PROXY STATEMENT

FOR THE ANNUAL MEETING OF SHARE OWNERS

TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY, APRIL 23, 2004

Solicitation of Proxy

This Proxy Statement and the accompanying Proxy are furnished to Share Owners of Kellogg Company in connection with the solicitation of Proxies for use at the Annual Meeting of Share Owners of the Company to be held in Battle Creek, Michigan, on Friday, April 23, 2004, or any adjournments thereof. The enclosed Proxy is solicited by the Board of Directors of the Company.

Mailing Date

The Annual Report of the Company for 2003, including financial statements, the Notice of Annual Meeting, this Proxy Statement, and the Proxy, were first mailed to Share Owners on or about March 17, 2004.

Who Can Vote Record Date

The record date for determining Share Owners entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting is March 4, 2004. Each of the approximately 412,380,003 shares of common stock of the Company issued and outstanding on that date is entitled to one vote at the Annual Meeting.

How to Vote Proxy Instructions

If you are a holder of record of Kellogg Company common stock, you may vote your shares either (1) over the telephone by calling a toll-free number, (2) by using the Internet, or (3) by mailing in your Proxy card. Share Owners who hold their shares in street name will need to obtain a Proxy form from the institution that holds their shares and must follow the voting instructions given by that institution.

The telephone and Internet voting procedures have been set up for your convenience and have been designed to authenticate your identity, to allow you to give voting instructions, and to confirm that those instructions have been recorded properly. If you would like to vote by telephone or by using the Internet, please refer to the specific instructions on the Proxy card. The deadline for voting by telephone or via the Internet is 11:59 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time on Thursday, April 22, 2004. If you wish to vote using the Proxy card, complete, sign, and date your Proxy card and return it to us before the meeting.

Whether you choose to vote by telephone, over the Internet, or by mail, you may specify whether your shares should be voted for all, some, or none of the nominees for director (Proposal 1 on the Proxy card), whether you approve, disapprove or abstain from voting on the proposal to ratify the appointment of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as independent auditor for the Company's 2004 fiscal year (Proposal 2 on the Proxy card), and whether you approve, disapprove, or abstain from voting on the Share Owner proposal to report on the impacts of genetically engineered foods, which may be presented at the meeting (Proposal 3 on the Proxy card).

If you do not specify how you want to vote your shares on your Proxy card, or when giving your Proxy by telephone or over the Internet, we will vote them For the election of all nominees for director as set forth under Election of Directors (Proposal 1) below, For Proposal 2 and Against Proposal 3, and otherwise at the discretion of the persons named in the Proxy card.

When a properly executed Proxy is received, the shares represented thereby, including shares held under the Company's Dividend Reinvestment Plan, will be voted by the persons named as the Proxy according to each Share Owner's directions. Proxies will also be considered to be voting instructions to the applicable Trustee with respect to shares held in accounts under the Company's Savings and Investment Plans.

Table of Contents

Revocation of Proxies

If you are a holder of record, you may revoke your Proxy at any time before it is exercised in any of three ways:

- (1) by submitting written notice of revocation to the Company's Secretary;
- (2) by submitting another Proxy by telephone, via the Internet, or by mail that is later dated and, if by mail, that is properly signed; or
- (3) by voting in person at the meeting.

Quorum

A quorum of Share Owners is necessary to hold a valid meeting. A quorum will exist if the holders representing a majority of the votes entitled to be cast by the Share Owners at the Annual Meeting are present, in person or by Proxy. Broker non-votes and abstentions are counted as present at the Annual Meeting for purposes of determining whether a quorum exists. A broker non-vote occurs when a nominee, such as a bank or broker, holding shares for a beneficial owner, does not vote on a particular proposal because the nominee does not have discretionary voting power for that particular item and has not received instructions from the beneficial owner. Under current New York Stock Exchange rules, nominees would have discretionary voting power for the election of directors (Proposal 1) and for ratification of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as independent auditors (Proposal 2), but not for the Share Owner proposal (Proposal 3).

Required Vote

The nominees for director receiving a plurality of the votes cast at the Annual Meeting will be elected directors. Plurality means that the nominees who receive the largest number of votes cast are elected as directors. For that reason, any shares not voted for the election of nominees will not affect the outcome of the election of directors. If any nominee is unable or declines to serve, Proxies will be voted for the balance of those named and for such person as shall be designated by the Board to replace any such nominee. However, the Board does not anticipate this will occur.

The affirmative vote of the holders representing a majority of the shares present and entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting is necessary to ratify the appointment of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as independent auditor (Proposal 2) and to approve the Share Owner proposal (Proposal 3). Shares present but not voted because of abstention will have the effect of a no vote on Proposals 2 and 3. Shares subject to a broker non-vote will not be considered as present with respect to Proposal 3 and will not affect the outcome on that proposal.

Other Business

The Company does not intend to bring any business before the meeting other than that set forth in the Notice of Annual Meeting and described in this Proxy Statement. However, if any other business should properly come before the meeting, the persons named in the enclosed Proxy card intend to vote in accordance with their best judgment on such business and on any matters dealing with the conduct of the meeting pursuant to the discretionary authority granted in the Proxy.

Costs

The Company pays for the preparation and mailing of the Notice of Annual Meeting and Proxy Statement. We have also made arrangements with brokerage firms and other custodians, nominees, and fiduciaries for forwarding Proxy-soliciting materials to the beneficial owners of the common stock of the Company at our expense.

Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires the Company's directors, executive officers, and greater-than-10% Share Owners to file reports with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). SEC regulations require the Company to identify anyone who filed a required report late during the most recent fiscal year. Based on our review of these reports and written certifications provided to the Company, we believe that all of these reporting persons timely complied with their filing requirements, except that an amended Form 3 was filed to report an additional 3,223 shares owned by an executive officer, Celeste Clark. The original Form 3 was filed in September 2003, and these shares were inadvertently omitted.

Report of the Audit Committee

The Audit Committee oversees the Company's financial reporting process on behalf of the Board of Directors. The Committee is composed of five independent (as defined by the New York Stock Exchange Listing Standards) directors, met six times in 2003, and operates under a written charter approved by the Board of Directors in 2003, which is posted on the Company's website at www.kelloggcompany.com/corporategovernance. As provided in the Charter, the Committee's oversight responsibilities include monitoring the integrity of the Company's financial statements (including reviewing financial information, the systems of internal controls, the audit process and the independence and performance of the Company's internal and external auditors) and the Company's compliance with legal and regulatory requirements. However, management has the primary responsibility for the financial statements and the reporting process, including the Company's systems of internal controls. In fulfilling its oversight responsibilities, the Committee reviewed the audited financial statements to be included in the 2003 Annual Report on Form 10-K with management, including a discussion of the quality and the acceptability of the Company's financial reporting and controls.

The Committee reviewed with the independent auditors, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, who are responsible for expressing an opinion on the conformity of those audited financial statements with generally accepted accounting principles, their judgments as to the quality and acceptability of the Company's financial reporting and such other matters as are required to be discussed with the Committee under generally accepted auditing standards. In addition, the Committee has discussed with the independent auditors the matters required to be discussed by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, Communications With Audit Committees, No. 89, Audit Adjustments and No. 90 Audit Committee Communications.

The Committee has discussed with the independent auditors the auditors' independence from the Company and its management, including matters in the written disclosures and the letter from the independent auditors required by Independent Standards Board Standard No. 1, Independence Discussions With Audit Committees. The Committee also has considered whether the provision by the auditors of non-audit professional services is compatible with maintaining the auditors' independence.

The Committee also discussed with the Company's internal and independent auditors the overall scope and plans for their respective audits. The Committee meets periodically with the internal and independent auditors, with and without management present, to discuss the results of their examinations, their evaluations of the Company's internal controls, and the overall quality of the Company's financial reporting. The Committee also periodically meets with the General Counsel, Corporate Controller, and Vice President of Internal Audit.

In reliance on the reviews and the discussions referred to above, the Committee recommended to the Board of Directors that the audited financial statements be included in the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 27, 2003, for filing with the SEC. The Committee also reappointed the Company's independent auditors for the Company's 2004 fiscal year.

Under Corporate Governance Guidelines adopted by the Board:

a majority of the directors, and all of the members of the Audit, Compensation, and Nominating and Governance Committees, are to be independent, as such term is defined by the New York Stock Exchange and, to the extent required by law, the Securities Act of 1934;

the Board and each Board committee have the power to hire independent legal, financial or other advisors as they may deem necessary, without consulting the Company in advance;

non-management directors will meet in executive sessions at least three times annually;

the Board and Board committees will conduct annual self-evaluations;

Table of Contents

the Board will conduct an annual review of the CEO's performance in executive session, which will be used by the independent members of the Board in their determination of CEO compensation and performance;

any officer of the Company who is a director should resign from the Board when such individual ceases to be employed by the Company;

other directors who change their principal responsibility or occupation from that held when they were elected should volunteer to resign from the Board, although these directors should not necessarily leave the Board in every instance;

directors shall have free access to officers and employees of the Company;

all new directors shall participate in the Company's orientation program;

no director may be nominated for a new term if he or she would be seventy-two or older at the time of election; and no director shall serve as a director, officer, or employee of a competitor.

The Board has also adopted stock ownership guidelines for directors, under which they generally are expected to hold at least five times their annual retainer in stock and stock equivalents, subject to a phase-in period.

The Board has determined that all current directors (other than Carlos Gutierrez) are independent based on the following standards: (a) no entity of which a Director is an employee in any position or any immediate family member (as defined) is an executive officer, made payments to, or received payments from, the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries in 2003 or 2002 in excess of the greater of (i) $1 million or (ii) two percent of that entity's annual consolidated gross revenues; (b) no Director or any immediate family member employed as an executive officer received during 2003 or 2002 more than $100,000 per year in direct compensation from the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries, other than director and committee fees and pension or other forms of deferred compensation for prior service not contingent in any way on continued service; (c) neither the Company nor any subsidiary employed a Director in any position or any immediate family member as an executive officer of the Company or any subsidiary during 2003 or 2002; (d) no Director was employed by and no immediate family member was employed in a professional capacity or affiliated in a professional capacity with, the present or former independent auditor of the Company or any subsidiary during 2003 or 2002; (e) no Director or immediate family member served as an executive officer of another company at the same time as a current executive officer serves on the compensation committee of such company; and (f) no other material relationship exists between any Director and the Company or its subsidiaries.

Non-Employee Director Compensation and Benefits

Each non-employee director currently receives an annual retainer fee of $55,000, $5,000 if he or she served as Chairman of a committee, $1,000 for each committee meeting attended (other than executive committee meetings held on the same day as a regular Board meeting), and reimbursement for all expenses incurred in attending such meetings. Non-employee directors receive no separate fees for attending Board meetings, and directors who are employees receive no fees for attending Board or Board committee meetings.

