COMMON STOCK

This prospectus relates to the offer and sale, from time to time, of up to 6,367,092 shares of the common stock of UCN, Inc. by the selling security holders listed on page 3 of this prospectus or their transferees. This prospectus supersedes and replaces the prospectus dated July 17, 2006 and the prospectus dated April 10, 2006.

We originally registered shares of our common stock for sale by selling security holders under a registration statement on Form S-1 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, File No. 333-135255, which was first declared effective in July 2006 and we refer to in this prospectus as the July 2006 Registration. The July 2006 Registration included 3,430,092 shares consisting of

1,956,527 shares issued in private placements that closed in May 2006, up to 1,143,565 shares issuable at a conversion rate of $3.00 per share upon conversion of principal and interest of a convertible term note in the principal amount of $3,379,994.31 issued to our primary secured lender in May 2006, as part of a term note and revolving credit financing; and 330,000 shares issuable at a price of $2.75 per share upon exercise of a warrant issued to our primary secured lender in May 2006. Of the 3,430,092 shares registered, to our knowledge none have been sold by the selling security holders. UCN will benefit from a conversion of the convertible term note to equity. UCN will receive the proceeds from exercise of the warrant, if exercised. UCN will not receive any proceeds or benefit from resale of the shares by the selling security holders.

On February 9, 2007, UCN issued to its primary secured lender a warrant to purchase 55,000 shares of common stock at an exercise price of $2.90 per share that expires May 23, 2011, which we refer to as the 2007 CV Warrant. The common shares underlying the warrant are being registered for resale through the registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part. UCN will receive the proceeds from exercise of the warrant, if exercised. UCN will not receive any proceeds or benefit from resale of the shares by the selling security holder.

We originally registered shares of our common stock for sale by selling security holders under a registration statement on Form S-1 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, File No. 333-130748, that was first declared effective in January 2006, and last amended through a post-effective amendment and related prospectus on April 10, 2006, which we refer to in this prospectus as the January 2006 Registration. The January 2006 Registration included 2,882,000 shares consist of 2,332,000 shares issued in private placements that closed in November and December 2005, and 550,000 shares issuable at a price of $2.00 per share upon exercise of warrants issued in the same private placements. None of the warrants have been exercised. UCN will receive the proceeds from exercise of the warrants, if any are exercised. UCN will not receive any proceeds or benefit from resale of the shares by the selling security holders. Of the 2,882,000 shares registered, to our knowledge 147,500 have been sold by the selling security holders.

In May 2006 we sold to CCM Master Qualified Fund, Ltd. and Crestview Capital Master, LLC, a total of 1,956,527 common shares at a price of $2.30 per share. We registered the shares for resale in July 2006. The registration agreement we made with CCM Master Qualified Fund and Crestview Capital Master at the time of their investment provides that we will use all commercially reasonable efforts to keep the registration statement we filed for the selling security holders continuously effective. In the event the registration statement ceases to be effective or we suspend the use of the prospectus for one or more periods that total 20 trading days, then we may be required to pay a fee to the selling security holders equal to one percent of the total purchase price of the shares purchased in the private placement on the day we exceed the 20-day maximum plus two percent of that amount per month for each subsequent 30 day period that the registration statement is not effective or use of the prospectus is suspended. In January 2007, we entered into an agreement to acquire a call center survey and analysis business, and at that time suspended use of the prospectus. In order to facilitate our acquisition of the business, CCM Master Qualified Fund and Crestview Capital Master agreed to waive any fees under the registration agreement resulting from suspension of the prospectus, so long as new prospectus is available for use in reselling their securities by April 30, 2007.

