Common Stock Purchase Rights

New York Stock Exchange, Inc.

Securities to be registered pursuant to Section 12(g) of the Act: None.

Item 1. Description of Registrant's Securities to be Registered.

Item 1 is hereby amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

On September 30, 1990, the Board of Directors (the Board) of Koger Equity, Inc. (the Company) declared a dividend of one Common Stock purchase right (a Right) for every outstanding share of the Company's common stock, par value $.01 per share (the Common Stock). The Rights were distributed to stockholders of record as of the close of business on October 11, 1990 (the Dividend Record Date). The terms of the Rights are set forth in a Common Stock Rights Agreement, dated as of September 30, 1990, as amended and in effect from time to time (the Rights Agreement), between the Company and Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, N.A., the initial rights agent, whose successor was First Union National Bank of North Carolina, a national association, appointed pursuant to the First Amendment to the Rights Agreement, dated as of March 22, 1993 (the First Amendment), whose successor was Wells Fargo Bank Minnesota, N.A. (Wells Fargo or the Rights Agent), formerly Norwest Bank Minnesota, National Association, appointed pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Rights Agreement, dated as of November 23, 1999 (the Fifth Amendment). The Sixth Amendment dated as of August 17, 2000 (the Sixth Amendment) was entered into between the Company and Wells Fargo for the purpose of extending the Rights Agreement, which otherwise would have expired on September 30, 2000, for an additional 10 years through September 30, 2010.

Effective as of May 12, 2004, the Eighth Amendment (the Eighth Amendment) amended the Rights Agreement in order to eliminate the continuing director or so-called dead-hand provisions. Previously, these provisions prevented the Company from taking certain actions under the Rights Agreement (such as amending the Rights Agreement or redeeming the Rights) without approval from at least a majority of the Continuing Directors. Continuing Director was defined to mean any director of the Company who was either (i) a Director prior to the time a Person became an Acquiring Person and was not an Affiliate of such Person or (ii) nominated for his or her term of office by a majority of the Continuing Directors in office at the time of such nomination.

In order to remove the dead-hand concept, (1) the definition of Continuing Director was deleted from Section 1 of the Rights Agreement, and (2) all references in the Rights Agreement to Continuing Directors, including but not limited to references to Continuing Directors in Sections 1(s), 1(v), 11(a)(iii), 11(b), 11(c), 11(d), 11(m), 22, 23, 24, 27 and 29, were replaced with references to the Board of Directors of the Company.

In addition, the Eighth Amendment amended Section 23 of the Rights Agreement to provide that a committee comprised exclusively of independent directors will evaluate the Rights Agreement at least every three years and make recommendations to the Board of Directors of the Company as to whether the Rights Agreement continues to be in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders.

The Rights Agreement provided for the issuance of one Right for every share of Common Stock issued and outstanding on the Dividend Record Date and for each share of Common Stock which was or is issued after that date and prior to the Distribution Date (as defined below). As long as the Rights are attached to the Common Stock, the Company has issued and will issue one Right with each newly issued share of Common Stock so that all shares of Common Stock outstanding on the Distribution Date will have attached Rights.

Each Right entitles the holder to purchase from the Company one share of Common Stock at a price of $50 per share, subject to adjustment. The Rights will expire on September 30, 2010 (the Expiration Date), or the earlier redemption of the Rights, and are not exercisable until the Distribution Date.

No separate Rights certificates have been issued. Until the Distribution date (or earlier redemption or expiration of the Rights), (i) the Rights are evidenced by the Common Stock certificates and are transferred with and only with such Common Stock certificates, (ii) new Common Stock certificates issued after the Dividend Record Date upon transfer or new issuance of the Company's Common Stock contained a notation incorporating the Rights Agreement by reference and (iii) the surrender for transfer of any of the Company's Common Stock certificates also constitutes the transfer of the Rights associated with the Common Stock represented by such certificate.

The Rights will separate from the Common Stock and Rights certificates will be issued on the Distribution Date. Unless otherwise determined by a majority of the Board of Directors of the Company, the Distribution Date will occur on the earlier of (i) the fifteenth business day following the later of the date of a public announcement that a person, including affiliates or associates of such person (an Acquiring Person), except as described below, has acquired or obtained the right to acquire, beneficial ownership of 15% or more of the outstanding shares of Common Stock or the date on which an executive officer of the Company has actual knowledge that an Acquiring Person became such (the Stock Acquisition Date) or (ii) the fifteenth business day following commencement of a tender offer or exchange offer that would result in any person or its affiliates and associates owning 15% or more of the Company's outstanding Common Stock. In any event, the Board of Directors may delay the distribution of the certificates. After the Distribution Date, separate certificates evidencing the Rights (Rights Certificates) will be mailed to holders of record of the Company's Common Stock as of the close of business on the Distribution Date and such separate Rights Certificates alone will evidence the Rights.

The Second Amendment, dated as of December 21, 1993 (the Second Amendment), Amendment No. 3, dated as of October 10, 1996 (the Third Amendment), and the Fourth Amendment, dated as of February 27, 1997 (the Fourth Amendment), to the Rights Agreement were entered into for the purpose of providing limited exemptions from the operation of the Rights Agreement, as amended, for certain institutional investors and their respective affiliates. The Seventh Amendment, dated as of December 21, 2001 (the Seventh Amendment), to the Rights Agreement was entered into for the purpose of terminating the above exemptions, which were no longer relevant.