Under the Non-Employee Director Stock Plan approved by Share Owners, each eligible non-employee director annually is granted options to purchase 5,000 shares of common stock and awarded 1,700 shares of common stock. These options are for ten-year terms and generally become exercisable six months after grant. These shares are placed in the Kellogg Company Grantor Trust for Non-Employee Directors (the Grantor Trust). Under the terms of the Grantor Trust, shares are available to a director only upon termination of service on the Board.

Under the Deferred Compensation Plan for Non-Employee Directors, non-employee directors may each year irrevocably elect to defer all or a portion of their cash compensation payable for the following year. The amount deferred is credited to an account in the form of units equivalent to the fair market value of the Company's common stock. If dividends are declared by the Board, a fractional unit representing the dividend is credited to the account of each participating director. A participant's account balance is paid in cash or shares of the Company's common stock upon termination of service as a director, over a period from one to ten years at the election of the director.

The Company maintains Director and Officer Liability Insurance, individually insuring the directors and officers of the Company against losses that they become legally obligated to pay resulting from their actions while performing duties on behalf of the Company. The Company also maintains travel accident insurance for each director.

Prior to December 1995, the Company had a Director's Charitable Awards Program in which each director could name up to four organizations to which the Company would contribute an aggregate of $1 million upon the death of the director. In 1995, the Board voted to discontinue this program for directors first elected after December 1995.

In addition to the standard benefits described above, on July 27, 2000, James M. Jenness, a director, was granted a non-qualified stock option to purchase what is now 100,000 shares of the Company's common stock at $27 per share, the fair market price of the stock on July 27, 2000. This option contains the AOF provisions described in footnote (3) of the Summary Compensation Table on the next page.

- (1) Represents payments to or on behalf of Messrs. Mackay, Harris, and Pouw, primarily under the Company's Expatriate Compensation Program in connection with their relocation and moving expenses.
- (2) Messrs. Harris, Pouw, and Montie were awarded 10,000, 25,000, and 20,000 shares, respectively, of restricted stock in September 2003 under the Company's 2001 Long-Term Incentive Plan. These awards are valued at approximately $378,000, $945,000, and $756,000, respectively, based on the closing price of Kellogg Company common stock on December 26, 2003. Additionally, Messrs. Gutierrez, Mackay, Harris, and Pouw were awarded 13,947, 6,892, 7,657, and 4,906 shares, respectively, of restricted stock in February 2001 under the Company's 2001 Long-Term Incentive Plan. These awards are valued at approximately $527,197, $260,518, $289,435, and $185,447, respectively, based on the closing price of Kellogg Company common stock on December 26, 2003.
- (3) All the options granted contained an accelerated ownership option feature (AOF), including the AOF options described below. Under the terms of the original option grant, an AOF option is generally received when Company stock is used to pay the exercise price of a stock option and related taxes. The holder of the option receives an AOF option for the number of shares so used. For AOF options, the expiration date is the same as the original option, and the option price is the fair market value of the Company's stock on the date the AOF option is granted. During 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively, Messrs. Gutierrez, Mackay, Harris, Pouw, and Montie received the following amounts of AOF options, included in the Summary Compensation Table, from their surrender of Kellogg Company stock to exercise an original option: Mr. Gutierrez, 384,782, 306,163, and 222,128; Mr. Mackay, 60,698, 22,282, and 0; Mr. Harris, 99,462, 72,151, and 50,445; Mr. Pouw, 43,980, 31,230, and 21,127; and Mr. Montie, 7,537, 0, and 1,342.

- (4) The Long-Term Incentive Payments were payments under a three-year 2001-2003 Executive Performance Plan. Under the Plan, the Committee approved three levels of performance for cumulative cash flow (as defined): threshold, budget, and maximum. No awards were to be paid for performance below threshold. Participants were to receive 100% of their targeted award for performance at budget and 200% of their targeted award for performance at maximum. Payments equal 200% of participants' targeted awards, which they earned by achieving the maximum performance level under the Plan.

- (5) The amounts represent Company-paid life insurance premiums, dividends on unvested restricted stock, and Company-matching contributions on behalf of each named individual to the Kellogg Company Salaried and Supplemental Savings and Investment Plans. A limit in the Kellogg Company Supplemental Savings and Investment Plan on the contributions eligible for Company matching contributions was removed effective January 1, 2002.

Employment and Change in Control Agreements

The named executive officers have agreements with the Company which become operative only if a change of control (as defined therein) of the Company occurs. The agreements provide that, during the three-year period after the change of control, the officers are entitled to receive a monthly base salary at least equal to the highest monthly salary earned during the twelve months before the agreements became operative, as well as annual bonuses at least equal to the highest annual bonus received during the three years before the agreements became operative. The agreements also provide for their continued participation in benefit plans during the three-year period, with those plans to generally be no less favorable, in the aggregate, than those in effect during the one hundred twenty day period before the agreements became operative.

