NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING

Dear Fellow Stockholder,

You are cordially invited to attend the Annual Meeting of Stockholders of Nuevo Energy Company which will be held at the Four Seasons Hotel, 1300 Lamar, Houston, Texas, on Wednesday, May 23, 2001 at 9:00 a.m. local time.

At this annual meeting you will be asked to vote on the following matters:

1. to elect our board of directors to serve until the annual meeting of stockholders in 2002;
2. to ratify the selection of our 2001 auditors; and
3. to conduct any other business which is properly raised at the meeting.

The attached proxy statement provides information concerning the matters to be voted on at this meeting. I am particularly proud of the corporate governance principles which we have been operating under for the past several years and I encourage you to read them carefully. I believe these principles fully align management's efforts with the interests of our stockholders. Our proxy materials are being sent to stockholders on April 26, 2001.

It is important that your shares be represented at the annual meeting, regardless of the size of your holdings. We urge you to return the signed proxy in the enclosed envelope as soon as possible. If you do attend the annual meeting in person, you may withdraw your proxy and vote your stock at the meeting. We value your opinions and encourage you to participate in the annual meeting by voting your proxy.

We have adopted the SEC's "plain English" drafting principals in writing our proxy statement. This was done to make our proxy materials easier to understand which we hope will enable you to make the best informed decision possible.

Thank you for your continued support and interest in Nuevo Energy.

Very truly yours,

/s/ Douglas L. Foshee

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS:

WHO IS ASKING FOR MY PROXY?

Your proxy is being solicited by our board of directors for use at our 2001 annual meeting of stockholders. Our directors and officers may also solicit proxies on behalf of our board of directors, in person, or by telephone, telefax or mail. If our directors, officers or employees solicit proxies they will not be specially compensated. Nuevo will pay all costs and expenses of this proxy solicitation.

WHAT ARE STOCKHOLDERS BEING ASKED TO VOTE ON?

At our 2001 annual meeting, stockholders will be asked to vote:

- to elect our board of directors to serve until the annual meeting of stockholders in 2002;
- to ratify the selection of Arthur Andersen LLP as our independent auditors for 2001.

HOW DO I VOTE MY SHARES?

A proxy card is included with the materials being sent to stockholders with these proxy materials. If the proxy card is properly signed and returned to us, shares covered by the proxy card will be voted in accordance with the directions you specify on the card. Shares covered by a properly signed proxy card which does not specify how to vote the shares will be voted for the election of the director nominees named in this proxy statement and in favor of the ratification of the selection of Arthur Andersen LLP as our independent auditors.

If any matters other than those described above are raised at the annual meeting, the proxy card gives the proxy holders the right to vote for or against such matter in their discretion. At the date of this proxy statement, we do not know of any matters to be presented at the annual meeting other than those described herein.

WHAT VOTE IS REQUIRED?

Under Delaware law, we cannot conduct business at the annual meeting unless a quorum is present. A quorum will be present if a majority of our outstanding shares of stock on the record date are present at the meeting in person or by proxy. If a quorum is present,

- directors are elected by a plurality vote, which means that the nine director nominees receiving the most votes will be elected;

With respect to the election of directors, you may (i) vote for the election of all nine director nominees, (ii) withhold authority to vote for all director nominees or (iii) withhold authority to vote for any director nominee by so indicating in the appropriate space on the proxy card. Our stockholders do not have the right to cumulate votes in the election of directors.

WHAT IS THE EFFECT OF AN ABSTENTION OR A BROKER NON-VOTE?

You may mark "abstain" on your proxy card for any of the matters submitted to a vote. An abstention is the equivalent of a no vote on all matters.

Many of our shares are held in "street name" which means that a depository, broker-dealer or other institution holds shares in its name which are beneficially owned by another person. The rules of the New York Stock Exchange provide that a street name holder must receive the direction of the beneficial owner of the shares to vote on issues other than routine stockholder matters such as the election of directors. A "broker non-vote" refers to a proxy which votes on one matter, but indicates that the holder does not have the authority to vote on other matters. Broker non-votes will have the following effects at our annual meeting:

- For purposes of determining whether a quorum is present under Delaware law, a broker non-vote is deemed to be present at the meeting.
- For purposes of the election of directors and other matters to be voted on at the meeting, a broker non-vote will not be counted.

HOW DOES THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMEND I VOTE?

The board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote "For" each of the matters to be voted on at the annual meeting.