In May 2006, UCN entered into a revolving credit and term loan agreement with ComVest Capital LLC. Under the terms of the agreement ComVest loaned $4.5 million to UCN under a convertible term note and established a revolving credit line for UCN up to $7.5 million. The initial borrowings under the convertible term note was $4.5 million, which was paid down by UCN to $3.38 million under the terms of the agreement. At December 31, 2006, the total amount of advances outstanding under the revolving credit line was $3.258 million. The debt obligations are secured by substantially all the assets of UCN. In connection with providing the loans, UCN issued to ComVest Capital a warrant to purchase 330,000 shares at an exercise price of $2.75 per share that expires May 23, 2011. Under the terms of the revolving credit agreement, UCN was required to obtain ComVest's approval of the acquisition of the call center survey and analysis business. UCN agreed to pay ComVest a fee for its evaluation of the transaction in the amount of $40,000 and issue to ComVest the 2007 CV Warrant to purchase 55,000 shares of UCN common stock at an exercise price of $2.90 per share that expires May 23, 2011. The registration agreement we made with ComVest Capital at the time of closing the revolving credit and term loan agreement provides that we will use all commercially reasonable efforts to keep the registration statement we filed for ComVest Capital continuously effective. In the event the registration statement ceases to be effective or we suspend the use of the prospectus for one or more periods that total 30 days, then we may be required to pay a fee to ComVest Capital equal to $1,000 for each day after the expiration of the 30-day period that the registration statement is not effective or use of the prospectus is suspended. In January 2007, we entered into an agreement to acquire a call center survey and analysis business, and at that time suspended use of the prospectus. In order to facilitate our acquisition of the business, ComVest Capital agreed to waive any fees under the registration agreement resulting from suspension of the prospectus, so long as a new prospectus is available for use in reselling its securities by July 1, 2007.

The selling security holders and any of their pledgees, donees, transferees, assignees and successors-in-interest may, from time to time, sell any or all of their shares of common stock on any stock exchange, market or trading facility on which the shares are traded or in private transactions. These sales may be at fixed or negotiated prices. The selling security holders may use any one or more of the following methods when selling shares:

Table of Contents

block trades in which the broker-dealer will attempt to sell the shares as agent but may position and resell a portion of the block as principal to facilitate the transaction;

purchases by a broker-dealer as principal and resale by the broker-dealer for its account;

an exchange distribution in accordance with the rules of the applicable exchange;

privately negotiated transactions;

broker-dealers may agree with the selling security holders to sell a specified number of such shares at a stipulated price per share;

a combination of any such methods of sale; and any other method permitted pursuant to applicable law.

The selling security holders may also sell shares under Rule 144 adopted under the Securities Act of 1933, if available, rather than under this prospectus.

Broker-dealers engaged by the selling security holders may arrange for other brokers-dealers to participate in sales. Broker-dealers may receive commissions or discounts from the selling security holders (or, if any broker-dealer acts as agent for the purchaser of shares, from the purchaser) in amounts to be negotiated. The selling security holders do not expect these commissions and discounts to exceed what is customary in the types of transactions involved, but in any event the maximum commission or discount that may be paid or received by any broker-dealer for sale or placement of the common stock for the selling security holders cannot exceed eight percent.

The selling security holders may from time to time pledge or grant a security interest in some or all of the shares owned by them and, if they default in the performance of their secured obligations, the pledgees or secured parties may offer and sell shares of common stock from time to time under this prospectus, or under an amendment to this prospectus under Rule 424(b)(3) or other applicable provision of the Securities Act of 1933 amending the list of selling stockholders to include the pledgee, transferee or other successors in interest as selling security holders under this prospectus.

Upon UCN being notified in writing by a selling security holder that any material arrangement has been entered into with a broker-dealer for the sale of common stock through a block trade, special offering, exchange distribution or secondary distribution or a purchase by a broker or dealer, a supplement to this prospectus will be filed, if required, pursuant to Rule 424(b) under the Securities Act of 1933, disclosing (i) the name of each such selling security holder and of the participating broker-dealer(s), (ii) the number of shares involved, (iii) the price at which such the shares of common stock were sold, (iv) the commissions paid or discounts or concessions allowed to such broker-dealer(s), where applicable, (v) that such broker-dealer(s) did not conduct any investigation to verify the information set out or incorporated by reference in this prospectus, and (vi) other facts material to the transaction. In addition, upon UCN being notified in writing by a selling security holder that a donee or pledgee intends to sell more than 500 shares of common stock, a supplement to this prospectus will be filed if then required in accordance with applicable securities law.

The selling security holders and any broker-dealers or agents that are involved in selling the shares may be deemed to be underwriters within the meaning of the Securities Act of 1933 in connection with such sales. In such event, any commissions received by such broker-dealers or agents and any profit on the resale of the shares purchased by them may be deemed to be underwriting commissions or discounts under the Securities Act of 1933. Discounts, concessions, commissions and similar selling expenses, if any, that can be attributed to the sale of securities will be paid by the selling security holder and/or the purchasers. Each selling security holder has represented and warranted to UCN that it acquired the securities subject to this registration statement in the ordinary course of such selling security holder's business and, at the time of its purchase of such securities such selling security holder had no agreements or understandings, directly or indirectly, with any person to distribute any such securities.

