Mines to remain full-requirements customer; We Energies asks MISO to end SSR payments

We Energies has entered into an agreement with Cliffs Natural Resources, owner of the Empire and Tilden iron ore mines in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. Under the agreement, Cliffs has committed to remain a full-requirements customer of We Energies until the sale of Presque Isle Power Plant (PIPP) is completed, or until July 31, 2015, whichever is earlier. The mines returned as a full-requirements customer on Feb. 1.

As part of the agreement, We Energies has provided written notification to the Midcontinent Independent System Operator (MISO) to rescind the company's earlier decision to retire PIPP and to request that MISO exercise the termination provisions of the system support resource (SSR) agreement, effective Feb. 1, 2015.

The agreement with the mines and the request to terminate SSR payments is related to the settlement reached in January between Wisconsin Energy, the offices of the Michigan governor and attorney general, the mines and other parties to address electric reliability concerns in the Upper Peninsula.