HOW MANY SHARES MAY VOTE AT THE ANNUAL MEETING?

The only stock with the right to vote at the meeting is our common stock, and only shares owned on the record date may be voted at the meeting. Each share of common stock is entitled to one vote on each matter voted on at the annual meeting. On the record date, there were 16,506,268 shares of common stock outstanding.

WHAT IS THE RECORD DATE?

April 6, 2001.

WHY HAVE YOU ADOPTED
CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRINCIPLES?

In 1997, our chairman and chief executive officer committed to the investment community that Nuevo would become a leader in corporate governance. As a result, several important initiatives were undertaken, including an exhaustive review of our governance principles. The board felt it important for our shareholders and other interested parties to know exactly where we stand on the important issues surrounding the proper governance of a public company. We believe that the principles adopted unanimously by the board and published in this proxy do in fact make us a leader in corporate governance and that adhering to these principles will help us provide superior returns to our shareholders.

CAN I REVOKE MY PROXY?

Yes. You may revoke your proxy at any time before a vote is taken in any of the following ways:

- attend the annual meeting and vote in person;
- submit a proxy with a later date; or
- notify our corporate secretary in writing that you wish to revoke your proxy.

Our corporate secretary's name and address is Sandra Kraemer, 1021 Main, Suite 2100, Houston, Texas 77002, and her phone number is (713) 374-4873.

HOW DO I NOMINATE A PERSON
FOR A POSITION ON THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS?

Our certificate of incorporation and bylaws require that stockholders notify us of their intent to nominate directors for the annual meeting in 2002 prior to January 23, 2002. The nomination should be in writing and addressed to our Board of Directors c/o Nuevo Energy Company, 1021 Main, Suite 2100, Houston, Texas 77002 with copies to our president and corporate secretary. The nomination must contain the name and address of the nominee and describe his or her qualifications for being a director. All nominations will be forwarded to our nominating and governance committee, which will make a recommendation to the board of directors concerning nominations for director. The opportunity for stockholders to submit nominations for this year's annual meeting ended on January 24, 2001. No stockholder nominations were submitted.

OUR CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRINCIPLES:

Upon his appointment as chief executive officer in August 1997, Mr. Foshee committed publicly to our stockholders and to the investment community that our management and board of directors would immediately begin the process of reviewing our corporate governance principles. In 1998, our board of directors established a nominating and governance committee whose members are David Ross, who acts as Chairman, Charles M. Elson and Robert W. Shower.

In 1998 the nominating and governance committee recommended, and the full board of directors adopted, the "Nuevo Energy Company Corporate Governance Guidelines." These guidelines have been published in order to inform stockholders of the board's current thinking with respect to selected corporate governance issues. The board will continue to assess the appropriateness and effectiveness of the guidelines, and it is likely that changes to the guidelines will be considered from time to time. Compliance with the Corporate Governance Guidelines is reviewed annually in connection with the preparation of our proxy and each director has confirmed his compliance with the guidelines.

BOARD MISSION & OBJECTIVES

Mission Statement

The company's primary objective is to maximize stockholder value while adhering to the laws of the jurisdictions wherein it operates and at all times observing the highest ethical standards. The company will pursue this objective primarily through participation in the energy industry.

Corporate Authority & Responsibility

All corporate authority resides in the board of directors as the representative of the stockholders. Authority is delegated to management by the board in order to implement the company's mission. Such delegated authority includes the authorization of spending limits and the authority to hire employees and terminate their services. The board retains responsibility to recommend candidates to the stockholders for election to the board of directors. The board retains responsibility for selection and evaluation of the CEO, oversight of the succession plan, determination of senior management compensation, approval of the annual budget, assurance of adequate systems, procedures and controls, as well as assisting in the preparation and approval of the strategic plan. Additionally, the board provides advice and counsel to senior management.

DIRECTORS

Personal Characteristics & Core Competencies of Directors

Individual directors should possess all of the following personal characteristics:

Integrity and Accountability - Character is the primary consideration in evaluating any board member. Directors should demonstrate high ethical standards and integrity in their personal and professional dealings and be willing to act on and remain accountable for their boardroom decisions.

Informed Judgment - Board members should have the ability to provide wise, thoughtful counsel on a broad range of issues. Directors should possess high intelligence and wisdom and apply it in decision making.

Financial Literacy - One of the important roles of the board is to monitor the company's financial performance. Board members should be financially literate. Directors should know how to read a balance sheet, income statement and, cash flow statement, and understand the use of financial ratios and other indices for evaluating company performance.