In addition, if during the three-year period, any of such executive officers terminates his or her employment for good reason (as defined), or if the Company terminates his or her employment for reasons other than cause or disability, he or she will generally be entitled to receive, within thirty days after termination: (a) any unpaid salary through the date of termination, as well as a pro-rata bonus for the year of termination at target or, if higher, the bonus amount described below (the Bonus Amount); (b) three times the sum of his or her annual base salary and the Bonus Amount; and (c) the actuarial equivalent of the benefit that he or she would have received for three years of additional participation under the Company's retirement plans (Actuarial Equivalent). The bonus amounts used to determine the amounts described in clauses (a) and (b) above are both equal to the higher of (1) the highest annual bonus earned for the three most recent years ended before the agreement became operative and (2) the most recent bonus (if any) earned for a year ended after the agreement became operative. A terminated executive officer would also continue to participate in the Company's welfare benefit plans for three years after termination, would be eligible for continued vesting of his or her equity awards during this three-year period, and would receive outplacement benefits.

In addition, under these agreements, the Company is obligated to pay each such executive officer a gross up payment to make him or her whole for any federal excise taxes on excess parachute payments owed on such severance payments and benefits or any other payments and benefits from the Company.

Under the Kellogg Company Severance Benefit Plan, which was adopted in 2002, regular non-union U.S. employees (with some exceptions) may be eligible to receive designated severance pay benefits, which vary by pay grades and years of service (subject to minimums and maximums), if their employment is terminated for specified reasons, so long as specified conditions are met. The named executive officers (except for the Chief Executive Officer) would generally be entitled to receive two years of base pay and target bonus under this Plan, unless an employment agreement provides for a different amount. Specified medical, dental, and insurance benefits would also be provided (subject to plan provisions, including the payment of premiums) during this payment period. The amount to be provided to the Chief Executive Officer would be determined by the Board of Directors.

Mr. Mackay has an agreement with the Company providing that he will be granted an additional six years of pension service credit if he works through December 31, 2005, with the Company or if, before that date, either the Company terminates him without cause (as defined) or he terminates his employment with the Company for good reason (as defined) after a notice and cure period. The agreement also provides that, if his employment is terminated by the Company for any reason (except for cause) prior to December 31, 2008, he or his estate would generally be entitled to payment for relocation back to Australia and any loss on the sale of one residence. The agreement also provides that if the Company terminates him without cause, or if he terminates his employment for good reason before December 31, 2005, he shall also be entitled to receive the benefits provided under the Kellogg Company Severance Benefit Plan described above. In addition, if his employment is terminated before December 31, 2005, at a time when he is entitled to receive the change in control benefits described above, he would be entitled to the additional six years of pension service credit on December 31, 2005, in addition to the change in control benefits described above, except that the three year time period used for calculating the Actuarial Equivalent under the change in control benefits is to be reduced by the time between the date of termination and December 31, 2005. The agreement also contains two-year non-compete and non-solicitation provisions.

Mr. Harris has an agreement with the Company providing for an annual base salary of $560,500 per year (subject to standard periodic reviews) and participation in employee benefit plans that are generally made available to employees of Mr. Harris' level. It also provides that he will be granted an additional three-and-one-half years of pension service credit if he works through December 31, 2005, with the Company or if, before that date, either the Company terminates him without cause (as defined) or he terminates his employment with the Company for good reason (as defined) after a notice and cure period. The agreement also provides that if the Company terminates him without cause, or if he terminates his employment for good reason before December 31, 2005, he shall also be entitled to receive the benefits provided under the Kellogg Company Severance Benefit Plan described above. The agreement also provides that, if Mr. Harris provides notice during the period between December 1, 2003, and ending April 30, 2004, of his desire to terminate his employment without good reason, Mr. Harris shall work through the earlier of September 30, 2004, or the date he obtains alternative employment, and the Company shall generally pay Mr. Harris salary and benefits through September 30, 2004, pay him a pro-rated bonus at target for 2004 under the Annual Incentive Plan, and, beginning October 1, 2004, the benefits provided under the Kellogg Company Severance Benefit Plan. In addition, if his employment is terminated before December 31, 2005, at a time when he is entitled to receive the change in control benefits described above, he would be entitled to the additional three-and-one-half years of pension service credit on December 31, 2005, in addition to the change in control benefits described above, except that the three year time period used for calculating the Actuarial Equivalent under the change in control benefits is to be reduced by the time between the date of termination and December 31, 2005. The agreement also contains two-year non-compete and non-solicitation provisions.

- (1) These stock options were granted under the Kellogg Company 2001 Long-Term Incentive Plan (the "2001 Incentive Plan"). The options have an exercise price equal to the fair market value of the common stock on the date of grant, generally expire ten years and one day after grant (if non-qualified options), and generally include (a) the right to pay the exercise price in cash or, subject to approval, with shares of stock previously acquired by the optionee; (b) the right to have shares of stock withheld by the Company to pay tax withholding obligations due in connection with the exercise; and (c) the right to receive an AOF option, which is described in footnote (3) on page 12 of this Proxy Statement. The options generally vest as follows: 50% of the options granted vest one year after the date of grant and 50% vest two years after the date of grant.

- (2) These are AOF options.
- (3) Grant date present value is determined using the Black-Scholes model. The model makes assumptions about future variables, so the actual value of the options may be greater or less than the values stated in the table. For options granted in 2003, the calculations are based on a weighted average that assumes a dividend yield of 2.70%, volatility of approximately 25.75%, a risk-free rate of return of 1.89%, and an average expected term of three years. Optionees may decide to exercise their options either earlier or later than this assumed period, resulting in different values from those shown in the table. No downward adjustments were made to the resulting grant date option value to account for potential forfeiture of these options.

