On June 10, 2008 ImaRx Therapeutics, Inc. (the Company) entered into a Termination Agreement terminating the Letter of Intent with respect to the acquisition by Microbix Biosystems of ImaRx Therapeutics urokinase inventory and related assets for $17 million in cash. The circumstances that resulted in the termination of the Letter of Intent included the inability of Microbix to raise the funds required to close the intended transaction, and the receipt by ImaRx of the previously announced approvable letter from the FDA on May 13, 2008, indicating that additional testing would be required for approval of ImaRx's urokinase stability testing program and release of labeled vials of urokinase. The Termination Agreement provides for the termination of the Letter of Intent including each of the party's obligations there under other than provisions related to confidentiality. Additionally, ImaRx is free to pursue other transactions with respect to its urokinase business and will not be liable to make any payments to Microbix should a transaction be entered into with another party. Finally, Microbix and ImaRx waived any and all claims they have or may have against the other for failure to close the proposed acquisition, or in connection with or arising out of any of the communications, written or oral, they have had with respect to the Letter of Intent or any of the subjects it addresses. A copy of the Termination Agreement is attached to this report as Exhibit 10.1, the content of which is incorporated herein by this reference.

Item 2.05 Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities.

On June 10, 2008, in order to preserve cash, the Company's board of directors authorized a restructuring move that was implemented on June 11, 2008, and that included a workforce reduction in which the employment of all of the Company's employees other than Bradford Zakes, its president and chief executive officer, were terminated. The costs associated with these actions will be approximately $540,000, which is primarily comprised of severance payments for the affected employees. The Company expects to pay out the $671,000 in restructuring costs, in addition to employee accrued paid-time off balances totaling approximately $130,000, during the second quarter of 2008. Certain of the Company's former key employees are expected to enter into consulting agreements with the Company in order to assist the Company in exploring strategic alternatives for its commercial urokinase assets, clinical-stage SonoLysis program and other assets. The Company is currently unable to estimate the amount of consulting fees and costs, if any, it will incur in connection with the consulting agreements.

The Company may incur additional costs, charges or impairments resulting from restructuring. Because the restructuring of the Company has not yet been finalized the Company cannot currently estimate whether additional costs will result or be incurred. At such time as the Company finalizes the restructuring, if it is determined that material costs, charges or impairments will result or be incurred, the Company will file an amendment to this Current Report on Form 8-K to disclose the estimated amounts of such costs.