Mature Confidence - The board functions best when directors value board and team performance over individual performance. Openness to other opinions and the willingness to listen should rank as highly as the ability to communicate persuasively. Board members should approach others assertively, responsibly and supportively and raise tough questions in a manner that encourages open discussion.

High Performance Standards - In today's highly competitive world, only companies capable of performing at the highest levels are likely to prosper. Board members should have a history of achievements that reflect high standards for themselves and others.

Passion - Directors should be passionate about the performance of the company, both in absolute terms and relative to its peers. That passion should manifest itself in engaged debate about the future of the company and an esprit de corps among the board that both challenges and inspires the company's employees.

-9-

Creativity - Success in the energy business will ultimately go to the participants who adapt quickly to changing environments and implement creative solutions to the significant challenges faced by industry participants. Board members should possess the creative talents needed to augment those of management.

Core Competencies of the Board as a Whole

To adequately fulfill the board's complex roles, from overseeing the audit and monitoring managerial performance to responding to crises and approving the company's strategic plan, a host of core competencies need to be represented on the board. The board as a whole should possess the following core competencies, with each member contributing knowledge, experience and skills in one or more domains.

Accounting and Finance - Among the most important missions of the board is ensuring that stockholder value is both enhanced through corporate performance and protected through adequate internal financial controls. The board should have one or more directors with specific expertise in financial accounting and corporate finance, especially with respect to trends in debt and equity markets.

Business Judgment - Stockholders rely on directors to make sensible choices on their behalf. The majority of directors should have a record of making good business decisions in the corporate sector.

Management - To monitor corporate management, the board needs to understand management trends in general and industry trends in particular. The board should have one or more directors who understand and stay current on general management "best practices" and their application in complex, rapidly evolving business environments.

Crisis Response - Organizations inevitably experience both short and long-term crises. The ability to deal with crises can minimize ramifications and limit negative impact on firm performance. Boards should have one or more directors who have the ability and time to perform during periods of both short-term and prolonged crises.

Industry Knowledge - Companies continually face new opportunities and threats that are unique to their industries. The board should have one or more members with appropriate and relevant industry-specific knowledge.

International Markets - To succeed in an increasingly global economy, the board should have one or more directors who appreciate the importance of global business trends and who have first-hand knowledge of international business experience in those markets.

Leadership - Ultimately, a company's performance will be determined by the directors' and CEO's ability to attract, motivate, and energize a high-performance leadership team. The board should have one or more directors who understand and possess empowerment skills and have a history of motivating high-performing talent.

Strategy & Vision - A key board role is to approve and monitor company strategy to ensure the company's continued high performance. The board should have one or more directors with the skills and capacity to provide strategic insight and direction by encouraging innovation, conceptualizing key trends, evaluating strategic decisions, and continuously challenging the organization to sharpen its vision.

Changes in Professional Responsibility

The board should consider whether a change in an individual's professional responsibilities directly or indirectly impacts that person's ability to fulfill directorship obligations. To facilitate the board's consideration, the board requires that the CEO and other inside directors submit a resignation as a matter of course upon retirement, resignation, or other significant change in professional roles and responsibilities. All directors should submit a resignation as a matter of course upon retirement, a change in employer, or other significant change in their professional roles and responsibilities. If the board believes that a director will continue to make a contribution to the organization, the continued membership of that director may be supported.

Identification and Recruitment of Board Members

Edgar Filing: NUEVO ENERGY CO - Form DEF 14A

One of the tasks of the nominating and governance committee is to identify and recruit candidates to serve on the board of directors. A list of candidates shall be presented to the board for nomination and to the stockholders for consideration. The committee may at its discretion seek third-party resources to assist in the process. The CEO will be included in the process on a non-voting basis. The nominating and governance committee will make the final recommendation to the board.

Independent Directors

A substantial majority of the board of directors should be independent. An independent director is defined as a director who:

- has not been employed by the company in an executive capacity within the last five years;
- is not, and is not affiliated with a company that is, an adviser, or consultant to the company or a member of the company's senior management;
- is not affiliated with a significant customer or supplier of the company;
- has no personal services contract(s) with the company, or a member of the company's senior management;
- is not affiliated with a not-for-profit entity that receives significant contributions from the company;
- within the last five years, has not had any business relationship with the company (other than service as a director) for which the company has been required to make disclosure under Regulation S-K of the Securities and Exchange Commission as currently in effect;
- is not employed by a public company at which an executive officer of the company serves as a director;
- has not had any of the relationships described above with any affiliate of the company; and
- is not a member of the immediate family of any person described above.