Table of ContentsKellogg Company Retirement Plans

Retirement benefits under the Kellogg Company Salaried Pension Plan (the Pension Plan), a defined benefit plan qualified under Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code), are payable to salaried employees who have vested upon retirement at age 65 or in reduced amounts upon earlier retirement prior to age 65 in accordance with the Pension Plan. Benefits are based upon credited years of service and average annual compensation (salary and bonus) for the three consecutive years during the last ten years of employment producing the greatest average. Benefits are reduced by a portion of the retiree's Social Security-covered compensation and, for retirees who were participants of a previous profit sharing plan, by certain amounts accrued pursuant to that plan. The Company also maintains a Supplemental Retirement Plan and an Excess Benefit Retirement Plan that provide for payment of benefits to all participants in the Pension Plan equal to the benefits that would have been payable under the Pension Plan but for certain limitations imposed by the Code. Estimated annual benefits payable upon retirement to persons of the specified compensation and years of credited service classifications, as reduced by Social Security benefits (assuming their present levels), are as shown in the following table. Such amounts assume payments in the form of a straight life annuity and include the payment of benefits under the Company's Supplemental Retirement Plan and Excess Benefit Retirement Plan.

At December 27, 2003, the credited years of service under the Pension Plan for the executive officers named in the Summary Compensation Table were as follows: Mr. Gutierrez, 28 years; Mr. Mackay, 12 years; Mr. Harris, 19 years; Mr. Pouw, 25 years; and Mr. Montie, 16 years. The compensation covered by the Pension Plan is equal to the amounts shown in the Summary Compensation Table as Salary and Bonus.

REPORT OF THE COMPENSATION COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors is composed of non-employee directors, all of whom meet the independence requirements of the New York Stock Exchange. The Committee is responsible for the establishment and oversight of executive compensation policies. The Company's executive compensation program is significantly linked to Share Owner return. The emphasis is on pay for performance with individual, business unit, and corporate performance rewarded on an annual and long-term basis.

The Company's objective is to attract, retain, and motivate high-caliber executives who will deliver superior performance that enhances Share Owner value. To support this objective, the Company has developed performance-based executive compensation plans with compensation opportunities targeted at the 50th percentile of the Company's peer group of companies. Awards will vary above or below the 50th percentile of the peer group based on performance.

The Committee reviews and approves financial goals and objectives for the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and other executive officers at least annually and evaluates performance against those goals and objectives at the conclusion of each performance period. The Committee recommends to the independent members of the Board of Directors the compensation for the CEO and the other executive officers. In discharging its responsibilities, the Committee calls upon an independent outside consultant who acts on behalf of the Committee when working with management on matters that come before the Committee.

Compensation Principles

To achieve the Company's objectives, the Committee's review of executive compensation incorporates the following compensation principles:

Compensation should encourage behavior that exemplifies the values that the Company believes are essential in building long-term growth in sales and profit, enhancing its worldwide leadership position, and providing increased value for Share Owners. These shared values are being passionate about our business, brands, and food; having the humility and hunger to learn; striving for simplicity; acting with integrity and respect; being accountable; and loving success.

Compensation should be competitive with comparable organizations and should reward performance and contribution to the Company's objectives.

As employees assume greater responsibilities, a larger proportion of their total compensation will be at-risk incentive compensation (both annual and long-term), subject to individual, business unit, and corporate performance measures.

Consistent performance is expected against defined targets and measures.

Equity-based incentives are an effective method of aligning the interests of employees and Share Owners and encouraging employees to think and act like owners.

The Committee believes that a compensation program guided by these basic principles works to ensure present and future leadership performance that will result in optimal returns to the Company's Share Owners over time.

Total Compensation

An executive's total compensation is composed of salary, annual bonus, long-term incentives, and benefits. The target for total compensation for executives is the 50th percentile of a select group of seventeen companies (the peer group). These companies were chosen as a benchmark for establishing executive pay levels because of their superior reputation and performance and their relevance to Kellogg Company. Most of the companies that comprise the S&P Packaged Foods Index are included in this group.

Salaries

Executive salaries are established through a survey of the peer group conducted by an independent compensation consultant. Executive salaries are targeted at the 50th percentile of this group of companies.

The Company's Executive Compensation Deferral Plan is intended to ensure that compensation is deductible under Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code. Pursuant to this plan, which the Company was not legally required to adopt, the portion of any executive's salary that is over $950,000 is automatically deferred. The deferred amount is credited to an account in the form of units that are equivalent to the fair market value of the Company's common stock. The units are payable upon retirement.

Annual Bonuses

Bonuses are a percentage of the executive's base salary and are targeted at the 50th percentile of the peer group. The target bonus is adjusted for appropriate corporate, business unit, and individual performance factors, given the functions of the particular executive. Corporate performance was determined based on net sales, cash flow, and operating profit. In 2003, bonuses could range from 0% to 200% of the target bonus.

The Company has a Senior Executive Annual Incentive Plan (the Incentive Plan) that is a performance-based plan intended to meet the deductibility requirements of IRC Section 162(m). The Compensation Committee administers the Incentive Plan. Awards are based on the achievement of pre-established performance factors, including long-term financial and non-financial objectives. With respect to the CEO, the factors are the same as those utilized by the Committee in its annual determination of his performance. The total of all bonuses granted under the Incentive Plan shall not exceed 1% of the annual net income (as defined in the Incentive Plan) of the Company.

Long-Term Incentives

In order to strengthen the mutuality of interest between key employees and the Share Owners of the Company, the Company's long-term incentive program permits grants of options to purchase shares of the Company's common stock, stock appreciation rights, restricted shares, or performance units under the 2003 Long-Term Incentive Plan. The 2003 Long-Term Incentive Plan is designed to attract, retain, and reward key employees of the Company. Long-term incentives are targeted at the 50th percentile of the peer group. A large percentage of long-term incentive opportunity is delivered through stock options.

Edgar Filing: KELLOGG CO - Form DEF 14A

The Company believes that option grants under the 2003 Long-Term Incentive Plan meet the requirements for deductible compensation under Section 162(m). The Committee reserves the flexibility to award compensation outside of any plan qualifying under Section 162(m) should circumstances arise under which payment of such additional compensation would be in the best interests of the Company and its Share Owners.

Pursuant to the 2001 Long-Term Incentive Plan, the Committee approved a program in early 2001 under which certain senior executives of the Company may receive a portion of their long-term incentives in performance units. This program is intended to focus senior management on critical multi-year operational goals, including cash flow, sales growth, and gross margin expansion. The number of units earned is based on the Company's cumulative performance over a three-year period compared against one or more key performance measures and is generally settled in shares of the Company's common stock. The Committee approved a second three-year cycle of this program commencing in 2002 and a third cycle commencing in 2003. The Committee feels that the first of these plans has played an important role in the strong cash flow performance the Company has achieved from 2001 through 2003.

Chief Executive Officer Compensation

For 2003, the Committee determined the salary, bonus, and long-term incentive awards of the CEO substantially in conformance with the policies described above for all executives of the Company.

The Committee evaluated the performance of the CEO based on the Company's achievement of its long-term financial and non-financial objectives. The Committee has determined that the accountabilities for the CEO are business performance, strengthening the organization, and creating the future. The accountability for business performance includes stock price performance, operating profit and earnings per share growth, sales growth, and cash flow. The accountability for strengthening the organization includes developing the strongest possible senior management team, the strongest possible talent in core jobs within the organization, continuous upgrade of talent, and diversity in the workforce. Creating the future includes developing, monitoring, updating, and implementing long-term business strategies.

In connection with business performance, the Committee considered that the Company's total Share Owner return (share price appreciation plus dividends) was 15% in 2003, significantly above the 5% return of the S&P Packaged Food Index. This marked the third consecutive year of performance substantially greater than the Company's peer group of large packaged food companies.

Internal net sales growth (which excludes the impact of acquisitions, divestitures, and foreign currency translation) was 4%, which exceeded the 3% average of the Company's peer group. In spite of significant investments in brand building, asset write-offs, impairments, and up-front costs related to cost-savings initiatives, earnings per share (EPS) increased by 10% in 2003. This growth was ahead of the Company's long-term target of high single-digit growth. For the third consecutive year, cash flow exceeded expectations. The Company's record cash flow performance during 2001-2003 restored its financial flexibility and enabled the Company to reduce its debt by $1.6 billion.

In connection with strengthening the organization, the Committee recognized that Mr. Gutierrez has assembled a strong management team and took further steps in 2003 to develop future leaders within the Company by promoting and assigning new or additional responsibilities for key executives. In connection with creating the future, the Committee noted the continued success of the Company's emphasis on value over volume and its commitment to secure future growth through investments in 2003 and brand building initiatives.

The Committee does not assign relative weights or rankings to the foregoing factors, but instead makes a subjective determination based upon a consideration of all such factors. The Committee believes that Mr. Gutierrez's total compensation for 2003 appropriately reflects the Company's performance as measured against all factors described in the preceding paragraphs.

Proposal 2.

RATIFICATION OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS FOR 2004

PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP has been selected by the Audit Committee, which is composed entirely of independent directors, to be the independent auditor for the Company for fiscal year 2004. PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP was the Company's independent auditor for fiscal year 2003. A representative of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP is expected to be present at the Annual Meeting and to have an opportunity to make a statement if they desire to do so. The PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP representative is also expected to be available to respond to appropriate questions at the meeting.

If the Share Owners fail to ratify the appointment of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, the Audit Committee would reconsider its appointment.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS A VOTE FOR RATIFICATION OF APPOINTMENT OF PRICEWATERHOUSECOOPERS LLP AS INDEPENDENT AUDITORS.

Proposal 3.

SHARE OWNER PROPOSAL

The Sisters of Mercy, Regional Community of Detroit Charitable Trust, 29000 Eleven Mile Road, Farmington Hills, MI 48336-1405, which holds 400 shares of Kellogg Company common stock, has notified the Company that they intend to present the following proposal at the Annual Meeting of Share Owners. The Society of St. Ursula, Rhinebeck, NY and the Ursuline Sisters of the Eastern Province of the U.S., Inc. are co-sponsoring this proposal.

Adoption of the proposal will require the affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the shares of common stock represented in person or by Proxy at the meeting. SEC rules require that we reprint the proposal as it was submitted to us. The proposal, as submitted, is as follows:

REPORT ON IMPACTS OF GENETICALLY ENGINEERED FOOD

Kellogg Company

RESOLVED: Shareholders request that our Board review the Company's policies for food products containing genetically engineered (GE) ingredients and report to shareholders within six months of the annual meeting. This report, developed at reasonable cost and omitting proprietary information will:

Identify the scope of the Company's food products derived from or containing GE ingredients;

Identify the environmental impacts of continued use of GE ingredients in food products sold or manufactured by the company;

Outline a contingency plan for sourcing non-GE food ingredients should circumstances so require.