If, at any time after the Stock Acquisition Date, the Company were acquired in a merger or other business combination, or more than 25% of its assets or earning power were sold, each holder of a Right would have the right to exercise such Right and thereby receive common stock of the acquiring company with a market value of two times the exercise price of the Right. For example, if the exercise price is $50, the holder of each Right would be entitled to receive $100 in market value of the acquiring company's common shares (e.g., 10 shares if the per share market value is $10) for $50. Also, in the event that (i) any person or group or affiliated or associated persons (other than the Company, its subsidiaries, employee benefit plans and an Exempt Person (as defined in the Rights Agreement)) shall become an Acquiring Person, or (ii) an Acquiring Person engages in one of a number of self-dealing transactions specified in the Rights Agreement, each holder of a Right will, upon payment of the exercise price, have the right to receive shares of the Company's Common Stock (or, in certain circumstances, cash, property or other securities of the Company) having a market value of two times the exercise price of the Right. If the exercise price is $50, the holder of each right would be entitled to receive $100 in market value of the Company's common stock for $50. Following the occurrence of any of the events described in this paragraph (as defined in the Rights Agreement, a Common Stock Event), any rights that are, or (under certain circumstances specified in the Rights Agreement) were, beneficially owned by any Acquiring Person (or any affiliates, associates or transferees of any Acquiring Person) shall immediately become null and void.

The Board may, at its option, at any time after any Person becomes an Acquiring Person, exchange all or part of the then outstanding and exercisable Rights for shares of Common Stock at an exchange ratio of one share of Common Stock per Right, appropriately adjusted to reflect any stock split, stock dividend or similar transaction occurring after the date of declaration of the Rights (such exchange ratio being hereinafter referred to as the Exchange Ratio). The Board, however, may not effect an exchange at any time after any person (other than the Company, any Subsidiary of the Company, any employee benefit plan of the Company or any such Subsidiary, any entity holding Common Stock for or pursuant to the terms of any such plan or any Exempt Person as defined in the Rights Agreement), together with all affiliates of such Person, becomes the beneficial owner of 50% or more of the Common Stock then outstanding. Immediately upon the action of the Board ordering the exchange of any Rights and without any further action and without any notice, the right to exercise such Rights will terminate and the only right thereafter of a holder of such Rights will be to receive that number of shares of Common Stock equal to the number of such Rights held by the holder multiplied by the Exchange Ratio.

The exercise price of the Rights, and the number of whole or fractional shares of the Common Stock or other securities or property issuable upon exercise of the Rights are subject to adjustment from time to time to prevent dilution (i) in the event of a stock dividend on, or a subdivision, combination or reclassification of, the Common Stock, (ii) upon the grant to holders of the Common Stock of certain rights or warrants to subscribe for shares of the Common Stock or convertible securities at less than the current market price of the Common Stock of evidences of indebtedness or assets (excluding cash dividends paid out of the earnings or retained earnings of the Company and certain other distributions) or of subscription rights or warrants (other than those referred to above).

With certain exceptions, no adjustments in the exercise price of the Rights will be required until cumulative adjustments equal at least 1% in such price. The Company is not obligated to issue fractional shares of any securities upon the exercise of the Rights and, in lieu thereof, at the election of the Company, an adjustment in cash may be made based on the market price of such securities on the last trading date prior to the date of exercise.

At any time prior to the Expiration Date, the Company, by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of the Company then in office, may redeem the Rights at a redemption price of $.01 per Right (the Redemption Price), as described in the Rights Agreement. Immediately upon the action of the Board of Directors of the Company electing to redeem the Rights, the right to exercise the Rights will terminate and the only right of the holders of Rights will be to receive the Redemption Price.

Until a Right is exercised, the holder thereof, as such, will have no rights as a stockholder of the Company, including, without limitation, the right to vote or to receive dividends.

Neither the distribution of the Rights nor the subsequent separation of the Rights on the Distribution Date will be a taxable event for the Company or its stockholders. Holders of Rights may, depending upon the circumstances, recognize taxable income upon the occurrence of a Common Stock Event. In addition, holders of Rights may have taxable income as a result of (i) an exchange by the Company of shares of Common Stock for Rights as described above or (ii) certain anti-dilution adjustments made to the terms of the Rights after the Distribution Date. A redemption of the Rights would be a taxable event to holders.

The Rights Agreement may be amended by the Board of Directors of the Company at any time prior to the Distribution Date without the approval of the holders of the Rights provided, however, no amendment may prejudice the rights of an Exempt Person. From and after the Distribution Date, the Rights Agreement may be amended without the approval of the holders of the Rights in order to cure any ambiguity, to correct any defective or inconsistent provisions, to change any time period for redemption or any other time period under the Rights Agreement or to make any other changes that do not adversely affect the interests of the holders of the Rights (other than any Acquiring Person or its affiliates, associates or transferees).

The exercise of the Rights may have certain anti-takeover effects. The Rights distribution will not be dilutive of shareholder's ownership of the Company and will not affect reported earnings per share. The Company will receive no proceeds from the distribution of the Rights.

The Rights Agreement, the First Amendment, the Second Amendment, the Third Amendment, the Fourth Amendment, the Fifth Amendment, the Sixth Amendment, the Seventh Amendment and the Eighth Amendment are attached hereto as exhibits and are incorporated herein by reference. The foregoing description of the Rights does not purport to be complete and therefore is qualified in its entirety by reference to such exhibits.