Outside Directorships

The CEO and senior management of Nuevo should limit outside directorships to one or two; non-employee directors who are employed on a full-time basis should limit other directorships to three or four; and retired executives should limit other directorships to five or six.

Directors are expected to attend all board and committee meetings in person or by phone. Directors shall be prepared by reviewing in advance all materials and be present at the meeting in person or by phone until its adjournment.

Compensation of Directors

In order to align the interests of directors and stockholders, directors will be compensated in the form of cash and company equity only, with equity constituting a substantial portion of the total up to 100%.

Direct Investment in the Company Stock by Directors

Since a significant ownership stake leads to a stronger alignment of interests between directors and stockholders, each director is required to personally invest at least $100,000 in company stock within 3 years of joining the board. Exceptions to this requirement may only be made by the board under compelling mitigating circumstances.

Edgar Filing: NUEVO ENERGY CO - Form DEF 14A

Service Limitations of Directors

In order to replenish the board with fresh approaches to managing the company, the maximum board tenure shall be 15 years.

A board member may not stand for reelection after age 70, but need not resign until the end of his or her term.

In order to retain freshness in the process and to give new management the unfettered ability to provide new leadership, a retiring CEO shall not continue to serve on the board.

BOARD ORGANIZATION

Board Size

In general, smaller boards are more cohesive, work better together and tend to be more effective monitors than larger boards. Therefore, the board shall be composed of six to twelve members. However, in order to accommodate the availability of an outstanding candidate the number of positions on the board may be expanded.

Committee Structure

It is the general policy of the company that all major decisions will be considered by the board as a whole. As a consequence, the committee structure of the board is limited to those committees considered to be basic to or required for the operation of the company as a publicly owned entity. Standing committees shall include audit, compensation, and nominating and governance. All of the committees shall be composed solely of independent directors. The board may form other committees as it determines appropriate.

Independent Chair

The board believes that the company is best served by unifying the positions of Chairman and CEO. This structure provides a single leader with a single vision for the company and results in a more effective organization.

BOARD OPERATIONS

Board Access to Senior Management

Board members have full access to senior management and to information about the corporation's operations. Except in unusual circumstances, the CEO should be advised of significant contacts with senior management.

Board Ability to Retain Advisors

The board shall retain advisors as it believes to be appropriate. If management is retaining advisors to the board, such decision must be ratified by the board. Individual directors should not retain their own advisors except in exceptional circumstances.

Material in Advance of Meetings

The board must be given sufficient information to fully exercise its governance functions. This information comes from a variety of sources, including management reports, a comparison of performance to plans, security analysts' reports, articles in various business publications, etc. Generally, board members will receive information prior to board meetings so they will have an opportunity to reflect properly on the items to be considered at the meeting.

The board will ensure that adequate time is provided for full discussion of important items and that management presentations are scheduled in a manner that permits a substantial proportion of board meeting time to be available for open discussion.

Executive Session

Time will be allotted at the end of each board meeting for an executive session involving only the independent directors.

Evaluation of CEO

The selection and evaluation of the chief executive officer and concurrence with the CEO's selection and evaluation of the corporation's top management team are the most important function of the board. In its broader sense, "selection and evaluation" includes considering compensation, planning for succession and, when appropriate, replacing the CEO or other members of the top management team. The performance of the CEO will be reviewed at least annually without the presence of the CEO or other inside directors. The board should have an understanding with the CEO with respect to criteria on which he or she will be evaluated, and the results of the evaluation will be communicated to the CEO.

Management Development

The CEO will report annually to the board on the company's program for management development.

Succession Plan

CEO succession is a board-driven, collaborative process. Although the current CEO has an important role to play, the board must develop its own plan for succession while collaborating with the CEO in deciding the timing and the necessary qualifications for making a final decision.

Outside Contacts

The board believes that the management speaks for the company. Individual board members may, from time to time at the request of management, meet or otherwise communicate with various constituencies that are involved with the company. If comments from the board are appropriate, they should, in most circumstances, come from the Chairman; however, this does not preclude directors, in the exercise of their fiduciary duties and subject to confidentiality constraints, from communicating with stockholders or others.

STOCKHOLDER RIGHTS

Annual Election of Directors

In order to create greater alignment between the board's and our stockholder's interests and to promote greater accountability to the stockholders, directors shall be elected annually.

Stockholder Rights Plan

The company believes that in the hands of a properly aligned and properly governed board, a Terminable Stockholder Rights Plan is in the best interests of all stockholders. WHY DID YOU JOIN NUEVO IN 1997?

I had a unique perspective on Nuevo in 1997, having served as the chief executive officer of Nuevo's largest service provider, Torch Energy Advisors. I also ran Torch's acquisitions department during many of Nuevo's most significant acquisitions, including having direct responsibility for negotiating the $480 million acquisition in 1996 of the company's California assets. So I knew a great deal about the company's assets and I had worked with most of Nuevo's talented staff for many years. That made my decision easy. Nuevo is endowed with great assets and great people. I thought that I was uniquely qualified to lead this incredible company.

limited partnership into a powerhouse independent oil and gas company. We felt we could build value by reinvesting income in prudent acquisitions and drilling opportunities. Our vision was correct and Nuevo exceeded our wildest dreams. Over this past year we have once again seen our highly competent management team take significant steps to build a solid company into a major independent.

WHY DID YOU JOIN NUEVO'S BOARD IN 1990?

Nuevo is my kind of company. We take a different approach to the exploration and production business. We manage this company's assets as a portfolio, much like we do at EnCap where we serve institutional investors in a different capacity. I think that's the right way to go about this business and I think that's to a large degree why Nuevo has been so successful.

WHY DID YOU JOIN NUEVO'S BOARD IN 1997?

I teach a finance course at Rice University which Doug Foshee attended, so I was familiar with him, but not with Nuevo when I was approached in 1997 to join the board. After meeting with management and the board as a whole, I was convinced that this was a company that would succeed over the long term. I was particularly impressed by the company's efforts to align compensation with shareholder objectives. My experience in different industries tells me that when management is on the hook financially, good things tend to happen.

So I had some familiarity with Nuevo when I was approached by the board. I was convinced after meeting the board and members of the management team that they were doing some exciting things. (1) We calculated the grant date present value using the "Black Scholes" model, a widely accepted method of valuing options. This valuation model is hypothetical; the actual value, if any, depends on the excess of the market price of the shares over the exercise price on the date the option is exercised. If the market price does not increase above the exercise price, compensation to the grantee will be zero. The Black-Scholes option pricing model is a mathematical formula used for estimating option values that incorporates various assumptions. The "Grant Date Present Value" set out in the above table is based on the following assumptions: (a) a ten-year option term; (b) 112% expected future annual stock volatility for the options; (c) a risk-free rate of return of 5% for the options granted; and (d) no expected dividend yield. The above model does not include any reduction in value for non-transferability, forfeiture or vesting of options.

The following table shows the number of options owned by our named and key executives. Options in the column marked "unexercisable" are subject to vesting and will be forfeited if the named executive's employment with us is terminated for certain reasons.

NAME	NUMBER OF SHARES ACQUIRED ON EXERCISE	VALUE REALIZED	NUMBER OF UNEXERCISED OPTIONS		VALUE OF IN-THE-MON DECEMBER

 COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT:

Our compensation committee consists of four directors who are not employees or executive officers of the company. The members of the compensation committee in 2000 were Mr. Elson, who was chairman, and Messrs. Arnold, Batchelder and Petersen.

OUR EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION PROGRAM

Our executive compensation program reflects a policy of attracting highly qualified executives who strive to achieve outstanding individual performance and who collectively seek outstanding corporate and share price performance compared to that of peer group companies. The committee believes that Nuevo should seek executives who desire a work environment characterized by a high level of "at-risk" compensation, which rewards excellent performance and aligns overall compensation with the objectives of our stockholders. Accordingly, our compensation system consists of the following elements:

BASE SALARY. The base salaries for our named executive officers are established by employment agreements with those officers. The base salaries in these agreements are intended to represent approximately 50% to 60% of the executives' total salary and cash bonus.

INCENTIVE BONUS. Under the employment agreements with most of our executives, bonuses are awarded at the discretion of the compensation committee. It has been the committee's overall objective that the sum of base salaries plus cash bonuses should generally be at or about the 75th percentile of peer group companies.