We urge that with this review, Kellogg address issues competitive advantage and brand name loyalty in the marketplace.

SUPPORTING STATEMENT

Indicators that genetically engineered food may be harmful to humans, animals, or the environment include:

The United States Department of Agriculture reported (7/2003) that 21 percent of all farms growing Bt corn in ten Midwestern states, equivalent to 26 percent of acreage, failed to comply with the Environmental Protection Agency's refuge requirements designed to prevent insect immunity to Bt toxin. We believe protection of insect susceptibility to Bt is in the public good.

FDA does not assure the safety of GE products; it is the developer's responsibility to assure that the food is safe. The FDA lacks both the authority and the information to adequately evaluate the safety of GE foods. (Center for Science in the Public Interest, 1/2003).

Fearing that pollen from corn not approved for human consumption may have spread to nearby fields of ordinary corn, the U.S. Department of Agriculture requested that 155 acres of Iowa corn uprooted and incinerated (9/2002); 500,000 bushels of soybeans in Nebraska were quarantined due to contamination by small amounts of a test pharmaceutical/industrial crop (11/2002).

A report commissioned by the Pew Initiative on Food and Biotechnology (4/2003) casts doubt on the preparedness of the current post-market oversight program to achieve its traditional objectives, including the enforcement of regulatory restrictions and the detection and correction of unanticipated health or environmental problems.

The glyphosate herbicide is used widely by farmers who plant genetically engineered glyphosate resistant crops. Indications are that weed resistance to glyphosate is increasing (Penn State College of Agricultural Sciences News 5/30/03).

In December 2002, StarLink corn, not approved for human consumption, was detected in a U.S. corn shipment to Japan. StarLink was first discovered to have contaminated U.S. corn supplies in September 2000, triggering a recall of 300 products.

Indicators of market resistance to GE-foods:

A Pew Global Attitudes survey (6/2003) indicates that Western Europeans and Japanese overwhelmingly oppose GE-foods for health and environmental reasons. In the United States 55% are opposed according to this survey.

Many of Europe's larger food retailers [J.Sainsbury (UK), Carrefour (France's largest retailer), Migros (Switzerland's largest food chain), Delhaize (Belgium) Marks and Spencer (UK), Superquinn (Ireland) and Efferlunga (Italy)] have committed to removing GE ingredients from their store-brand products.

STATEMENT IN OPPOSITION TO THE PROPOSAL

Kellogg Company has provided quality food products to consumers for over 90 years. Kellogg has, and always will have, great concern for food safety. Although we recognize that the issues of biotechnology and genetically engineered foods raise concerns with certain consumers, Kellogg's management and Board of Directors believe that the Share Owner proposal set forth above should be rejected for a variety of reasons, including the following:

We believe the proposal is not scientifically sound.

Based upon all of the scientific data available to date, Kellogg firmly believes all of the products that we sell, including those that contain ingredients developed through biotechnology, are safe. The U.S. Government agrees. The Commissioner of Food and Drugs at the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Mark B. McClellan M.D., Ph.D. offers the opinion "The Food and Drug Administration is confident that the genetically engineered food products on the U.S. market today are as safe as their conventionally bred counterparts." The United States Department of Agriculture is one of three federal agencies, along with the Environmental Protection Agency and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, primarily responsible for regulating biotechnology in the United States. For further information on the regulation and benefits of biotechnology we suggest that you visit the USDA website at www.usda.gov and click on the heading "Biotechnology."

Preparing the report would be costly and could jeopardize the Company and Share Owners.

Preparing the report requested would require the Company to first determine which genetic modifications constitute genetic engineering and which do not. In addition, we understand that the use of genetic engineering with respect to some raw materials such as corn and soybeans is widespread. Given the difficulty of differentiating genetically modified ingredients from their unmodified counterparts with current test techniques, we believe that the requested report cannot be prepared at a reasonable cost. Additionally, publication of the Company's business and product plans because of highly speculative opinions could jeopardize the business interests of the Company and its Share Owners.

Adopting the proposal would not aid in consumer understanding of the issue.

Some government leaders, scientists, religious leaders, and a wide range of individuals around the world believe that the use of biotechnology in foods could give us great benefits, including the ability to save and improve human lives by increasing food production, providing increased nutrients and possibly vaccines in food, and allowing for the reduced use of pesticides, helping to better preserve our environment for future generations. The proponents do not address these considerations.

The proponents also do not address the great progress made by farmers and scientists who have been improving products through cross-pollination and other breeding techniques for well over 100 years. This has led to an ever-improving food supply, producing crops that are larger, more resistant to insects and diseases, and more plentiful. We believe that our Share Owners will be better served if this progress continues while your Company remains sensitive to consumer concerns and product acceptance.

A somewhat related proposal was soundly defeated by Share Owners in 2000.

In 2000, a stockholder proposal requesting that the Board of Directors adopt a policy of removing generically engineered organisms from all products sold or manufactured by the Company, where feasible, was defeated by a vote of 8.4 million shares For, 332.8 million shares Against, with 10.8 million shares Abstaining.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS A VOTE AGAINST THE PROPOSAL.

Share Owner Recommendations for Director Nominees

The Nominating and Governance Committee will consider Share Owner nominations for membership on the Board of Directors. For the 2005 Annual Meeting of Share Owners, nominations may be submitted to the Office of the Secretary, Kellogg Company, One Kellogg Square, Battle Creek, Michigan 49017, which will forward them to the Chairman of the Nominating and Governance Committee. Recommendations must be in writing and must be received by the Company not earlier than the 120th day prior to the 2004 meeting and not later than February 1, 2005. Recommendations must also include certain other requirements specified in the Company's Bylaws.

