Commission File No. 001-02658

The following letter was distributed by Stewart Information Services Corporation on March 19, 2018.

Dear Associates,

Today we announced that Stewart has entered into an agreement and plan of merger with Fidelity National Financial, a leading provider of title insurance and transaction services to the real estate and mortgage industries.

After a comprehensive and thorough review of all options since we announced the strategic alternatives review last fall, our Board of Directors determined that this transaction is the value-maximizing alternative for our shareholders. The transaction also affords Stewart shareholders the opportunity to benefit from Fidelity's exceptional financial and operating platform in support of the Stewart brand and services for our customers. You can view today's press release here

(<https://www.businesswire.com/news/home/20180319005398/en/Stewart-Announces-Agreement-Acquired-Fidelity-National-F>)

Fidelity's decision to add the Stewart brand to their portfolio of companies is a reflection of their belief in our Company, our people and the value we bring to our clients and customers. In all of our conversations with Fidelity's team leading up to today, they have stressed the importance of retaining the Stewart brand, culture and people. This transaction will provide Stewart with the scale, financial strength, access to resources and technology to not only maintain, but grow the Stewart brand and continue providing the services and products our customers have come to expect.

Fidelity Chairman William P. Foley, II said, "Stewart is one of the most respected names in the title insurance industry, with over 125 years of providing superior customer service. We know business is won and lost based on customer service and relationships, and it is important to us to not only maintain, but provide additional support to grow the Stewart brand and reach more customers."

I know you'll have questions about what this means for you and for Stewart going forward. While we will seek to answer all of your questions in the coming weeks and months, what's most important now is that we move forward as a team and appreciate the incredible opportunity that lies ahead of us. It is critically important that we continue running the business, maximizing our performance and upholding our legacy of delivering quality customer service and providing security to our policyholders.

Today is just the first step in the process of combining two healthy competitors into an industry-leading partnership. Stewart and Fidelity will continue to operate independently until the transaction is finalized, which we expect to happen by the first or second quarter of 2019.

As with most transactions of this nature, the agreement is subject to approval by Stewart's shareholders and regulatory authorities and the satisfaction of customary closing conditions. We will maintain consistent communication with you throughout the close and integration process and will continue to honor the trust and respect of our loyal associates.

I want to thank you for your continued focus on delivering the highest quality service and solutions in the industry to our customers. As always, your support, hard work and continued commitment to Stewart are greatly appreciated.

Matt Morris

Chief Executive Officer
