual Meeting"). If the PL Capital Group does not nominate a candidate to run for a seat on the Board in 2014 within 10 days of the filing of the Third Quarter 10-Q, the PL Capital Group has agreed to refrain from, among other things, taking the following actions: nominating any Board candidate for the 2014 Annual Meeting; waging any proxy contests at the 2014 Annual Meeting; making any shareholder proposals at the 2014 Annual Meeting commenting on any allegations of improper conduct by the Company or its directors, as alleged in the derivative complaint, through the last day of the 2014 Annual Meeting; and disparaging the Company or its directors through the last day of the 2014 Annual Meeting.

If the PL Capital Group notifies the Company within 10 days of the filing of the Company's Third Quarter 10-Q that it does not intend to nominate a candidate to run for a seat on the Board at the 2014 Annual Meeting, the Company has agreed to not to implement any changes to the Company's articles of incorporation or bylaws that would prevent the PL Capital Group from nominating a candidate to run for a seat on the Company's Board of Directors at the 2015 Annual Meeting of Shareholders. The Settlement Agreement contains other customary terms for an agreement of this type, including a release of claims relating to the claims raised by the PL Capital Group in the shareholder derivative action.

Prior to the settlement, the Company voluntarily amended its bylaws, effective as of January 24, 2013, to replace certain super-majority shareholder voting requirements with majority voting requirements. The PL Capital Group had proposed similar amendments as one of the shareholder proposals that the PL Capital Group had intended to bring before the 2013 annual shareholder meeting.

On January 7, 2013, the PL Capital Group filed a shareholder derivative action to redress what it believes is the wrongful adoption and discriminatory application of the by-law amendments adopted by Orrstown on November 19, 2012. A copy of the complaint is attached as Exhibit 5 to Amendment No. 3 to the Schedule 13D filed on January 8, 2013.

On December 28, 2012, legal counsel for Orrstown informed PL Capital's legal counsel that the board of Orrstown had met and decided not to remove or revise the by-law amendments made on November 19, 2012. PL Capital's legal counsel informed Orrstown's legal counsel that PL Capital therefore intends to file a lawsuit shortly and pursue a proxy contest at the 2013 Annual Meeting.

On December 28, 2012, PL Capital principal John Palmer, on behalf of the Financial Edge Fund, mailed a notice of intent to nominate Richard Lashley for election as a director at the 2013 Annual Meeting of Shareholders of Orrstown. That letter also included four shareholder proposals that the PL Capital Group intends to include in its proxy statement for consideration at the 2013 Annual Meeting. A copy of the notice of intent to nominate is attached as Exhibit 4 to Amendment No. 2 to the Schedule 13D filed on December 31, 2012.

On December 26, 2012, PL Capital principals Richard Lashley and John Palmer had a conference call with Orrstown's CEO Thomas Quinn and CFO David Boyle and Orrstown's legal advisors to discuss the factors that PL Capital would consider before instituting legal action to challenge the by-law amendments adopted by Orrstown on November 19, 2012 and pursuing a proxy contest at the 2013 Annual Meeting of Shareholders. Prior to the phone call, PL Capital provided Orrstown and its legal advisors a list of factors that PL Capital would consider before instituting a legal action and/or a proxy contest in 2013 and beyond, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit 3 to Amendment No. 2 to the Schedule 13D filed on December 31, 2012. During the call, CEO Thomas Quinn stated that Orrstown did not intend to remove or revise the amendments adopted on November 19, 2012. PL Capital requested that Mr. Quinn formally request his board to review that decision, in light of the factors that PL Capital provided to Orrstown.

On December 3, 2012, PL Capital principals Richard Lashley and John Palmer sent a letter to Mr. Joel Zullinger, Chairman of Orrstown, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit 2 to Amendment No. 2 to the Schedule 13D filed on December 31, 2012. In that letter, they objected to the by-law amendments made by Orrstown, as reflected in a Current Report on Form 8-K that Orrstown filed with the SEC on November 19, 2012. The PL Capital Group will attempt to work with Mr. Zullinger and the board of directors of Orrstown to remove or revise the amendments that PL Capital believes are objectionable. If those attempts are not successful, the PL Capital Group will likely pursue legal action.

Unless otherwise noted in this amended Schedule 13D, no member of the PL Capital Group has any plans or proposals, which relate to, or would result in, any of the matters referred to in paragraphs (b) through (j), inclusive of Item (4) of Schedule 13D. Such individuals may, at any time and from time to time, review or reconsider their positions and formulate plans or proposals with respect thereto. Members of the PL Capital Group may make further purchases of shares of Common Stock, although the PL Capital Group has no present intention of increasing PL Capital Group's aggregate holdings above 9.999% of the Company's outstanding Common Stock. Members of the PL Capital Group may dispose of any or all the shares of Common Stock held by them.

Item 5. Interest in Securities of the Company

The percentages used in this amended Schedule 13D are calculated based upon the number of outstanding shares of Common Stock, 8,090,988, reported as the number of outstanding shares as of May 1, 2013, in the Company's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q filed on May 9, 2013.

The PL Capital Group made transactions in the Common Stock within the past 60 days as noted below:
