Capitalized terms used herein but not otherwise defined have the meaning ascribed to such terms in the Offer to Purchase.

Item 1. Summary Term Sheet.

Item 1 is hereby amended as follows:

The section of the Offer to Purchase captioned "Summary Term Sheet" is hereby amended by adding to the response to the question "If I decide not to tender, how will the offer affect my shares?" before the cross-reference to Section 11 the following:

If all 15,002,909 shares of common stock are tendered and accepted for purchase, we and the Apollo Stockholders would own approximately 49.9% of the voting power of Rare Medium. Because of this large ownership percentage, we and the Apollo Stockholders could have significant influence over Rare Medium's affairs and policies, such as the election of directors, the appointment of new management and the approval of any other action requiring stockholder approval, including amendments to Rare Medium's certificate of incorporation, mergers and sales of all or substantially all of Rare Medium's assets. In addition, if all currently outstanding shares of series A convertible preferred stock were converted and all series 1-A and 2-A warrants were exercised, we and the Apollo Stockholders would own approximately 60.3% of the outstanding voting common stock of Rare Medium. If we and the Apollo Stockholders owned more than 50% of Rare Medium's voting power, we and the Apollo Stockholders could effectively control the corporate affairs and policies of Rare Medium.

Item 11. Additional Information.

(b) The section of the Offer to Purchase captioned "Section 11 - Effects of the Offer on the Market for the Shares of Common Stock" is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph as the last paragraph of the section:

If all 15,002,909 shares of Common Stock are tendered and accepted for purchase, the Purchaser and the Apollo Stockholders would own approximately 49.9% of the voting power of the Company. Because of this large ownership percentage, the Purchaser and the Apollo Stockholders could have significant influence over the Company's affairs and policies, such as the election of directors, the appointment of new management and the approval of any other action requiring stockholder approval, including amendments to the Company's certificate of incorporation, mergers and sales of all or substantially all of the Company's assets. In addition, if all currently outstanding shares of Preferred Stock were converted and all Warrants were exercised, the Purchaser and the Apollo Stockholders would own approximately 60.3% of the outstanding voting common stock of the Company.