During 1999, the company adopted an Economic Value Added (EVA) model for financial planning, capital allocation and 2000 bonus calculations. Under EVA, our executives can earn bonuses set at or about the 50th to 60th percentile of peer group companies if we have earned the return on capital targeted in the EVA model. The bonus is reduced, or eliminated altogether, if we fall short of the targeted return on capital. The executive may receive more than the targeted bonus if our performance exceeds the EVA targeted return on capital. In the event that we exceed EVA targets, part of the incremental bonus is paid to the executive and part is "banked" with the company. The banked portion is paid over time but remains at risk to meeting future EVA targets.

Although EVA targets were exceeded by the company in 2000, the committee and management did not believe that the Company's share price at the end of the year reflected the EVA value that had been created. Therefore, rather than paying a bonus in 2000 calculated under EVA, each executive officer received a bonus equal to 50% of his base salary. In addition, each executive officer will receive a stock option grant with a Black-Scholes value equal to the difference between the cash bonus and the EVA calculated bonus. The grant of options as part of the 2000 incentive bonus in lieu of cash aligns management and shareholders as each will be compensated for the EVA value created when such value is reflected in a higher share price. Whether the company elects to pay future bonuses based on an EVA calculation is at the discretion of the board of directors.

STOCK OPTIONS. Each of our employees receives stock options as a component of his or her compensation, in order to align the interests of employees with those of our stockholders. The number of options granted to an employee is based on the committee's view of the employee's ability to impact the value of Nuevo's shares. We believe that because we outsource non-strategic functions, resulting in substantially fewer employees eligible to receive options, we have a substantial advantage over peer companies in the number of options that we can grant to our employees. It is the committee's overall objective that the sum of base salaries plus incentive bonuses plus options should generally compare at or about the 80th to 90th percentile of peer group companies.

During 1997, the compensation committee established a stock ownership program for Nuevo's senior executives that provides incentives for each executive to achieve and maintain a targeted level of ownership of Nuevo common stock. Target levels of stock ownership are set by the compensation committee for each executive. Counted against this stock ownership are shares owned directly by the executive or owned beneficially through an immediate family member, shares acquired through the exercise of options and shares acquired through our deferred compensation and 401 (k) plans. Shares that may be received upon exercise of options do not count toward the ownership objectives. Under the program, each executive's common stock ownership is reported to the committee twice a year. An executive's progress toward meeting stated ownership objectives is an important element of each executive's performance review.

During 2000, Messrs. Foshee and Darden satisfied the stock ownership targets set by the committee. During 1999, Messrs. Hammond and King satisfied the stock ownership targets set by the committee. Upon meeting and maintaining the ownership target, the executive is eligible for two benefits: the vesting schedule on all options granted after implementation of the program is accelerated; and, the investment options available under our deferred compensation plan are broadened to include a diversified equity fund.

OVERVIEW

While our hedging policy and operational considerations in California limited our ability to take full advantage of the high crude oil price environment that existed in 2000, we did improve our financial flexibility and were successful in our pursuit of exploration and development activities in our core California properties. During 2000, we issued new ten year 9 3/8% Senior Subordinated Notes and used the proceeds to pay the outstanding balance on our credit facility, in its entirety. We successfully drilled and completed the Star Fee 701 well in California and are pursuing follow-up opportunities. We renegotiated our field operations service agreement both lowering cost and bringing key professional positions in-house. Internationally, we acquired new acreage positions in Tunisia and began new exploration efforts in Ghana on a promoted basis.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER. Douglas L. Foshee was appointed chief executive officer in August 1997, at which time he entered into an employment agreement providing for a base salary of $375,000. Mr. Foshee received a bonus of $200,000 and was granted options to purchase 27,500 shares of common stock during 2000. In addition, Mr. Foshee will receive a stock option grant with a Black-Scholes value equal to the difference between the cash bonus and the EVA calculated bonus. This grant of options was dated March 28, 2001.

KEY EXECUTIVE OFFICERS. The compensation committee continues to review on an individual level each key executive's leadership in his area of expertise, and also evaluates years of service, experience level, position and general economic and industry conditions. However, no specific weighting is assigned to these factors. The committee also studies peer group compensation levels for comparable positions. With respect to bonus compensation in 2000, the committee followed its historic philosophy of allocating a specific portion of the total compensation paid to executive officers as "at risk" compensation in order to emphasize pay for performance.

The compensation committee reviews the role played by each key executive officer in meeting the goals established for 2000. As a result of this review, three of the six executive officers received salary increases of five percent over their existing salaries. This is the second salary increase awarded by the committee in the past four years.