The Nominating and Governance Committee believes that all nominees must, at a minimum, meet the criteria set forth in the Board of Directors Code of Conduct and the Corporate Governance Guidelines, which specify, among other things, that the Nominating and Governance Committee will consider criteria such as independence, diversity, age, skills, and experience in the context of the needs of the Board. The Nominating and Governance Committee also will consider a combination of factors for each nominee, including (a) the nominee's ability to represent all Share Owners without a conflict of interest; (b) the nominee's ability to work in and promote a productive environment; (c) whether the nominee has sufficient time and willingness to fulfill the substantial duties and responsibilities of a director; (d) whether the nominee has demonstrated the high level of character and integrity expected by the Company; (e) whether the nominee possesses the broad professional and leadership experience and skills necessary to effectively respond to the complex issues encountered by a multi-national, publicly-traded company; and (f) the nominee's ability to apply sound and independent business judgment.

When filling a vacancy on the Board, the Nominating and Governance Committee identifies the desired skills and experience of a new director in light of the criteria described above and the skills and experience of the then-current directors. Directors are generally asked to recommend candidates for the position, and the Nominating and Governance Committee may, as it has done in the past, engage third parties to assist in the search and provide recommendations. The candidates would be evaluated based on the process outlined in the Corporate Governance Guidelines and the Nominating and Governance Committee charter, and the same process would be used for all candidates, including candidates recommended by Share Owners.

Directors are expected to attend the Annual Meeting of Share Owners, and eleven of the twelve Directors attended last year's Annual Meeting of Share Owners.

Share Owner Proposals for the 2005 Annual Meeting

Share Owner proposals submitted for inclusion in the Company's Proxy Statement for the 2005 Annual Meeting of Share Owners must be received by the Company no later than November 17, 2004. Other Share Owner proposals to be submitted from the floor must be received by the Company not earlier than the 120th day prior to the 2005 meeting and not later than February 1, 2005, and must meet certain other requirements specified in the Company's Bylaws.

Communications with Board of Directors

Mr. Gund, the Chairman of the Nominating and Governance Committee, presides at executive sessions of the Board of Directors. Mr. Gund may be contacted at gordon.gund@kellogg.com. Any communications which Share Owners may wish to send to the Board of Directors may also be directly sent to Mr. Gund at this email address.

Householding of Proxy Materials

The Securities and Exchange Commission permits companies and intermediaries (e.g. brokers) to satisfy the delivery requirements for Proxy Statements (and related documents) with respect to two or more Share Owners sharing the same address by delivering a single Proxy Statement (and related documents) addressed to those Share Owners. This process, which is commonly referred to as householding, potentially means extra convenience for Share Owners and cost savings for companies.

A number of brokers with account holders who are Share Owners will be householding our Proxy materials. As indicated in the notice previously provided by these brokers to Share Owners, a single Proxy Statement (and related documents) will be delivered to multiple stockholders sharing an address unless contrary instructions have been received from an affected Share Owner or Share Owners. Once you have received notice from your broker or the Company that they will be householding communications to your address, householding will continue until you are notified otherwise or until the Company or the Company's transfer agent receives contrary instructions from an affected Share Owner or Share Owners.

Share Owners who currently receive multiple copies of the Proxy Statement (and related documents) at their address and would like to request householding of their communications should contact their broker or, if a Share Owner is a direct holder of shares of common stock, he or she should submit a written request to Wells Fargo Shareowner Services, the Company's transfer agent, at 161 North Concord Exchange, South St. Paul, MN 55075; phone number: 877-910-5385. Share Owners who are now householding their communications, but who wish to receive separate Proxy Statements (and related documents) in the future may also notify Wells Fargo Shareowner Services. The Company will promptly deliver, upon written or oral request, a separate copy of the Proxy Statement (and related documents) at a shared address to which a single copy was delivered.

Annual Report on Form 10-K; No Incorporation by Reference

Upon written request, the Company will provide any Share Owner, without charge, a copy of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for 2003 filed with the SEC, including the financial statements and schedules, but without exhibits. Direct requests to Kellogg Company, P.O. Box CAMB, Battle Creek, Michigan 49016-1986 (phone: (800) 961-1413), to Ellen Leithold of the Investor Relations Department at that same address (phone: (269) 961-2800), or to investor.relations@kellogg.com. You may also obtain this document and certain other of the Company's SEC filings through the Internet at www.sec.gov or under Investor Relations at www.kelloggcompany.com, the Kellogg Company website. Copies of the Corporate Governance Guidelines, the Charters of the Audit, Compensation, and Nominating and Governance Committees of the Board of Directors, the Code of Conduct for Kellogg Company directors, and Global Code of Ethics for Kellogg Company employees (including the chief executive officer, chief financial officer, and corporate controller) can also be found on the Kellogg Company website under Corporate Governance. Amendments or waivers to the Global Code of Ethics applicable to the chief executive officer, chief financial officer, and corporate controller can also be found on the Kellogg Company website.

Notwithstanding any general language that may be to the contrary in any document filed with the SEC, the information in this Proxy Statement under the captions REPORT OF THE AUDIT COMMITTEE, and REPORT OF THE COMPENSATION COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION (including the Stock Performance Graph) shall not be incorporated by reference into any document filed with the SEC.