UCN has advised each selling security holder that it may not use shares registered on the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part to cover short sales of common stock made prior to the date on which the registration statement shall have been declared effective by the Securities and Exchange Commission. The selling security holders will be responsible to comply with the applicable provisions of the Securities Act of 1933 and Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and the rules and regulations adopted thereunder, including, without limitation, Regulation M, as applicable to such selling security holders in connection with resales of their respective shares under this prospectus.

UCN is required to pay all fees and expenses incident to the registration of the shares, but it will not receive any proceeds from the sale of the common stock. UCN has agreed to indemnify the selling security holders against certain losses, claims, damages and liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act of 1933.

Whether the shares of such series are to be preferred over shares of capital stock of UCN of any other class or series as to dividends, or upon the voluntary or involuntary dissolution, liquidation, or winding up of the affairs of UCN, or otherwise; and

Any other characteristics, preferences, limitations, rights, privileges, immunities or terms not inconsistent with the provisions of the Charter.

The availability of preferred stock, while providing desirable flexibility in connection with possible acquisitions and other corporate purposes, could have the effect of discouraging takeover proposals, and the issuance of preferred stock could have the effect of delaying or preventing a change in control of UCN not approved by the board of directors.

Statutory business combinations provision

UCN is subject to the provisions of Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law. Section 203 provides, with certain exceptions, that a Delaware corporation may not engage in any of a broad range of business combinations with a person or an affiliate, or associate of such person, who is an interested stockholder for a period of three years from the date that such person becomes an interested stockholder unless: (i) the transaction resulting in a person becoming an interested stockholder, or the business combination, is approved by the board of directors of the corporation before the person becomes an interested stockholder; (ii) the interested stockholder acquired 85 percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation in the same transaction that makes such person an interested stockholder (excluding shares owned by persons who are both officers and directors of the corporation, and shares held by certain employee stock ownership plans); or (iii) on or after the date the person becomes an interested stockholder, the business combination is approved at an annual or special meeting by the corporation's board of directors and by the holders of at least 66 2/3 percent of the corporation's outstanding voting stock, excluding shares owned by the interested stockholder. Under Section 203, an interested stockholder is defined as any person who is: (i) the owner of 15 percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation; or (ii) an affiliate or associate of the corporation and who was the owner of 15 percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation at any time within the three-year period immediately prior to the date on which it is sought to be determined whether such person is an interested stockholder.

A corporation may, at its option, exclude itself from the coverage of Section 203 by amending its certificate of incorporation or bylaws, through action of its stockholders, to exempt itself from coverage, provided that such bylaw or certificate of incorporation amendment shall not become effective until 12 months after the date it is adopted. UCN has not adopted such an amendment to its certificate of incorporation or bylaws.

Limitation on directors' liabilities

Pursuant to the certificate of incorporation and under Delaware law, directors and executive officers are not liable to UCN or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty, except liability in connection with a breach of duty of loyalty, acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, dividend payments or stock repurchases illegal under Delaware law, or any transaction in which a director has derived an improper personal benefit.

Our certificate of incorporation and bylaws provide that we will indemnify our directors and officers to the fullest extent permitted by law against liabilities and expenses incurred in connection with litigation in which these persons may be involved because of their offices with us if they acted in good faith or in a manner reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to our best interests. However, nothing in the certificate of incorporation and bylaws protects or indemnifies a director, officer, employee, or agent against any liability to which he would otherwise be subject by reason of willful misfeasance, bad faith, gross negligence, or reckless disregard of the duties involved in the conduct of his office. To the extent that a director or officer has been successful in defense of any proceeding, our bylaws provide that he shall be indemnified against reasonable expenses incurred in connection therewith.

INDEMNIFICATION

Under the certificate of incorporation and bylaws of UCN the board of directors has the authority to indemnify officers and directors to the fullest extent permitted by Delaware law. Further, UCN has separate indemnification agreements with certain of its officers and directors. Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to our directors, officers, and controlling persons, or to the extent any of the selling security holders are entitled to indemnification under their agreements with us, we have been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and is, therefore, unenforceable.