STOCK BASED COMPENSATION

The compensation committee believes the stock options that it has granted in the past, and those granted in 2000, serve a valuable purpose by attracting and retaining key executives, and encouraging increased job performance by the recipients of such grants. The committee bases the number of awards granted to executive officers on no predetermined formula, but rather on each individual's accomplishments, level of responsibility, and impact on Nuevo's performance for the year.

Messrs. Foshee, King, Hammond, Darden, Murchison and McGinnis were granted a total of 27,500, 17,125, 17,125, 35,125, 35,125, and 35,125 options in 2000, respectively during 2000. Grants of stock options were made at the market price of the common stock of the company on the date of the grant (as defined in the plan).

EXECUTIVE EMPLOYMENT CONTRACTS

In 1997, we entered into an employment contract with Mr. Foshee, our Chief Executive Officer. The agreement provided for the following compensation during 1997:

- a base salary of $375,000,
- discretionary bonuses based upon performance to be determined by our compensation committee, and
- reimbursement for membership fees to the Houston Center Club, the Petroleum Club and the Young Presidents Organization.

-24-

26

Mr. Foshee's employment agreement is terminable by either party but, in the event that his employment is terminated for reasons other than just cause or his voluntary resignation, we are obligated to pay him a sum equal to two times the aggregate of:

- his salary for the twelve months immediately preceding the date of termination (less applicable withholdings and deductions required by law), plus
- any bonus paid to Mr. Foshee in the twelve-month period.

In the agreement, just cause is generally defined as the failure to render services to Nuevo as provided in the agreement or the commission of fraud or other specified illegal act.

In 1998, we entered into a two-year employment agreement with Robert M. King. This contract was amended, effective December 31, 2000 and provides for the following compensation:

- an annual minimum compensation of $190,000;

Edgar Filing: NUEVO ENERGY CO - Form DEF 14A

-- reimbursement for reasonable country club dues.

Mr. King's employment agreement is terminable by either party but, in the event his employment is terminated for reasons other than just cause or at his option, we must pay him the greater of two times his annual salary and average bonus. Just cause has the same meaning in Mr. King's contract as in Mr. Foshee's contract.

In 1997, we entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Dennis A. Hammond providing for a monthly salary of $13,333.34, payable in semi-monthly installments and an annual discretionary bonus, stock option and stock bonus awards as determined by our compensation committee. Mr. Hammond's employment agreement is for no definite term and is terminable by either party at any time for any lawful reason. While Mr. Hammond's agreement provides for a benefit in the event his employment is terminated in connection with a change in control, this provision and similar provisions in contracts with each executive officers will be superceded by a new Severance Protection Agreement.

In 1998, the company entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Michael P. Darden. The termination provisions of Mr. Darden's contract are similar in all respects to Mr. King's. Mr. Darden was paid an initial minimum annual salary of $155,000 and a signing bonus of $100,000. Mr. Darden contributed 75% of the bonus to the company's deferred compensation plan in order to purchase shares of Nuevo common stock.

In 1999, we entered into an employment agreement with Bruce K. Murchison. Mr. Murchison's contract was also identical to that of Mr. Darden except that Mr. Murchison was paid an annual salary of $160,000 and a $60,000 signing bonus. Mr. Murchison contributed this entire bonus to purchase shares of Nuevo common stock.

In 1999, we entered into an employment agreement with John P. McGinnis. Mr. McGinnis's contract was also identical to that of Mr. Darden except that Mr. McGinnis was paid $140,000 annually and a $50,000 signing bonus. Mr. McGinnis contributed this entire bonus to purchase shares of Nuevo common stock.

In 2001, we entered into an employment contract with Phillip A. Gobe. The agreement is similar to that of Mr. Foshee except that Mr. Gobe receives a base salary of $275,000 and 150,000 stock options on his date of hire.

LONG-TERM INCENTIVE PLAN AWARDS

We do not have a long-term incentive plan for our employees, other than the 1990 stock option plan, the 1993 stock incentive plan and the 1999 stock incentive plan. Under the 1990 stock option plan and the 1993 stock incentive plan, our executive officers, directors and employees are eligible to receive awards of stock options or of shares of stock or other awards which have a value which increases or decreases with the price of our stock. In addition to the awards under the 1990 stock option plan and the 1993 stock incentive plan, the 1999 stock incentive plan permits the award of restricted stock, restricted stock units, performance share awards and performance units. All of the awards are designed to generate an increased incentive to contribute to the company's future success resulting in the enhanced value of the company for the benefit of its shareholders.

