Beginning on January 22, 2010, the following messages are being sent from the Office of the Company Secretary at Accenture plc to current and former employees who have not voted, or may not have voted, shares of Accenture equity in advance of the 2010 Annual General Meeting of Shareholders.

This is a reminder that you are entitled to vote your Accenture shares held at UBS on several important matters in advance of the 2010 Annual General Meeting of Shareholders on Thursday, February 4. You should already have received proxy materials and detailed voting instructions. If you have already voted all of your shares, you may disregard this message.

All of the proposals for vote are important to Accenture, including two proposals that will enable Accenture to continue to offer equity programs to employees. Details on these two proposals are below. Bill Green, in his role as our chairman, and the other members of Accenture's board of directors recommend you vote FOR all of the proposals.

Voting Your Shares

You should have received proxy materials and voting instructions within the past three weeks. For your convenience, the table below provides detailed information about when you should have received this information from UBS.

Please note: You will need to reference the original instructions you received, as they contain specific control numbers and directions for voting your shares. If you received e-mails from multiple sources about voting your shares, that is an indication that you must vote the shares you hold at each institution independently to ensure that you vote all of your shares.

You do not need to attend the Annual Meeting to vote your shares, and you can submit your proxy by mail, telephone or the Internet. Your vote is important, no matter how many shares you own.

Proposals for Vote

Bill Green, in his role as our chairman, and the other members of Accenture's board of directors are asking for your vote on a number of proposals, all of which are described in the proxy statement included with your proxy materials. Among these are two proposals that authorize Accenture to continue to offer equity programs to employees. Accenture's share plans, which must be approved by shareholders, were last approved in 2001 for a 10-year period and thus are set to expire in 2011. You are being asked to vote on the approval of:

The Share Incentive Plan, under which the company offers equity grants in recognition of high performance or career milestones, as well as matching grants under the Voluntary Equity Investment Program for senior executives.

The Employee Share Purchase Plan, under which the company offers shares to employees at a discount. These plans are essential to ensuring that Accenture can continue to offer its employees a competitive set of total rewards that is aligned with the long-term interests of shareholders. Additionally, Accenture's share plans foster an ownership culture and are a critical tool for driving shareholder value and for recruiting, retaining and motivating our people.

If the proposals are not approved, Accenture will not be able to offer its equity programs beginning in 2011.