SEVERANCE PROTECTION

On December 6, 2000, the board of directors adopted a resolution that would provide the key executive officers of the company certain benefits in the event of termination of employment without cause within two years of a change of control. The company is obligated to pay a termination benefit of three times the sum of base salary and average annual bonus. In the event that any benefit received in a change of control subjects the executive to the excise tax imposed by Section 4999 of the Internal Revenue Code, the executive is entitled to a tax gross up payment. This benefit is in lieu of any other severance or termination benefit that might otherwise be owed under an employment contract or company severance plan. The board authorized that this benefit be formalized in separate Severance Protection Agreements with each key executive officer. Severance benefits for Mr. Gobe are phased in over time.

In 2000, the compensation committee revoked its 1999 resolution which provided that under certain circumstances, in connection with a change of control, if the exercise price of the options is greater than the consideration to be received in the change of control transaction, the option holder will be entitled to receive the Black-Scholes model value of his or her options. This revocation was ratified by the board of directors.

DEFERRED COMPENSATION PLAN

During 1997, we adopted the Nuevo Energy Deferred Compensation Plan to encourage senior executive officers to personally invest in our shares. Executives at the level of vice president and above are eligible to participate in the plan. The plan allows our senior executives to defer all or a portion of their annual salaries and bonuses. Currently, such deferred salaries and bonuses must be invested in our common stock or a money market account until the employee satisfies the stock ownership criteria established by the compensation committee. After the stock ownership thresholds are met (the "target"), deferred amounts may be invested in any equity indexed investment selected by the compensation committee. Stock is acquired under the plan at a discount of 25% to the then current market price, and is subject to restrictions on transfer.

The following table shows the target stock ownership amounts under our Deferred Compensation Plan. The actual investment column includes investments directly and indirectly in our 401(k) plan and deferred compensation plan, but does not include shares, which may be issued pursuant to stock options.

REVISIONS TO STOCK BASED COMPENSATION

DIRECTOR COMPENSATION. In 1999, the compensation committee adopted changes to the compensation paid to non-employee directors in order to encourage greater stock ownership by directors and to bring director compensation in line with the compensation paid by peer group companies.

Each non-officer director is entitled to receive an annual cash retainer of $30,000 but may elect to receive all or a portion of the retainer in shares of restricted stock. Elections are made in 25% increments and, to encourage director ownership, the director receives a 33% increase in value for the amount invested in restricted stock. For example, a director will receive $9,975 in restricted stock for each $7,500 of compensation invested. Six of our directors elected to receive all restricted shares while two directors elected to continue to receive a cash retainer in 2000.

In addition to the retainer, non-officer directors receive a semi-annual grant of 1,750 ten-year options to purchase shares of the company's stock. In addition, the directors receive a semi-annual grant of 1,250 restricted shares of the Company's common stock subject to a three year restricted period and directors will have the option to roll-over this period until their retirement from the board.

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT:

The audit committee of the board is responsible for providing independent, objective oversight of the Company's accounting functions and internal controls. The audit committee is composed of three directors, each of whom is independent as defined by the New York Stock Exchange listing standards. The audit committee operates under a written charter approved by the board of directors. A copy of the charter is attached to this Proxy Statement as Exhibit A.

Management is responsible for the company's internal controls and financial reporting process. The independent accountants are responsible for performing an independent audit of the company's consolidated financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States and to issue a report thereon. The audit committee's responsibility is to monitor and oversee these processes.

In connection with these responsibilities, the audit committee met with management and the independent accountants to review and discuss the audited financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2000. The audit committee also discussed with the independent accountants the matters required by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61 (Communication with Audit Committees), as amended. The audit committee also received written disclosures from the independent accountants required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Discussions with Audit Committees), and the audit committee discussed with the independent accountants that firm's independence.

Based upon the audit committee's reviews and discussions referred to above, the audit committee recommended that the Board of Directors include the audited consolidated financial statements in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2000, to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

During the fiscal year 2000, we retained KPMG LLP as our principal auditor to provide services in the following categories and amounts:

Edgar Filing: NUEVO ENERGY CO - Form DEF 14A

Audit Fees	$ 236,000
Financial Information Systems
Design and Implementation Fees	--
All Other Fees	219,655

The audit committee has considered whether the provision of non-audit services by the company's principal auditor is compatible with maintaining auditor independence.
